Indigos, Crystals, and Diamonds: The Children of Ascension

The Indigo, Crystal, and Diamond children being born now are the Children of the Sun, the Children of Ascension. SaLuSa calls them “old souls in young bodies, who have brought much wisdom with them.” he advises us to “allow them to speak of what they bring as they are very spiritually evolved and are here to play a major part in the process of Ascension.” (1)

Matthew Ward distinguishes between Indigo and Crystal children:

“Souls are being born in bodies with the enhanced DNA of crystalline cellular structure and are rightfully referred to as Crystal Children. Others with increased intellectual capacity, spiritual clarity and aspirations came in the two generations before the Crystals and are known as Indigos.

“Sadly, in many cases these youngsters were considered abnormal, treated harshly and drugged into submission — once again, through the manipulation of dark ones who convinced unsuspecting counselors and parents that these exceptional children must conform to the ‘norm.’

“As knowledge about Crystal and Indigo individuals is spreading, some of the older ones are becoming aware of their greater potential and making life changes accordingly; parents are recognizing their young children as gifted and wisely treating them as such; the use of drugs to keep children with extraordinarily active minds in a stupor is lessening; and, indicating awareness of the beneficial influence of fine music, the numbers of youth choirs and orchestras are growing.”

In a later message, he returned to the subject and said:

“Yes, the children whom you call Indigo or Crystal came in with or have acquired crystalline DNA. Although they chose parents who would cherish and nurture their differences, sadly, this has not been the case for many of these special children, particularly the older ones. It is heartening to see that some parents stopped drugging their youngsters into submissiveness and other parents are realizing that turning their children into listless conformists is not benefitting them.” (3)

Steve Rother’s source, “The Group,” also tells us that they need not evolve like us.

“The children being born now do not have to go through that same evolutionary process, for they are being placed well above the curve. The rest of you here are the ones of you evolving to catch up.” (4)

The Group says that, unlike us, who left a large part of ourselves on the higher planes when we incarnated, these children brought that part with them:

“When you first took the body, there was a huge portion of yourself that would not fit into the physical body. You left that portion behind in the other dimension you call Home. You actually connect to Home through this part of yourself, which you have called your Higher Self.

“It is that part of you which lives outside of your physical body. More of that part of you is now going to be in the physical body.

“The children being born every day are bringing these attributes in. Their eyes are getting brighter and you are starting to see more energy coming from them and more capabilities. You will also see them communicating telepathically in ways that you have never done before. But yet, you are evolving into that exact process.” (5)

The White-Winged Collective Consciousness of Nine tell us tell us that:

“The young Indigos are unshakeable in their knowing of what is in alignment with planet Earth’s frequencies at this time – and they anchor this into reality.” (6)

Archangel Michael through Celia Fenn says the Crystal children are assisting us to awaken.

“At this time of Accelerated Change and Transformation, it is once again the Children who are playing an important role in holding the energies and providing a strong field of energy to assist the process. There are two groups that are specifically active right now.

“The first group are the Crystal Children, but more specifically the Children of the Diamond Light, that have been born since April of 2009. These New Children are born fully aligned with the Cosmic Consciousness or the ‘Cosmic Rose,’ and we call them also ‘Children of the Sacred Rose.’ Their powerful energies are assisting many to Awaken and to find the Bridge of Light into the New Earth Consciousness. (7)

A new wave of Diamond children is now coming in that will further accelerate consciousness.

“In the course of the year of 2010, and through 2011, there will be a new wave of Diamond Light Children who will also carry the energy of the Platinum Ray in their personal holographic field. These children will also contribute powerfully to the energies of Transformation and will enable a further acceleration of consciousness, so that the Divine Light within Humanity might emerge more rapidly in the Collective as it rises into the Fifth Dimension of Light.” (8)

The Indigo children, now in their thirties, will lead in building new institutions and new methodologies for the ascended Earth.

“The Second important group will be those Indigo Crystal Beings who incarnated on the Planet as the First Wave of Indigos in the 1970s. These ones are now in their thirties, and are entering into mature adult life and activating the soul work and purposes for which they came to the Planet. Many of these are Powerful and Evolved Souls who will be the Leaders in building the new forms and structures of the New Earth.

“The most powerful among these will emerge as Teachers, Leaders and Thinkers in all fields of Human Life on Earth. They will begin to be perceived and experienced as a transformational force or energy on all levels. It is this generation, in their thirties, who will start to assume leadership roles in the creation of a new society. And, they will be guided by the ‘Elders of the Light,’ those who have gone before them and created the Path or Bridge of Light into the New Earth.” (9)

These new children won’t do well in schools that deal in linear notions. They see conceptually (which, by the way, is the way in which people see on the Astral Planes and higher). Kryon tells us.

“Years ago, by the thousands, began the influx of the children of new consciousness. We have spoken of this often. You gave permission in 1987 for the evolvement of human consciousness and the children are the proof! They are different... did you notice?

“Listen, adults: These children are not linear. These children are conceptual. They’re not going to do well with linear teaching. They’re looking at the entire castle, yet when they report to school, the system wishes to show them each building block, never showing them the castle. Difficult for you to understand, but even without the training, these children see the castle completed. The educators are boring them with how to build one! This is difficult to explain. You know they’re different, don’t you?”

“So often, these children appear to be difficult. They are frustrated and it’s frustrating for those around them. This represents a new consciousness arriving and the frustration is that you are seeing it as a problem instead of what it truly is... an evolvement of human nature.” (10)

They will change the way we interact with each, as in business for instance, as Kryon says.

“They’re here now by the tens of thousands. Some of them are in their 20s and in their 30s. Stand by for the way business is changing and the new ways in which it will be accomplished. There’s going to be some integrity, finally. It’s coming from conceptual thinkers. The shift is upon us.” (11)

These special generations are leading the fight for freedom, as SaLuSa tells us.

“The world news, which we avidly follow, reveals that the younger generations are leading a crusade for freedom in many countries, and they will not be easily silenced. You have by now noticed that you have around you many dear young souls that already have a heightened awareness. They have brought with them the wisdom and knowledge required to present a new way of living and harmony that will bring you together in a common purpose.” (12)

“In this power shift on Earth, you’re going to see many who have lived for power – who have lived lifetime after lifetime in their powerhouses sitting in their power chairs with their power antics – leaving Earth and not coming back for quite some time.

“This is going to make room for the ones who have not been to Earth before – this whole new breed of Crystals, New Energy children, who are coming in on the very energy beams, the consciousness portals that you have helped to create.

“They are the new ones.” (13)

In case you wondered why people like Wendelle Stevens should leave now or many evolved people get caught up in natural disasters and leave, the Group reminds us that they will come back as Children of Ascension:

“There will be times when huge portions of the population will leave. You have seen this in recent weeks, and you will see it again.

“It is not that anyone is doing anything right or wrong. It is not that those people who left were not of high enough vibration to stay here. In fact, many of them were of such high vibration they could not stay much longer and they simply took that opportunity for a way out.

“There will be a balancing on planet Earth of energetics in many different ways. All of those people who are leaving in order to make this happen are coming back as Crystal Children with some incredible attributes.

“They are coming back because for them to take that route is easier than raising their vibration consciously, which is the route you are taking right now.” (14)

The Children of Ascension have been sheltered and nurtured by what Archangel Michael calls the “Elders of Light” and are now ready to take over from them. Through our combined efforts, we’ll make our way home and into the New Age of Light and Love.

“We ask that you honor the ‘Elders of Light’ among you, for these brave souls are the true ‘Warriors of Light’ whose courage and dedication to the Light over many years has made so much possible. Together, the Elders of the Light and the Indigo First Wave will be the powerful agents of transformation, and the Diamond Light Children will energize the Holographic Earth matrix with their powerful Light of Love. ...

“It is a Blessed and Radiant time into which you are now entering. We ask that you celebrate your success, Beloved Family of Light!” (15)

Shane: Make Room for the Younger Lightworker

Shane lays out the situation of the younger lightworker and reminds us that, while older folks say that younger folks don't have the experience, Shane reminds us that the younger lightworkers don't have the karma to clear that we have and don't need the same years to experience.

Shane reminds us that the younger lightworkers are here for a reason and it'd be remiss of us not to make room.

“A lot of the older generation are not incredibly willing to listen to what we have to say, whether it's because of some subjective experience that they have had that kind of shun them away or if it's just that they are untrusting or that they don't think that we have anything to offer. But I think that different aspects of our society have different things to offer. To ignore huge parts of [the population] would be very detrimental to the ease of our Ascension.”

We've been told that, right? What the Arcturian Group said about “children,” with appropriate changes, may turn out to apply to the younger lightworker as well:

“Many of the children being born now have no lessons to learn; they have already finished their three dimensional lessons, but chose to be on earth at this important time simply to add their Light to the planet. That is why so many of them do not fit into ‘the box’ so to speak, they are functioning beyond many of the adults who are their teachers. These children do not understand why three dimensional issues they see as irrelevant, are important to so many around them. Be patient with these children; they do need structure and love, but most of all need you to understand that they see the world from a whole different perspective than those who have not yet evolved to their level.”

(The Arcturian Group through Marilyn Raffaella, May 2011, at <http://www.onenessforall.com/newest.html>.)

Children and Ascension – Part 1

Celia Fenn and friend

Some people may have worries about whether their children will ascend with the rest of us. Some may wish to know if there are any special instructions children should be given or special attention that should be paid to them.

The purpose of this two-part article is to answer these questions, drawing on galactic and spirit sources. Just as with so much relating to Ascension, we may be surprised to learn the details about the children being born today.

The first and most pressing question is: Will the children ascend? Matthew says that they will as long as their soul contracts stipulate that they remain on Earth that long.

“Will babies and children make the ascension journey with Earth?”

“Unless these souls chose very short incarnations to benefit themselves and all others in the pre-birth agreement, yes, indeed they will go along with Earth.” (1)

Many children being born today already have crystalline DNA, Matthew tells us, and will not find Ascension changes as difficult as we adults may.

“What physical changes will children undergo as they shift into 4D bodies?”

“Some souls who recently came in have bodies with crystalline cellular structure, and those who don’t will experience less upsetting physical and emotional symptoms than adults whose bodies also are changing from carbon-based to crystalline.” (2)

“Yes, the children whom you call Indigo or Crystal came in with or have acquired crystalline DNA.” (3)

Nonetheless, children are not as heavily indoctrinated as we are. Their bodies do not carry burdensome memories at cellular level that ours do, Matthew says. Some of the new children even know their divine identity, which is the very lesson that incarnation is designed to teach.

“Part of adults’ adjustment is the uprooting and discarding of thought patterns that form belief systems and behavior patterns burdened by cellular memory. Children simply have not lived long enough to be as heavily indoctrinated and they respond more quickly and positively to the higher vibrations than most adults.

“Many souls who embodied during the past few years consciously know their God connection and are aware of their rightful place in our universal family—that innate knowledge did not get ‘lost’ in their third density bodies.

“It is devoutly hoped that the parents chosen by these infants and youngsters will preserve rather than thwart their children’s unusual degree of curiosity that is born of ancient wisdom.” (4)

They should have little difficulty clearing any karma that remains, Matthew explains.

“Children who have not been programmed by “authority figures” act upon instinct and intuition, which is in consonance with their soul contracts, and the ‘clearing of karma’ naturally follows. It is adults who devise unnecessary complexities for themselves by overly analyzing and calculating the very things that children innately know are simple.” (5)

For these reasons, preparation for Ascension will be much easier for most children, he tells us.

“Very young children haven’t been indoctrinated with false teachings, so for them it’s only a matter of learning truth instead of falsehoods. Teenagers may be more resistant at first simply because rebellion in those ages is still the nature, but they will welcome knowing that they really do have a future to plan for instead of Earth’s dire fate that some claim is inescapable.” (6)

Kryon described their increased arrival on the planet after the Harmonic Convergence of 1987 and their difference from the adult population.

“Years ago, by the thousands began the influx of the children of new consciousness. We have spoken of this often. You gave permission in 1987 for the evolvement of human consciousness and the children are the proof! They are different... did you notice?

“Listen, adults: These children are not linear. These children are conceptual. They’re not going to do well with linear teaching. They’re looking at the entire castle, yet when they report to school, the system wishes to show them each building block, never showing them the castle.

“Difficult for you to understand, but even without the training, these children see the castle completed. The educators are boring them with how to build one! This is difficult to explain. You know they’re different, don’t you?

“So often, these children appear to be difficult. They are frustrated and it’s frustrating for those around them. This represents a new consciousness arriving and the frustration is that you are seeing it as a problem instead of what it truly is... an evolvement of human nature. They’re here now by the tens of thousands. Some of them are in their 20s and in their 30s.” (7)

Society has by and large failed to understand these exceptional young beings, Matthew tells us.

“Some of these children—those called Indigo or Crystal—came in knowing their soul-selves and their extraordinary abilities, and instead of being able to express themselves freely, they were drugged into societal compliance.” (8)

These advanced beings will benefit from an expected reformation of education, Matthew says.

“Many souls who have come in during the past decade or two are far advanced in spiritual clarity from the older population, and recognition of their birthright is all they need. The logistical matter of textbook replacement—the writing or editing, printing and distribution—will be done expeditiously, and teachers are being prepared to lecture in conjunction with computerized lessons that also are in preparation stages.” (9)

SaLuSa called the Indigos and Crystals “old souls in young bodies, who have brought much wisdom with them. Allow them to speak of what they bring as they are very spiritually evolved, and are here to play a major part in the process of Ascension.” (10)

They will play a special role in the years ahead, Matthew says.

“Among the children who have come during the past two decades are those with extraordinary capabilities and ancient wisdom and the mission to solidify the reforms that are being initiated by older generations who came with the purpose to do that. Some of these highly evolved souls know who they are and exactly why they are there, and others are discovering this about themselves.

“You will know these new leaders by their demeanor and actions—trust your intuition about them!—and if you are in close proximity, you will feel uplifted and energized by the energy emanating from them. When these souls are in leadership roles and the light-filled multitudes are cheering them on, you and Earth will know that she is in good hands!” (11)

Far from us having to assist them to ascend, they will assist us. Though children, they are in reality “Elders of Light.’ We are told to honor them and allow them to do their job.

“The most powerful among these will emerge as Teachers, Leaders and Thinkers in all fields of Human Life on Earth. They will begin to be perceived and experienced as a transformational force or energy on all levels. It is this generation, in their thirties, who will start to assume leadership roles in the creation of a new society. And, they will be guided by the ‘Elders of the Light’, those who have gone before them and created the Path or Bridge of Light into the New Earth.

“We ask that you honor the ‘Elders of Light’ among you, for these brave souls are the true ‘Warriors of Light’ whose courage and dedication to the Light over many years has made so much possible. Together, the Elders of the Light and the Indigo First Wave will be the powerful agents of transformation, and the Diamond Light Children will energize the Holographic Earth matrix with their powerful Light of Love.” (12)

Teachers are becoming aware of their duties in regards to these special children:

“Many teachers are ‘seeing the light’ and inspiring students to develop their minds and talents and skills. Souls are being born in bodies with the enhanced DNA of crystalline cellular structure and are rightfully referred to as Crystal Children. Others with increased intellectual capacity, spiritual clarity and aspirations came in the two generations before the Crystals and are known as Indigos.

“Sadly, in many cases these youngsters were considered abnormal, treated harshly and drugged into submission—once again, through the manipulation of dark ones who convinced unsuspecting counselors and parents that these exceptional children must conform to the 'norm.'

“As knowledge about Crystal and Indigo individuals is spreading, some of the older ones are becoming aware of their greater potential and making life changes accordingly; parents are recognizing their young children as gifted and wisely treating them as such; the use of drugs to keep children with extraordinarily active minds in a stupor is lessening; and, indicating awareness of the beneficial influence of fine music, the numbers of youth choirs and orchestras are growing.” (13)

Tomorrow we'll look more at the leadership role the children of the future will play.

Children and Ascension – Part 2

Let's continue our look at the role played by the children being born today.

The Group, speaking through Steve Rother, explains that many of the them have impressive psychic abilities. In many ways, we'll have to catch up to them.

“The children being born every day are bringing [impressive] attributes in. Their eyes are getting brighter and you are starting to see more energy coming from them, and more capabilities. You will also see them communicating telepathically in ways that you have never done before. But yet, you are evolving into that exact process. ...

“The children being born now do not have to go through that same evolutionary process, for they are being placed well above the curve. The rest of you here are the ones of you evolving to catch up.” (1)

Archangel Michael describes many of the new groups of children – Indigos, Crystals, Diamonds, Platinums, etc. – and tells us they will serve as leaders in the Golden Age.

“At this time of Accelerated Change and Transformation, it is once again the Children who are playing an important role in holding the energies and providing a strong field of energy to assist the process. There are two groups that are specifically active right now.

“The first group are the Crystal Children, but more specifically the Children of the Diamond Light, that have been born since April of 2009. These New Children are born fully aligned with the Cosmic Consciousness or the “Cosmic Rose”, and we call them also “Children of the Sacred Rose”. Their powerful energies are assisting many to Awaken and to find the Bridge of Light into the New Earth Consciousness.

“In the course of the year of 2010, and through 2011, there will be a new wave of Diamond Light Children who will also carry the energy of the Platinum Ray in their personal holographic field. These children will also contribute powerfully to the energies of Transformation and will enable a further acceleration of consciousness, so that the Divine Light within Humanity might emerge more rapidly in the Collective as it rises into the Fifth Dimension of Light.

“The Second important group will be those Indigo Crystal Beings who incarnated on the Planet as the First Wave of Indigos in the 1970s. These ones are now in their thirties, and are entering into mature adult life and activating the soul work and purposes for which they came to the Planet. Many of these are Powerful and Evolved Souls who will be the Leaders in building the new forms and structures of the New Earth.” (2)

Many are now awakening to their chosen roles, Kryon revealed, in 2008.

“Stand by for the way business is changing and the new ways in which it will be accomplished. There’s going to be some integrity, finally. It’s coming from conceptual thinkers. The shift is upon us.” (3)

The White Winged Collective Consciousness of Nine corroborates what Kryon says.

“Many more shall awaken before the close of 2008 and many of these newly awakened ones shall be the young adults of the future – those that carry the Indigo vibration of unconditional love, determination and strength.

“The young Indigos are unshakeable in their knowing of what is in alignment with planet Earth’s frequencies at this time – and they anchor this into reality.” (4)

SaLuSa says these children will form the pattern for the emerging New Man.

“A new Man is emerging on Earth, spiritually endowed with a remarkable understanding of what is now needed to move you on. Some are the early Indigo children or Starseeds, that have grown in stature and ready to serve you all. There is great wisdom and understanding carried by them, and they know precisely why they are on Earth at this memorable time.” (5)

He says that they will lead the fight for freedom in many countries.

“The world news, which we avidly follow, reveals that the younger generations are leading a crusade for freedom in many countries, and they will not be easily silenced. You have by now noticed that you have around you many dear young souls that already have a heightened awareness. They have brought with them the wisdom and knowledge required to present a new way of living and harmony that will bring you together in a common purpose.” (6)

The dark forces, hungry for power, will be forced to leave the planet to make way for these wise children, some newcomers to Earth, says St. Germain. They will furnish new solutions to the old problems of the planet.

“In this power shift on Earth, you’re going to see many who have lived for power – who have lived lifetime after lifetime in their powerhouses sitting in their power chairs with their power antics – leaving Earth and not coming back for quite some time.

“This is going to make room for the ones who have not been to Earth before – this whole new breed of Crystals, New Energy children, who are coming in on the very energy beams, the consciousness portals that you have helped to create.

“They are the new ones. They are not the ones who will come up with the solutions and the answers to the many problems and challenges that are facing humanity right now, because those ones are already on Earth and they’re sitting in these seats today, and they’re you.” (7)

The Group cautions us against thinking that people who leave are necessarily of the dark. Some very highly evolved beings may be leaving to come back as Crystal children in the New World.

“It is not that anyone is doing anything right or wrong. It is not that those people who left were not of high enough vibration to stay here. In fact, many of them were of such high vibration they could not stay much longer and they simply took that opportunity for a way out. There will be a balancing on planet Earth of energetics in many different ways. All of those people who are leaving in order to make this happen are coming back as Crystal Children with some incredible attributes.

“They are coming back because for them to take that route is easier than raising their vibration consciously, which is the route you are taking right now. Yet none of this would be possible if you here were not making strides to do that. That is the piece that will help every person on planet Earth when you evolve yourself to where you gain your own spiritual confidence.” (8)

Thus many groups of children are being born today who are destined to play leading roles in Ascension and the Golden Age. While we may be worried about whether or not they will ascend, the truth of the matter appears to be that their Ascension will be assured and many of them will, apparently, help us.

P.M.H. Atwater: Beyond the Indigo Children

Thanks to John.

Beyond the Indigo Children

by By P.M.H. Atwater, L.H.D.

It doesn't take someone like me to point out that there's something remarkably different about the children in today's world. Parents and grandparents, school teachers, counselors and therapists, anyone who knows a child – all of them – say the same thing: our kids know more than we do. And they're right. The kids do.

“Two key brain-building genes, which underwent dramatic changes in the past that coincided with huge leaps in human intellectual development, are still undergoing rapid mutations, evolution's way of selecting for new beneficial traits,” so said Bruce Lahn and his University of Chicago colleagues in a study published in the journal Science, dated 9 September 2005. Not everyone has both of these genes, yet reports of mutation are increasing at an unprecedented rate: 70% of the world's population now evidences one of them, 30% both.

“Just as major environmental changes, such as dramatic shifts in the climate, food supply, or geography, favoured the selection of genetic traits that increased survival skills,” continued Lahn, “the pressures on gene selection today come from an increasingly complex and technologically oriented society.” Numerous genes are involved in brain building, not just the two mutations. Still, there is enough scientific evidence now to back up the claim that our youngest citizens represent a new type of human evolution in our time.

My book, Beyond the Indigo Children: The New Children and the Coming of the Fifth World (Bear & Co., Rochester, USA), is the first major study of today's children and their place in our rapidly changing world, that combines objective research with mystical revelation and prophecy.

In it I explore the evolution of the human family, the mystical concept of Root Races (our gene pool), the advance of consciousness throughout the earthplane, ancient calendrical traditions, plus the march of generations, generational signatures and markers (energy imprints), characteristics of the new children (their talents and weaknesses), as well as their place in the "great shifting" as the energetic universe accelerates in vibration.

To call our new children indigos, crystals, star, sky, or psychic children utterly misses the mark. These are labels that do more to promote exclusive clubs of specialness than to honour and celebrate those born since around 1982. Factually, only a rare few have indigo or purple auras (that part of our electromagnetic field surrounding our bodies that is visible) – yet the traits ascribed to so-called indigos fit nearly three-fourths of the world's young. Many adults fit the same pattern, indicating that in spite of the quantum jump currently taking place, evolution's spiral has been ongoing.

What of these youngsters? It can be said that the vast majority are quite intelligent (between 30 to 40% score in the range of 150 to 160 on standard IQ tests); they are unusually creative, intuitive, and innovative (which makes them natural problem solvers); the majority are spatial learners whose strongest trait is spatial reasoning (nearly equal between females and males); most are excellent with math (that surprises you, doesn't it?); they are volunteer-project minded with a knack for entrepreneurship and turning out the crowds. If I were to name one trait that sets them apart, I would say it is their ability to abstract. Example: Two and a half year old Micaela, in response to her mother's question, put her hands on her hips, marched up to her mother and glared at her, asserting, "I don't know the word for that yet."

How can one so young even be aware of proper modes of languaging? Micaela knew, and so does most of the rest of them, these new children, who are as irreverent as they are amazing. These are the quick/click kids, with little patience for processing information or for understanding what it takes to prepare oneself for a profession, like earning a degree or spending years in honing one's skills (copyrights and trademarks mean little or nothing to them). They are change agents, activists and fixers, who draw from the energy of a group. That means they're groupies who strive for consensus on one hand and charge ahead as powerful visionaries on the other. And they attend "night school" as well as what most of us refer to as regular day school.

By night school I mean, once they are asleep in their beds, they visit other realms, other matrixes and grids, where they are given instruction, play games, and receive assignments. Although seemingly asleep, these kids are consciously clear about the activities they engage in and with whom – to the extent that they can recognise and identify each other physically and in broad daylight even though they have never before met. I would not term this ability of theirs as "lucid dreaming" (where one is wide-awake during the dreamstate). No, it seems more akin to out-of-body travel; in some cases, perhaps, bi-location.

The new children are ultra sensitive to drugs (legal or illegal), improper nutrition (they don't as a rule assimilate processed or convenience foods well), toxic metals and toxic emotions, and electromagnetic fields. They readily pick up "hangers-on" (psychic impressions and attaching entities), to the point that it would be wise to teach them while still young how to keep themselves "clean" – and not just with soap and water (remember, these kids are unusually psychic and sensitive). "Cleansing" routines that work on the subconscious level are positive affirmations, visualisations, prayer, and mini-moments of meditative "time-out." Internal realities are as powerfully real to these children as anything manifest in the external world around us.

Some of the claims about these new children are false (for instance, reports about their immunity to or quick healing from HIV and AIDS have since been scientifically discredited). Others remain unproven (that extra “codons” or unique patterns of DNA makes them resistant to disease). However, claims about how psychic they are, how they can often “read” minds, communicate non-verbally, heal others, and know segments of the future (some even remember past lives and the reason why they were born this time, what they are here to do), seem to be true. I say “seem” because we need to be a little careful how we regard these claims. Examples: The super psychic kids from China often lose their abilities around the age of puberty; it is well documented that children from war-torn countries or who were abused or ignored in childhood often develop unusual psychic skills plus the ability to separate consciousness from body dependence (these are survival skills). But even if you are a little cautious about claims being made about the new children, the fact remains.... they are unlike any other generation of record.

When you begin to explore traditions of mystical revelation, that’s when you discover this leap in our genetic makeup as a human family was predicted thousands of years ago. Even in modern times, Edgar Cayce, one of the most documented psychics in history, said: “Great numbers of children will be born who understand electronics and atomic power as well as other forms of energy. They will grow into scientists and engineers of a new age which has the power to destroy civilisation unless we learn to live by spiritual laws.”

According to prophecy, either from Mayan Calendar interpretations, Theosophical studies, or from Native American and mystical traditions, today’s new children are said to represent an advancement or “flowering” of the human race, here to return us to the “Natural Order.” What is meant by the natural order is an awareness of consequences, of inner truth (we all know what is right), of living with others different from self, of admitting mistakes (then apologise, correct, move on), of focusing on who we are deep inside ourselves.

Typically, at least with those I have studied, these children insist that our intention is who we really are, the true “us.” They know there are no free passes in life, yet, at the same time, they are detached about that knowing and what it entails. They operate more in the “now” moment to the degree that seeking solutions to problems, rather than obsessing over past mistakes, is more typical of their behavior.

The concept of “Root Races” (also called “life streams” or “life waves”) appears in various traditions of “wisdom teachings” or what is commonly termed “the mysteries.” It is appropriate to take a brief look at this concept in order to better understand what has been prophesied about the evolutionary changes slated for the human family now and in the immediate future. The term “Root Race” refers to the rootstock or foundational gene pool that is said to make up the human race. The traditional understanding is that a progression of seven Root Races or evolutionary phases are necessary to provide the soul with enough leverage to develop its potential and perfect human form as it seeks to return to Source. Each Root Race supposedly facilitates a global period of readjustment as it advances, so new growth and change can occur throughout the world. This idea is spelled out in the Theosophical tradition, described in Vedic teachings, can be found in most tribal cultures and their oral histories, and is mentioned by Edgar Cayce.

These teachings agree that the Fifth Root Race level is where we are now, distinguished by the vibratory energy that corresponds to the colour blue and issues related to the fifth or throat chakra – the use of willpower. Certainly, questions paramount in the world today do indeed centre around how one expresses the power of will. “Do you seek to empower others or overpower them?” is central to this. Challenges of the fifth chakra more aptly concern domination itself and are at the crux of each war currently being fought, each abuse of human rights, each government and each religion that refuses to address its own short-sightedness. Only individual choices, made one person at a time, can make a meaningful difference where issues of personal will are concerned; leadership cannot.

As we advance toward the fabled date of December 21, 2012, when the Mayan Calendar ends, these issues show every indication of intensifying as will the characteristics of the new children, who, thanks to genetic mutations, are “made to order” for handling what may lie ahead. And they’re coming in by the millions and in every country. Just look at the stunning synchronicity of fives around 1982 that appear to back up the predictions that have been made of this time in history.

THE FIFTH WORLD, defined in mystical prophecy as a period of shift, or an acceleration of energy on every level, everywhere (referred to as the “Fifth Sun” in Mayan lore).

THE FIFTH ROOT RACE, said to be an evolutionary advancement of the human species. The Fifth Chakra, an opening of the throat chakra globally where issues of “power over or power to” take on unusual importance as higher intuition and higher intelligence predominate.

THE FIFTH BRAIN, new discoveries about the heart, that 60 to 65% of its cells are the same type of neutral cells that are located in the brain and it has many of the same functions as the brain.

THE FIFTH DIMENSION, what was once myth that one day we would be free of time/space states enough that intention could more directly determine what manifests (the notion that “we create our own reality”), has now been verified in preliminary lab experiments utilising quantum physics.

THE FIFTH RAY, associated with the planet Venus and the virtues of mercy and compassion, heralds the rise of the Divine Feminine and goddess figures like Kuan Yin and Mary Magdalene (recent best seller, The Da Vinci Code, uncovers the leadership role of women in religion).

THE FIFTH COMMUNICATION WAVE, which is personal computers, and they came on the scene in 1982, paralleling when the new children virtually encompassed an entire generation.

THE FIVE SENSES, now shifting into higher modes of expression and usage (just look at the proliferation of material on intuition today and the science to support its value).

THE FIVE TYPES OF INTELLIGENCE, which has been recently categorised as mental, emotional, spiritual, wholistic, and quantum.

FIVE, the symbolic numerical reference to humankind and the drive to change and progress in life, to evolve.

THE 14TH GENERATION IN THE UNITED STATES ($1 + 4 = 5$) is the Millennial Generation and it is considered through statistical research to have begun in 1982; these children constitute the first wave destined to operate in a global village (true of children across the world) – they are the shift generation in the age of shift.

Psychologists, counselors, and therapists have discovered that using labels to identify today's children backfires. Especially in regards to treatment and learning programs, they simply refer to differences as "quirks" and the kids who have them "quirky kids." Children respond in positive, fun ways to this. I propose that we do the same thing with kids in general: Do away with labels that promote exclusivity and simply call them "new" because they are. The new kids have many obstacles to surmount, but as long as their parents remember to parent, to direct and guide their youngster's development in healthy and spiritual ways, our newest of the new will continue to surprise and amaze us.

There's no turning back now. Evolution's nod is alive and well, and accelerating.
