Omnicide

May 4, 2020

From ID2020.org in aid of microchipping

If Matthew Ward, SaLuSa and others of our sources are to be believed, the Coronavirus was intended to depopulate the globe. Matthew advises us:

"What is not publicized because it is known by only a few is that the intention of the coronavirus was to decrease the world's population by billions. That will not happen because [star] family members reduced the laboratory-designed virus's potency to the greatest possible extent." (1)

I don't think that crime has been defined in statute or treaty. It isn't genocide because the whole planet is being threatened.

I don't even think it has a legal name yet. So why don't I borrow a term from Dr. Rosalie Bertell and call it "omnicide"? (2)

Those who manufactured and released the Covid-19 virus, apparently in Italy, Iran, and the U.S. as well as Wuhan, China where the virus lab was located are, in my opinion, guilty of omnicide. We need an international convention to introduce that concept into law.

The team around President Trump surely knows all this. That's not why I share it.

I share it to have us redpill ourselves on the magnitude of what was contemplated: omnicide.

Can you imagine that anyone could entertain this thought? That they would decide the human herd needs culling; all useless eaters must go. What kind of person would think that way - and act on it?

The Nazis had nothing on the New World Order. Or is the NWO the fulfilment of Nazi dreams?

Omnicide. A new concept enters human thought. It never existed a year ago, except in the minds of the perpetrators.

When I read about what it takes to produce adrenochrome, what "panda eyes" are, what a "face mask" means to a Satanist, I can understand that one of their number might propose planetary depopulation by pandemic and toxic vaccine.

We have to stop this. Right now the medical powers that be are rushing to develop a vaccine, which Bill Gates has already declared he'd like to insert microchips in. (3) That's on top of their toxicity - all in aid of reducing the population or depopulating the globe.

We need a way for the world to express itself, like a global vote. And then we need to find out who in the world would like to take this vaccine and who would not.

This pandemic has united the world in a common endeavor - to defeat the virus. We now need to build on that by canvassing world opinion.

That's a project for someone.

And then we need to rally the population to put a stop to this.

“The concept of species annihilation means a relatively swift, deliberately induced end to history, culture, science, biological reproduction and memory. It is the ultimate human rejection of the gift of life, an act which requires a new word to describe it as omnicide.” (Internationally-renowned radiation expert Dr. Rosalie Bertell, quoted in judgement of Professor Ms Niloufer Bhagwat J, International Criminal Tribunal For Afghanistan at Tokyo, 13 March 2004, downloaded from https://www.traprockpeace.org/tokyo\_trial\_13march04.doc, 30 Aug. 2007.)

The Calm before a Different Storm

May 6, 2020

I've been researching endlessly on all aspects of child trafficking - pedophilia, child torture, child sacrifice, adrenochrome, on and on.

I've read as much as I can absorb.

Everything connected with adrenochrome was the hardest to take. Where I ventured into trauma territory was in descriptions of how adrenochrome is produced. Their own word, "satanic," is the best description of how they treat their victims. I've never heard of such evil and cruelty before, except from the Inquisition.

One could say that consumers of adrenochrome are drinking blood. Anyone who falls into their hands and survives deserves, in my opinion, to be treated with the greatest compassion and patience.

Meanwhile what will happen to the celebrities, our icons, who are presently consuming adrenochrome and now can't find a supply? The makers of it have been more or less shut down, except for one plant.

It's said that someone spiked the adrenochrome, from the last remaining source, with Covid-19 virus. As I'm told, those who continue to use adrenochrome will be infected and are not expected to survive the infection. That could all be purposeful disinformation.

With those who go on withdrawal, which can be severe, the drug has allowed many of them to remain youthful. We're going to see them age before our eyes, so to speak. Some folks will sport a black left eye; why I don't know.

I'm inferring from an account I read that many stars will lose their signature self-command and self-confidence, but that's just my speculation.

Meanwhile another branch of the Illuminati is preparing a toxic vaccine. If the virus don't get them, the vaccine will. I don't think the public will stand for mandatory vaccinations.

Please check these facts out for yourself, folks. I'm saying what I'm reading but I have no idea whether in the final analysis these statements are totally correct. I'm just human and so are my sources on these matters.

The cabal developed the virus and now the virus may take down many members of the cabal (who use adrenochrome).

The cabal allegedly released the virus, either with or without intention, and the white hats have used the resulting pandemic as a cover to rescue the children and take down the cabal itself.

What went around came around. It's all very ironic. It's all owing to white-hat people who remain behind the scenes from us. Thank you, nameless deliverers.

The story is told of an Indian sage who was attacked by a man with a knife. In trying to stab the saint, he ended up stabbing himself and died. The moral is: In trying to kill another, we end up killing ourselves.

That's exactly what appears to be happening here. The dark has tried to kill the Light (pandemic, toxic vaccine) and ended up only killing itself.

***

Meanwhile, while many are affected by the virus, not as many as might be expected have died.

In my opinion, the lockdown is not about prevention of the virus. It's about clearing the streets and keeping us indoors while the positive military serve their unsealed indictments.

I'm assuming that the operation against the cabal will be over in a matter of days. But that's another guess.

I believe that, once the cabal have been rounded up, President Trump will end the lockdown. That can't be too far in the future given the low mortality rates, the population's restlessness, and the high economic costs of continuing the lockdown.

When we come out of lockdown, and people are turning their thoughts to work and livelihood, that's the time I'd release the Reval.

After its release and a wee holiday, in my view, I hope we take up relieving whatever suffering may have occurred or may be occurring as a result of the pandemic.

A lot will have changed as a result of it. Funding an emergency relief payment of $10,000 for every man, woman, and child - citizen and landed immigrant - is a way I'll be exploring.

The United States in particular has shown that it can make quick deposits in large numbers of bank accounts. That's reassuring. That means that the mechanism for the dispersal of relief is already in place.

I'm assuming that the positive military, with hidden help, will totally deconstruct the New World Order. I'll always be open to financially help with all remaining efforts.

But for me, after providing immediate relief, my long-term role will be providing universal basic incomes and universal medicare to as many countries as my funds allow.

If you're a currency holder and haven't already started, I invite you to give your role some thought. Now is the calm before a different storm.

That's Why We Came

May 7, 2020

I hear Dr. Judy Mikovits' story of being jailed for five days by Tony Fauci's people, denied due process, no charges being laid against her. I add to that the allegations against a presidential candidate of raping one woman (1) and being lewd with another (a teenager), plus fears about 5G, anxiety over mandated toxic vaccines, and dismay over hearing charges that numerous Hollywood megastars are guilty of torturing children to obtain adrenochrome....

Drop a bomb on the whole thing in the form of a few photos that you never, ever wanted to see - and hope you never have to look at again.

In the face of an avalanche of events like these, how are we going to manage this next chapter?

And things haven't yet started to become publicly known, whatever may be going on behind the scenes. We know that thousands of children have been rescued in New York and Los Angeles. We know deep underground military bunkers have been neutralized.

How do we hold all this and then be love and light?

Impossible.

And yet that is the assignment.

Think about the importance of the times.

We've achieved a degree of human unity, of interconnectedness and identification, that I, as an historian, cannot ever remember seeing.

We're assembling and speaking out, writing and filming. All it will take is one galvanizing event and I think we'll respond as a world.

And here is the point of the story: If we do, the response of the lightworker community will be absolutely crucial.

Think of this as a Hollywood movie.

Peril threatens the community. Whom do they look to? The person who can remain calm. The historian in me thinks of Marlborough at Blenheim, Wellington at Waterloo, Churchill in World War II.

Simple calmness on our part will go a long way to calming others.

Matthew said:

"The economic aftermath of COVID-19 will be somewhat rocky, but far, far from what the dark ones want: a completely collapsed global economy, rampant impoverishment, hunger and desperation. Then they would pull together the fragments of their control and achieve their goal of world domination.

"That will not happen. Their long reign is over." (2)

Surely having this knowledge provides us with grounds for confidence and thus calmness. (By the way, this will be as hard for me as it might be for you.)

The point is: We know how the movie ends. It all works out in the final reel.

Surely that's a reason to be confident.

***

It's hard to imagine that matters of personal growth can have such importance. But I predict that lightworkers will influence the rest of society by anchoring themselves in the truth (that things will all work out in the final reel - or as Pres. Trump called it "the end of the movie").

They'll be persuasive because they're able to maintain their calmness in the face of a wild and chaotic present-day situation, polarized and venting. Their demonstration will have an impact on the rest of society. (3)

Society will be looking for leadership. There will be so much happening and so much revealed that people will begin to feel afraid. They'll look around for a source that can reassure them. And that's where lightworkers come in.

Reassuring them and calming them is perhaps the chief reason why we came.

The role of a lightworker is a service contract made with the Mother. In my understanding, our role, the reason we came is (1) to be the leaven in the loaf, lifting others by our vibration, and (2) to be custodians of the truth of what's occurring, able to reassure others when the need for calmness arrives.

Amazing, eh? Not to lead an army. Not to earn a billion dollars. Not to scale Mt. Everest.

But simply to demonstrate a higher form of life during good times and the voice of calmness during "bad."

Easy peasy? Not by a long shot. But I'm led to believe that when we discover who is here (us), we'll see that we have the ability to fulfill this task.

Footnotes

(1) Some might say he didn't rape his young victim, but the statutory definition of rape in that jurisdiction evidently includes this type of sexual assault.

(2) Matthew's Message, May 4, 2020, at <https://www.matthewbooks.com>

(3) Are you afraid of death? Why? You'll simply drift out of your body and go on your way, probably without looking back. All of us are already and always have been eternal, deathless beings.

Heading for a fatal car crash? It's your time to go and there's no need to suffer. Someone will lift you from your body immediately before the crash. See New Maps of Heaven at http://goldengaiadb.com/index.php?title=New\_Maps\_of\_Heaven.

Here is Mike Swain's account of his car crash:

"I see a black car coming towards us. As it approaches us, I see this other car coming behind it. I can see this other car clearly, because it is in the middle of the road, trying to pass the black car."

Nina [Merrington, the medium channeling Mike Swain] paused a moment, and then said: "The sun is glaring on the windscreen of the black car, and reflecting back into my eyes. I can see nothing but a bright silver radiance. It is blinding me.

"All of a sudden, the radiance changes from silver to gold. I am being lifted up in the air, out through the top of the car. I grab little Heather's hand. She too is being lifted up out of the car.

"We have been lifted thirty feet above the Mini. And in one horrifying second, I see the little Mini and this large car collide head-on. There is a noise like the snapping of steel banjo strings. The little Mini bounces right off the highway, right over into the gravel verge. It is finally brought to a halt in a cloud of dust when it hits a giant anthill...."

Nina stopped, obviously too agitated to continue. ...

They had suffered no pain. Just a gentle ascent into the air.

"We feel vaguely sorry that this thing should have happened to them [their bodies, with which everyone in the family identifies]. And we both fully understand that we are, now, so far as mortals are concerned, dead." (Jasper Swain listening to his transitioned son, Mike, speak through a medium, in Swain, From My World to Yours: A Young Man's Account of the Afterlife. New York: Walker, 1977, 21-2.) (Afterwards FMW.)

What was it the poet said? Birth is but a sleep and a forgetting?

He could have said that death was but a sleep and a forgetting too, of a different kind.

Mike Swain says:

"Nature wraps you in a blanket of sleep. A person, even if he is terrified of dying, merely falls asleep. In his sleep, he dreams that he is still in the same room; but actually he is passing to our Golden World." (Mike Swain in FMW, 51.)

And when "he" fully makes that transition he rapidly forgets about the Earth world, so fascinating is the world he finds himself in (the Fourth Dimension, the Astral world).

Death is but a sleep and a forgetting.

The Big Change - Part 1

May 8, 2020

If we were to see the ending of the careers of corrupt politicians, of big business's control over the finances of the world, of the military-industrial complex's grip on control of the world, etc., I think we could all agree that we'd be in a time of terrific, even revolutionary change.

We may be saying to ourselves, "I hate change!"

It was so comfortable before, even if I wasn't getting ahead and had no future. No job. No prospects. Having increasingly to rely on family and friends.

We liked our little prisons because we could decorate them as we pleased. And we lived our lives comfortably.

But if we're living in a time when tens of thousands of imprisoned children are being released from a tortured captivity that we weren't even aware of, (1) when a total revolution in the global economy is just around the corner, when humanity is united as it never has been before because of a pandemic, then now is the time to act.

Only a community endeavor would, under ordinary circumstances (that is, pre-Reval), be able to get us through the recovery phase ahead of us. If anything, the pandemic has impoverished large numbers of us. How much lower do we have to go?

It's only in the depths such as we're about to enter that a community draws together and acts.

It'd be better if we had a plan, rather than simply reacting chaotically.

What do I recommend?

Well, I'd first of all act on the President's Executive Order of Sept. 21, 2017 and sequester the proceeds of everyone connected to serious human-rights abuses. (2)

That includes human traffickers/slavers, the makers of viruses and vaccines that spread disease globally, the spreaders of chemtrails that cause disease, mafiosi, drug cartels, "merchants of death," corrupt judges who sentence youth to (private) prison for petty offences, the operators of those private prisons....

I think you get the picture. All of them are guilty of serious crimes against humanity and human-rights abuses, some of them on an omnicidal scale (like this pandemic).

Then I'd recommend using that sequestered money to create a fund that would provide the following programs - in the United States first and then elsewhere. This would be on a perpetual basis, anticipating a global currency reset. (3)

The Six Point Plan

One, universal basic income covering all normal living expenses for every person living in that country, lesser for young children (under twelve). Everyone has their basic expenses in life covered and can choose to work on top of that.

Two, universal medicare. Public health of excellent standards available to all people living in that country, without distinction. Free medicare, pharmacare, and dental care.

Three, universal accessibility to all levels of gender-equal education for all people living in that country.

Four, universal elder care, child care, and single-parent care.

Five, the elimination of personal debt.

Six, the elimination of the national debt.

---

That is what I'd do.

Too often in the last forty years, we've chosen a race to the bottom. OK, here we are, at the bottom as a world, a global dark night of the soul.

Many jobs could be lost. Many people's savings could be gone. Credit card debt to the max. People living from paycheck to paycheck on several part-time jobs are going to be hard hit.

We need to step up to the plate, begin thinking of ourselves as a world, and take loving care of our global family.

Those are my recommendations. This is the program I'll be working on after the Reval.

The Big Change - Part 2

The point I wanted to make however is: what do we do in the face of this constant change to maintain our equilibrium, our balance?

Things are going faster than I can keep up with.

What do we do?

I can only say what I do, which I've been doing since childhood, but which a boss later called "getting your arms around it."

I call it something that may cause controversy and so I have to say that I speak only in the most peaceful manner.

I say: We need to get bigger than it. We need to get bigger than the situation we face.

That's only one way of handling it but a way that's worked for me, who likes the big picture anyways.

What do I mean by it?

Well, I imagine myself getting bigger than the planet and therefore having the view of the entire globe.

And I then experience the feelings or vibrations that I sense from the various countries. Next I allow my mind to feed back to me what I know of the situation on the ground. Now I'm starting to open to the bigger picture.

And then I look at universal factors.

We all need food. We all need shelter. We all need access to the best medical care available. And so on. I'm now beginning to think bigger. I'm now thinking globally.

That's how I do it. (1)

The real hurdle is in getting over only thinking about what's best and most loving for us personally and beginning to think about what's best and most loving for the whole human family. (Think globally, act locally, they said in the Sixties.)

The minute you get near to this territory, you're called a communist, socialist, leftie, whatever. Ridicule is a recognized attack strategy. (2)

Putting that aside, we can't let the opportunity this pandemic represents pass us by. It's had us as a world act together to end a global threat.

Think and act globally we must. That's the big change.

That's where we need to go, in my view, as the one global family we're showing ourselves to be in response to the pandemic. I'm not talking about our leaders. I'm talking about us, whom we watched in every corner of the globe via stories of the world's response to the pandemic.

We saw our commonality. Oh, gosh, there's their coffee shop. There's their drug store. Their streets look just like ours. They're waving to us from their balconies. They're banging their pots. The first message that came across was: "Just like us."

Black/white, Muslim/Jew, Christian/Muslim, rich/poor, whatever, just like us.

It's said that travel broadens the mind. So does televised coverage of life elsewhere.

The second message that came across, again unitive, was: "We're all in this together." We all faced a common threat and it brought us all together.

I'm not sure the cabal foresaw that. Our harmony will again foil their plans.

All of us need to take the first step to sharing the wealth more equally around the world.

That first step should not be threatening to anyone. It is to follow the President's plan to sequester the wealth of serious human-rights abusers.

The President mandated it in his Executive Order of Sept. 21, 2017. That money could be used to finance the program I just outlined.

The program I laid out is not communist, not socialist. (3) The program is humanitarian and compassionate. It eminently accords with Jesus's teachings, such as "love one another as I have loved you."

It compensates people for what they've been put through.

***

What have they been through? Again big picture:

Everyone endured the automation of work, the buyer's market for labor it created, and the fall of trade unions.

We endured jobless recoveries from periodic recessions, which recessions were nothing more than a means of shedding workers.

We lost pensions, medical plans, dental plans, and all other benefits. Reasonable salary increases. Permanent employment. Opportunities for advancement. All these became things of the past.

We suffered under weather warfare attacks by HAARP - hurricanes, earthquakes, flooding. We suffered from chemtrails, viruses, and vaccines.

And now we face enduring privation on a global scale. Will we let this be another jobless recovery, where we shed millions more workers?

Or will we have it be a wholesale, tectonic shift in our values and actions.

There are so many forces behind the scenes acting on our behalf, some of them dying for us. The part of the program that I just outlined falls to us. I don't want their sacrifice to have been in vain and I'm sure you don't either.

I've provided a platform, a package of services, which I make freely available to anyone. Let's globally enact this basket of universal services and make the big change. (4)

By Jan. 1, 2020.

New World Order Going (All) Out - Part 1/2

May 10, 2020

The fact that Dr. Judy Mikovits' video, Plandemic 1, has been so universally banned by social media makes it a free-speech issue.

Citing the need for accurate, "authentic" information, which of course Dr. Judy's video is offered as being, it's been eliminated right across the social-media spectrum.

That to me says that someone has been triggered. And triggered bigtime.

And that in turn says to me that that a group of people don't want the truth to get out.

And that only lends credence to what Dr. Mikovits is saying.

Unfortunately we can't yet upload a file as big as Plandemic 1 but she has now released her book, Plague of Corruption, freely, to get the information out.

(Available from: <https://goldenageofgaia.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Plague-of-Corruption.pdf>.)

Hollywood Script

If this were a Hollywood movie and I was writing the script, right now I'd be having the head of whatever pyramid, whatever hierarchy that's been triggered send out the memo alerting all troops and asking for everyone to lend whatever help they can to guarantee the success of the Plan.

Twitter starts eliminating accounts. Youtube bans videos. Facebook suspends users. The machine is really rolling.

And what is the Plan?

Well, it varies as one version of it after another is defeated.

In its simplest form, it equates to world domination and global depopulation. Matthew Ward captures the two aims in his comment on the fate of their pandemic plan so far.

"The economic aftermath of COVID-19 will be somewhat rocky, but far, far from what the dark ones want: a completely collapsed global economy, rampant impoverishment, hunger and desperation. Then they would pull together the fragments of their control and achieve their goal of world domination." (1)

Right now all their energy is focused on spreading a pandemic that culls the world's population, followed by a vaccine that finishes us off. Their plan will not succeed, as we'll see here.

Galactics and Alliance

Who is it who keeps countering them? In past decades the galactics ... yes, I said galactics ... and more recently the Alliance.

The galactics foiled their attempts to start a nuclear war. No nuclear weapons can be exploded on the planet, as our star family demonstrated by neutralizing Minutemen silos some years ago. (2) And demonstrated again by zapping a missile launched from Vandenberg around that time. (3)

They neutralized the New World Order's chemtrails. (4) They've been toning down diseases and neutralizing vaccines long before Covid-19, including rendering even microchips inoperable. (5)

They moderated HAARP-induced hurricanes.

They alleviated the effects of the Gulf of Mexico oil spill. (6)

And here's a home run; we owe them our lives: They removed the depleted uranium from the atmosphere, let loose from DU artillery shells.

DU is a planetkiller, omnicidal. (7) I discussed the matter with Archangel Michael in 2013:

Steve Beckow: I guess depleted uranium falls in [the same] category [as chemtrails].

Archangel Michael: Oh, it most certainly does.

SB: If the galactics had not neutralized depleted uranium, would this planet have died?

AAM: Yes. Now let me explain. It is not just that she would have died. It would have been that her will to continue on would not have been there.

SB: Wow, eh? That serious.

AAM: Yes, that serious. (8)

Our star family has therefore saved the planet from DU radiation, nuclear war, manmade viruses, microchip implants, toxic vaccines, hurricanes, etc. I'm led to believe they are moderating 5G as well until we stop its implementation.

Let me finish here by saying I'm not willing to write anything about the Alliance. They're actively engaged in taking down the most serious criminals in the world and anything accurate I say might be used against them. Their legitimate work is done in the shadows.

New World Order Going (All) Out - Part 2/2

May 11, 2020

(Concluded from Part 1, yesterday.)

Versions of the Dark Plan

I said that the cabal's Plan at its simplest is world domination plus global depopulation.

Carol Rosin outlined some of the cabal's scenarios or versions to accomplish these two aims: First the commie threat which Sen. Joseph McCarthy played out and which grew into the Cold War; next terrorists and that played out in the last century too; then rogue states like North Korea or Cuba or Iran; after that an asteroid; and then "the aliens." (1)

All of that was in aid of world domination and has resulted in colonies on the Moon and Mars, some practicing slavery and a vast underground network of military bunkers on Earth which the elite was going to use to live out a nuclear winter, following a war of annihilation of surface races, and so on.

That takes care of world domination. Now depopulation.

The Georgia Guidestones set the optimum human population of slaves at 500,000,000. (2) The rest are presumably useless eaters.

Large quantities of grain are used to make biofuel while populations in Africa face famine. Indian farmers are suiciding because they cannot afford GMO seeds each year and therefore cannot support their families.

HAARP-caused weather warfare featured hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, flooding, and tsunamis, which caused tremendous loss of life and livelihoods.

Large resource companies benefitted from bribery and political connections to strip developing countries of their resources. Currencies were manipulated so that national currencies collapsed.

International financial organizations lent aid but let large investment houses buy up devalued companies at pennies on the dollar. The international organization still obliged the countries to pay back their loans dollar for dollar. Said Michel Chossudovsky:

"Lehman Brothers, Credit Suisse-First Boston, Goldman Sachs and UBS/SBC Warburg Dillon Read ... the world's largest money managers set countries on fire and are then called in as firemen (under the IMF 'rescue plan') to extinguish the blaze. They ultimately decide which enterprises are to be closed down and which are to be auctioned off to foreign investors at bargain prices." (3)

The cabal ran wild in every important area of life - politics, finance, religion, entertainment, sports, medicine, education, etc. (4) Ultimately, in my opinion, the cabal grew over-confident because, as Q says, they never thought she'd lose. (5)

The push was always to impoverish the people. Now many people work three jobs just to pay the rent and put food on the table. People who are not included in the elite are getting poorer and poorer, while a few get richer and richer.

Most of the world's population exist on little while a few have fortunes in the billions.

So we know their plan. And to bring it all back to our beginning, Dr. Judy Mikovits has risked her life to expose its current version in the Plandemic. The cabal has responded by barring her from social media. But she has released her book at no cost. It's move and countermove at this moment to get the word out.

I'd like to see us support her attempt to get the truth of the pandemic and vaccine out there. The cabal's fate is sealed but they can still lash out. The more support Dr. Mikovits receives right now, the more likely the cabal's Plandemic is to fail and the safer she'll be.

Taking a Stand: We Will Make It Across the Finish Line Together

May 12, 2020

I feel like taking stock and even reminiscing, in these relaxed times of lockdown. I'd just like to let things flow for a change, not knowing where we'll get to. Just sharing....

It's interesting following, and sometimes covering, what's happening in the external world right now. It's challenging ... for me.

While I build databases with quotes from celestial and galactic sources and do so from the printed word, our news sources today are very often video and always terrestrial.

I'm never going to be able to report on it in the way I can with printed channeled messages.

I reminisce....

I've had a lifelong - and more than a lifelong - love affair with the written word. I had a past life associated with the Gutenberg printing press. I don't want to get into puffery, but I've had a long association with writing and publishing. I even love the feel of books.

Reporting on largely medical matters in a climate of crisis from video sources is not really my fort . If I do it, I do it as an interested and "intelligent user," not somehow as an "expert," which I'm not.

What I'd far rather report on is the gathering momentum among people to unite and say "no" to the New World Order. Not to criminalize the NWO as human souls but to draw a line around their criminal activities.

We faced the pandemic together and now we face the recovery together. And recover we must. In my opinion, we'd be unwise to forget the lesson of history, that jobless recoveries from recessions were used as a means of shedding workers made obsolete by automation in the 1980s and avoiding fiscal obligation in the matter. Let's not do it again.

UBIs, universal medicare, universal accessibility, etc., financed with sequestered Illuminati wealth. We have the answer. (1) We now need the collective political will to do it.

***

When the pandemonium gets too much for me, my response, as we discussed earlier, (2) is to get bigger. To rise above it and take a bird's-eye view.

In that earlier article, I gave a process using imagination to get me into a synoptic frame of mind. I got bigger than the Earth.

Another alternative would be to look for commonalities, universals.

I start to identify them. A need for money, food, shelter, medical care.

To see the commonalities, I have to draw back from the particulars of the situation. It moves me to see things from a more contextual, higher perspective than I did before.

And, as I do so, I settle into the role of observer again. And the pandemonium settles down.

***

All of this is my search for the solid and balanced part of myself in the midst of chaos.

And, as I do so, I see that I'm only being lazy.

The real strength lies in my will.

I know that.

The only reason I don't resort to my will is that I'm enjoying myself. Or anticipating better times. I'm plugged in to seeking pleasure and avoiding pain, which I know to be Third-Dimensional.

I stop resisting the exercise of my will. I do what I've been taught to do: Take a stand.

What is my stand here?

My stand is that we will, as one united human society, navigate through the rough seas ahead and arrive on the distant shore in the greatest possible safety - and arrive together. (3) We're in this together. We're pulling together. Q says it best: "Where we go one, we go all." Exactly.

Not only are we going to make it across the finish line together, but that there will be a finish to it all (war, trafficking, corruption, etc.) is also my stand.

(3) In answer to a reader's question, mine is a stand that our efforts will be aimed at as many people making it across the finish line as possible.

Some will choose not to go because their service contracts are complete and they'd prefer to ascend from the other side. We wouldn't interfere there.

Others will not achieve the necessary vibrational level to survive in higher dimensions. They'd be precluded for natural, vibrational reasons. Those whom we can help, we'll help. Those that we can't will not ascend at this time.

But among those who qualify and want to ascend from this realm, my stand is that we will do whatever it takes to make it across the finish line together. We won't allow the cabal's efforts to succeed in sabotaging Ascension or our recovery from Covid-19 and any toxic vaccine.

Completing the Past and Working Together as a World

May 14, 2020

Gosh, the alternative press is getting so partisan and positional that it's hard to separate the news from the vitriol.

That doesn't bode well for us as lightworkers.

There is an undisclosed war going on, between the Alliance and the cabal. But it isn't simply another war where the strongest wins. This isn't such a visitation of vengeance (the Punisher) that "the enemy" will never rise/attack us/enjoy life again.

It's being done legally and probably with as much restraint as is advisable and possible.

We're witnessing a change of planetary management and a rescue of the victims of the last administration, if still alive.

I don't know what to do about it. There's a need to track what's happening, for sure. Videos aplenty are coming out on pedophilia, child sacrifice, sexual harrassment and assault, the creation of bioweapons, pandemics, toxic vaccines, more than I can possibly watch in a day.

It's a most unusual form of journalism - not to produce, that is. Producing videos is fairly cheap and easy but it's revolutionary in its impact. However, reporting it is time consuming - there aren't enough hours in the day to watch all the videos that deserve watching. Reporting has become more difficult by an order of magnitude.

***

It doesn't have to be a war, but the Illuminati won't seem to loosen their grip otherwise. Alliance troops are taking them down, as we speak. Some on both sides are getting killed so this is not a matter for an online meme war.

This is a second American Revolution and the troops fighting for the world's people are the Minutemen. They're rescuing children who've been kept in cages, sexually abused, and can look forward to being sacrificed in the most gruesome way to extract adrenochrome.

This isn't a pretend exercise or a small affair. This is to the world what the first American Revolution was to the nascent United States. So it does need to be reported, but not from a polarized, positional viewpoint.

Our reporting needs to be neutral, factual, descriptive. It was at one time in our history, I believe. It needs to be so again.

The cabal appears to be on its last legs and yet their attempts to make money from a situation seem never to cease. Congressional bills that will probably transfer trillions of dollars to their associates; the appointment of recovery commissions staffed by billionaires. The theft of public funds seems destined to continue, to be followed, I fear, by an attempt to microchip us, which won't succeed.

We've only talked here about the Alliance's work in creating a change of planetary management and the cabal's reactions to their pressure. In the unseen world, however, the energies are rising and (1) contribute to the cabal's discomfiture and

(2) guarantee that at some point they'll have to surrender to the Ascension energies or leave the planet. And that will be a natural and irresistible, rather than a human and negotiable, set of circumstances.

***

What a quandary we face. This situation is so complex, how are we to get through it as a world without creating fresh problems for ourselves?

Well, if we love our world and seriously want to look at the matter, let me take a crack at it.

First we have to enact a plan similar to my Six Point Program. (See 1)

We have to ensure that the world's population is in a place where, thinking of Maslow's hierarchy of needs, they are ready, willing, and able to listen. And that requires having survival needs taken care of.

We're already speaking - online. But the truths to be revealed in the not too distant future will, much more importantly, require us to listen.

Next, we have to draw a line. The attack/revenge cycle has to end. It has two characteristics: (1) it leaves us in misery and (2) it never ends. It's killing us as a planet. There's no more excuse for revenge after the agreed-upon moment in time.

Then we need to sit down and negotiate whatever international issues remain. We refuse to create more misery in our lives. Issues from now on must be peaceably settled.

Then we need to have regional and international truth and reconciliation commissions, where all is heard and, if warranted, the parties decide on what would be fair compensation.

Then we need to bury the hatchet.

There will be many versions of what I just wrote. Whatever version is chosen, these are the general contours of the process I believe we'll have to go through as a world. Our aim would be to complete the past and be able to work together again as a world, for the common good.

(1) The Six Point Program

One, universal basic income covering all normal living expenses for every person living in that country, lesser for young children (under twelve). Everyone has their basic expenses in life covered and can choose to work on top of that.

Two, universal medicare. Public health of excellent standards available to all people living in that country, without distinction. Free medicare, pharmacare, and dental care.

Three, universal accessibility to all levels of gender-equal education for all people living in that country.

Fourth, universal elder care, child care, and single-mother care.

Fifth, the elimination of personal debt.

Sixth, the elimination of the national debt. ("The Big Change – Part 1," May 8, 2020, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2020/05/08/the-big-change-part-1/>.)

This is the Time to Release the Reval

May 15, 2020

A universal basic income is higher than a minimum wage.

It's higher than just survival. It provides for the basic comforts that people need to live on and enjoy life - with the choice to work and afford extra pleasures if they so choose.

In the higher dimensions we're headed for, no one does without. No one starves. No one is in debt.

It's only on whatever dimension we're on that people starve and groan under debt.

There's no reason that I'm aware of why there should be starvation in the world, not after the Reval. Even without the Reval, not after the reintroduction of the sequestered Illuminati wealth into the economy.

The Six Point Plan would take care of all debt, all needs, to a reasonable amount ("reasonable" as interpreted by the courts). (1)

People would be able to live in comfort, take in the services of a hospital without charge, attend the school of their choice for free. All of these would be freely available if we were living on a higher plane of consciousness. That I know for a certainty.

The program reflects the fact that I spent six months in higher-dimensional love (just a memory now) and three more months in bliss. The climate created by the Six Point Plan approaches the climate available to me then and to others in the higher dimensions now.

I'm tugging on Heaven, trying to bring it down to Earth, having had a glimpse of it.

I encourage Dinarians (currency holders) in other countries than Canada and the U.S. to finance a program like the Six Point Plan in their countries (for three years).

Take it and run with it. Just spread the word. And actually finance and create the program in your country.

***

One of the reasons we don't have such a world already is that folks who wanted to control the world started by impoverishing it.

The Six Point Plan is the antidote to that virus. No needles required.

Universal basic income, universal medicare, pharmacare and dental care, etc., universal accessibility to education, all paid for from sequestered Illuminati funds pre-Reval plus currency-exchange proceeds post-Reval.

The world embodied by the Six Point Plan exists on a higher dimension. I'm just impatient to have it here.

We need a world free from stress now. We've had enough of people fighting. We've had enough of warfare, rivalries, alliances and counter-alliances.

No more endless blood feuds, ethnic and religious rivalries please. Stop the bloodshed.

This pandemic has surely shown us how vulnerable we are as an entire world to a single bioweapon. Not just mustard gas on a battlefield, but a strain of virus, made in a human laboratory and released in different areas of the world.

Has it not sobered us to realize that our own actions endangered the whole world? We endangered the world once already with depleted uranium. That plus the biovirus makes twice. Are we going to allow it to happen a third time?

We responded to the threat by locking down our societies and economies, adding to the impoverishment of the ordinary citizen. What we cannot do is allow the folks who have fallen on the hardest of times to go unattended in the recovery phase. We cannot allow this to be another "jobless recovery."

I believe much will change as a result of the Alliance operations, which are already underway.

But there will be casualties. In my estimation, this is the time to release the Reval.

The Recovery Phase = Building Nova Earth

May 16, 2020

In a reading I had with him on May 13, 2020, Archangel Michael asked me to turn my attention back again to Ascension matters.

Here are my marching orders:

"As I have said many times you're not to engage in politics, sweet one. ...

"Again, sweet one, you're becoming engaged in political intrigue which is distracting you from the true process of Ascension. ...

"It is important during this shift, during this time of new beginnings, yes, with the sweeping away of the old that you focus on the future, which is exactly what you are doing, and what I have guided you to do. ...

"Remember that our undertaking is the tracking of spiritual evolution to a higher realm of consciousness and that is the focus that we must always return to. " (1)

It was a good wakeup call. And I've given him permission to wake me up. Let me therefore return to my original mission - to offer a detailed vision of the future.

The main events have been blocked out. The Alliance is using the pandemic to launch clean-up operations against the cabal worldwide.

The cabal is fighting back with force in various places on, above, and below ground and on the Internet with censorship, false narratives, and diversionary tactics (paid trolls).

Ultterior motives in the pandemic's creation - because it was created; it's a bioweapon - are being revealed. Mandatory vaccines may be the next diversionary tactic.

There are those in the lightworker movement who are tasked with playing a role in these events.

At Michael's request, I personally (and this does not apply to the other editors) am now leaving those events to blogs like Stillness in the Storm, Collective Evolution, Gateway Pundit, and Signs of the Times and concentrating on building the future and tracking our spiritual evolution.

***

For me, the Ascension matter of most urgency is recovery from the Pandemic and for me that recovery equates to building Nova Earth.

Are we not at what we might conceive of as the darkest hour for many people? Is this not an important moment in time?

We face a struggle to rebuild. How many businesses will bounce back? How effective will the government be in getting money to the people without it being siphoned off by the cabal? When will we tackle the thorny issue of the redistribution of wealth on the planet?

Could there be a more urgent moment when a vision of where to go was needed?

I can't think of one.

"Focus on the future, which is exactly what you are doing, and what I have guided you to do."

***

Let me switch now to a vision of the future. How are we to build Nova Earth in the midst of the old Earth? And, Michael, you better help me with this one.

I continue the discussion I began in "Completing the Past and Working Together as a World." (2) Later I'll combine the two. Or three. Or however many discussions we're having in bits and pieces.

1. The Recovery Phase = Building Nova Earth

There has never been a more opportune time for laying the foundation, infrastructure, and superstructure for Nova Earth than right now.

With countless millions of employees laid off and probably hundreds of thousands of businesses in danger of going under, we need an immediate rescue plan (for me, that would be the Six Point Plan) (3) and we need a long-term plan for planetary recovery that carries on after.

2. We need hard data

We need to know what the true situation of people is around the world and we need ways of keeping track of changes to them - through media uncontaminated by the cabal. We need to be able to transfer, store and display documents and films online safely and securely. And money.

We need search engines and the full range of social media that allow for free speech, short of hate and criminal speech.

3. We need to form citizen commissions similar to the International Tribunal for Natural Justice.

These citizen commissions or tribunals would begin a public process of truth and reconciliation in their field and award compensation if warranted.

When the parties have been reconciled, then the opportunity arises to discuss building new structures and processes for Nova Earth.

We'll probably need a new system of governance, a new legal system, a new educational system, medicine, finance, on and on it goes.

The World Parliament of Religions is an example of an existing structure that might be interested in discussing building a new world in their area: the area of religion.

I'd suggest a baseline commitment be gotten from everyone concerned that all systems arrived at be built on love, from love, and through love. Nothing else will last.

4. We need to arrive at a citizen plan for building a new world

Then we need people to draw the suggestions of all commissions together and begin devising a plan for world recovery and reconstitution.

In the meantime, I'm not waiting for all of this to happen. I'm enrolled in building Nova Earth now and thus am beginning the discussion.

Truth is the Casualty in a Meme War

May 18, 2020

I can't avoid sharing what has come up for me.

I'm stopped dead in my tracks by Michael's coaching last reading (May 13, 2020).
He said to me:

“As I have said many times you’re not to engage in politics, sweet one. ...

“Again, sweet one, you’re becoming engaged in political intrigue which is distracting you from the true process of Ascension. ...

“It is important during this shift, during this time of new beginnings, yes, with the sweeping away of the old, that you focus on the future, which is exactly what you are doing, and what I have guided you to do. ...

“Remember that our undertaking is the tracking of spiritual evolution to a higher realm of consciousness and that is the focus that we must always return to.” (1)

He's absolutely right. I was asleep at the wheel. I was reading articles with an uncritical eye and becoming unconsciously, at some level, sucked into the meme war, with its partisanship, polarization, politics by sloganeering.

"The tracking of spiritual evolution to a higher realm of consciousness" - That sounds exciting, not like I know how to go about that. But I'm open.

Interestingly, having awoken from my hypnotic trance, I no longer want to participate in the meme war - even though I don't yet know what not participating means for me.

It becomes harder to do something once one becomes aware of it.

It isn't just the mainstream media that's getting caught, particularly in the left/right meme. It's us alternative, citizen journalists as well.

Truth is the casualty in a meme war.

I actually want to live up to the mark Michael has set for me.

So I'm just letting you know that I'm rethinking, retooling, and reconsidering lines I've followed up till now.

I'm studying what Michael has asked of me, to see if I can get to the heart of it.

One thing is certain: I need to extricate myself from the meme war.

Trial by Social Media: Stop the Meme War

May 19, 2020

I've been "being with" Archangel Michael "calling me" on engaging in "political intrigue," (1) which I translate as participating in the meme war that is whipping through the mainstream, alternative, and social media right now.

When we're called on something, as he did me, we usually go through phases. We either deny the comment or try it on and see if it fits. If it fits, we have to be ready for our internal response.

We may have to vent and get something previously held back off our chest. Having vented, we may be ready to accept the comment. We accept it. (And finally we build it into our story.)

I'm in my anger phase. If you'd allow me to vent, I'd appreciate it.

I'm ashamed of myself for having been a robot, simply feeding the meme war by reposting articles using memes as argumentation. Or watching videos that feed the meme war.

In another post I talked about the left/right meme that has absolutely divided lightworkers. The mainstream media feeds us the meme and we swallow the bait. It breaks my heart. How gullible we are.

What we need to do, coming up, requires unity. Why allow the cabal to split us into two warring camps?

But left/right is not the meme I want to address right now. It's another meme. It's contained in the hashtag #Obamagate.

This is the meme that has me most disappointed in the alternative press - and others. I'd expect it from the mainstream media, but not from us. This is the straw that broke this camel's back.

The Company of Heaven, who don't engage in meme wars, have always said that the President is innocent of all charges being brought against him, that he's being made a scapegoat by the Deep State to cover up their own crimes. (2)

The very man whom the cabal did not allow to govern when he was President is now being made the scapegoat for everything the cabal did during his "administration." And we buy it.

We are the victims of a cabal psyop. They're using him to cover their own crimes.

President Obama is innocent and Michelle Obama - this just shows how evil the meme war gets - is not a transgender, but a woman. Stop it, guys. Just stop.

A last point on this before I let it go (and thank you for allowing me to vent): To turn this man's reputation into a hashtag #Obamagate is a basic denial of his constitutional right to a fair trial.

All of us have the right to have charges brought against us in an impartial court of law, not in the court of public opinion. All of us have the right to prepare our defence and deliver it, not be pilloried in social media, unable or unwilling to defend ourselves. All of us have the right to a fair decision, based on factual evidence and law, not trial by sound bite and tweet.

Until that decision is rendered, we are to be presumed innocent. Basic, basic value, folks. Beyond constitutions. If it wasn't in Magna Carta, it should have been.

This is trial by social media. It's not evolution, but devolution. I wish we'd wake up. We're sliding downhill.

Now that I've been shown to be a participant in this war of memes, I can see more clearly. I don't have the dissonance I was beginning to feel.

And one thing I see more clearly is that it'll cost us to proceed in a war of memes and hashtags. It'll cost us to divide ourselves into left and right, which action effectively neutralizes our common effort.

It'll cost us the unity of action that would allow us to make a difference during and after the change of planetary management, which is occurring as we speak.

We need to be unified, not divided, at a time like this. Soon we'll be asked to speak for Planet Earth. That requires a feeling of unity, not one of discord.

It'll also cost us on a very personal level.

It'll cost us our aliveness, satisfaction, joy, peace of mind, full self-expression, and freedom from fear.

All these go out the window when we attack and vilify people. And memes and hashtags invite this.

Please, everyone, stop the meme war.

Thank you for allowing me to vent.

We know how the movie ends. Wouldn't it be good to arrive there without having betrayed our basic values?

We Must Unite

May 20, 2020

Thank heavens we're in a pause or lockdown or whatever you wish to call it.

It's taking me days to work through the inner explosion that happened upon my affliction having been named, what in the Growth Movement we would have termed "being called on my number."

Others might shrug the comment off but, with me, it "fit."

Cognitive dissonance had been building in me for some time, resistance to posting some of the material that passed as lightworker or light-filled or on the right side of God, whatever.

Some articles would be impartial for most of their length and then have a paragraph that demonstrated their bias in letters of stone.

I felt dismayed and a party to it all.

But I didn't know what was going on. I was incredibly busy; I was enthusiastic about a change of planetary management; and I made assessments that totally left "us" - that is, lightworkers - out of the equation.

I was dumbfounded to find lightworkers swept up in the left/right meme and sickened to think we were now trying people in social media. As a person who used to decide credibility in refugee claims, I felt the dissonance building.

Michael stopped my forward motion by pointing out that I was getting involved in "political intrigue." At that moment, I had a name for the source of my dissonance and the penny dropped. The room filled with light, so to say. (I'm exaggerating.)

Yes, totally without intending to or being aware of it, I was gradually being drawn into political intrigue.

I thought my training as an adjudicator was enough to have me avoid the pitfalls of reporting contemporary events. But my awareness went down and my awareness that my awareness had gone down also went down.

This time the polarization, the partisanship was happening among lightworkers in the person of memes and often (but not always) hashtags. I was being drawn into lightworker discussions of events which, if they were entered as evidence in my hearing room, I'd have thrown them out as biased, partial, and invested. I felt uncomfortable.

I recognized that what Michael called "political intrigue" I immediately translated into "the meme war." I saw myself as being drawn into a meme war and it went against the grain with me.

I know that, since the outbreak of the pandemic, I've become increasingly partisan, politicized, polarized, partial. I was not going in a good direction.

I couldn't see things as long as I was racing after the baseline of events every day. And for what? Increasing division, it seemed between left and right, between innocent and guilty, with the roles contested bitterly. (1)

All it took were the right words ("political intrigue") to crack this nut open. Now I see things without my filter. I'd been so busy pursuing the baseline of events that I'd lost sight of what this was all about.

A fair trial. Based on credible evidence. Before judge and jury. Decision to be rendered fairly and impartially, after consideration of all the evidence. Those were the standards I was raised on. And that's what I'm now reminding us of.

With the restoration of sight, clarity, and open-heartedness that resulted from dropping what I was doing, I now worry that we as a society are headed in an unhealthy direction as far as basic freedoms are concerned.

Never mind what the deep state planned to do with us before the Alliance stopped them, which was grisly. What we're doing to ourselves by dividing ourselves into factions and more or less taking justice into our own hands through meme wars could nullify the efforts of lightworkers for some time into the future.

As an historian, I've so often seen revolutions themselves result in increased hardship and executions: Witness the French Revolution, Hitler's rise in Germany, the Russian Revolution, and Stalin's Russia.

When I see us mobbing someone on the Internet, I feel like crying. How divided have we become, Lord? How bad has it gotten?

Or willingly dividing ourselves into warring camps of "left" and "right," as if those words mean anything to the people using them as ridicule, except if they bring a response.

Earlier I said the pandemic provided us with the opportunity to really come together as a world. It does and it has. But this tendency to fight each other on the Internet is going to neutralize the good that we've done, if we allow it to.

Not allowing it to means falling back on our basic values, basic principles, basic rights. These will be found to be universal. A smile, a bow, and a wave of the hand are examples of universally-understood gestures; the feelings behind them are also universal. So must our basic values be and so they are in reality.

We're building a world that works for everyone, in Werner Erhard's words. We will get there, one gradual step at a time. But it won't materialize as fast or as deeply as we'd like if we allow ourselves to be divided and turn on each other.

We must unite.

The Virus of Polarization - Part 1/2

May 21, 2020

Waging War by Meme

As I'm weaning myself from drama and intrigue, I feel a tremendous sense of relief, release, and relaxation.

It means leaving the herd. But where the herd is going in terms of waging war by meme and tweet is not going to have a happy ending.

If I participate further than I already have, I'll have to yield up my awareness. I'll have to collude with myself over this strategy yielding positive results, when deep down I strongly suspect that it won't.

I'm battling the virus, the malware, the trojan of polarization. It's major presenting symptom is a house divided against itself, which, as we know, will not stand.

We as a society are being trolled.

I keep wanting to shake someone awake. We know about organizations like Antifa, etc., that serve the cabal's divide-and-conquer agenda.

We know about the use of agents provocateurs during protests to incite police action. Why do we allow anyone to divide us into warring camps at a time when we need to come together?

In addition to setting us against each other, the meme war is trivializing my attention and keeping me constantly on the move. What's happened now? And now? And now? Must read the news. Are we there yet?

Which is just what it's intended to do, I submit.

By thinking in left/right terms, I was buying the cabal's agenda. By accepting a meme like "Obamagate," I was helping write and establish their narrative of events. (1) I was asleep to what the propagators of the meme were doing and what I was doing.

I know why I allowed it and participated in it. I trapped myself in "no solutions," "can't fight government," etc., at a less-than-surface level of consciousness.

I didn't see what I was doing as long as I was focused on chasing the baseline of events. All was about the chase. No time for self-reflection (as the pandemic provides now).

Notice how gently Archangel Michael inserted his wake-up call:

"Again, sweet one, you're becoming engaged in political intrigue which is distracting you from the true process of Ascension. ...

"It is important during this shift, during this time of new beginnings, yes, with the sweeping away of the old that you focus on the future, which is exactly what you are doing, and what I have guided you to do." (2)

Yes, I had just arrived at the Six Point Plan for my post-Reval activities; I was definitely looking to the future, undoubtedly under his guidance. I flatter myself that I created the Plan; it was undoubtedly his doing.

After I'd finished writing this piece, my eye fell on another channeled message:

"We ask that you resist pointing fingers or politicizing the problem at this point, which can only cause challenges grounding the new light. You'll have plenty of time to decide about those things down the road when things are clearer. The most important part right now is to know that you're all in this together, and the only way out is together." (3)

I agree wholeheartedly.

(See Part Two, tomorrow, for the alternative to the meme war.)

The Virus of Polarization - Part 2/2

May 22, 2020

The ultimate answer to the polarization virus - peace

(Concluded from Part 1, above.)

Alternative to the Meme War

So what's the alternative to the tactics and strategies of the meme war?

The alternative is to consider the case on its merits, independent of any bias or partiality.

You know? All the things we heard about as children? Equal justice for all? A fair and impartial hearing?

We as lightworkers are losing sight of this in our rush to have an educated opinion on what's happening. We're smart. We're hip. But we're being manipulated into two warring camps - pro and con on anything.

A hashtag is not necessarily a meme. They're meant to be an address where people can meet (witness #MeToo). But I cited one the other day, #Obamagate, that is obviously a meme.

The word is controversial. It aims to establish the narrative that there is in fact a case here to be made, where the Company of Heaven unanimously tells us there is none.

All we need to do is become aware of the trap. Just wake up to the way we're being manipulated by the use of biased hashtags like #Obamagate (2) or memes like leftie/alt right.

Awareness is dissolutive (my word). It's not neutral. It takes the charge off a memory and dissolves the bonds of tension in the body. The Buddha used it to ascend to Buddhahood, nirvana.

For myself, I need to reject all sources that base their argument on a prior adherence to a meme.

This means journeying back among the celestial and galactic sources. It's lonely and I feel insecure not keeping abreast of the news from current ground-level sources.

But, now that I'm aware, I can no longer just keep sailing on into a sea of misinformation, disinformation, and manipulation.

Imagine if courts of law were run on whose meme carries the most weight.

I couldn't think of a better strategy for a psyop than to launch divisive memes and watch the more-easily-influenced among us flock to them. The polarization destroys our hopes of unity.

Meanwhile, everything behind the scenes is being handled. One thing the lockdown has taught me is that, if we want a change of planetary management, we'd better stay out of the hair of the people bringing it about. They're doing so at great risk to themselves. And they're reportedly having success.

How perfectly synchronized this awakening is to sheltering in place. I have the time to give to making the shift and to recovering from the virus of polarization.

Polishing the Statue

May 23, 3020

The Pietà - Finely-polished masterpiece by Michaelangelo

How we see Ascension depends on what our goal, aim, or desire is.

If we want to get to the end (are we there yet?), then we'll want the Ascension process over as soon as possible. We're focused on reaching the destination.

If we're focused on how we feel inside, and we're feeling better and better, then getting there as an ultimate desire dissipates somewhat.

I'm focused entirely on how I feel inside. I've realized, over years of self-observation, that how I feel is really what motivates me.

If I feel lonely, I get moving. If I feel depressed, I start sharing about it. If I feel blissful, I just want to sit and enjoy it. In this case, I stop moving, which is closer to my ultimate state of stillness anyways.

I had an apparently-Seventh-Dimensional experience in a meditation workshop sometime prior to 2006. (1) It was at a three-day Vipassana workshop and, even though I hadn't been in a workshop for years and three days is very short, I found myself rooted to the floor in an experience. To this day, I can only find one word for it: "regal."

Everything around me was working but I was not moving a muscle. I was doing without doing, moving without moving. It wasn't telepathy. It was deeper than that. The sensing was being done, the instructions being given at a level below words and images.

I appeared to be moving matters outside myself mainly through my feelings.

This was a significant validation of the importance of feelings. But it still took me years of more self-observation to feel confident in saying that my feelings were the chief motivators of my actions. Since forever, I've always thought it was my thoughts.

Knowing what I know now, I gradually arrive at the need to focus on creating things being such that I feel peaceful, blissful, and loving inside. If how I feel is so important, what am I doing about it?

That raises the bar significantly now in terms of what I want from life. I'm no longer waiting for the end - the Reval, Ascension, etc. I'm significantly at work every day, polishing the statue as Plotinus said, in a passage that has always guided me on the awareness path. (2)

Polishing the statue means watching every interaction and improving the way I handle things every time. Getting it right. Getting it right. And "right" means loving. I'm contributing to uplifting the way I feel.

All of a sudden everyday life becomes sacred. My here and now becomes a blessing - the laboratory, workshop, and experiment - and I'm no longer worried about or focused on reaching the destination. I want to improve the way I feel and then radiate out that enhanced energy to others.

Footnotes

(1) Steve Beckow: I had an experience at a meditation workshop in which I felt regal. It was a partial experience [no bliss]. Can you tell me what that part of me was that I accessed.

Archangel Michael: ... Your highest Self, your Oversoul, is very regal.

SB: So that was an experience of the Oversoul.

AAM: Yes. (Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, Sept. 13, 2011.)

Sue Lie: Seventh [Dimension] is your Oversoul. (The Arcturians in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Sue Lie, March 17, 2013.)

As with so many of my experiences, this one was also truncated. Everything was as I described it, except there was no bliss. Bliss is what lifts us up to realization so, without bliss, no realization.

Nonetheless the experience of regalness and things operating without a word being said or an image being projected while I remained as still as a rock has always remained with me.

(2) These words mean more to me with each passing year:

“Let him who can, arise, withdraw into himself, forego all that is known by the eyes, turn aside forever from the bodily beauty that was once his joy. He must not hanker after the graceful shapes that appear in bodies, but know them for copies, for traceries, for shadows, and hasten away towards that which they bespeak. ...

“Withdraw into yourself and look. ... Do as does the sculptor of a statue that is to be beautified: he cuts away here, he smooths it there, he makes this line lighter, this other one purer, until he disengages beautiful lineaments in the marble. Do you this, too. Cut away all that is excessive, straighten all that is crooked, bring light to all that is overcast, labor to make all one radiance of beauty. Never cease 'working at the statue' until there shines out upon you from it the divine sheen of virtue....

“Have you become like this? Do you see yourself, abiding within yourself, in pure solitude? Does nothing now remain to shatter that interior unity, nor anything cling to your authentic self? Are you entirely that sole true light which is not contained by space, not confined to any circumscribed form, not diffused as something without term, but ever immeasurable as something greater than all measure and something more than all quantity? Do you see yourself in this state? Then you have become vision itself.

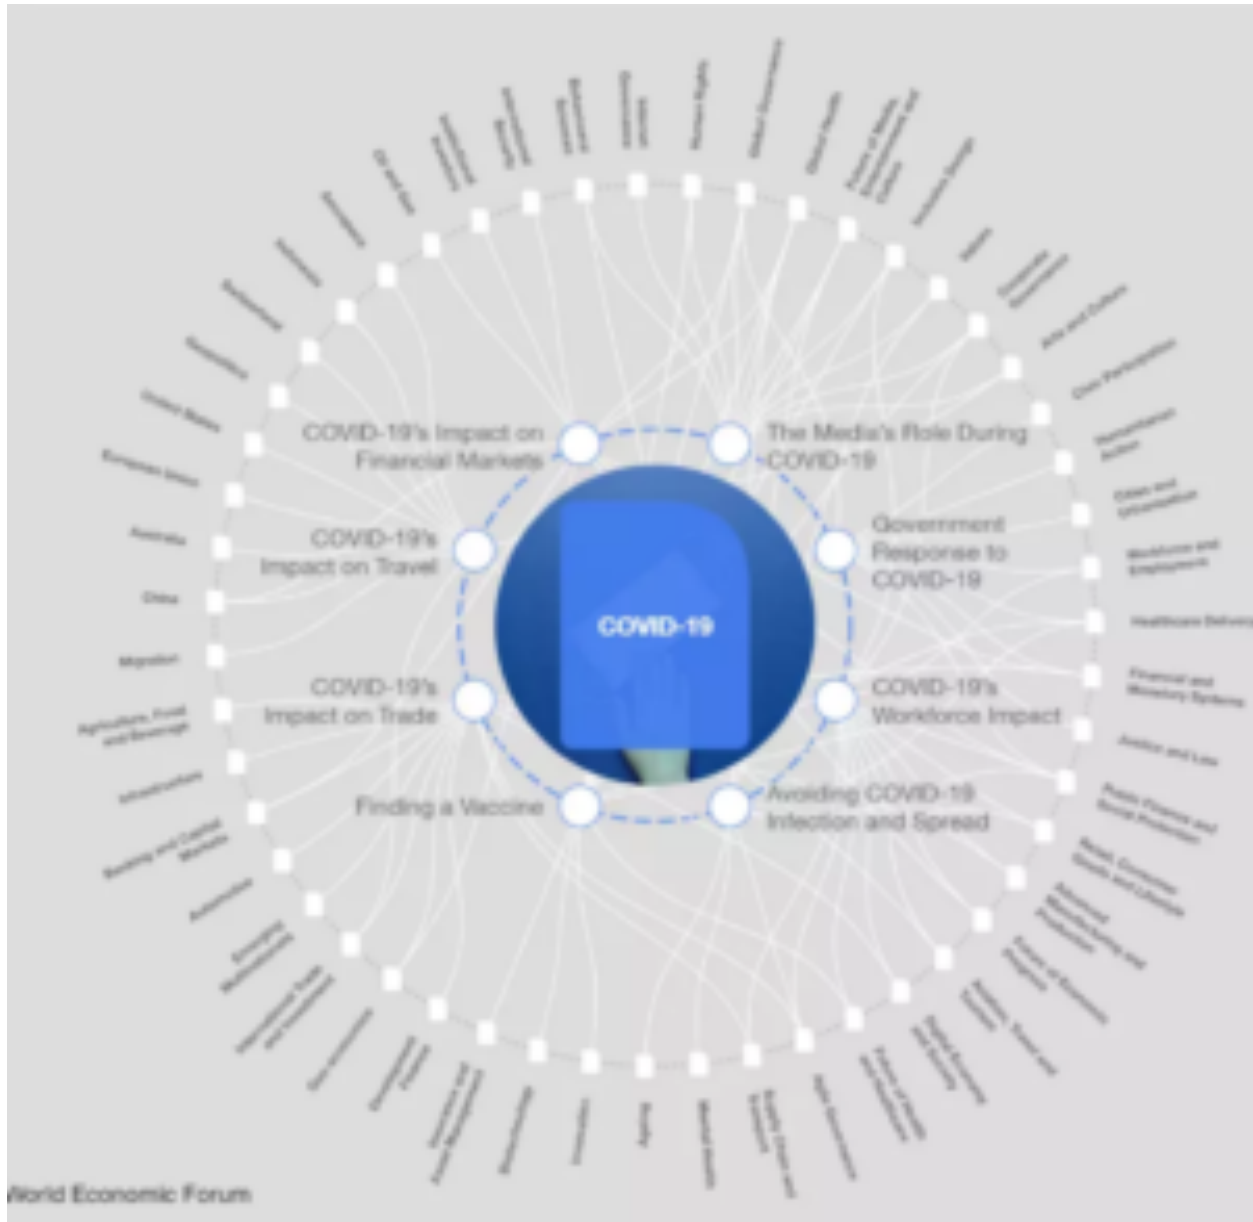

“Be of good heart. Remaining here, you have ascended aloft. You need a guide no longer. Strain and see.” (Plotinus in Elmer O'Brien, ed., The Essential Plotinus.)

The Cabal's Game Plan: The Covid Action Platform

May 24, 2020

<https://www.weforum.org/covid-action-platform#reports>

The plan has numerous nested levels, reached by clicking on the links.

This plan will never succeed, according to the Federation of Light:

"The Game is on ... and the Light has won. That which is taking place behind the scenes is far greater than even you think you know." (1)

In the video, below, former FEMA insider Celeste Solum examines and explains the plan. She quit FEMA because she couldn't stand the game they were up to. But that's another story.

Here she looks at the World Economic Forum's extremely-detailed plan for recovery from Covid-19, posted on March 20, 2020.

Let's see.... March 20, 2020. I was just waking up to the global nature of the problem. I was banging pots on my balcony for healthworkers. I was not into any kind of sophisticated thinking about Covid-19. My favorite coffee shop closed down. I do remember that. That was awful. Well, that's where I was at.

Meanwhile the World Economic Forum, only two, at the most three months into the pandemic, posts an extremely-detailed plan for a Covid-19 recovery that is, from my point of view, a not-very-well-hidden attack on human rights.

In my opinion, it would effectively shift power from the people to the state. These are just my impressions from having listened to Celeste so do your own research.

I've said I consider its publication two or three months into the pandemic an impossible feat. I'd calculate that the plan would need months if not years to map out.

Like 9/11, where we begin to poke around, holes develop. Not much poking around reveals holes in the WEF's claim to be "reacting" to Covid-19, as Celeste explains.

This plan will never win. It will never come into being. Police around the American states are refusing to enforce lockdown provisions, never mind wholesale attacks on civil rights.

Soon there will be no support for the Illuminati's Grand Plan(s). With the global arrests, their numbers are probably thinning as we speak.

You don't have to watch this video if you just get that the Illuminati influence is - or was - everywhere of any significance - politics, banking, religion, entertainment, news, medicine, education, etc. And that same global organization is what is at present being taken down or arrested.

If you get that, then, for heavens sake, go on to the next article. The truth can be upsetting. And there's allegedly much more to come. It's only for those with a need to know and those with the responsibility to tell it. And even those people can only take so much of it.

To the occasional reader, given how intense the news seems to promise to be, do pace yourself. Take the occasional vacation from the news. It all works out in the final reel. No matter what happens, we'll all meet at the final banquet table.

The Smoking Gun of Illuminati Intentions

May 24, 2020

I'm totally swept away by the breadth of the World Economic Forum's plans for ... well, there are no other words for it but world domination and global depopulation.

For me, this is the smoking gun of the Illuminati's global intentions. I'm going to add Celeste's video here for anyone who hasn't heard her describe the WEF's plans yet.

I'm fully aware that none of it will materialize, but the umbrageousness, the arrogance of it all still takes my breath away. They really had worked out the plan of how they would take over the world. This is not a scifi movie.

What was it Blossom's Federation said?

“The opening up of ... a situation/a Truth ... will have ‘everyone’ confused as to the Plan. For it may not seem to make sense or be flowing in the direction you thought it might. This is when you also have to ‘sit tight’ and KNOW that although the Plan itself is also looking so very topsy-turvy ... it is all in order.” (1)

Celeste Solum, whistleblower, formerly from FEMA

(This video has now been censored by Youtube. Fortunately we downloaded a copy.) (2)

<https://s3-us-west-2.amazonaws.com/files.goldenageofgaia.com/COVID+Action+Platform%3B+the+blueprint+of+the+New+World+Order+explained.mp4>

Yes, when we see the scope of the New World Order's plan, things "may not seem to make sense or be flowing in the direction you thought it might." For sure. Things look bad for humanity.

They continue:

“You may take a little time to come around ... yet, because of this preparation, you are in NOW... you will be more than ready to deal with it and do what you have to do.”

It probably will take a little time for me to come around from the shock of realizing the NWO was that far advanced - that they actually had a plan - from having watched the video. But, because I've prepared and I process my vasanas, I'm ready to deal with it and do what I have to do.

They ask us to take this "quiet" time to get ready for the "onslaught" that is to come:

"May we suggest [to you] to use this 'quiet time' ... this 'calm before the storm' ... to prepare your Beings for the onslaught that is to come. In this we mean ... and please know it is difficult as always to put this into words ... that the 'outburst/outbreak' of news ... when it comes ... will hit most of you like a ton of bricks. “

While you're taking this time of rest, think about this. We've known for decades that the Illuminati are in every field of endeavor - politics, the military, religion, banking, education, medicine, etc. (3)

We suspect that the pandemic is an Illuminati false flag. As with all Illuminati operations, we know little about it and those who do know, like Celeste at FEMA, generally do not talk about it.

We know of vast underground complexes holding children to be used in sex and rituals, adrenochrome production and organ harvesting. (We now can guess what happened to so many missing people over the years, foster children, disaster-area orphans, etc.)

We're starting to see how high pedophilia goes and it goes right to the top of many global hierarchies. It includes Hollywood and many fields of endeavor. And the religion of ritual and sacrifice all this serves turns out to be Satanic.

We've known for decades about the TR3-B Aurora and other spaceships, deep underground military bunkers, maglev transportation systems between continents, underground seas, Antarctic bases, super-soldiers, slave colonies on Mars and the Moon, on and on the network of the Illuminati goes. We just never thought there was anything that could be done about it.

And now all of this would have been brought forth, brought together, and brought against us under the cover of the pandemic to arrive at the government Celeste describes.

The Alliance of the positive military and constitutionalists everywhere are at this moment taking this network apart. A transfer of power is happening as we speak.

The Federation goes on to predict an upcoming event of tremendous impact:

“‘In a short while’ ... ‘an Occurrence’ [will take] place that will shock the world. And we are not speaking of the Event at this point.

"There shall be an announcement made that sends everyone into a spin. It will not be able to be kept out of your mainstream media for it will be in accordance with the Divine Plan and it will not be able to be swept under the carpet.

“It will also put your media into a new position ... for many that ‘present news’ will have their thoughts turned upside down and feel they have to follow the Truth.”

Get ready for that one.

They reassure us:

“DO NOT WAVER NOW. The seas are a little choppy yet, as we repeat ...
The storm has not yet arrived. ...

“ALL THAT YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR ... ALL THAT YOU
CAME HERE FOR ... ALL THAT YOU HAVE BEEN LIVING FOR ...

“IS HAPPENING RIGHT NOW.

“KNOW THIS. KNOW THIS. KNOW THIS.

THE DIVINE PLAN CANNOT AND WILL NOT FAIL.

Good news and bad news. Good news: The Divine Plan will not fail. Bad news:
The storm is still to come. But thank you for that reassurance.

They ask us:

“For a while ... CONCENTRATE ON LOVE ... think of nothing else other than the DIVINE PLAN ... which of course is created through/of/as/in Love to bring You ... each one of You ... and all that is life upon your Planet ... into a Higher, more Loving place of Peace.

"Concentrate on that. You can dig as far as you like down those rabbit holes and you will not like what you bump into. Far better at this time to assist by remaining Bright and cheerful and allowing that Brightness to ripple out.”

As much as I can, I will.

Peggy Black and the Team tellingly remind us:

"The global pause, this stop of activities, has given humanity the opportunity to allow a healing of the distortions, the lies that have been told since the beginning of time, especially that you are powerless.

"You are not powerless, you are powerful beyond measure. You have been living in an energy field of unconscious limitation. However we celebrate that you are waking up and stepping out of that unconsciousness into a field of all possibilities. ...

"Be aware of those who offer fear, scarcity, doom and gloom. Remember when the collective feels powerless they are easy to manipulate. You are powerful beyond measure. Own this truth and stay in your open heart with joy and gratitude. These are the emotions and the vibrations that allow you to move through these difficult and challenging changes.

"This is a cosmic awakening. You have the support of the galactic families, the celestials and all divine beings and masters. What is happening on your planet has the attention and support of the entire universe. Earth is ascending into a higher dimension and taking you with her. Celebrate." (4)

What greater reassurance might we get than this? I'm not worried about the outcome of events; my only worry is that we may behave in ways we later regret.

Collective action on the Internet can turn into the virtual equivalent of a mob. We need to watch that the Illuminati do not capitalize on their knowledge of this and attempt to turn us against each other (divide and conquer).

Aside from that, I'm torn between wanting to follow the Federation's advice to concentrate on love and knowing that, as a reporter, I need to stay alive to the baseline of events.

But if it isn't in your spiritual contract to follow that baseline, by all means, put all that aside! If I hadn't chosen to be a journalist, concentrating on love is where I'd want to be.

If things become truly topsy-turvy, as Blossom's Federation predicts, a time may come when we can only report highlights. Just giving you advance notice.

Advance notice? It's already happening.

(3) Svali and Matthew Ward have described the Illuminati the best:

"[Former Illuminati trainer Svali] describes a sadistic Satanic cult led by the richest and most powerful people in the world. It is largely homosexual and pedophile, practices animal sacrifice and ritual murder. It works 'hand in glove' with the CIA and Freemasonry. It is Aryan supremacist (German is spoken at the top) but welcomes Jewish apostates. It controls the world traffic in drugs, guns, pornography and prostitution.

It may be behind political assassination, and 'terrorism,' including Sept. 11, the Maryland sniper and the Bali bomb blast.

"It has infiltrated government on a local, state and national level; education and financial institutions; religion and the media. Based in Europe, it plans a 'world order' that will make its earlier attempts, Nazism and Communism, look like picnics. One other detail: these people are not very happy.

"Svali's courageous testimony explains why our children are no longer taught civic values, why they are being habituated to homosexuality and violence, and why our 'culture' is descending into nihilism and sexual depravity. It raises the possibility that George W. Bush and his Administration are Illuminists, and suggests that much of the world 'elite' may be engaged in a mind-boggling criminal conspiracy." (Henry Makow, "Illuminati Defector Details Pervasive Conspiracy," Rense.com, at <http://www.rense.com/general30/illuminatidefector.htm>.)

"Is the Illuminati organization responsible for all the pain and suffering in the world or do some of those evil people act on their own? Although we refrain from ascribing 'evil' to persons rather than to their deeds, and while some individuals within and beyond the Illuminati do indeed act on their own deranged dark tendencies, the Illuminati 'operation,' you could say, has been responsible for all major wars, divisiveness, impoverishment and rampant deception and corruption for the past 265 years or so, after the name Illuminati came into being. It was devised by individuals in Bavaria who felt that they were the most intelligent, knowledgeable and capable persons in the world—the ‘illuminated’ ones—and in their self-aggrandizement, they felt entitled to control the lives of everyone else.

"As their numbers grew, so did their influence in governments, religions, national economies and trade. They used the industrial revolution to their advantage, and as decades passed, they did the same with subsequent inventions and the planet's natural resources. Eventually their control spanned the globe and encompassed everything that affects life in your world—from education to entertainment and mainstream media; food production, manufacturing, banking and stock markets to legal and justice systems; weaponry development to military forces and intelligence agencies; healthcare and pharmaceutical and chemical industries to wages, taxation and transportation." # Reassurance for Those Who Feel Disturbed by the Cabal's Plan

Readers have written in and said that they were frightened to hear of the cabal's plans for a world power grab.

No need to be frightened, even though the extent of the plan is staggering.

To establish the grounds for confidence, let me give the opinions of the Company of Heaven on the matter, using a question-and-answer format.

What are we looking for in the future?

The Federation of Light through Blossom Goodchild (afterwards FoL): That which is to come shall be THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH! (1)

What work is happening from your side?

Ashian: As you are aware, there is a great deal of work happening on 'our side of the veil', as preparations that have been a long time in the making are now being executed. (2)

So the round up is happening?

Ashian: It is very much happening, and it is not for much longer that this will be held in secret from all of humanity, for that is the next step. (3)

What more can you add to that?

Ashian: Soon events will move extremely rapidly, and for many it will seem as though events are too rapid. The mainstream media's bias is about to fall away, and the outpouring of truths will then tumble forth like a series of tsunamis.

We do not wish to alarm anyone, but we do say that this will be an exceptionally intense period for all of humanity.

You, the awakened ones, will also have the additional role of balancing much of the negatively polarised energy that this second wave will release within the collective.

This second wave will be make it seem as though you are on an emotional rollercoaster – elated one minute, despairing the next. Take heart, our beloved brothers and sisters, ask us to assist you. Remember we can, remember that each one of you has a team working with you on this project. (4)

What should we prepared for?

The Arcturian Group through Marilyn Raffaele: Be prepared for change but also be prepared to hear things that will upset you. Much is going to surface regarding the long standing negative activities of some individuals. The denser energies must be exposed for what they are in order to be recognized and acknowledged. There is an element that feeds from energies of fear, pain, suffering, and discord and in order to keep feeding, they promote words, activities, and false information that will serve to keep fear and discord alive.

When you become aware of these types of issues, send these individuals Light while recognizing that they too are Divine Beings who have lost their way. They have chosen to close their hearts to Love energy and have no interest in or awareness of the fact that everything they sought is already fully present within them. ...

It is easy to get caught up in this type of information and spend a great deal of time and energy studying and researching negative activities. You have all experienced the heaviness of dense energy that comes from getting too involved in these types of issues.

As awakened individuals you are ready to move beyond duality and separation and live from the higher levels of consciousness you have attained. Be aware of and informed about negative beliefs and actions, but then release them and align with Reality. (5)

When will humanity awaken?

Saul through John Smallman: We are approaching the completion or the end point of humanity's awakening process! That probably does not appear to be the case from your perspective as the news media floods the airwaves and the internet with further misinformation about the worldwide pandemic, along with news of the ensuing dramas. (6)

What should we remember at this time?

Steve Rother and the Group: We ask that you resist pointing fingers or politicizing the problem at this point, which can only cause challenges grounding the new light. You'll have plenty of time to decide about those things down the road when things are clearer. The most important part right now is to know that you're all in this together, and the only way out is together. (7)

So are you saying the current virus is a hologram?

Xiaera through Jennifer Crokaert: That is one way of understanding it. You are on the ascension timeline, this cannot be altered, but it can be seeded with lower vibration thoughts which are taken from humanity, and then woven together to make a picture, an illusion projected that seems real, but is not. (8)

How do you see our planet at this time?

Xiaera: If you could see your planet in the way that we perceive it, energetically, you would see that the waves of darkness are, though they swirl all over your planet, finding fewer places to land, to connect and to feed off of lower-vibration energy.

Although it may seem that many people are the same as before, deep within them, their energy signatures are evolving rapidly and becoming more refined. The light is now outstripping the darkness for the first time on your planet in millennia. ...

The 'end' of this process will be abrupt, a rupture, as if the hologram creating the current situation is ruptured. The true vision will spill out in different locations of the globe, as if a hologram is breaking down and cannot be sustained. It will fizzle and then disappear. (9)

We are so close now to so much. Aren't we?

FoL: YOU ARE NOT CLOSE. YOU ARE IN IT ... AND SHALL CONTINUE TO BE.

So, should we watch rabbit-hole adventures or just jump into the Rainbow?

FoL: Balance. Keep your balance ... weigh up the feelings within you ... if you are feeling too deep within the rabbit hole ... slide down some rainbows for a time.

YOU ARE INTELLIGENT BEINGS. You do not need us to tell you these things. (10)

The game is on and who will win?

FoL: The game is on ... and the Light has won. That which is taking place behind the scenes is far greater than even you think you know. (11)

All the Devastating Epidemics That Coronavirus is Distracting Us From

Tamara Pearson, CounterPunch, March 6, 2020

(<https://www.counterpunch.org/2020/03/06/all-the-devastating-epidemics-that-coronavirus-is-distracting-us-from/>)

Almost every day the BBC's One-minute World News provides the latest death tally from coronavirus. The short news wrap-up typically covers about three news items only, meaning that for the BBC, the virus has been among the top three most important issues for the world, daily for the last two months.

All the other mainstream media outlets are likewise reporting on every single angle to this story they can, including regular updates of the global tally and a country-by-country breakdown.

The impact of such intense coverage of the virus is widespread fear, even though pedestrians are still 13 times more likely to be killed by a car than by this virus.

Further, media-based concern about irreversible climate change and the ubiquitous sexual abuse of women seems to have died down. Those issues have become less of an emergency, and the sense that governments and businesses need to rectify straight away, has diminished.

While 3,000 people have unfortunately died from coronavirus over the past two months (50 people per day), here are some stats on some comparatively atrocious epidemics that we should also be informed about every single hour, in lurid detail, until something changes:

- 87,000 women a year, or 238 a day, are murdered.
- 36,000 people a day are forced to flee their homes, with a total of 70.8 million people currently forcibly displaced.
- 24,600 people die every day from starvation, and 820 million people don't have enough food to eat.
- 10,000 people die daily because they lack access to healthcare.
- 6,000 people die daily from work-related accidents or illnesses, for 2.3 million people per year. There are 340 million occupational accidents every year.
- 2,191 people die to suicide every day, for 800,000 per year.
- 1,643 people die every day due to second-hand smoking.
- 740 pedestrians are killed on roads every day.
- Around 998 million women have experienced sexual violence (that is around 35% of women).

- At any given time, around 40.3 million people are working in some kind of forced labor or marriage.
- An area of forest the size of the UK is being destroyed every year.
- There are 150 million people without somewhere to live and 1.6 billion people living in inadequate housing.
- More than 50% of indigenous adults suffer from Type 2 diabetes.
- An estimated 560,000 people were killed in Syria by December 2018.
- Almost half of humanity is living on less than US\$5.50 per day.

Then there are the epidemics that aren't even documented or counted. We know that three in 10 young trans people in the US tried take their lives in the space of a year, and that 40% of bisexual people have considered or attempted suicide there, but we don't have global figures.

And no one is measuring the death of imagination of people who work three jobs, or the global impact of US invasions and its almost 800 military bases, or the mind-numbing impact of the US\$532 billion advertising industry.

And we do not know how many people globally are subject to racist attacks, nor is there some kind of daily measurement of the pandemic of bland apathy to the world's toxic social and economic structures.

There is no one categorizing the overproduction of useless shzt, though we do know that there are around 50 million tons of e-waste produced each year. There is no daily news on the virulent erasure of histories, voices, people's organization, cultures, and languages.

The mainstream media are not concerned in the same way by the epidemic of corrupt politicians bought off by big business or by the public money lost to corporate tax avoidance (estimated at \$500 billion per year).

And the mainstream media will not talk much about these things. That isn't just because rich people can't catch poverty, it's because the mainstream media is capitalist and it does not recognize systemic issues, and certainly not the causes and solutions to them.

The media pretends not to, but it does have an agenda, and that agenda is in fact counter to the one that us serious journalists commit to – to revealing the bruises of the world and the screaming injustices and holding those in power accountable.

Panic and fomenting fear are well-tried methods of control, distraction, and of shifting popular support towards the rightwing. On the other hand, raising awareness of the sickening global inequality and the daily pain so many are subject to develops critical thought, and would be empowering and disrupting, and so the mainstream media does not do that.

The Pause from the Mother's Point of View: Not a Riptide, but a Gentle Tide

May 26, 2020

Some folks are using the pandemic to depopulate the globe.

Some are using it to cover the arrest of the folks who are using it to depopulate the globe.

Some others are trying to make sense of the virus and offer the best treatment, at great personal risk.

Whatever our free-will situation, the Divine Mother takes it at this time of Ascension and turns it to the advantage of the Light.

In our present situation, the Divine Mother takes in hand the situation we find ourselves in - lockdown - to call "a Pause." She hopes we'll use it to reassess our life choices and make transformational changes.

----->>>> The changes we make within will manifest as the changes without in time, by the universal law of within and without. <<<<-----

She tells us here:

"The rebirth, the reset – the pause – is and has been absolutely necessary in order for people, human beings of all sorts, to truly decide what is in value, what is in integrity, what is in love. ...

"There are turning points in the history of every planet and collective – and this is a turning point. And the gift in this pause – and I do not call it “virus”; I call it “the pause” – the gift is to pause long enough to truly decide, individually and collectively, how you wish to live, how you choose to live, and how you will choose to implement what you choose!

"It requires radical choice, radical restructuring, not as a riptide in my Infinite Ocean but in the gentle tides, the gentle currents, the currents of change." (1)

Not revolution, but transformation. Not a riptide, but a gentle tide.

Maybe I can intrude for a minute and give my own point of view.

In my opinion, the transformation of our society fundamentally requires our shifting our vote from a "no" to continuing life on this planet as we know it to a "yes."

Because the train, as matters stand now, is headed for disaster and only stopping the train and laying new track in another direction is going to avert it.

Readers of this blog don't need me to do an overview of the situation facing humanity. I'd be worried if it wasn't for ... well, everyone arrayed against it.

The Mother called this a "turning point in history."

Undoubtedly it is.

As boots on the ground, we know the planet is about to experience a change of management. And the former chapter in the Earth's history is about to be closed.

Are we going to be ready for it? Are we going to be able to take advantage of this turning point in history?

The Mother is asking us to do our part in it by going inwards and questioning whether this life we have is the life we want. Because if we liberate our sense of what we want and want it, rather than putting up with deprivation or denial, it will manifest as the new normal, first inside and then outside. And - she adds - it'll manifest gently.

This occurs by the universal law of within and without, which holds that what we create within manifests without. As we ascend gradually, successful use of the laws comes more and more within our reach.

It takes longer in a physical medium (3rd/4th Dimension) for something to manifest than it does in a spiritual medium (Fifth Dimension and higher). But it does manifest in the outer eventually. And it manifests quicker the higher we ascend.

So the Mother wants us to look again, during this Pause, and see whether we've got it right. Is the life we're living the life we want to live? No? What will we do about it?

Now is the time. Transformation of the planet is possible as a result of the opportunity the pandemic - or the Mother's Pause, however you choose to see it - provides to reclaim and rechoose our lives.

What beliefs do we need to let go of? What decisions do we need to rethink? What apologies made? What forgiveness asked?

The shift we make inside from feeling powerless to feeling powerful, from thinking there are no solutions to taking charge manifests as our reality in the outside world - with an interval due to the denseness of physicality.

This process is laying new track. This train is no longer headed for disaster.

"The ethical choices of your planet matter," the Mother tells us, "and so things can no longer be slid under the rug." (2) The truth must come out, though it's having a prolonged and difficult birth.

And it's not going to be pleasant when it does. Everything many people believed in is about to be brought into question. I predict national and international grief. Vasana (core issue) volcanoes will be going off.

The necessary adjustments to the truth will have to be made - and these are predominantly inward. The changes we make inward will then manifest in the outer world as the new normal.

We all want clean government, free healthcare, a safe childhood and old age, etc. Those are givens.

But what do we want for ourselves inwardly? The Mother asks us to examine this more than anything else in this time of external lockdown and self-observation (as seen from the awareness path).

In the article that follows, I'll be looking at what other celestial and galactic sources say about the Pause.

What Others Have to Say about the Pause

May 26, 2020

Above, we looked at what the Divine Mother had to say about the Pause we're in - this time of sheltering in place and social isolation.

She asked us to use it to go inside and see if the life we're living is the life we want. If not make the internal changes now and the external changes will manifest.

Today I'd like to look at what others are saying about the Pause.

Archangel Michael was the clearest on its place in current affairs. He told Andrew Eardley:

"What is occurring in the global situation is that you have been put on pause. The Mother has spoken through this channel about 'the Pause' for a long time, and various individuals have certainly been through the Pause and have benefitted from being in that state – no, not of inertia; pause and inertia are very different things; pause and 'being stuck' are very different things.

"So ... – and this is significant [in terms of] what the coronavirus is about – the entire planet is being put on pause for the reset, for the rebirth that the Mother has talked about.

"So will there be many significant events in the upcoming weeks and months? The answer is 'yes.' And, as we have repeatedly said, it is not a singular event – it is a domino effect. And we are not talking, let us be very clear, about the collapse of that which is valuable such as societies and communities, but it most certainly is a reset." (1)

I could go on for pages unpacking his words. Many events in a domino effect - only thousands or millions of dominoes. But not as a collapse of that which is valuable, but a definite reset. Buckle up.

Peggy Black and the Team see us awakening from centuries of lies and distortions:

"The global pause, this stop of activities, has given humanity the opportunity to allow a healing of the distortions, the lies that have been told since the beginning of time, especially that you are powerless. You are not powerless, you are powerful behind measure.

"You have been living in an energy field of unconscious limitation. However we celebrate that you are waking up and stepping out of that unconsciousness into a field of all possibilities."

I think we are waking up. The shock of the truth unfolding will finish the job of destroying our valued illusions. I look forward to the kind of peace I knew as a child growing up in the 1950s when all the constricting structures have fallen.

The Team see the rise of Oneness as one result of Internet interaction. I hope they're correct.

"There is an awareness of the oneness of all. The internet has offered this connection for some time. However now it is more obvious just how it serves as a link."

That obviousness is nowhere more apparent than in the Internet's responses to Youtube, Facebook, and Twitter's attempts to censor whistleblowers and interviewers. New sites free of censorship sprang up. It appears that the people of the Internet are unwilling to live a life of "unconscious limitation."

Moreover, the Team tells us, we have the time to process and let go of our old issues.

"Having all your social activities stopped has removed any distraction you might have used to avoid looking at any personal and emotional issues. What a wonderful situation you have been offered – to be with yourself and your loved ones coming into the space of awareness." (2)

It is a wonderful opportunity, fraught with worry among so many who are financially struggling as a result of the pandemic. But for those who find themselves idle anyways, to start on the path of self-awareness is liberating.

The Arcturian Group also urge us to use this time for self-examination, self-observation, self-awareness, in a passage much like the Divine Mother's, above:

"You are entering a new phase of the evolutionary process. Present 'down times' are allowing a quietness during which many for the first time are pondering, questioning, evaluating their lives, and the right way of doing things.

"Every day more are allowing themselves to honestly examine aspects of their personal life as well as the world in general such as business, farming, religion, health, education, environment, and politics etc.

"Much that has always been considered correct and appropriate is being recognized as inefficient, obsolete, and unfair to many and based in convenience and a resistance to change by those who benefit from the status quo." (3)

That's a pretty sweeping diagnosis. This is the time to let go of all these constraining structures.

So we let go of baggage that no longer serves us. We assess our lives as we're living them. And we make inward changes that will manifest, in a gentle tide, in the outer.

Grener, President of the Intergalactic Council, calls it a time of resurrection:

"You are in the pause, you are in the transition, you are in the time of resurrection when you rise from the ashes, the ashes of the destruction of humanity – and no, we do not mean people dying; we mean the destruction of 'the old' that does not serve and has not served for thousands and thousands and thousands of years.

"So the change that is in the air and in the soil and in the water are the changes, sweet one, that we have assisted in creating, that you have assisted in creating, and that set the stage for the re-emergence not only of Gaia but of this collective we call humans." (4)

Again Grener echoes Mother declaration that this is a turning point in history. The change of planetary management is a turning point. But it won't make any difference without a change of planetary management inside. That part is left up to us.

----->>> No change inside; no lasting change outside. <<<-----

I'm certainly watching my ways of being come up before my eyes during this time of self-observation, all the more so for being isolated, as so many of us are.

An Us-and-Them World

May 27, 2020

Werner Erhard made the distinction between an us-against-them and an us-and-them world.

A world that works for everyone is an us-and-them world. Others have called it win/win.

Now, I was not raised in an us-and-them environment, not viewed from any angle - except perhaps the angle of the soccer or baseball team.

Our team - whether sports or military or commercial - was us-and-them. But everyone else was us-against-them.

I remember reading the business reports of the 1990s having to do with automation. It was from reading them that I came up with the designation "business Darwinism," because that's what it was.

Everything was about survival and the pursuit of money and power. Business was red in tooth and claw. The weakest went to the wall. It was the law of the jungle.

Our aim was to eat someone else's lunch before they ate ours, to strike before they did, to behave like a shark.

I couldn't believe what I was reading.

So I'm learning something brand, spanking new, along with everyone else. All I have are the concepts, "us-and-them" and "win/win."

My habitual tendency is to be aggressive and distrustful of strangers. So at the moment I'm just plastering "us-and-them" over top of "us-against-them." I'm "looking good," rather than being genuine.

I have gotten that "us-against-them" doesn't work. This current mass hypnosis over memes and hashtags has shown me how deeply into the rabbit's hole I can fall without realizing it. (1)

I've known since the Seventies that, when awareness contracts, awareness that one's awareness has contracted also contracts. I did not know I had become polarized and I did not know I did not know.

***

As I've said many times, when I set out into new territory, I first establish a beachhead of understanding. My beachhead of understanding here is that the current divisive atmosphere in the world today is serving no one's purpose but the Illuminati's.

Unity must be what we lightworkers embrace or we forfeit a voice at the council fires later on, if I can use that motif.

If our left is throwing names at our right, and vice versa, we lose our right to speak for the collective. Our power dissolves in civil conflict.

We regard it as making a difference that we make war on each other. The divide-and-conquer strategy is almost invisible to us. Where's a redpill when you need one?

If this pandemic has taught us anything, it's taught us (OK, me) that we're all in this together and the way out is together.

So that lesson has been gotten. And that is the extent of my beachhead of understanding.

***

I can connect with the matter more deeply when I consider it from the vantage point of presiding in a hearing room in a refugee claim. (2)

I would not allow villifying, slurring, insinuating, or ridiculing in my hearing room. To resort to such devices would bring the speaker's credibility into question. Why would I allow it in here?

And yet that cuts out a good proportion of ostensible lightworker news sources. The search for credible sources may not be easy. It's complicated by being in the midst of the storm.

But the end result is worth it. The search is my first foray out from my beachhead.

My second foray has been, on two occasions, to separate the person from their behavior. I have never actually done this, no matter how many times I've used the phrase. On two occasions I actually did it. Well done, Steve.

A third foray has been into movies in which people really did stand for values. Remembering some of my favorite scenes (OK, OK, Moses coming back from the burning bush) is helping. And your encouraging feedback is like gas in my tank.

Michael and Mother, I ask you to furnish me with the realizations I need to connect with and understand an us-and-them world. Realizations such as these are in your hands. I invoke the laws of above and below and give and receive and your grace to this effect.

Footnotes

(1) I was becoming polarized and partisan. Michael warned me years ago it was quicksand. And it turned out to be:

Archangel Michael: You have stood at the edge of the fray and you have inserted not only rationality but a sense of balance and of light and of peace. So for this I commend you.

Steve: But go no further, right?

AAM: Yes. Because this has the energy of quicksand. It will suck you dry.
(Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, Sept. 2, 2016.)

(2) And that's where the last article came from:

“Trial by Social Media: Stop the Meme War,” May 19, 2020, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2020/05/19/trial-by-social-media-stop-the-meme-war/s>
