Introduction

The subject of climate change is so politically charged that a balanced discussion is difficult.

If it was even desired. The evidence from our sources points to climate change as having been hijacked by the New World Order (1) and used as one card they play to keep the public perpetually off-balance and in fear.

The pandemic lagging, they play the climate-change card. If the climate change lags, they'll play another card.

Even if we could have a balanced discussion, if it was empirically-based, it wouldn't reach deeply enough. By empirically based, I mean accepting only what we see, hear, touch, etc., as real. The evidence of higher-dimensional beings wouldn't be accepted.

That may end in the near future, depending on what the EAS (was EBS) reveals. (2) But without the input of the higher-dimensional beings, I wonder how far we'll get with the really thorny problems.

So there'll have to be an initial widening of human vision, so to speak, to take into account the larger reality. Imagine if we cannot acknowledge the existence of the archangel embodying this planet: Her name is Gaia. I'm not sure such an enterprise would interest me, quite frankly.

One of the difficulties in discussing climate change is that both sides are right and ... not. There is climate change. Some species will become extinct and relocate elsewhere. (3) There will be storms and earthquakes and they won't be attributable to HAARP; they'll be Gaia shedding the negativity we've caused her.

But they're not due to rising CO2 levels. They're not a catastrophe. Humans are only one contributor; the major contributor is the Sun.

For more, here are the terrestrial and extraterrestrial ascended masters and celestials - the Company of Heaven - offering what they see as the truth about climate change.

How Many Dots Make a Picture?

I'd like to repeat a message, largely for newcomers, but for anyone else who wants a reminder.

The message is that, as far as I'm aware, there is no climate change in the way that's being talked about.

In other words, there's no globally-catastrophic climate change occurring (period) and there's no such change happening because of humanity's products, including animal products and engine emissions.

My understanding is that what climate change there is is due to one or more of six factors:

(A) To provide an exit route for those who had it in their soul contract, for whatever reason, to leave at this time;

(B) To balance karma for those intending to stay and ascend, and who still had considerable karma;

(C) To help Gaia make adjustments needed to break free of humanity's negativity as stored in her body, the Earth;

(D) As a result of changes in our Sun; (3)

(E) As a result of Gaia's movement into higher consciousness, resulting in turbulent change followed by a more moderate climate worldwide; and/or

(F) As a result of weather warfare as practiced by the deep state and masked by the media as "natural disasters."

There's nothing we can do about (A) - (E). We're told the galactics are watching over and mitigating the weather process generally. (4)

The Earth Alliance are probably shutting down (F) as we speak. If you consider flooding a vast worldwide network of deep underground military bunkers (DUMBs) to be "weather warfare," then the Alliance is fighting back.

It may be that the Alliance are allowing the deep state to operate their HAARP (High Altitude Auroral Research Project) stations and related weather-warfare technology as part of awakening the people. On subjects like that we await the truth from our channeled sources.

Matthew Ward told us about the expected weather changes as far back as 2007 - and many times since:

"What are commonly known as 'global warming' and 'El Nino' are part of Earth's natural processes to return to her original moderate climate everywhere. While she is achieving this, glaciers will melt, the vast deserts will become arable, rain forests will flourish, and variations in temperatures will markedly decrease-ultimately, everyplace in your world will be comfortably habitable.

"People now living in the coldest or the hottest climes will adapt, but it is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move." (5)

Fast forward to 2021 and we're in the midst of many storms, one being the unseating of the deep state. Along with Matthew, SaLuSa's channel, Mike Quinsey describes a time of stormy weather and then smooth sailing.

"Your weather is giving cause for concern but be assured that the outcome will be more settled and acceptable. Mother Earth is wiser than you may think and quite able to manage the changes required to give you a more moderate weather pattern without the extremes you are experiencing now.

"It will take time and inconvenience many but it has to be carried out. In the end you will be pleased and well satisfied. It takes time to come out of the dark period and leave behind that which has no place in your future. There is so much being done to resettle you into a more acceptable life pattern and it will come in due course." (6)

What is being sold to us by the cabal as "climate change" (in my opinion, their next crisis) is in reality the return to a moderate climate worldwide. Mike Quinsey gives us a one-minute synopsis:

"The Earth is preparing you for beneficial changes that will result in a more pleasant environment and restore it to its prime condition. Providing note is taken of the potential outcome, you will be able to accommodate changes without being inconvenienced." (7)

The cabal appear to be jumping from crisis to crisis, with the assistance of the controlled press. We've had a pandemic that seems to have passed, leaving incalculable vaccine death and damage in its wake, and two more pandemics-in-waiting, that don't appear to have gotten off the launch pad.

We've had numerous shootings and a constitutional circus on Capitol Hill to deflect attention. An unopposed open border, leaving the Taliban $80 plus billion worth of military equipment, selling needed oil abroad, disarming the citizenry, closing down active farmland. How many dots make a picture?

This is the twilight of the gods and the gods are not leaving quietly.

On another occasion, he said:

"You hardly need to be told that climate change is happening and that your normal weather expectations are being thrown into turmoil. Change is inevitable as you enter higher and higher vibrations, and you have been warned to be prepared on many occasions. What you are experiencing is quite normal for the period of time you are now in and it will level out as the changes bring in the new and dispense with the old." (Mike Quinsey's Higher Self Message, Aug. 6, 2021.)

We're in the storm.

(3) "Global warming is currently very much the topic of the day, and it is well that you try to understand how you can reduce the damage you are causing. However, what is not fully taken into consideration is that your Sun is changing, and is by far the main reason that the changes are taking place. In time they will settle down and you will have more temperate conditions throughout the world. The extremes of weather as you have always experienced, will no longer occur and life will become more pleasant and totally bearable.

"As the changes are brought about they will open up opportunities to receive the higher energies. It will enable the cleansing of the old and allow the new to manifest." (SaLuSa, Dec. 16, 2009.) (My emphasis.)

(4) "Global warming is bringing rapid changes to your weather systems, but they will not be catastrophic. Naturally physical changes will occur on Earth and we are aware of what will take place, and are allowed to direct them in ways that will minimise their effects. Be assured that in the end it will all prove to be in your interests, and the world will experience more stable temperatures and variations. It will eventually prove to be temperate and ideal regardless of where you are."

Sorting Out Climate Change

August 29, 2022

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2022/08/29/337997/>

Yes, climate change is happening....

Just a note on climate change and what our leadership asks of us.

It isn't that humanity has not had a baneful effect on the environment. We have and we have to stop and clean up our mess.

But, at the same time, the New World Order/World Economic Forum are spinning that situation so as to present it as a crisis, to which they then offer themselves as the solution, and we lose more of our civil rights.

Moreover, they move from one issue to another - viruses, vaccines, China, Russia, Ukraine, climate change - keeping us off guard and divided against one another. No one points at the power behind the screen manipulating us.

Because the cabal knows this is the end game, they seem to be throwing everything they have behind their drive for world power. That includes weather manipulation, economic depression, and planned starvation.

We watch them closing down farms, burning down food production plants, "regulating" the use of fertilizers, introducing new forms of food like crickets - all in aid of controlling food production as one more means of controlling us.

One of the problems we're encountering is what all peace-loving people seem to encounter at the outset of a war - and this in my view is a war, if a hidden one: The peace-loving folks are not organized. They can't believe that their own governments would desire their destruction (see the late Georgia Guidestones). They're so slow to move that many people are lost (to vaccines, for example) before the dictators are stopped.

In our case perhaps hundreds of thousands of children have been lost to the human trafficking/pedophile/adrenochrome circuit. Many more could be lost before we rouse ourselves and finally put a stop to it.

So here we are again - more than 75 years after Hitler, against another dictatorial adversary committed to world control and having a well-planned agenda and logistics.

However, as the beaching of the Ever Given in the Suez Canal demonstrates, those who are with us are stronger than those who oppose us.

On every front the cabal seems to be losing ground. In my opinion, the Reval - and the transition to the Quantum Financial System, combined with Executive Order 13818 sequestering the wealth of human-rights abusers - will effectively kill it. Worldwide. (1)

But back to the climate. Yes, the climate is changing worldwide. Yes, some species will be affected. Let me cite other articles addressing these subjects at length, in the footnotes. (2) For now, let me cite one passage from Matthew Ward, which covers much of the territory, injecting a note of balance and truth into the discussion:

"Individuals who contend that the climate is changing naturally, that humankind has nothing to do with it, need to stop denying facts: Toxic pollutants in your skies, waters and soil; deep mining; drilling for oil; fracking for natural gas; scarification of forested lands; and technological weather manipulation are not Mother Nature's doing.

"Those activities, which have been woefully destructive to Gaia's planetary body, are impeding her return to the health and balance that are essential for all of her residents to survive and thrive.

"Relative to this, let us mention some 'predictions' devised by the dark ones and passed on by persons who believe the issues are of grave concern, such as Earth is moving toward another ice age. No, she is not—she is moving toward the moderate climate that prevailed when the planet in its entirety was the garden of Eden. ...

[Other dire predictions deleted.]

"The only purpose of any dire-sounding situation is to create fear. It is for the same purpose that Covid case numbers are relentlessly reported and 'experts' say that even after everyone is vaccinated, the virus will continue wending its way around the globe, so wearing masks and social distancing will be the way of life. It is fear's low vibrations that let the dark ones become powerful in your world." (3)

We tend not to think on a large scale usually. Our attention is usually focused on our day-to-day affairs.

But, here, we have to think on a very large scale to accept that an adversary - call it the Illuminati, New World Order, deep state, cabal, whatever you like - has arisen over centuries, of tremendous sophistication and power, which is bent on world domination and the elimination of all but 500 million of us. They have captured the allegiance of world leaders and celebrities. This is a clear and present danger and calls for all of us to wake up to the peril we face.

We didn't believe that Hitler meant world domination. But he did. And our unwillingness to face the truth cost millions of lives.

This is exactly the same situation. We face an adversary more ... gosh, I hate to use the word ... evil than our worst nightmares. Torturing babies for an "age-enhancing" drug called adrenochrome is evil. Sacrificing humans and eating them is evil. (4) I can't even bring myself to describe some of their other practices.

We need to face up to the fact that this is what our adversary does and has in store for us.

The world will not die in some climatic catastrophe. Aside from the catastrophes that HAARP (5) and other weather-manipulation devices cause, two things can be said: (A) We're headed for a very agreeable climate worldwide and (B) there has been damage caused to Gaia which, with galactic help, we'll need to address later.

Trudeau Installing Weapons Armouries, Interrogation Rooms for Ministry of Climate Change

August 28, 2022

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2022/08/28/trudeau-building-armory-for-climate-police/>

Two articles on the Prime Minister's creation of "climate police." Some bias and memes.

EXCLUSIVE LEAK: Trudeau Installing Weapons Armouries, Interrogation Rooms for Ministry of Climate Change

Kean Bexte, Counter Signal, Aug. 23, 2022

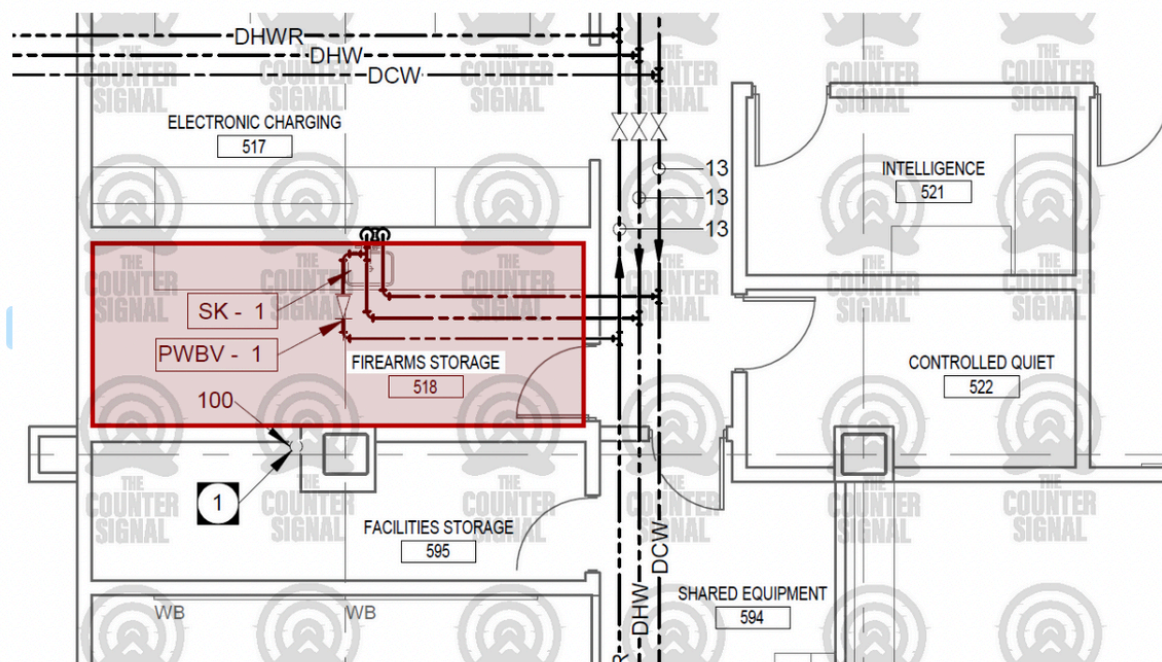

(<https://thecountersignal.com/exclusive-leak-trudeau-installing-weapons-armouries-interrogation-rooms-for-ministry-of-climate-change/>)

Architectural plans have been leaked to The Counter Signal, revealing Trudeau's sinister plans to weaponize the climate change agenda.

The Ministry of Environment & Climate Change Canada (ECCC) is building a new facility in Winnipeg that will be home to a firearms armory, interrogation rooms, biological labs, media relations offices, "controlled quiet rooms," and intelligence facilities.

The plans, which were drawn up by a firm in Winnipeg, open a window into Trudeau's future plans for Climate Enforcement.

Down the hall from the proposed "Firearms Storage" rooms are several evidence rooms, interrogation suites, and adjacent recording rooms.

Leaked plans for a Climate Police Armory

According to a recently posted Indeed.com ad, the Ministry is searching to recruit a battalion of Climate "Pollution" Officers, a unit within the coldly named "Environmental Enforcement Directorate."

If you emit too much carbon or use too much fertilizer, you may just be on the Climate [Police's] hit list.

The entire facility that was leaked to The Counter Signal is sketched to be over 50,000 square feet, will house hundreds of ECCC staff, and will also be home to weather forecasting staff.

The Impact Assessment Act (IAA), which was quietly passed in the final days of Trudeau's majority government, grants sweeping power to Ministerial "Enforcement Officers." But, until now, little has been explained about where and how Climate Police will be deployed.

The IAA empowers agents of the Ministry of Climate Change to enter premises without a warrant to "verify compliance or prevent non-compliance with [the Act].

Trudeau's Climate Police may enter any project location that affects the environment to take photographs, access computer systems and communication devices, and "direct any person to put any machinery, vehicle or equipment in the place into operation or to cease operating it." Climate Police may also prohibit access to the location entirely.

It seems to be no coincidence that this Climate Police armoury was placed in the heartland of agricultural production in Canada. This information comes just days after agents dispatched by ECCC were accused of trespassing on private land in Saskatchewan to collect Nitrogen samples, the newest target of Trudeau's climate change agenda.

According to the landowners who confronted the federal agents trespassing on their land, they were told that the purpose of them being there was to test the water in the farmers' dugouts to measure nitrate levels.

Trudeau's government recently announced a policy to reduce the use of fertilizer on Canadian farms by 30%. This policy has been widely criticized by farmers across the country and by provincial governments in the Western provinces, with opponents saying it will cripple the food supply.

Some observers have said that there is reason to suspect that these actions are the first steps in replicating the attacks on farmers that have provoked widespread unrest in the Netherlands and elsewhere in Europe.

While the federal government has not yet confirmed it, there is speculation that the water sampling we now know is underway will be used as baseline measurements to enforce reductions in fertilizer usage going forward.

The Counter Signal has reached out to ECCC for comment.

Trudeau Hiring “Climate Police” As Canada Moves To Neo-Dictatorship

Cap for Canada, August 24, 2022

(<https://capforcanada.com/trudeau-hiring-climate-police-as-canada-moves-to-neo-dictatorship/>)

According to a Federal government website, Environment and Climate Change Canada “informs Canadians about protecting and conserving our natural heritage, and ensuring a clean, safe and sustainable environment for present and future generations.”

Sounds innocuous enough. Too bad it isn’t. In what appears to be a paean to George Orwell’s “1984,” the federal Ministry of Environment & Climate Change

Canada (ECCC) is building a new facility in Winnipeg that will “be home to a firearms armoury, interrogation rooms, biological labs, media relations offices, “controlled quiet rooms,” and intelligence facilities.”

According to an article from The CounterSignal, a team of government employees under the title “Enforcement Officer – Environmental Pollution Enforcement” are presently being recruited from coast to coast.

“The plans, drawn up by a firm in Winnipeg, open a window into Trudeau’s future plans for Climate Enforcement. Down the hall from the proposed ‘Firearms Storage’ rooms are several evidence rooms, interrogation suites, and adjacent recording rooms.”

What have we become? Or more succinctly, what has our Liberal government transitioned Canadians into? Do these plans not sound like Trudeau is taking a page from communist China and applied it to Canadian society? Perhaps it has been his intent all along.

According to a recently posted Indeed.com ad, the Ministry is searching to recruit a battalion of Climate “Pollution” Officers, a unit within the coldly named “Environmental Enforcement Directorate.”

“The entire facility that was leaked to The Counter Signal is sketched to be over 50,000 square feet, will house hundreds of ECCC staff, and will also be home to weather forecasting staff.”

Perhaps readers can help CAP to understand exactly what is going on here. In the meantime, we offer a slice of speculation:

Under the guise of fighting climate change, PM Justin Trudeau is transitioning Canada into an authoritarian dictatorship. In this we witness what CAP has spoken of since the day our current PM took his place on the Canadian throne:

Justin Trudeau is in the process of transitioning Canada into “Canadastan.”

We hereby witness the introduction of draconian, punitive measures against Canadians. Violate climate laws, and be promptly installed in a “controlled quiet room” waiting to be interrogated KGB-style by a team of Climate “Pollution” Officers from the Fed’s “Environmental Enforcement Directorate.”

Surprised? Cultural Action Party isn't. Truly, there is nothing that surprises us when it comes to neo-communism in Canada. We have always felt that Justin Trudeau was installed to usher in a neo-Canadian dictatorship.

“The Impact Assessment Act (IAA), which was quietly passed in the final days of Trudeau's majority government, grants sweeping power to Ministerial “Enforcement Officers.” But, until now, little has been explained about where and how Climate Police will be deployed.”

“The IAA empowers agents of the Ministry of Climate Change to enter premises without a warrant to verify compliance or prevent non-compliance.”

O Canada – you are in big, big trouble. Dear Canadians, your country is no longer in your hands. Once a free and democratic society, Justin Trudeau has plans to deprive you of your natural rights as a citizen of our country.

Vancouver Hit by “Climate Change”? Rubbish

November 22, 2021

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2021/11/22/vancouver-hit-by-climate-change-rubbish/>

"Vancouver is marooned by flooding and besieged again by climate change," shouts the New York Times. (1)

I grant that we're a short while away from a whole new economy (2) and the shutdown of the cabal, (3) but I'm still triggered by a headline like that.

What happened in Vancouver was not a result of "climate change."

Readers of this blog will know that I don't agree with the prevailing theories of climate change. The climate is changing, not to a more disastrous range but to a more moderate range. (4)

A series of synchronized disasters to cut off a whole region's transportation system? This was not climate change.

I suspect that someone was behind the sudden change of weather in Vancouver. But I don't know if it was a black hat wanting more control or the white hats wanting us to stay home. I doubt that the white hats would have been this cruel.

I've lived through the age of HAARP (weather-warfare weapon), and have heard a little about other exotic devices available to cause earthquakes, tsunamis, and floods. (5) Most of the world's disasters - Southeast Asian Tsunami, Japanese Tsunami, targeted earthquakes, etc. - have been cabal-caused.

Knowing weather-alteration technology exists and that some seems still in use, I'm not much inclined to switch from sending my money to the cabal for their pandemic scam to sending my money to the cabal for their climate-change scam.

Sorry. Been there. Done that. Washed my hands of it now; in fact, of any of the cabal's many scams.

However I have just one piece of advice for the cabal, as expressed in the New York Times or anywhere else.

Please sit down and be quiet. (OK, I toned it down.)

Just be quiet. No more meme warfare. No more false-flag provocations. No more steering public opinion to another cash cow. Sit down and be quiet please.

I remember when HAARP's main stations were shut down and the weather quieted down. I asked myself: Is this how it could have been all along?

I assert that if you fell quiet, this world would return to peace in short order. And this will be how it could have been all along.

Don't try to sell me on what happened in Vancouver being climate change. Please. People are dying around the world from your latest scam - a toxic vaccine. Don't start banging on the climate-warming drum.

Folks, if you're taken in by the range of issues the cabal appeals to to distract you from what they're really doing, please stop. People are dying from the vaccine. That's what the cabal wanted. Our failure to wake up to what is really happening is resulting in more deaths.

Look at what can be done in the name of climate change. Flooding an entire valley which supplied a healthy percentage of provincial food needs, stopping all east/west rail transportation, with maritime shipping already burdened. I believe this to have been done with weather-warfare technology.

Without the cabal's influence, this whole world would be at peace. Please see that, general public, and wake up.

So, to the cabal, I say: Your counsel is no longer trusted. We know who you are and what you're doing. Stand aside now while we clean up the mess. It'll only get harder for you from here on in if you don't.

I write this on the anniversary of John F. Kennedy's death. The wheels of justice grind slowly but they've been grinding for nearly sixty years.

Back in 2011, Matthew Ward said:

"Because your perspective is limited to personal observation and media reports, we want to give you the encouraging news as seen from our higher vantage point. All happenings are within the universal acceleration mode that we have been telling you would cause changes to come thick and fast, and all that seems to be in turmoil in this moment will lead to the emergence of truths and the implementation of reforms.

"To give an example of a long-hidden truth that has come forth to some extent, not long ago most people on Earth would have found it difficult to believe that a few scientists have been causing the tremendously destructive earthquakes, severe storms and flooding. Now your Internet is teeming with information about what manmade technology can cause and has caused, and while the public at large may not yet know this, in time they will." The Uphill Battle of Climate Truthers

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2022/08/20/337763/>

I'm greatly heartened to discover that there actually exists a group of lightworkers who oppose the deep state's climate fabrications.

A video of Climatologist Dr. Judith Curry, from 2014 I believe, is currently circulating on Telegram. It shows her testifying before the Senate Committee [I think the caption "Subcommittee" is incorrect] on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

She calls the man-made climate change theory a hoax and goes over the harassment that occurred to try to force her and other scientists to fall into line.

I'm not implying that we don't have a pollution problem; we do. But the deep state is pumping it and using it as a pretext to extend their control, according to their paradigm of Problem/Reaction/Solution, and depopulate the globe through malnutrition and starvation. Their solution is usually a further erosion of our human/civil rights and, in this case, is omniscidal.

Below the short video, I post some sentiments from our sources on the subject of climate change.

And below that, a page from Dr. Curry's blog, Climate, Etc., in 2013 to give you a feel for the conversation that went on then in that area of lightwork.

I heartily applaud Dr. Curry's work and the work of all others who won't be stampeded by fake science plus ridicule.

“The Earth is preparing you for beneficial changes that will result in a more pleasant environment and restore it to its prime condition. Providing note is taken of the potential outcome, you will be able to accommodate changes without being inconvenienced.” (Mike Quinsey, June 19, 2020.)

“What are commonly known as ‘global warming’ and ‘El Nino’ are part of Earth’s natural processes to return to her original moderate climate everywhere. While she is achieving this, glaciers will melt, the vast deserts will become arable, rain forests will flourish, and variations in temperatures will markedly decrease-ultimately, every place in your world will be comfortably habitable.

“People now living in the coldest or the hottest climes will adapt, but it is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move.” (Matthew Ward, “Essay on 2012,” at <https://www.matthewbooks.com>.)

“Your weather is giving cause for concern but be assured that the outcome will be more settled and acceptable. Mother Earth is wiser than you may think and quite able to manage the changes required to give you a more moderate weather pattern without the extremes you are experiencing now.

“It will take time and inconvenience many but it has to be carried out. In the end you will be pleased and well satisfied. It takes time to come out of the dark period and leave behind that which has no place in your future. There is so much being done to resettle you into a more acceptable life pattern and it will come in due course.” (Mike Quinsey, Aug. 13, 2021.)

This is an excerpt from a Judith Curry column, intended to give you the flavor of those who opposed the deep state's climate change theories --- from 2013.

Week in review

by Judith Curry, Climate. Etc., Nov. 23, 2013

Some interesting action in the ‘climate wars’ this past week.

von Storch

Pierre Gosselin has translated two extensive interview with Hans von Storch, see these posts:

- Unminced words by climate scientist Hans von Storch
- Leading IPCC scientists warns: Climate science will lose its credibility if it keeps spreading panic

Quotes from the summary provided by Gosselin:

Some scientists, he says, have tended to accept dramatic scenarios and consequences even when there's little evidence behind them. He also talks of a group of scientists who fancy themselves as the ultimate authority and who have the last word. All the exaggerations and projections of doom, gloom and disaster have led to an overall discrediting of the field.

I was surprised to hear him call both Science and Nature “pretty bad journals” when it comes to the quality of their articles. He says that science journals must remain sufficiently critical and not let themselves get caught up with the zeitgeist.

Overall von Storch doesn't blame the media much for the hysteria, implying that the hysteria stems more from scientists communicating poorly.

von Storch believes some scientists succumbed to drama in order to get attention and prestige, and says that the such are only damaging the credibility of climate science.

He finds climate models too CO2-centric in general. Here he appeals for more patience to let the science unfold.

On the hockey stick chart:

I believe it was something dumb by scientists who wanted to steer politics.”

Scientists, von Storch reminds us, should not be so quick to claim absolute truth.

Also, von Storch believes that the oceans could be warming up, but that there is very little data out there to confirm it.

Mann vs Muller

In the last two months, Richard Muller has published two op-eds in the NYTimes

- A pause, not an end, to warming.
- The truth about tornadoes

Re tornadoes, he finds that U.S. tornadoes have been decreasing.

Michael Mann is upset, esp since the pause op-ed contains a dig at the hockey stick. So Michael Mann has an op-ed published in the Huffington Post: Something is rotten at the New York Times. The gist of Mann’s critique of Muller’s hurricane argument is this:

Muller, who lacks any training or expertise in atmospheric science, is more than happy to promote with great confidence the unsupportable claim that global warming will actually decrease tornado activity. His evidence for this? The false claim that the historical data demonstrate a decreasing trend in past decades.

Actual atmospheric scientists know that the historical observations are too sketchy and unreliable to decide one way or another as to whether tornadoes are increasing or not (see this excellent discussion by weather expert Jeff Masters of The Weather Underground).

So one is essentially left with the physical reasoning I outlined above. You would think that a physicist would know how to do some physical reasoning. And sadly, in Muller's case, you would apparently be wrong...

Mann loses this argument. The undercounting of tornadoes is a problem prior to 1990 (worse undercounting as you go back in time); hence a decrease in recent hurricanes relative to historical values cannot be attributed to undercounting.

Since Mann should be rightly concerned that his scientific arguments are weak, he then tries to convince the reader that Muller is wrong by doing a hatchet job on Muller. This is an extensive hatchet job, you have to read it in full to appreciate it, here is the punchline:

And while Muller has now admitted that the Earth had warmed and that human-activity is largely to blame, he has used his new-found limelight and access to the media to:

- 1. Smear and misrepresent other scientists.*
- 2. Misrepresent key details of climate science, inevitably to downplay the seriousness of climate change, whether it is the impacts on extreme weather and heat, drought, Arctic melting, or the threat to Polar Bears.*
- 3. Shill for fossil fuel energy, arguing that the true solution to global warming isn't renewable or clean energy. No, not at all! Muller is bullish on fracking and natural gas as the true solution.*

To (a) pretend to accept the science, but attack the scientists and misrepresent so many important aspect of the science, downplaying the impacts and threat of climate change, while (b) acting as a spokesman for natural gas, one imagines that the petrochemical tycoon Koch Brothers indeed were probably quite pleased with their investment. As I put it in an interview last year:

It would seem that Richard Muller has served as a useful foil for the Koch Brothers, allowing them to claim they have funded a real scientist looking into the basic science, while that scientist—Muller—props himself up by using the “Berkeley” imprimatur (UC Berkeley has not in any way sanctioned this effort) and appearing to accept the basic science, and goes out on the talk circuit, writing op-eds, etc. systematically downplaying the actual state of the science, dismissing key climate change impacts and denying the degree of risk that climate change actually represents. I would suspect that the Koch Brothers are quite happy with Muller right now, and I would have been very surprised had he stepped even lightly on their toes during his various interviews, which he of course has not. He has instead heaped great praise on them, as in this latest interview.

The New York Times does a disservice to its readers when it buys into the contrived narrative of the “honest broker”—Muller as the self-styled white knight who must ride in to rescue scientific truth from a corrupt and misguided community of scientists. Especially when that white knight is in fact sitting atop a Trojan Horse—a vehicle for the delivery of disinformation, denial, and systematic downplaying of what might very well be the greatest threat we have yet faced as a civilization, the threat of human-caused climate change.

I bow to Richard Muller: not only does he have access to the NYTimes, but he has been the subject of numerous lengthy hatchet jobs by Mann, whereas I can only claim a few tweets and the ‘serial climate misinformer’ thing. While I don’t agree with everything he says, clearly Muller is ‘da man’ in terms of of a scientist trying to put some rationality into the climate change debate, and as such is perceived to be a major threat by the wacko alarmist wing of climate science.

Next up on the Mann hit list might be Roger Pielke Jr, as indicated by Mann’s twitter feed and also by his post (Daniel Greenberg meets the climate scientists).

Although von Storch might be in contention; that was some pretty serious trash talking about the Hockey Stick (although since it was in german, maybe it doesn’t ‘count’).

The most amusing thing to me was that in the midst of trashing Muller as not being an atmospheric scientist or understanding climate science, that Mann touts the foreword for the paperback edition of his book The Hockey Stick Wars by Bill Nye – Science Guy (recently seen on Dancing with the Stars)

JC message to Michael Mann: Up the level of your scientific game when discussing climate change with the public. Most importantly, stop trashing other scientists that disagree with you. It reminds the public of Climategate and all of the irresponsible and unethical practices that are the root source of why they don’t trust climate scientists. You continue to damage the credibility of climate science in ways that you apparently can’t imagine.

The Scottish Sceptic has two very interesting posts:

- Why do skeptics put up with cyber-bulling
- The police visited today

You should read the entire posts, and the comments are interesting as well. A taste:

Because sceptics are culturally resistant to seeing themselves as victims.

Sceptics are loners ...not social loners but intellectual loners. We do not need our views endorsed by our peers. We are resilient, self-reliant we have often worked in time-critical high-risk industries where the pressure of work means that tempers can fly and so we are pragmatic and tolerant of others.

Non-sceptics value group identity. Unlike sceptics they see loners as being weak and needing to be brought into line within the social consensus. As such non-sceptics feel it is legitimate to attack those who reject their social consensus.

But sceptics don't value their group identity and instead argue the facts.

Such behaviour is extremely frustrating to the non-sceptic. They cannot understand how sceptics can reject their group, but neither can they attack our arguments because we state the facts which cannot be attacked. So non-sceptics find themselves having to attack the people for not arguing in a way that allows us to be attacked.

But, the fundamental reason for this cyber bullying is that in a culture where this bullying has been legitimised by every authority figure from government ministers to the BBC to the moderators of the Independent and Guardian as well as every University in the land

1,200 Scientists and Professionals Declare: “There is No Climate Emergency”

Chris Morrison, The Daily Sceptic, Aug. 18, 2022

(<https://dailysceptic.org/2022/08/18/1200-scientists-and-professionals-declare-there-is-no-climate-emergency/>)

The political fiction that humans cause most or all climate change and the claim that the science behind this notion is ‘settled’ has been dealt a savage blow by the publication of a ‘World Climate Declaration (WCD)’ signed by over 1,100 scientists and professionals.

There is no climate emergency, say the authors, who are drawn from across the world and led by the Norwegian physics Nobel Prize laureate Professor Ivar Giaever. Climate science is said to have degenerated into a discussion based on beliefs, not on sound self-critical science.

The scale of the opposition to modern day ‘settled’ climate science is remarkable, given how difficult it is in academia to raise grants for any climate research that departs from the political orthodoxy. (A full list of the signatories is available here.) Another lead author of the declaration, Professor Richard Lindzen, has called the current climate narrative “absurd”, but acknowledged that trillions of dollars and the relentless propaganda from grant-dependent academics and agenda-driven journalists currently says it is not absurd.

1200 climate scientists gather to make a new declaration: That there is no climate emergency.

Hit graphic to watch video

(Or go to https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-TeI3N9UENA&t=27s&ab_channel=ClydeDoSomething.)

Particular ire in the WCD is reserved for climate models. To believe in the outcome of a climate model is to believe what the model makers have put in. Climate models are now central to today’s climate discussion and the scientists see this as a problem. “We should free ourselves from the naïve belief in immature climate models,” says the WCD. “In future, climate research must give significantly more emphasis to empirical science.”

Since emerging from the ‘Little Ice Age’ in around 1850, the world has warmed significantly less than predicted by the IPCC on the basis of modelled human influences. “The gap between the real world and the modelled world tells us that we are far from understanding climate change,” the WCD notes.

The Declaration is an event of enormous importance, although it will be ignored by the mainstream media. But it is not the first time distinguished scientists have petitioned for more realism in climate science. In Italy, the discoverer of nuclear anti-matter Emeritus Professor Antonino Zichichi recently led 48 local science professors in stating that human responsibility for climate change is “unjustifiably exaggerated and catastrophic predictions are not realistic”. In their scientific view, “natural variation explains a substantial part of global warming observed since 1850”. Professor Zichichi has signed the WCD.

The Declaration notes that the Earth’s climate has varied for as long as the planet has existed, with natural cold and warm periods. “It is no surprise that we are experiencing a period of warming,” it continues. Climate models have many shortcomings, it says, “and are not remotely plausible as global policy tools”. They blow up the effect of greenhouse gases, such as carbon dioxide, but ignore any beneficial effects. “CO₂ is not a pollutant,” it says. “It is essential to all life on Earth. Photosynthesis is a blessing. More CO₂ is beneficial for nature, greening the Earth; additional CO₂ in the air has promoted growth in global plant biomass. It is also good for agriculture, increasing the yield of crops worldwide.”

In addition, the scientists declare that there is no statistical evidence that global warming is intensifying hurricanes, floods, droughts and such-like natural disasters, or making them more frequent. “There is no climate emergency,” the Declaration goes on. “We strongly oppose the harmful and unrealistic net-zero CO₂ policy proposed for 2050,” it says, adding that the aim of global policy should be “prosperity for all” by providing reliable and affordable energy at all times. “In a prosperous society, men and women are well educated, birth rates are low and people care about their environment,” it concludes.

The WCD is the latest sign that the ‘settled’ fantasy surrounding climate change science is rapidly breaking down. Last year, Steven Koonin, an Under-Secretary of Science in the Obama Administration, published a book titled Unsettled in which he noted that, “The science is insufficient to make useful projections about how the climate will change over the coming decades, much less what our actions will be.”

He also noted that rigidly promulgating the idea that climate change is settled demeans and chills the scientific enterprise, “retarding its progress in these important matters”. In 2020, the long-time green activist Michael Shellenberger wrote a book called Apocalypse Never in which he said he believed the conversation about climate change and the environment had in the last few years “spiralled out of control”. Much of what people are told about the environment, including the climate, is wrong, he wrote.

Of course, green extremists in academia, politics and journalism will continue to argue for the command-and-control they crave through a Net Zero policy. In the end, their warped view of the scientific process will fade, leaving a trail of ludicrous Armageddon forecasts, and yet more failed experiments in hard-left economic and societal control.

Chris Morrison is the Daily Sceptic’s Environment Editor.

Postscript: When we posted this article on the Daily Sceptic Facebook page, it was labelled “False Information”, the conclusion reached after it was “checked by independent fact-checkers”. If you then click on “See Why”, you’re taken to this page on a website called “Climate Feedback”. It takes issue with this sentence in the Petition on Anthropogenic Global Warming started by Professor Antonino Zichichi: “Natural variation explains a substantial part of global warming observed since 1850.” This is “incorrect” for the following reason: “Natural (non-human) drivers of climate change have been mostly stable since the onset of modern warming and all the available scientific evidence implicates human greenhouse gas emissions as the primary culprit. Scientific evidence also indicates that climate change is contributing to intensified or more frequent natural disasters such as heatwaves, drought and heavy rainfall.”

To claim “all the available scientific evidence” supports the view that human activity is the “primary culprit” when it comes to climate change is a bit misleading, surely? In fact, Professor Zichichi refers to at least some scientific evidence that the anthropogenic responsibility for the climate change observed during the last century has been exaggerated on page 1 of his petition. Indeed, Climate Feedback's labelling of the central claims made in the World Climate Declaration as "incorrect" is a step up from its previous analysis of the Declaration, which concluded that the scientific credibility of the Declaration was "very low."

World Climate Declaration plus all signatories in pdf

Climate science should be less political, while climate policies should be more scientific. In particular, scientists should emphasize that their modeling output is not the result of magic: computer models are human-made. What comes out is fully dependent on what theoreticians and programmers have put in: hypotheses, assumptions, relationships, parameterizations, stability constraints, etc. Unfortunately, in mainstream climate science most of this input is undeclared.

To believe the outcome of a climate model is to believe what the model makers have put in. This is precisely the problem of today's climate discussion to which climate models are central. Climate science has degenerated into a discussion based on beliefs, not on sound self-critical science. We should free ourselves from the naïve belief in immature climate models. In future, climate research must give significantly more emphasis to empirical science.

There is no climate emergency

A global network of over 1100 scientists and professionals has prepared this urgent message. Climate science should be less political, while climate policies should be more scientific. Scientists should openly address uncertainties and exaggerations in their predictions of global warming, while politicians should dispassionately count the real costs as well as the imagined benefits of their policy measures.

Natural as well as anthropogenic factors cause warming

The geological archive reveals that Earth's climate has varied as long as the planet has existed, with natural cold and warm phases. The Little Ice Age ended as recently as 1850. Therefore, it is no surprise that we now are experiencing a period of warming.

Warming is far slower than predicted

The world has warmed significantly less than predicted by IPCC on the basis of modeled anthropogenic forcing. The gap between the real world and the modeled world tells us that we are far from understanding climate change.

Climate policy relies on inadequate models

Climate models have many shortcomings and are not remotely plausible as global policy tools. They blow up the effect of greenhouse gases such as CO₂. In addition, they ignore the fact that enriching the atmosphere with CO₂ is beneficial.

CO₂ is plant food, the basis of all life on Earth

CO₂ is not a pollutant. It is essential to all life on Earth. Photosynthesis is a blessing. More CO₂ is beneficial for nature, greening the Earth: additional CO₂ in the air has promoted growth in global plant biomass. It is also good for agriculture, increasing the yields of crops worldwide.

Global warming has not increased natural disasters

There is no statistical evidence that global warming is intensifying hurricanes, floods, droughts and suchlike natural disasters, or making them more frequent. However, there is ample evidence that CO₂-mitigation measures are as damaging as they are costly.

Climate policy must respect scientific and economic realities

There is no climate emergency. Therefore, there is no cause for panic and alarm. We strongly oppose the harmful and unrealistic net-zero CO₂ policy proposed for 2050. If better approaches emerge, and they certainly will, we have ample time to reflect and re-adapt. The aim of global policy should be ‘prosperity for all’ by providing reliable and affordable energy at all times. In a prosperous society men and women are well educated, birthrates are low and people care about their environment.

Epilogue

The World Climate Declaration (WCD) has brought a large variety of competent scientists together from all over the world*. The considerable knowledge and experience of this group is indispensable in reaching a balanced, dispassionate and competent view of climate change.

From now onward the group is going to function as “Global Climate Intelligence Group”. The CLINTEL Group will give solicited and unsolicited advice on climate change and energy transition to governments and companies worldwide.

* It is not the number of experts but the quality of arguments that counts

Report Sheds Light on the Rockefeller Family's Covert 'Climate Change' Plan

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2019/08/18/report-sheds-light-on-the-rockefeller-familys-covert-climate-change-plan/>

By Arjun Walia, August 6, 2019, collective-evolution.com

<https://tinyurl.com/y5jdulgh>

In Brief

- The Facts: In the 1980s, the Rockefeller Brothers Fund became the authority on global warming. Why would they do this? Are these people really concerned about our planet or simply profiting and justifying heightened states of security for ulterior motives?
- Reflect On: Why are there so many brilliant scientists publishing papers and making points but are never given any attention? Why are they ridiculed and character assassinated by the mainstream? What is going on here?

The climate is changing, and it has been changing for a very long time. In fact, the climate has always been changing, and there are a myriad of factors that influence climate change like solar activity and much more.

If you're not educated on climate science, it's easy to adopt the "doomsday" perspective that's often dished out by mainstream media. However, when you look at what actual climate scientists are saying, it doesn't seem like anyone on either side agrees with the media's "climate hysteria" narrative.

The main argument among those who ascribe to the hysteria perspective is that CO2 levels are the highest they've ever been since we started to record them, currently sitting at approximately 415 parts per million (ppm).

It's not like climate scientists disagree on the idea that CO2 causes some warming of our atmosphere. That seems to be a fact that's firmly established in scientific literature. But what's never mentioned is the fact that CO2 levels have been significantly higher than what they are now; in fact, CO2 levels have been in thousands ppm and Earth's temperature has been much warmer than it is now.

The idea that human CO2 emissions are responsible for shifts and changes in the climate is not scientifically valid, yet policy initiatives that do nothing for our environment are being produced and put forward, putting large sums of money in the pockets of some very powerful people.

"Our crop plants evolved about 400 million years ago, when CO2 in the atmosphere was about 5000 parts per million! Our evergreen trees and shrubs evolved about 360 million years ago, with CO2 levels at about 4,000 ppm. When our deciduous trees evolved about 160 million years ago, the CO2 level was about 2,200 ppm – still five times the current level." – Dennis T. Avery, agricultural and environmental economist, senior fellow for the Center for Global Food Issues in Virginia, and formerly a senior analyst for the U.S. Department of State (source)

CO2 causing a temperature increase is the backbone of the global warming argument, but does CO2 even cause the temperature to increase, or does an increase in temperature cause a rise in CO2?

"The question is how does the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) determine that an increase in atmospheric CO2 causes an increase in global temperature? The answer is they assumed it was the case and confirmed it by increasing CO2 levels in their computer climate models and the temperature went up.

Science must overlook the fact that they wrote the computer code that told the computer to increase temperature with a CO2 increase. Science must ask if that sequence is confirmed by empirical evidence? Some scientists did that and found the empirical evidence showed it was not true.

Why isn't this central to all debate about anthropogenic global warming?" – Dr. Tim Ball, \(source\) former professor in the Department of Geography at the University of Winnipeg

William Happer, American physicist and the Cyrus Fogg Brackett Professor of Physics, Emeritus, at Princeton University, is one of what seems to be thousands of academics to go unheard by the mainstream media who shares the same perspective:

In every careful study, the temperature first rises and then CO2 rises, and the temperature first falls and then CO2 falls, temperature is causing changes of CO2 at least for the last million years, there's no question about that. \(source\)

He also pointed out the major ice ages in Earth's past when CO2 levels were also extremely high, much higher than they are now, and did so to show how the correlation between CO2 and temperature is "not all that good."

In their paper on the Vostok Ice Core, Petit et al (1999), they show how CO2 lags temperature during the onset of glaciations by several thousands of years, but offer no explanation. They also observe that CH4 and CO2 are not perfectly aligned with each other, but offer no explanation.

The significance is that temperature may influence CO2 amounts. At the onset of glaciations, temperature drops to glacial values before CO2 begins to fall, suggesting that CO2 has little influence on temperature modulation at these times as well.

NASA Admits Climate Change Natural and Normal

July 9, 2022

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2022/07/09/336688/>

Our sources have been saying for years that climate change is a planned return to a more temperate climate worldwide. Now an article from 2019 says that NASA holds that position from the sun is the greatest factor behind climate change, adding that the warming and cooling that occurs is entirely natural and normal.

NASA admits climate change occurs because of changes in Earth's solar orbit, not because of SUVs and fossil fuels

Ethan Huff, Natural News, Aug. 30, 2019

(<https://www.naturalnews.com/2019-08-30-nasa-admits-climate-change-not-caused-by-suvs-fossil-fuels.html>)

For more than 60 years, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has known that the changes occurring to planetary weather patterns are completely natural and normal. But the space agency, for whatever reason, has chosen to let the man-made global warming hoax persist and spread, to the detriment of human freedom.

It was the year 1958, to be precise, when NASA first observed that changes in the solar orbit of the earth, along with alterations to the earth's axial tilt, are both responsible for what climate scientists today have dubbed as "warming" (or "cooling," depending on their agenda). In no way, shape, or form are humans warming or cooling the planet by driving SUVs or eating beef, in other words.

But NASA has thus far failed to set the record straight, and has instead chosen to sit silently back and watch as liberals freak out about the world supposedly ending in 12 years because of too much livestock, or too many plastic straws.

In the year 2000, NASA did publish information on its Earth Observatory website about the Milankovitch Climate Theory, revealing that the planet is, in fact, changing due to extraneous factors that have absolutely nothing to do with human activity. But, again, this information has yet to go mainstream, some 19 years later, which is why deranged, climate-obsessed leftists have now begun to claim that we really only have 18 months left before the planet dies from an excess of carbon dioxide (CO₂).

The truth, however, is much more along the lines of what Serbian astrophysicist Milutin Milankovitch, after whom the Milankovitch Climate Theory is named, proposed about how the seasonal and latitudinal variations of solar radiation that hit the earth in different ways, and at different times, have the greatest impact on earth's changing climate patterns.

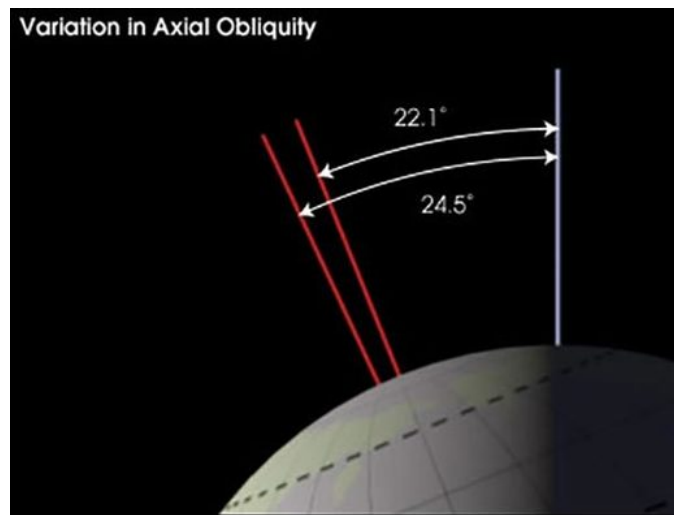

The below two images (by Robert Simmon, NASA GSFC) help to illustrate this, with the first showing earth at a nearly zero orbit, and the second showing earth at a 0.07 orbit. This orbital change is depicted by the eccentric, oval shape in the second image, which has been intentionally exaggerated for the purpose of showing the massive change in distance that occurs between the earth and the sun, depending on whether it is at perihelion or aphelion.

"Even the maximum eccentricity of the Earth's orbit - 0.07 - it would be impossible to show at the resolution of a web page," notes the Hal Turner Radio Show. "Even so, at the current eccentricity of .017, the Earth is 5 million kilometers closer to Sun at perihelion than at aphelion."

The biggest factor affecting earth's climate is the SUN

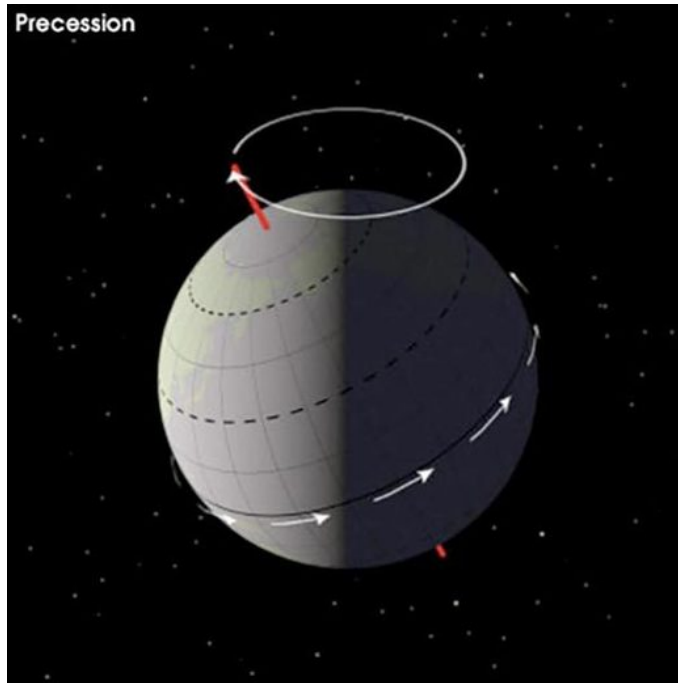

As for earth's obliquity, or its change in axial tilt, the below two images (Robert Simmon, NASA GSFC) show the degree to which the earth can shift on both its axis and its rotational orientation. At the higher tilts, earth's seasons become much more extreme, while at lower tilts they become much more mild. A similar situation exists for earth's rotational axis, which depending on which hemisphere is pointed at the sun during perihelion, can greatly impact the seasonal extremes between the two hemispheres.

Based on these different variables, Milankovitch was able to come up with a comprehensive mathematical model that is able to compute surface temperatures on earth going way back in time, and the conclusion is simple: Earth's climate has always been changing, and is in a constant state of flux due to no fault of our own as human beings.

When Milankovitch first put forward his model, it went ignored for nearly half a century. Then, in 1976, a study published in the journal Science confirmed that Milankovitch's theory is, in fact, accurate, and that it does correspond to various periods of climate change that have occurred throughout history.

In 1982, six years after this study was published, the National Research Council of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences adopted Milankovitch's theory as truth, declaring that:

... orbital variations remain the most thoroughly examined mechanism of climatic change on time scales of tens of thousands of years and are by far the clearest case of a direct effect of changing insolation on the lower atmosphere of Earth.

If we had to sum the whole thing up in one simple phrase, it would be this: The biggest factor influencing weather and climate patterns on earth is the sun, period. Depending on the earth's position to the sun at any given time, climate conditions are going to vary dramatically, and even create drastic abnormalities that defy everything that humans thought they knew about how the earth worked.

But rather than embrace this truth, today's climate "scientists," joined by leftist politicians and a complicit mainstream media, insist that not using reusable grocery bags at the supermarket and not having an electric vehicle are destroying the planet so quickly that we absolutely must implement global climate taxes as the solution.

"The climate change debate is not about science. It is an effort to impose political and economic controls on the population by the elite," wrote one commenter at the Hal Turner Radio Show.

"And it's another way to divide the population against itself, with some who believe in man-made global warming and some who don't, i.e. divide and conquer."

EXCLUSIVE: Greenpeace Founder Patrick Moore Says Climate Change Based on False Narratives

Prominent scientist backs up claim that there is ‘no climate emergency’

By Lee Yun-Jeong, Epoch Times, September 6, 2022 Updated: September 8, 2022

(https://www.theepochtimes.com/exclusive-former-greenpeace-founder-patrick-moore-debunks-the-false-narratives-of-climate-change_4709568.html)

Patrick Moore, one of the founders of Greenpeace, said in an email obtained by The Epoch Times that his reasons for leaving Greenpeace were very clear: “Greenpeace was ‘hijacked’ by the political left when they realized there was money and power in the environmental movement. [Left-leaning] political activists in North America and Europe changed Greenpeace from a science-based organization to a political fundraising organization,” Moore said.

Moore left Greenpeace in 1986, 15 years after he co-founded the organization.

“The ‘environmental’ movement has become more of a political movement than an environmental movement,” he said. “They are primarily focused on creating narratives, stories, that are designed to instill fear and guilt into the public so the public will send them money.”

He said they mainly operate behind closed doors with other political operatives at the U.N., World Economic Forum, and so on, all of which are primarily political in nature.

The Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change [IPCC] is “not a science organization,” he said. “It is a political organization composed of the World Meteorological Organization and the United Nations Environment Program.

“The IPCC hires scientists to provide them with ‘information’ that supports the ‘climate emergency’ narrative.

Their campaigns against fossil fuels, nuclear energy, CO2, plastic, etc., are misguided and designed to make people think the world will come to an end unless we cripple our civilization and destroy our economy. They are now a negative influence on the future of both the environment and human civilization.”

“Today, the left has adopted many policies that would be very destructive to civilization as they are not technically achievable. Only look at the looming energy crisis in Europe and the UK, which Putin is taking advantage of. But it is of their own making in refusing to develop their own natural gas resources, opposing nuclear energy, and adopting an impossible position on fossil fuels in general,” Moore wrote.

He said “green” for the environment and “peace” for the people were the organization’s founding principles, but peace was largely forgotten, and green had become the sole agenda.

“Many [so-called] ‘environmental’ leaders were now saying that ‘humans are the enemies of the Earth, the enemies of Nature.’ I could not accept that humans are the only evil species. This is too much like ‘original sin,’ that humans are born with evil, but all the other species are good, even cockroaches, mosquitos, and diseases,” Moore argued.

He said the new dominant philosophy is that the world would be better if fewer people existed.

“But the people who said this were not volunteering to be the first to go away. They behave as if they are superior to others. This kind of ‘pride’ and ‘conceit’ is the worst of the Cardinal Sins,” Moore said.

Environmental Activist

As a prominent scholar, ecologist, and long-time leader in the international environmental field, Patrick Moore is widely regarded as one of the world’s most qualified experts on the environment. He is also a founder of Greenpeace, the world’s largest environmental activist organization.

Moore received his Ph.D. in Ecology from the University of British Columbia in 1974 and an Honorary Doctorate of Science from North Carolina State University in 2005.

He co-founded Greenpeace in 1971 and served as president of Greenpeace Canada for nine years. From 1979 to 1986, Moore served as the Director of Greenpeace International, a driving force shaping the group's policies and directions. During his 15-year tenure, Greenpeace became the world's largest environmental activist organization.

In 1991, Moore founded Greenspirit, a consultancy focusing on environmental policies, energy, climate change, biodiversity, genetically modified food, forests, fisheries, food, and resources.

Between 2006 and 2012, Moore served as co-chairman of the Clean and Safe Energy Coalition, a U.S.-based environmental advocacy group.

In 2014, he was appointed Chairman of Ecology, Energy, and Prosperity of Frontier Centre for Public Policy, a non-partisan Canadian public policy think tank.

In 2019 and 2020, Moore served as the Chair of CO2 Coalition, a U.S.-based nonprofit environmental advocacy group dedicated to disputing false claims on CO2 as relates to climate change.

False Narrative on Chlorine

“At the time I decided to leave Greenpeace, I was one of 6 Directors of Greenpeace International. I was the only one with formal science education, BSc Honors in Science and Forestry, and Ph.D. in Ecology. My fellow directors decided that Greenpeace should begin a campaign to ‘Ban Chlorine Worldwide.’”

Moore said it is true that elemental chlorine gas is highly toxic and was used as a weapon in World War I. However, chlorine is one of the 94 [naturally-occurring] elements on the Periodic Table and has many roles in biology and human health. For example, table salt (NaCl or Sodium Chloride) is an essential nutrient for all animals and many plants. It is impossible to “ban” NaCl.

He pointed out that adding chlorine to drinking water, swimming pools, and spas was one of the most significant advances in public health history in preventing the spread of water-borne communicable diseases such as cholera. And about 85 percent of pharmaceutical drugs are made with chlorine-related chemistry, and about 25 percent of all our medicines contain chlorine. All halogens, including chlorine, bromine, and iodine, are powerful antibiotics; without them, medicine would not be the same.

“Greenpeace named chlorine ‘The Devil’s Element’ and calls PVC, polyvinyl chloride, or simply vinyl, ‘the Poison Plastic.’ All of this is fake [and] to scare the public. In addition, this misguided policy reinforces the attitude that humans are not a worthy species and that the world would be better off without them. I could not convince my fellow Greenpeace directors to abandon this misguided policy. This was the turning point for me,” Moore said.

False Narrative on Polar Bears

When asked how Greenpeace utilizes its massive donations, Moore said it was used to pay for “a very large staff” (likely over 2,000), extensive advertisements, and fundraising programs. And virtually all of the organization’s ads for fundraising are based on false narratives, which he had thoroughly disproven in his books, one example being the polar bears.

Pristine white polar bear on an island off the sub-Arctic coast of Hudson Bay, Churchill, Manitoba, Canada, after swimming to shore from a winter on the sea ice.

“The International Treaty on Polar Bears, signed by all polar countries in 1973, to ban unrestricted hunting of polar bears, is never mentioned in the media, Greenpeace, or politicians who say the polar bear is going extinct due to melting ice in the Arctic. In fact, the polar bear population has increased from 6,000 to 8,000 in 1973 to 30,000 to 50,000 today. This is not disputed,” Moore said.

“But now they say the polar bear will go extinct in 2100 as if they have a magic crystal ball that can predict the future. In fact, this past winter in the Arctic saw an expansion of ice from previous years, and Antarctica was colder during the last winter than in the past 50 years.”

Moore said that he does not pretend to know everything and predict the future with confidence like many in the “climate emergency” business claim they can do.

The Goal of the ‘Environmental Apocalypse’ Theory

“I believe the human population has always been vulnerable to people who predict doom with false stories,” Moore said.

“The Aztecs threw virgins into volcanos, and the Europeans and Americans burned women as witches for 200 years claiming this would ‘save the world’ from evil people. This has been [referred to as] ‘herd mentality,’ ‘groupthink,’ and ‘cult behavior.’ Humans are social animals with a hierarchy, and it is easiest to gain a high position by using fear and control.”

Moore said the environmental apocalypse theory is mostly about “political power and control,” adding that he is dedicated to showing people that the situation is not as negative as they are told.

“Today, in the richest countries, our descendants are making decisions that our grandchildren will have to pay for,” he said. “Predictions that the world is coming to an end have been made for thousands of years. Not once has this come true. Why should we believe it now?”

“People are naturally afraid of the future because it is unknown and full of risks and difficult decisions. I believe there is also an element of ‘self-loathing’ in this apocalypse movement.”

Moore said the young generation today is taught that humans are not worthy and are destroying the earth. This indoctrination has made them feel guilty and ashamed of themselves, which is the wrong way to go about life.

The Demonization of Carbon Dioxide

“Very few people believe the world is not warming. The record is clear that the world has been warming since about the year 1700, 150 years before we were using fossil fuels. 1700 was the peak of the Little Ice Age, which was very cold and caused crop failures and starvation. Before that, around 1000 A.D. was the Medieval Warm period when Vikings farmed Greenland. [And] before that, around 500 A.D. were the Dark Ages, and before that, the Roman Warm Period when it was warmer than today, and the sea level was 1–2 meters higher than today,” Moore said.

“Even until about 1950, the amount of fossil fuel used and CO₂ emitted were very small compared to today. We do not know the cause of these periodic fluctuations in temperature, but it was certainly not CO₂.”

Moore clarified that the “minority opinion” is not about the history of the Earth’s temperature, but it is the relationship between the temperature and CO₂ that is at the center of the dispute.

“In this regard, I agree that many believe CO₂ is the main cause of warming. CO₂ is invisible, so no one can actually see what it is doing. And this ‘majority’ are mainly scientists paid by politicians and bureaucrats, media making headlines, or activists making money. [The rest are] the public who believe this story even though they can't actually see what CO₂ is doing,” Moore said.

Moore provided a graph of temperature continuously measured over 350 years (from 1659 to 2009) in central England. “If carbon dioxide was the main cause of warming, then there should be a rise in temperature along the carbon dioxide curve, but it doesn't,” he explained.

Moore described the demonization of CO₂ as “completely ridiculous.” He added that CO₂ is the basis of all life on Earth and its concentration in the atmosphere today, even with the increase, is lower than it has been for a large majority of life’s existence.

Rising CO₂ Correlates With Increased Plantation: Study

A study in 2013 found that increased levels of carbon dioxide (CO₂) have helped boost green foliage across the world's arid regions over the past 30 years.

The Australian Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO), in collaboration with the Australian National University (ANU), found the distribution area of vegetation increased by 11 percent due to the effect of carbon dioxide fertilization in arid areas of the world between 1982 and 2015 through satellite observations. (Courtesy of Patrick Moore)

The Australian government agency CSIRO conducted the research in collaboration with Australian National University (ANU). The data was based on satellite observations from the year 1982 to 2010 across parts of the arid areas in Australia, North America, the Middle East, and Africa.

It found an 11 percent increase in foliage cover in the studied area due to what's called "CO₂ fertilization."

The study said a fertilization effect occurs when elevated CO₂ levels enable a leaf during photosynthesis—the process by which green plants convert sunlight into sugar—to extract more carbon from the air or lose less water to the air or both.

“If elevated CO₂ causes the water use of individual leaves to drop, plants in arid environments will respond by increasing their total numbers of leaves. These changes in leaf cover can be detected by satellite, particularly in deserts and savannas where the cover is less complete than in wet locations,” according to Randall Donohue, the CSIRO research scientist.

Breaking the Global Warming Narrative

“Climate alarmists prefer to discuss climate knowledge only since 1850. The time before this they referred to as the pre-industrial age. This ‘pre-industrial age’ was more than 3 billion years when life was on the Earth. Many climate changes [occurred during that period], including Ice Ages, Hothouse Ages, major extinctions due to asteroid impacts, and other unknown causes,” Moore said.

“Today, the Earth is in the Pleistocene Ice Age, which began 2.6 million years ago. ... So, the most recent major glaciation, which peaked 20,000 years ago, was not the end of the Ice Age. We are still in the Pleistocene Ice Age no matter how the climate alarmists wish to deny this.”

He said the great irony of the present panic about the climate is that the Earth is colder today than it was for 250 million years before the Pleistocene Ice Age set in. And CO₂ is lower now than in more than 95 percent of Earth’s history.

“But you would never know this if you listen to all the people who benefit from the lie that the Earth will soon be too hot for life and that CO₂ will become higher than in Earth’s history,” Moore said.

‘More CO₂ Is Beneficial to the Environment and Humans’

According to Moore, nearly all commercial greenhouse farmers worldwide buy CO₂ to inject into their greenhouses to realize up to 60 percent higher crop yields.

A picture shows a Bulgarian worker (L) at a strawberry greenhouse in Palos de la Frontera, Huelva, southern Spain, Feb. 17, 2006. (Samuel Aranda/AFP via Getty Images)

“I was impressed when flying over South Korea [and seeing] how many greenhouses there are in the valleys. Like British Columbia, Korea has a lot of mountains and not so much flat fertile farmland.

“I am sure the greenhouse farmers are putting more CO₂ in their greenhouses, up to double and triple what it is in the atmosphere today. This is because nearly all plants growing outside in the natural atmosphere are starved for CO₂, and it is what limits them from growing faster,” Moore added.

“Please refer to the chapter titled ‘Climate of Fear and Guilt’ in my book, [Fake Invisible Catastrophes and Threats of Doom], if you wish to gain a full understanding of these facts,” he said.

Moore said that most environmental activists, politicians, and so-called experts know that we cannot stop increasing the use of fossil fuels or reducing CO2 emissions within their proposed schedule.

“In 2015, while attending the COP (Conference of the Parties) in Paris, I offered a public bet for $100,000 in a broadcast media release which went out on more than 200 media feeds, that by 2025 global CO2 emissions would be higher than in 2015. I did not receive one taker, not even from the ‘greens,’” Moore said.

“I know that more CO2 is entirely beneficial to both the environment and human civilization. I am proud to be a director of the CO2 Coalition.”

The Irony of ‘Carbon Neutrality’

Moore said “carbon neutrality” is a political term, not a scientific one.

“It is simply wrong to call CO2 ‘carbon.’ Carbon is an element that is what diamonds, graphite, and carbon black (soot) are composed of. [And] CO2 is a molecule that contains carbon and oxygen and is an invisible gas that is the primary food for all life. [Likewise], it is incorrect to refer to NaCl (table salt) as ‘chlorine,’ even though NaCl contains chlorine,” Moore said.

“He said when elements (atoms) combine with each other to form compounds (molecules), they always have very different properties than the elements they are made from.

“‘Net-Zero’ is also a political term made-up by activists who are not scientists. For example, the top leaders of this crusade are people like Al Gore, Leonardo DiCaprio, and Greta Thunberg, none of whom are scientists.”

According to Moore, Russia, China, and India are 40 percent of the human population, and they do not agree with this anti-fossil fuel agenda.

“If we add Brazil, Indonesia, and most African countries, it is a majority of the population who are not climate fanatics,” Moore added.

“Another great irony is that many countries with the coldest climates, such as Canada, Sweden, Germany, and the UK, are the most concerned about warming. For example, the average annual temperature in Canada is -5.35 degrees Celsius.”

Moore also said that fumes from engines are not CO₂; they are other substances, as CO₂ is invisible and odorless. Dust is also not CO₂; it is soot and can be controlled with present technology. And coal plants built today are much cleaner than ones built 20 years ago.

‘Wind and Solar Power Are Parasites on the Economy’

“Solar and wind power are both very expensive and very unreliable. It is almost like a mental illness that so many people have been brainwashed to think entire countries can be supported with these technologies,” Moore said.

An aerial image shows vehicles driving on the California 14 Highway as solar panels, part of an electricity generation plant in Kern County near Mojave, Calif., on June 18, 2021. (Patrick T. Fallon/AFP via Getty Images)

“I believe wind and solar energy are parasites on the larger economy. In other words, they make the country poorer than if other more reliable and less costly technologies were used.”

Moore said that wind and solar providers rely heavily on government subsidies, tax write-offs, and mandates, where citizens are forced to buy wind and solar power even if it is more expensive, on the pretext that it is “environmentally friendly.”

“Millions of people pay more for wind and solar energy while a few people make millions of dollars, marks, pounds, etc. It is a bit like a Ponzi scheme in the stock markets,” Moore added.

“They require vast areas of land, are not available most of the time, and require reliable energy such as nuclear, hydroelectric, [coal, and natural] gas to be available when wind and solar are unavailable.”

Wind turbines are seen near the coal-fired power station Neurath of German energy giant RWE in Garzweiler, western Germany, on March 15, 2021. (Ina Fassbender/AFP via Getty Images)

According to Moore, the construction of wind and solar farms uses vast amounts of fossil fuels for mining, transportation, and construction. And in many locations, they don't produce nearly enough energy in their lifetimes as is required to build and maintain them.

“Why not use reliable energy [such as nuclear, hydroelectricity, natural gas, etc.] as the primary source?” Moore questioned, adding if that were the case, “then wind and solar would be unnecessary.”

‘Plastic Is Not a Toxic Substance’

“Plastic is not a toxic substance. That is why we package and wrap our food in it, to prevent it from becoming contaminated. Plastic does not magically become toxic when it enters the ocean,” Moore said.

“Of course, they say on one hand that plastic will never break down, and then, on the other hand, they say it will quickly decay into ‘microplastics,’ which, of course, are conveniently invisible so no one can observe or verify this for themselves. How clever!”

According to Moore, our digestive system can tell the difference between “food” and plastic or tiny particles of sand. Our body does not ingest sand into our bloodstream, no matter how microscopic the sand is.

He said plastic floating in the ocean is like a tiny floating reef, the same as driftwood. It provides a surface for marine species to lay their eggs on, attach themselves to, and eat things that are attached to it.

“Pollution is usually toxic or causes harm to life. Plastic is simply ‘litter’ beside the road. It is not hurting anything. One exception is discarded fishing nets, not because they are plastic but because they are shaped to catch fish. The environmental community should work with the fishing industry to stop throwing damaged nets in the sea and bring them back to the dock, where they can be recycled, used in a waste-to-energy plant, or discarded safely,” Moore added.

This interview is a compilation of an email exchange between Moore and South Korean Professor Seok-soon Park, professor of environmental science and engineering at Ehwa Womans University in Seoul, South Korea, in November of 2021. It was provided to The Epoch Times by Park with the permission of Moore on July 7, 2022.

Both he and Moore are among the 1,100 scientists and professionals that signed the World Climate Declaration (WCD), stating that there’s no climate emergency.

Professor Park is a World Climate Declaration Ambassador at CLINTEL and a member of the CO2 Coalition. He translated “Inconvenient Facts: The Science That Al Gore Doesn’t Want You to Know (by Gregory Wrightstone)” and “Fake Invisible Catastrophes and Threats of Doom (by Patrick Moore)” into Korean. Deeply impressed by these books, he founded the “Korea Alliance of Freedom and Environmental Groups,” dedicated to enlightening people on the truth of climate change, the eco-friendliness of nuclear power energy, the environmental advantage of a liberal democratic market economy, and sensible environmentalism.

Park received his B.S. in Zoology from Seoul National University (Seoul, Korea) in 1980 and his M.S. and Ph.D. in Environmental Science from Rutgers University (New Brunswick, New Jersey) in 1983 and 1985. Before joining as one of the founding professors at Ewha's Environmental Science and Engineering Department in 1996, he worked as a postdoctoral researcher at Rutgers University, visiting professor at Princeton University, and a tenured professor at Kangwon National University (Chuncheon, South Korea).

He served as the President of the Korean Society of Environmental Education, President of the National Institute of Environmental Research, and a Presidential Advisory Committee member on Science and Technology. He has published over 150 research papers in peer-reviewed journals and has written more than 20 books. He received the Best Scientist and Engineer Award from Korea Science Foundation in 2007 and a Presidential Commendation in 2013.

Archangel Michael on Climate Change

April 10, 2019

Excerpt:

Steve Beckow: The advent of a worldwide temperate climate... Some sources say second sun will arise. Some say it will be Jupiter that will become the second sun. Is there truth to the rumours of a second sun?

Archangel Michael: No. There will be no second sun. Your sun is well intact for a very long time and there is no need or requirement and it would not be beneficial for Earth to have a second sun.

Steve: How will the worldwide climate be made temperate if there isn't a second sun?

AAM: There are many adjustments that can be made climatically with star technology, with what we would call Earth engineering, with subtle adjustments to the energy frequencies of the level of vibration on your planet.

That will be one of the strongest indicators in fact of a temperate climate. And the shifting, the minuscule shifting that has already been underway, in your polar axes.

Steve: Shifting ... So not a total shifting but a little shift.

AAM: Correct.

Matthew Ward on Environmental Damage and Climate Change – Part 1/2

November 23, 2015

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2015/11/23/matthew-ward-environmental-damage-climate-change-part-12/>

The following two-part article from Matthew Ward (St. Matthew) was posted in May 2010 on climate change.

Given that the climate conference, to be held in early December, is proceeding on false assumptions and is really about furthering the Illuminati's agenda of world domination, I'd like to place some of the facts, as given by our channeled sources, before the public.

At the time this was published, I was more concerned with weather warfare (HAARP, scalar weapons, Tesla devices, directed energy weapons), but now we're more concerned with the Illuminati's hijacking of climate concern.

The climate change that's happening is intentional and will finally result in a globally-temperate climate. There's nothing to fear from it and nothing to worry about.

And, yes, some animal species will be relocated to other planets to continue their evolution.

This means that the Paris Conference is not needed and any initiatives that come out of it will be found to be based on false science. The ulterior motives of the Illuminati to create their New World Order will also eventually be made clear.

From Matthew Ward, Illuminations for a New Era: Understanding These Turbulent Times. Channeled by Suzy Ward. Camas, WA: Matthew Books, 2003, 74-9.

Suzy Ward: Are the fires in the Northwest and floods in other countries all due to Mother Nature or is weather control involved? I was shocked – that technology actually was mentioned in a local newscast last week! And is global warming going to continue – will it cause major changes in seacoast areas?

MATTHEW: Your planet is indeed experiencing a great deal of dramatic weather as well as overall climate changes. Although the wildfires, monsoon-type downpours, drought, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and record-breaking temperatures can be attributed to the season, the area or global warming and thus nothing is greatly suspicious, has Mother Nature alone caused all of this? Not on your life!

Even what you think of as weather patterns, such as the alternating years of El Nino and La Nina currents, have been started or exacerbated by weather technology. (2) At no time in almost the past 50 years has a major weather condition not been deliberately adversely influenced through specially designed processes or by the effects of other types of technologies.

These technologies were meant to be kept secret but could not be. In the beginning the efforts were few and feeble because the designs were new and testing was cautious. By now it is well known how to wreak extensive havoc weather-wise to purposely cause loss of life and property, severe deprivations and disease, and economic chaos anyplace on the planet.

This heavier bombardment of the atmosphere to cause increasingly violent effects is in keeping with other intended effects of climate-changing conditions. At this point we go off-planet for explanations and instigators, because a great deal is behind your “natural” weather or climate changes.

These are manifestations by the forces beyond Earth that are telepathically imparting their technology and influencing their willing puppets on the planet to cause the spectrum of destructive weather elements. The aim is the increased negativity that results from weather-related traumas like flooding, drought and the warming oceans that cause the agony of many millions of humans and countless animal lives in your seas and upon the land.

That devastation is in addition to the anguish of the entire Devic kingdom about pollution in the atmosphere, which is Earth's major breathing system; the shrinking rain forests; the loss of her fertile soil; the drain on her blood supply, the oil that is being sucked out of her interior.

But back to weather, and this is the paradox: Even if weather technology were not a major factor in causing vast destruction, given the collective negativity from all of its sources, Earth still would be reeling in fires, storms, eruptions and quakes. They are the planetary cleansers, the reducers of negativity, the relievers of kinetic energy build-up, the leavening factor that aids Earth in rising into lighter density and emerging from the domination of the darkness.

It is not easy to believe that some humans are being manipulated by non-human forces or to accept that those humans have intentionally caused massive weather damage and great loss of life to their fellowman.

These are the same humans who have created the dismal environment by such as the chemtrails and other toxins that befoul air, land, water and bodies of all life forms. They are the ones who manipulate national and global economies with the intent to bankrupt while claiming it is financial aid. They are the ones who start finance wars, all the while publicly stating that all they want is to bring lasting peace.

The blatant lies, the abuse of power – there is no end to the negativity the effects of these actions cause in each moment, and into this soup of deliberate pollution, toss that which is created by fear, thoughtlessness, uncaring, or ignorance. The total is an unimaginable measure of negativity that still must be removed from Earth, and what are called “natural disasters,” whether truly natural or not, is Earth’s removal process.

There is no difference between the results of the same kind of action – for example, the damage resulting from a fire caused by a sudden wind gust spreading a campfire's sparks is no different from the damage caused by the same size fire started by an arsonist – but there is an immense difference between the energy attachments created by each.

Intent, or motive, is its own energy form and is registered apart from the activity itself. For example, subsistence farmers unaware of the damage they are doing when they leave their small rough homes and ruined topsoil to move on, cut down and burn more trees, wear out more topsoil again and again, nevertheless are aiding in the destruction of the rain forest.

Others cut the trees to sell rare woods even while knowing but not caring that preserving the forest is imperative environmentally. In both cases the trees are killed, reducing that vital element of Earth's well being, but only in the latter case, where greed handily wins out over awareness, does the action result in double-dose negativity.

Matthew Ward on Environmental Damage and Climate Change – Part 2/2

(For Part 1, see <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2010/05/17/matthew-ward-on-global-warming-and-weather-warfare-part-12/>.)

From Matthew Ward, Illuminations for a New Era: Understanding These Turbulent Times. Channeled by Suzy Ward. Camas, WA: Matthew Books, 2003, 74-9.

Destruction through weather control technology and its aftermath is intended, so it also results in twice the negativity as a naturally occurring weather event. Although droughts and floods are the most easily achieved effects of weather manipulation, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions have been "improved" so that target effects often are partially attained.

The caricature of the mad scientist with flowing hair and popping eyes is almost applicable, as the few people with the knowledge and the authority to literally "Make my day!" weather-wise on Earth are not rational. And their source of "inspiration" is not human but is the dark ones among the reptilian civilization. However, with thanks to the advanced technology of our space brotherhood light workers, the weather controllers' plans never have been fully successful and their most diabolical efforts have been almost entirely thwarted.

This is not to say that severe weather-related events will not continue with potentially serious consequences. That is the most likely scenario as the light vs. dark battle rages on. But due to our benevolent space warriors, nothing will be as bad as was anticipated before they came to the aid of Earth with doubled and redoubled light efforts.

As for global warming – and no respectable scientist on Earth will deny this is happening! – what has caused this? The hole in the ozone layer?

No, that is another result of what has caused global warming: Negativity. The thinning of the ozone layer that eventually resulted in the hole was initiated some time ago by vehicle and heating fuel systems and other chemical reactions and emissions, which also are effects of negativity. No, that is not a surprise, but this may be – the ozone situation would have happened without any manmade efforts, solely as a natural and desirable result of the light increasing on Earth.

The thinning is helpful in purifying the atmosphere and lightening the density immediately surrounding the planet. If this were known to your scientists who could publicize it, there would be no grave concerns about the diminishing ozone. But so far this is known only to the few scientists who deliberately do not publicize it, a strategic reversal of the dark intent regarding publicity to create fear.

In Earth's third density the protection of the ozone area has been necessary for her life forms, but the need for this is lessening rapidly as the planet is absorbing more and more light in tandem with all her life forms from human to algae.

You asked if global warming will continue. Yes, because whatever has been set in motion must run its course – energy doesn't get directed and then of its own volition, stop and hover or turn unless it reaches equally strong opposition. And that is coming!

At this point enough souls have awakened and are seeking Truth so that there is a great rising, yet still subconscious, of requests for assistance to avoid planetary destruction. This has enabled the detrimental effects of the warming process to be brought within the guidance of the light brotherhood, whose advanced technology will lift and steer the energy streamers into positive outcomes.

This would be stabilizing temperature ranges to attain better distribution of heat and cold, and leavening the extremes in arid and humid, fertile and abused, lands. It would be getting rid of air pollution and neutralizing toxic wastes in water and soil and radioactive waste in leaking storage containers and in discarded weaponry. It would be the recovery of the most damaged parts of Earth, reclaiming a balanced ecological system and restoring the harmony that once existed within all of her animal and plant kingdoms.

Some there know of these off-planet sources of assistance. It is time for ALL there to recognize, welcome and thank our extraterrestrial family of diverse civilizations whose massive light-beaming and technology have been and will continue to be literally lifesaving for Earth and all her light-receptive beings. This assistance is more complex than you yourselves can manage, but it is not the responsibility of your space friends – your space family! – to manage all aspects of this salvation for you.

They answered Earth's own plea for help, and myriad others in light service are helping also, but assisting these sources to re-create Heaven on Earth is the mission and birthright of all you souls who chose to participate during this unprecedented era. Your positive thoughts and sentiments are required for the return to health, peace, love, harmony and remembrance of your relationship with each other, with God, with all life forms throughout the universe.

This is not merely a prayer or fervent hope. It is a reflection of the universe. The changes within each of you and the planetary changes are only the reflection of the most pervasive universal changes since the birth of the various worlds of the cosmos.

Mother, I know this goes way beyond your questions, but it all is related. As I have often said, everything happening anywhere on Earth is related to everything everywhere!

Is Climate Change a Global Disaster?

March 2, 2019

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2019/03/02/is-climate-change-a-global-disaster/>

So much has been made of climate change. Is what's currently being said true, according to the channeled messages I read? No, apparently, it's not.

What's actually happening, as Matthew Ward alleges, is that all the events indicating climate change are in effect "leading to a moderate climate globally." (1)

Let's subtract all the disastrous climatic events caused by the cabal's weather-warfare devices, like HAARP, their lynchpin weather-manipulation satellite, Snow White, and chemtrails. Of them Matthew says:

"Weather manipulation, which also is responsible for the wild storms and record temperatures that have delayed Mother Nature's return to a moderate climate globally, is going to meet its end along with all of the Illuminati's other diabolical activities." (2)

It may have already met its end, if what David Wilcock says about Snow White is true - that it's been taken offline. (3) How many cabal systems does that make?

Mike Quinsey's sources reassure us:

“As predicted the seasons are gradually running into each other, but in the long run things will level out and are certain to be to your liking.” (4)

“The planet itself is also going through critical changes, and has been so for quite some considerable time, and is responsible for the indifferent and unusual weather patterns you have been experiencing. The final outcome will be to your satisfaction and joy as the extremes you experience will no longer take place.” (5)

He reassures us that the changes are not the end of the world.

“Mother Earth is beginning to make changes upon the planet and in many countries you have been experiencing weather extremes. Do not worry as it is not the end of the world but the emergence of the New Earth.

“It seems to be very chaotic at times but once the changes have been made it will quickly settle down into a pleasant weather pattern that all shall enjoy.” (6)

“As you are aware, your weather patterns are gradually changing for the better. There will be problems created by the changes, but you will have ample time to adjust. The net result will be a more acceptable temperature without the extremes that you are used to experiencing.

“The seas will also warm up, and when you take the two together you will find that many changes will occur in nature. Species of animals will move to conditions that are more suited to their needs. All told it will all be for the better as you will enjoy a more temperate climate.” (7)

Can we know more about the impact of these changes on animal life? Let me repeat comments I made in an earlier post on the fate of some animal species.

People will adapt to the changes in climate but some animal species will be less able to, as Matthew Ward explains.

"People now living in the coldest or the hottest climes will adapt, but it is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move." (8)

Another adaptive change, Matthew tells us, is that all animal species will become herbivores rather than carnivores.

"Gradually all animals will become herbivores and the outcry to kill numbers of 'predators' will cease.

"In the meantime, please continue your efforts to protect all animal life, to stop the terrible abuse and end the slaughtering on land and in the seas. Humans' inhumane treatment of animals has caused a staggering amount of negativity for Earth to deal with." (9)

Many species will be more readily able to adapt to climatic conditions than they've been able to humanity's harmful and predatory practices, Matthew says.

"Sadly, some marine populations and animal species living in frigid temperatures will not survive, but most can adapt far more readily to rising ocean and land temperatures than they can live in polluted waters or in sonar testing areas or in cages, much less evade slaughter for pelts or tusks, 'scientific experiments,' or delicacies such as caviar and fins." (10)

Some species will be unable to adapt and will leave this world to migrate to planetary climes more suited to their needs, SaLuSa remarks.

"As with the Human Race, the animal kingdom will also change and a number of species will completely disappear. They will be mainly those who normally live in the more extreme conditions, and are unable to adapt to the new Earth.

"They are not lost for all time but will find another planet where they can continue their evolution. All life is immortal and there are no exceptions, and changes take place all the time, indeed as you are now beginning to experience." (11)

Sanat Kumara adds that "many of what you have thought of as the extinct species will return." (12)

So all the hubbub, all the carbon taxes, all the hypotheses about why the planet is warming up are, it seems, short of the mark.

What is really happening is the greening of the world, to be sure, but also a return to a moderate climate worldwide. The mechanics of that I leave for another post.

Climate Change is not Caused by “Global Warming” – Part 1/2 (Repost)

August 3, 2019

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2019/08/03/climate-change-is-not-caused-by-global-warming-part-1-2-repost/>

The Manchester Guardian recently wrote:

"When Senator Kamala Harris was asked about climate change during the Democratic debate in June, she did not mince words. 'I don't even call it climate change,' she said. 'It's a climate crisis.'"

"She's right – and we, at Columbia University's National Center for Disaster Preparedness, wish more people would call this crisis what it is." (1)

Should we accept the move in terminology from "change" to "crisis"? Is a crisis really happening?

Given the Presidential election now on, it seems to me time to reprint a two-part article on climate change that addresses what's really happening on the planet. (2)

*"Global warming" will bring a universally-temperate climate Credit:
science.opposingviews.co*

A lot of concern is being generated around "global warming."

Can we look at what our sources say about the matter?

David Suzuki defined global warming in this way:

"We have released so much carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases that our planet's atmosphere is now like a thick, heat-trapping blanket. By disrupting the atmospheric balance that keeps the climate stable, we are now seeing extreme effects around the globe. It's like a thermostat that's gone haywire — it just doesn't work the way it should. The result: the climate changes, and it gets warmer. Extreme weather events also become more common." (3)

We know many "extreme weather events" were caused by the High Altitude Auroral Research Project (HAARP) and other weather-control technologies.

Control was for the purpose of promoting the cabal's agenda of global domination through weather warfare, what the cabal called "owning the weather." These extreme weather events included earthquakes, tsunamis, hurricanes, floods, wildfires, and so on.

HAARP has now been shut down. I asked Archangel Michael to confirm this in a personal reading I had through Linda Dillon on Aug. 6, 2013:

Steve Beckow: XX would like to know if HAARP has been deactivated.

Archangel Michael: Yes, it has. (4)

Again, because this is a matter that concerns people, let me add what the planetary logos, Sanat Kumara, said on the subject that same year.

Steve Beckow: if I could get you to comment, please, on ... whether HAARP has been decommissioned or neutralized.

Sanat Kumara: HAARP has been decommissioned, as you would think of it. (5)

It's been primarily Matthew Ward who discusses global warming, with a few references made by SaLuSa of Sirius. In 2008, Matthew told us that "while it is definitely so that the current use of fossil fuels is not healthy for your environment and their extraction is not healthy for Earth's planetary body, the scientific controversy about global warming is a waste of energy." (6)

Elsewhere he repeated that "ongoing arguments are pointless. "

"'Global warming' due to humankind's willful neglect, ignorance and denial absolutely is real, to be sure, but the melting of polar ice, record-breaking temperature extremes and other weather anomalies are Earth's steps toward returning to a moderate climate globally, the way it was when the entire planet was 'the garden of Eden.'" (7)

And again:

"Melting glaciers and icebergs and weather anomalies are paving the way to a favorable climate globally, to the restoration of barren lands so they can become arable again and the end of both the hottest and the polar regions." (8)

He gave more detail in another message:

“What are commonly known as ‘global warming’ and ‘El Nino’ are part of Earth's natural processes to return to her original moderate climate everywhere.

“While she is achieving this, glaciers will melt, the vast deserts will become arable, rain forests will flourish, and variations in temperatures will markedly decrease. Ultimately, every place in your world will be comfortably habitable.

“Peoples now living in the coldest or the hottest climes will adapt.” (9)

In 2010, Matthew explained how self-serving interests were drawing attention away from the pollution that humans were causing and arguing that cyclical climate change was natural.

“This controversial issue not only is an integral part of the stalled economic situation; it is [also] a prime example of how duality still is affecting your world - the self-serving interests vs. the interests of the masses and of Earth herself.

"Scientists who claim that climate change is a natural cyclical happening and not of humankind's making are ignoring the fact that never before has the planet been plagued with the manmade toxic pollution that exists today.” (10)

No scientists suspect that Gaia has had to rid herself of the negativity humans cause.

“Major climate changes have occurred before, when Earth had to rid herself of the negativity created by her human residents' behaviors, but none of your scientists on either side of the global warming fence knows about that cause and effect.” (11)

The scientists are willingly aiding the cabal, he asserts.

“The ones who are expressing alarm about melting glaciers and record-breaking temperatures are doing so from genuine concern for future generations, whereas those who pooh-pooh the need to curtail polluting are willingly abetting the self-serving ones who profit handsomely from the many processes that cause pollutants.

“When you add to those sources the deliberate rain of toxins via chemtrails, the toxic waste in landfills, and unsafely stored radioactive materials, it is overwhelmingly clear that nothing in your world has escaped humankind's negligence, at the very least, and criminal contamination at worst.

“You who are familiar with these messages know that Earth's restoration to her original Eden self includes the polar and tropical temperature extremes giving way to what ultimately will be a moderate climate worldwide.” (12)

(To be concluded in Part 2, tomorrow.)

Some species will adapt or become extinct. Credit: www.theblackvault.com

(Concluded from Part 1, yesterday.)

As far back as 2005, Matthew was suggesting that our scientific instruments and methods were not adequate to reveal the true nature of the climate change that was happening:

“No doubt both articles were written by scientists who are assessing the polar situations against your historic, not universal, science, and without any awareness of Earth's cleansing activities.

“At this time in your planet's evolution, the changes occurring as seen through microscopes and telescopes and by other methods of measurement are extremely upsetting to purely scientific minds.

“Those people's fears and the fears of the people who believe them, along with the masses that believe Armageddon is on the horizon and the few fanatical doomsayers, are increasing the stress in an already stressed population attempting to cope with trying personal situations. (1)

It doesn't matter that few know of this initiative on the part of our star brothers and sisters, Matthew says.

“Even if every person on the planet did know what is transpiring, it would not negate the collective responsibility to stop desecrating Earth and repair the extensive damage that has been done to her. Other civilizations are eager to assist in this gargantuan task, but it is your planet home and you must take the lead.

“And you are! Although little of importance came out of the recent Copenhagen conference, the light in myriad souls is inspiring them to initiate preservation and reparation efforts in numerous ways.” (2)

SaLuSa attributes the warming effect to activities of the Sun.

“Global warming is currently very much the topic of the day, and it is well that you try to understand how you can reduce the damage you are causing.

“However, what is not fully taken into consideration is that your Sun is changing, and is by far the main reason that the changes are taking place. In time they will settle down and you will have more temperate conditions throughout the world. The extremes of weather as you have always experienced, will no longer occur and life will become more pleasant and totally bearable.” (3)

SaLuSa reassures us that the climate changes will not bring catastrophic effects.

“Global warming is bringing rapid changes to your weather systems, but they will not be catastrophic. Naturally physical changes will occur on Earth and we are aware of what will take place, and are allowed to direct them in ways that will minimise their effects.

“Be assured that in the end it will all prove to be in your interests, and the world will experience more stable temperatures and variations. It will eventually prove to be temperate and ideal regardless of where you are.” (4)

There will be some dislocation, Matthew tells us.

“Some low-lying coastal areas and islands will be affected, as I mentioned before, along with stating that residents will have time to move to higher areas and be compensated for relocation.” (5)

Matthew explains that fear-mongering over global warming is part of the cabal’s strategy to keep the population living in fear.

“We devoutly wish that fear about global warming and its projected effects would subside. We wish the same about the fear of nuclear war, global terrorism, geophysical catastrophes in which billions perish, AIDS and new diseases that will kill more billions, and, and, and.

“Fear is being deliberately created by the dark forces because fear's energy is incompatible with the energy of light, so you can see that the fearful ‘what if’ situations are making the progress of the light more difficult. Instead of feeling fear about the ‘unknown,’ we ask that you send love-light energy to all souls, those who are suffering and those who are causing it, and judge none.” (6)

Some animal species will become extinct, Matthew tells us.

“Yes, this means that some animal species will become extinct, those that cannot adapt to the serious changes in their habitats; but others will be able to adjust to the changes and flourish.

“Gradually all animals will become herbivores and the outcry to kill numbers of ‘predators’ will cease. In the meantime, please continue your efforts to protect all animal life, to stop the terrible abuse and end the slaughtering on land and in the seas. Humans' inhumane treatment of animals has caused a staggering amount of negativity for Earth to deal with.” (7)

These include some marine populations and animal species living in frigid temperatures (8)

Even in extinction, animal species will obey their instinctual urges, he tells us.

“It is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move.” (9)

These species are not lost forever, SaLuSa reassures us.

“A number of species will completely disappear. They will be mainly those who normally live in the more extreme conditions, and are unable to adapt to the new Earth. They are not lost for all time but will find another planet where they can continue their evolution. All life is immortal and there are no exceptions, and changes take place all of the time as indeed you are now beginning to experience.” (10)

"Grace," a communicator speaking through Suzy Ward at Matthew's request, tantalizes us with her vision of a new Garden of Eden in the future.

“We’re all set for the time when Earth has dumped all the negativity and we can act on her choice for a moderate climate everywhere. It won’t take as long as you might think to turn deserts into vegetable gardens!” (11)

To summarize, many extreme-weather events were attributable not to global warming but to weather-warfare weapons like HAARP. HAARP has now been decommissioned.

We humans are polluting Gaia's air, land, and water, but the fear of global warming is pointless. The melting of polar ice, record-breaking temperature extremes and other weather anomalies are Earth’s steps toward returning to a moderate climate globally.

The Sun plays a role in the warming of the planet. Self-serving interests are trying to draw attention away from the polluters by suggesting that global warming is part of a planetary climate cycle.

These same interests are trying to keep us in fear by raising the specter of catastrophe, Armageddon, competition among human groups for food and fuel, etc.

The exact nature of the changes are not evident to us with our imprecise instruments and standards. However it doesn't matter that we don't know what is happening. It will happen regardless.

Some species will need to adapt. Others will become extinct on Earth although they'll exist on other, more suitable planets. All life is immortal.

In the end, we'll make of the deserts a watered plain and of the Earth, a garden planet.

Climate Change – Something to be Feared or Welcomed? – Part 1/4

July 21, 2018

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/07/21/climate-change-something-to-be-feared-or-welcomed-part-1-4/>

Climate change is a situation that's not well understood in the world.

Many people fear that it's an indication that we're in the end times. We are in the end times - of a cycle, to be sure - but not "the end of the world." (1)

Many other people stoke the public's fear with disinformation and misinformation, often predicting a catastrophe.

What's the actual state of things?

Climate Change and the Return of a Temperate Climate

My sources are the archangels and terrestrial and galactic ascended masters, which I think of as the "Company of Heaven." They speak to inform us, through credible channels or mediums.

First of all, they say that climate change has many causes, some to do with humans and others to do with Gaia herself and the Sun.

In fact the entire process of climate change is like dominoes - something impacts the Sun, which impacts Gaia, which impacts us.

What we think of as climate change is at least in part a feature of Gaia's gradual Ascension.

We were headed towards ecological disaster before civilizations from off-planet joined with Earth's White Hats (the Alliance, they're called now) to defeat such measures as false-flag operations, weather warfare, chemtrails, pandemics, torture prisons, pedophilia, child sacrifice - on and on the list of atrocities goes.

In fact rather than being headed for Armageddon, we're headed for a universally-temperate climate, if my sources are to be believed. And an expanded beingness thrown into the bargain.

We'll witness our return as a planet to conditions similar to the Garden of Eden, Matthew Ward says.

"'Global warming' due to humankind's willful neglect, ignorance and denial absolutely is real, to be sure, but the melting of polar ice, record-breaking temperature extremes and other weather anomalies are Earth's steps toward returning to a moderate climate globally, the way it was when the entire planet was 'the garden of Eden.'" (2)

Matthew names impactful Earth changes we might expect to see during this time of Gaia shrugging off our negativity:

"Unusual storms, record-breaking high and low temperatures, flooding, drought, wildfires, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions are cleansing Earth's interior, surface and atmosphere, and they are leading to a moderate climate globally." (3)

But they will not be catastrophic, according to SaLuSa of Sirius, speaking on behalf of the Galactic Federation:

"Global warming is bringing rapid changes to your weather systems, but they will not be catastrophic." (4)

"The changes are dramatic and do not appear to follow any particular pattern and at times seem chaotic. Yet the changes are not random happenings, but leading to a more acceptable pattern and one that ensures that the extremes you usually experience no longer occur." (5)

"These changes must take place as you move out of the ... volatile weather extremes of the past.

"Matters will settle down and you are going to experience more acceptable conditions that will be to your liking. The extremes that you normally experience will slowly disappear." (6)

Notice that there's no longer any mention of HAARP, weather warfare, etc. All events now are natural, rather than manmade.

Mike Quinsey refers to Gaia's process:

"The planet itself is going through critical changes, and has been so for quite some considerable time, and is responsible for the indifferent and unusual weather patterns you have been experiencing." (7)

Matthew Ward gives one view of the process happening to Gaia's body (Earth) as a result of her Ascension process:.

"What are commonly known as 'global warming' and 'El Nino' are part of Earth's natural processes to return to her original moderate climate everywhere.

"While she is achieving this, glaciers will melt, the vast deserts will become arable, rain forests will flourish, and variations in temperatures will markedly decrease - ultimately, every place in your world will be comfortably habitable." (8)

That must be good news.

She'll retain us, but she needs to get rid of the tension that she carries as a result of our pollution, persecution, torture, world wars, genocides. Oh, don't get me started.

In light of her cleansing being a natural process, endless arguments about global warming go nowhere, Matthew says:

"The scientific controversy about global warming is a waste of energy." (9)

Once we see the return of Gaia to her original condition, there's no need for further controversy, he says:

"Melting glaciers and icebergs and weather anomalies are paving the way to a favorable climate globally, to the restoration of barren lands so they can become arable again and the end of both the hottest and the polar regions."

Hallelujah.

So far we've talked about Gaia. But there's another "natural" cause (11) of climate change, another domino: the Sun.

Here are the dominoes we've seen so far: Forces (one domino) act upon our Sun (another domino), which passes along to Gaia (yet another) the loving energies and elevating vibrations, which she passes along to us (one more). We benefit from the Sun directly and to the changes Gaia produces in herself.

Nevertheless, these Ascension energies bring things up in Gaia, just as they do in us.

Let's look at what part the Sun plays and what's energizing the Sun.

SaLuSa described the Sun's process:

"Your Sun is changing, and [it] is by far the main reason that the changes are taking place. In time they will settle down and you will have more temperate conditions throughout the world. The extremes of weather as you have always experienced, will no longer occur and life will become more pleasant and totally bearable.

"As the changes are brought about they will open up opportunities to receive the higher energies. It will enable the cleansing of the old and allow the new to manifest." (12)

More recently, Kryon discussed the forces that were themselves impacting the Sun.

"You are moving into another kind of radiation and it's going to affect your Sun. You are already starting to see it. Meteorologists are reporting it. It's part of the shift in the weather.

"The radiant cycle of the Sun itself will be different. The amount of sunspots will be different because the radiation you are moving into as a Solar System, you have never seen before – not as humans." (13)

Is the new "radiation" photonic? Electronic rather than magnetic? Whatever the case, it's in a higher level of vibration than we are now. "Arriving" in it will undoubtedly be a big part of our gradual Ascension process.

These two - Gaia and the Sun - are the "natural" causes of a benevolent climate change. Tomorrow we'll look at the human role.

(1) Hindus might say that we've left the Dark Ages (Kali Yuga) and entered the Golden Age (Sat Yuga). Other traditions say that we've reached the end of a 13,000 (some a 26,000) year cycle, at the end of which it becomes much easier to ascend than previously. The Ascension which we're in is the first mass ascension and the first in which we take the physical body with us.

(11) I say "'natural' cause" because our idea of the nature of a planet is that it isn't a sentient being. It's essentially a heated rock. Which it is not.

At no time do we acknowledge that Gaia is a Spirit occupying a body (Earth).

According to the Company of Heaven, Gaia is an archangel inhabiting the body, Earth. Perhaps that's the origin of the term Terra (Earth) Gaia.

I've heard from Sue Lie's Arcturians that such things as an archangel ensouling a planet are possible. That's as much as I know about it.

Chemtrails

Humanity's Role in Climate Change

Man has ravaged and polluted the planet. Whole islands of garbage float in the ocean and impact ocean life.

But to focus on any one issue is to miss the extent of the total picture. Matthew Ward gives a bit more detail:

"When you add to [it] the deliberate rain of toxins via chemtrails, (1) the toxic waste in landfills, and unsafely stored radioactive materials, it is overwhelmingly clear that nothing in your world has escaped humankind's negligence, at the very least, and criminal contamination at worst." (2)

I'd say that was a pretty thorough speaking of the truth: we've ravaged the planet in places.

According to Matthew, many of our scientists ignore the impact of humanity's pollution on climate change.

"This controversial issue ... is a prime example of how duality still is affecting your world - the self-serving interests vs. the interests of the masses and of Earth herself. Scientists who claim that climate change is a natural cyclical happening and not of humankind's making are ignoring the fact that never before has the planet been plagued with the manmade toxic pollution that exists today.

"Indeed major climate changes have occurred before, when Earth had to rid herself of the negativity created by her human residents' behaviors, but none of your scientists on either side of the global warming fence knows about that cause and effect.

"The ones who are expressing alarm about melting glaciers and record-breaking temperatures are doing so from genuine concern for future generations, whereas those who pooh-pooh the need to curtail polluting are willingly abetting the self-serving ones who profit handsomely from the many processes that cause pollutants." (3)

He points to the role of scientists in the employ of government and companies in covering up what's happening - for financial rather than environmental reasons:

"I don't know if any of the scientists who say global warming is a naturally recurring episode are 'enlightened'; what we do know is that scientists who are espousing that opinion are employed by governments or corporations, and the interest of both categories is financial, not environmental." (4)

Turning from the human role in burdening Gaia to negative consequences we'll be assisted to avoid, there will be some flooding. But people will have plenty of advance warning to move elsewhere, Matthew says.

"Some low-lying coastal areas and islands will be affected, as I mentioned before along with stating that residents will have time to move to higher areas and be compensated for relocation." (5)

SaLuSa agrees with Matthew's prediction of warning:

"There will be problems created by the changes, but you will have ample time to adjust." (6)

The Arcturian Group reveal that some of the storms and other natural disasters are designed to bring people and communities together, all by soul agreement before birth.

"The storms are not just about global warming or Gaia's Ascension, but about a spiritual leveling – neighbor talking to and assisting neighbor, strangers stepping in, and the birthing of universal compassion.

"It is about a higher sense of love and oneness emerging among all who up till now considered themselves separate in some way (racially, economically, intellectually, age, etc.) from each other. This leveling process has been necessary in shifting large groups into a deeper realization of oneness." (7)

Matthew highlights some of the enlightened conservation and clean-up measures people are taking:

"The light in myriad souls is inspiring them to initiate preservation and reparation efforts in numerous ways.

"These extend from individuals clearing away invasive plants thoughtlessly introduced to the detriment of native growth to laws requiring strip mining companies to resurrect the land they have raped, ore mining companies to detoxify water used in their operations, and logging companies to protect animal habitats. Many individuals are inspired to rescue and rehabilitate injured and orphaned wild animals, create wildlife surroundings for zoo animals, add animals to endangered lists, [and] teach poachers on animal preserves other means to earn money." (8)

Tomorrow we'll look at the impact of climate change on animal species.

Impact on Animal Species

SaLuSa tells us that "many changes will occur in nature." (1) People will adapt to them but some animal species will be less able to.

As Matthew Ward explains.

"Peoples now living in the coldest or the hottest climes will adapt, but it is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move." (2)

Sometimes a simple move to a different part of the planet will suffice, as SaLuSa explains: "Species of animals will move to conditions that are more suited to their needs." (3)

Another adaptive change, Matthew tells us, is that all animal species will become herbivores rather than carnivores.

"Gradually all animals will become herbivores and the outcry to kill numbers of 'predators' will cease.

"In the meantime, please continue your efforts to protect all animal life, to stop the terrible abuse and end the slaughtering on land and in the seas. Humans' inhumane treatment of animals has caused a staggering amount of negativity for Earth to deal with." (4)

Many species will be more readily able to adapt to climatic conditions than they have been able to humanity's harmful and predatory practices, Matthew says.

"Sadly, some marine populations and animal species living in frigid temperatures will not survive, but most can adapt far more readily to rising ocean and land temperatures than they can live in polluted waters or in sonar testing areas or in cages, much less evade slaughter for pelts or tusks, 'scientific experiments,' or delicacies such as caviar and fins." (5)

Some species will be unable to adapt and will leave this world to migrate to planetary climes more suited to their needs, SaLuSa remarks.

"As with the Human Race, the animal kingdom will also change and a number of species will completely disappear. They will be mainly those who normally live in the more extreme conditions, and are unable to adapt to the new Earth.

"They are not lost for all time but will find another planet where they can continue their evolution. All life is immortal and there are no exceptions, and changes take place all the time, indeed as you are now beginning to experience." (6)

Sanat Kumara adds that "many of what you have thought of as the extinct species will return." (7)

Tomorrow we'll look at our star family's assistance as we go through these climatic adjustments.

(Concluded from Part 3, yesterday.)

The Role of our Star Family

Our star family is aware of the changes and is containing some and minimizing others, without interfering with our free will, SaLuSa of Sirius tells us:

"Naturally physical changes will occur on Earth and we are aware of what will take place, and are allowed to direct them in ways that will minimise their effects." (1)

The galactics do whatever is allowable under universal law to minimize or spread out the impact of geophysical events.

"Geophysical events will continue as Earth's natural and necessary cleansing process. The blatant disregard for human and animal life for millennia past - and still happening on a lamentable scale - caused a massive amount of negativity to accumulate. Although this has been greatly reduced via geophysical events, its remnants, plus what is being generated anew, must be released. It matters not whether this is by natural or manmade occurrences - the ridding of that negativity is what is important.

"The effects of these events, which will lessen in frequency and severity as Earth keeps ascending, are being diminished to the greatest extent possible by members of your universal family. Their technology cannot prevent all deaths and damage, but it is limiting the death toll and property destruction by leveling out over a wide area the energy releases via earthquakes and volcanic eruptions and is steering the strongest storms to less populated areas." (2)

When they can land, they'll rid the planet of such omnicidal threats as depleted uranium, Matthew says.

"Ridding Earth of toxicity will be given high priority as advancement in other ways will require a healthy environment, so all pollutants, including radiation from depleting uranium, will be dematerialized or neutralized quite rapidly with your space family's technology." (3)

The old negativity that's accrued for centuries has been eliminated and now we're eliminating only new negativity, he says.

"The last of the 'old' negativity was eliminated about six months ago [Dec. 21, 2012] — that's what enabled Earth to enter fourth density.

"'New' negativity caused by ongoing violence is being released through a series of earthquakes in areas where there is little, if any, loss of life or land destruction, and the same with volcanic eruptions. More is being dispersed via torrential rainstorms in some areas and wildfires in others—water and fire are Nature's cleansing elements." (4)

Will we ever return to the levels of negativity we have in the past? No and Galactic forces will help us see to that, Matthew answers:

"Never again will negativity amass on the planet and none of the predicted cataclysms will occur! The darkness that for long ages enshrouded Earth is gone, but 'mopping up' what was left in its wake will continue until she reaches the planes where violence doesn't exist.

"She won't get there next week or next month, but aided by light forces within, on, and beyond Earth, she is moving toward that space at a speed that is unique in this universe and all along the way, violence will lessen and so will storms, quakes and volcanic activity." (5)

It won't take the galactics long to turn deserts into watered plains, as "Grace," a galactic informant, tells us:

"We're all set for the time when Earth has dumped all the negativity and we can act on her choice for a moderate climate everywhere. It won't take as long as you might think to turn deserts into vegetable gardens!" (6)

Many new technologies, including some seeded to us by our star family, Matthew Ward tells us, will assist in the grooming of the planet.

"The ever-intensifying light is ... exposing the self-serving interests that have long-suppressed your developments in free energy sources and other technologies.

"Soon those will 'come to light' and along with your space family's advanced technologies, they will be used to cleanse and purify soil, water and air; and transform your methods of transportation, medical care, food production, construction, manufacturing and communication." (7)

In the End....

"The more you establish a loving relationship with Mother Earth, the more it will help lessen the need for dramatic changes," SaLuSa tells us. (8)

One of the ways we establish a loving relationship with Gaia is to clean up the Earth.

In the end, the responsibility for cleaning it up rests with the human community who created it, and no one else, Matthew tells us.

"You who are familiar with these messages know that Earth's restoration to her original Eden self includes the polar and tropical temperature extremes giving way to what ultimately will be a moderate climate worldwide.

"This actuality ... is unknown to your scientists and to most of the rest of the populace too. But even if every person on the planet did know what is transpiring, it would not negate the collective responsibility to stop desecrating Earth and repair the extensive damage that has been done to her. Other civilizations are eager to assist in this gargantuan task, but it is your planet home and you must take the lead." (9)

Finally, he states in 2007 that Earth changes will continue for a while longer:

"The record high and low temperatures, droughts and flooding that are part of Earth's transition to her original moderate climate globally will present hardships for a while longer.

"Gradually some sea level coastlines will become submerged; this need not present anxiety as there will be protective and compensatory measures for any inhabitants of those areas." (10)

Summarizing what we've found, our human practices, such as causing animals and each other harm, have created immense negativity which many of the Earth changes seen today are resolving.

In addition, the Sun is receiving Ascension energies which she's passing on to us; they're raising things for Gaia, just as they did for us.

We're involved in a cycle of climate change that sometimes involves extreme weather, wildfires, and volcanic eruptions. The galactics try to minimize their impact but they cannot stop them altogether because they relieve Gaia of her physical stress and facilitate her Ascension.

The climate change that we're seeing will result in the return of conditions that existed on the original Earth.

We'll live in a Fifth-Dimensional state of consciousness, apparently in a world moved to a new area of space and a higher vibratory level. That world will be what Werner Erhard called "a world that works for everyone."

We're not headed for Armageddon. We're headed for the Garden of Eden.

This late-breaking news: See Marc Marano, "New Gallup Poll: Americans do not even mention global warming as a problem – 36 ‘problems’ cited, but not climate," Climate Depot, July 21, 2018, at <https://www.climatedepot.com/2018/07/21/new-gallup-poll-americans-do-not-even-mention-global-warming-as-a-problem-36-problems-cited-but-not-climate/>

Maybe Matthew Ward will have his wish: "We devoutly wish that fear about global warming and its projected effects would subside." (11)

Global Warming and Other Earth Changes – Part 1/4

November 12, 2010

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2010/11/12/global-warming-and-other-earth-changes-part-1/>

I'm not a scientist and so I cannot give you a well-reasoned statement of current scientific theories on such matters as global warming. What I can say however is that what the galactics and celestials tell us stands in stark contrast to what our terrestrial scientists believe.

If we read the galactic and spirit teachers communicating to us through mediums, we hear none of the allegations that the planet is warming catastrophically, that species are disappearing in a global crisis for biodiversity, that the Sun threatens to upset the planet's electrical networks, or that the planet is headed for a disastrous pole shift.

None of these theories is validated by the galactics and spiritual hierarchy. What they tell us instead is that a Divine Plan is unfolding to return the Earth to its original pristine beauty in preparation for a global, in fact a universal, Ascension. All the effects we're observing are part of that Plan.

The Earth Ascending

Readers of this site will be familiar with the galactics' contention that the planet and all its inhabitants who so choose are destined to ascend to Fifth Density. Ag-Agria of Sirius, for instance, tells us that the Earth will ascend with us and be returned to her original beauty:

“The Earth has been your home for a long, long time and you have come to love it. Fortunately Mother Earth is ascending with you, and will again show her true beauty and magnificence as she returns to her pristine condition.” (1)

In fact, spirit teacher Matthew Ward tells us, Earth's desire to ascend was a major reason that brought the galactics here in the first place.

“Earth's desire to be the world she wants preceded yours. She asked for the assistance of other civilizations so she could leave the darkness of third density and their immediate and continuous help has assured her ascension into fifth density, where the low frequencies of darkness cannot exist.” (2)

“Earth's soul ... asked for help to restore the light she had used up to keep all her life forms alive to that point, and chose to ascend intact as one body and soul entity.” (3)

SaLuSa of Sirius confirms Matthew's allegation that the galactics came to help the Earth ascend: “Ascension is the goal and our arrival will speed up your upliftment, whilst at the same time dealing with the need to bring Mother Earth up with you, as you will ascend together.” (4)

Atmos of Sirius tells us that these changes are necessary to take us to the next level.

“Many changes ... will take you forward to another advanced level that comes with Ascension. There is also Mother Earth to be considered, as like you there are levels she needs to attain for her own evolutionary upliftment. You are ascending together and will experience changes together.” (5)

Ascended Master Kuthumi describes what the planet faces as she prepares to release negativity prior to Ascension.

“The circumstances on the Earth are shaky now. The Earth is in a lot of pain. She needs to release the painful memories of war. She wants to feel lighter to make way for the higher dimensions. Like you she cannot take the old destructive energies with her into the higher dimensions. She does not want to bring pain to her beloved children and she needs to be able to breathe again. She needs to feel free.” (6)

Steve Rother's “The Group” says the Earth's process of shedding negativity is no different than our own process. Both are designed to prepare us for upliftment.

"The Earth herself is adapting. If you look at your physical body as you re-wire and you consider what we are telling you is that much of your energetic system is now going to house much more of your spirit, the exact same thing is true of planet Earth. She is re-wiring as we speak and has been for some time in order to hold more of the energetics, in order to hold more of spirit from Home on planet Earth.

"If you were going to create heaven on Earth, you are going to need Earth's cooperation. That is what is happening. She is starting to evolve faster than you ever thought possible." (7)

Ascended Master Hilarion compares the Earth's adaptation process to birthing. Again they too describe the two Ascension processes as similar: “The Earth is ... continuing in her birthing process and her metamorphosis is proceeding in the same manner as for her inhabitants, with waves of movements and changes that are occurring on a consistent basis.” (8)

Atmos of Sirius tells us that out of this process of change, a new way of life will emerge for the New Humanity.

“The Earth is now closing this cycle and is also rising up with you, and before long you will move into even higher dimensions. ... Your world is clearly in a changing mode and the disruption to life will continue. However, out of it will emerge a totally new way of life more fitting for the new Man of Light that is emerging.” (9)

The Ascension changes are affecting not only the Earth but the Sun and the rest of the solar system as well, as Matthew explains. Whereas many people interpret the changes happening with the Sun as indicating a coming catastrophe, Matthew calls them natural.

“What is your sun doing? It is responding to the rapid changes going on throughout your solar system. If your astrophysicists were aware of Earth's ascension through the 'universal time window,' they would know that stepped-up solar activity is a natural effect and that Sol poses no danger to your planet.” (10)

SaLuSa reminds us that Ascension is happening throughout the universe. Our solar system is just a part of a much wider divine drama.

“The Light is growing exponentially and is creating changes of a solar nature that is affecting your whole system. It is a massive process involving many planets and millions of souls that extends throughout your Universe. It is carried out with great love at the Creator’s request, and cannot therefore fail in any circumstances.” (11)

Thus the happenings on Earth are not a prelude to disaster. The changes associated with the Sun will not swamp us and end life on the planet. All is unfolding as a result of the Divine Plan for Ascension which cannot and will not fail.

How can we interpret the profound changes that are taking place around the Earth at the present time in light of what we've just heard?

Global Warming and Other Earth Changes – Part 2/4

Earth Changes Are Part of the Ascension Process, Designed to Relieve the Planet of Negativity

Earth changes are a part of the Ascension process. SaLuSa explains that they are occurring to help the planet and its inhabitants cleanse the old and open to the higher energies being sent to Earth:

"As the changes are brought about they will open up opportunities to receive the higher energies. It will enable the cleansing of the old and allow the new to manifest." (1)

We wouldn't need such extensive Earth changes if not for the negativity that we've created through wars, genocide, persecution, etc. Atmos of Sirius tells us that "the negative energy that is around you and also runs deep within the earth must be removed to enable an increase in its vibration." (2)

Before we look at geological changes, let's look at the changes that will be happening to our solar system and the universe. The first thing we need to be aware of is, as SaLuSa says, the fact that "there is a grand plan being worked out, supported by great Beings of Light." (3) Atmos explains the extent of the Plan:

"The plan for your Ascension is contained within the many cycles that are part of the orderly function of the Universe. It is not a process confined to Earth or just your Solar System and is happening by divine decree." (4)

Archangel Michael tells us that the Plan extends to the entire universe: "It is a time of mass ascension, for all the planets, solar systems and galaxies within this universe are actively involved in an ascension process." (5) Matthew speculates that the changes may even be happening to other universes besides our own but he cannot confirm that.

"The changes taking place on Earth ... are not exclusive to your world or your solar system. Perhaps not even to this universe, but we don't know that. What we do know is that these changes are universal in scope. ... God's desire is to bring this universe completely within the light so the opposites are reconciled." (6)

SaLuSa tells us that some changes are related to the Sun's rise to a higher vibration, knowledge which our space authorities are withholding from us.

"You are so near to major changes upon Earth, whilst the Sun and your solar system continue to move into a higher vibration. That is already being noted, but again such information is not readily made public but held back. There has been a policy of secrecy for many years, none more so than the findings of NASA who have deliberately set out to keep you from knowing about our activities and us." (7)

Some people worry about geological changes like a pole shift, but Matthew tells us that it will not happen. However, in the course of his statement, he reveals that the planet is migrating in space to a new location, even if most scientists are unaware of it and others are using their knowledge to create fear.

"As for a pole shift in 2010—or any other of your calendar years—Earth's orbit has been changing gradually.... Your scientists do not understand that the planet has left the space from which they are accustomed to viewing the heavens, and they are puzzled about their observations of unfamiliar celestial activity. And please keep in mind that some information is skewed due to lack of universal knowledge and other information is intentionally distorted to create fear." (8)

The Earth Changes Proper

Spirit teacher Saul tells us that sometimes seemingly-alarming events may be needed to assist humanity to move into unitive consciousness.

"Enormous Earth changes are in progress which seem quite alarming. They are all necessary to ensure and enable the continuing viability of Earth as a life-supporting ecosystem. Release your sense of alarm or fear, because these changes encourage and support humanity's move into full consciousness, which is programmed to occur quite soon." (9)

SaLuSa also says that these changes are linked to Earth's own Ascension process and must occur soon.

"Mother Earth continues to rumble away, and is waiting to finish her own preparations for Ascension. It is therefore becoming important that she is allowed to complete it very soon. There are reasons related to your safety that are holding back any increase in the cleansing operation, which must be completed in readiness for Ascension." (10)

"Allow for some disturbances, as there is a lot more clearing up to do. These are all positive moves with Ascension in mind, and within the remaining period before it takes place momentous changes will occur.

"These are unavoidable, having regard to the extent of the damage done to you and your Earth over millennia of time. It is not just a matter of restoring what you had previously, but replacing and advancing it to new levels that will lift everything up. It is all calculated to hasten the rise in your levels of consciousness, necessary for you to ascend." (11)

The most dramatic changes are caused by the movement of the Earth's tectonic plates, the Master Hilarion tells us. He hints at the care being taken to see that the process does the least amount of harm.

"There is much turmoil within the tectonic plates and there will likely be more upheavals taking place on the surface. This is part of a chain reaction that is inter-related under the surface of the Planet. All of this is taking place with the least amount of destruction to Humanity that can possibly occur." (12)

Matthew reassures that we will not see a global catastrophe as a result of the Earth changes: "Absolutely Earth will NOT be destroyed! On the contrary, she is being restored to her former health, and along her ascension pathway, her Eden beauty will return." (13)

And Diane of Sirius adds her voice to reassure us.

"You certainly need to hold on to your vision of change for the better, and do not succumb to the beliefs that predict a finale of gloom and doom. Of course there are Earth changes yet to come, but they will be curtailed to ensure they result in as little damage and loss of life as possible. Likely events of any great threat to you are being monitored by us, and where necessary we shall give you due warning. However, we cannot truly work closely with you until First Contact has taken place." (14)

However Some Casualties Will Result

SaLuSa also tells us that Earth changes will not lead to global devastation but some souls will transition. He explains that choices exist if we need to be moved.

"Whilst there will still be incidents that cause damage and loss of life, it will not be allowed to engulf you. Cleansing is necessary anyway, but will be carried out in a planned manner that will take into consideration your well-being. Once we join forces you will be informed of the actions we are directing, and made aware of exactly what is to happen. Your safety will be paramount in our minds, and we have a number of options if it is necessary to move you." (13)

Everyone caught in the Earth changes is, according to SaLuSa, where they were intended to be.

“Naturally Earth changes will impinge themselves upon you depending on where you live. Be assured however, we are fully aware of the likely results and are always present to lessen damage to life and limb. However, Mother Earth like you has a cleansing to carry out, and it is inevitable that some of you will get caught up in it. You will be found where it is intended that you be for the end-times, and you will have known this before you incarnated.” (16)

“Naturally there are dangers simply by being on Earth, but understand that you are protected and guided so that you will rise above them. Only karmic reasons would result in you being pulled off course, and if it happens know that it is part of your life contract that you have already agreed upon.” (17)

Steve Rother's The Group tells us that many people who leave are of high vibration and some will be returning as crystal children.

“Watch the evolution as the Earth starts going through her own birthing cycles. It will become more intense; it will be more difficult. There will be times when huge portions of the population will leave. You have seen this in recent weeks, and you will see it again.

“It is not that anyone is doing anything right or wrong. It is not that those people who left were not of high enough vibration to stay here. In fact, many of them were of such high vibration they could not stay much longer and they simply took that opportunity for a way out. There will be a balancing on planet Earth of energetics in many different ways. All of those people who are leaving in order to make this happen are coming back as Crystal Children with some incredible attributes.” (18)

It probably is cold comfort to know that those who transition are well-received on the Astral Planes, but SaLuSa brings it to our attention and reminds us of the need to respond compassionately to the survivors.

“The cleansing of Earth moves on and inevitably there will be the passing of many souls as a result. They will be received in the higher dimensions with great love and understanding, and for their part it is something of a release from what is often a very poor standard of living.

“For those that remain in areas where the worst effects are felt, it is a cry to Humanity to find out whether they can find love and compassion for their own kind. Can you ignore their plight, or are you able to see in others yourself?

“It is not unusual that in the end times a civilization is tested to see how far they have traveled their spiritual paths. We see a great change for the better than even the early years following the Millennium, when your consciousness levels had already risen up.” (19)

However not everyone will experience negative effects from Earth changes, SaLuSa informs us. He reminds us that we must ask for assistance and that, if allowed, it will be forthcoming.

“Depending on where you live they may have little effect if any upon you, and in addition our presence will ensure that they are directed in such a way, to avoid maximum damage. Whatever happens around you, your visualization to introduce a harmonious and balancing energy will help to lessen the effect. Also bear in mind that outside help such as ours is more readily available when your prayers or supplications are received.” (20)

SaLuSa encourages us not to dwell on the changes and informs us that the galactics can help us more after First Contact.

“Be in mind of the changes and be prepared, but do not allow any sense of foreboding to fill your mind. Although there will be some that affect your day-to-day lives, remember that these will only be of a temporary nature.

“They are a means to an end inasmuch that to cleanse Mother Earth, requires wide-scale changes that will cause upheaval depending upon which area you live in.

“The changes have already started, and we are carrying out damage limitation exercises. Once we can openly work with you, preparations can be made in advance that will protect people from the outcome. Better still, we can quickly arrange for you to be transferred to another safe place.” (21)

Mira the Pleiadian assures us that it is never the Creator's intention that we suffer.

“The Creator does not want you to suffer. The Creator wants you to live in the Light of harmony and peace. This is one of the reasons that we are on standby. We work with many other star systems and councils to do the work of assisting in ushering in the new energies. We also help to stabilize the planet. We do what we can to smooth out the rough edges of profound change.” (22)

Thus some Earth changes are unavoidable and with them will come some loss of life. But the galactics are here to see that damage and loss of life are minimized wherever possible. Some people will not be affected by Earth changes at all. If any are and appeal to the galactics for help, wherever assistance is permitted, they will help.

Pollution Presents More of a Problem Than We Realize

I don't think we realize how polluted the Earth has become because of our conscious and unconscious practices. The galactics however are aware and have been helping us to restore the Earth for quite some time.

Cleaning up pollution is an integral part of the Ascension process, SaLuSa tells us.

“Your beautiful Earth is preparing to cleanse away the pollution and rubbish that Man has left as a legacy of his time upon it. It must come as the Solar System moves into the higher vibrations as part of the Ascension of the Universe.” (1)

Many of the Earth changes we see around us are designed to get the process started, he says: “Mother Earth still rumbles away, and is anxious to get her own evolution into full swing where the cleansing is concerned. Her destiny is the same as yours and it is therefore essential that you work together.” (2)

The situation is urgent, according to him. We do not realize the true extent of the problem.

“The extent of the problem [with Mother Earth] is far greater than you realise, and with the rapid decline that is taking place your Earth would have become totally poisoned. We mention these matters because it is important that you are aware of how urgent it is that we join you and immediately tackle such massive worldwide problems.” (3)

SaLuSa tells us that we who have polluted the planet must assume a leading role in cleaning it up:

“Remember, Dear Ones, that you are party to the cleansing of Earth, and it is your responsibility to do all you can to reverse the damage that has occurred over many years.” (4)

“As we have informed you previously, you are the Guardians of the Earth and it is now time that you accepted your responsibility. You have to help restore Mother Earth, and it is your recompense for all she has done for you. As you might say, you are all in it together and it is true that what you do to one, you do to all. The more you establish a loving relationship with Mother Earth, the more it will help lessen the need for dramatic changes.” (5)

“Mother Earth has been your home for a long time, and served you well, acquiescing to your demands upon her, providing you with all you have needed to survive. Yet at times she has been severely maltreated, and little consideration given to her needs. It is why she must now look to you to put right the damage that has been caused and the pollution that has poisoned the Earth.

“You cannot escape your responsibility in this connection but we are allowed to assist you and you already know it is part of our plans. It pleases us immensely that there are those amongst you who recognise the problems. Not only that. They have given their time and knowledge to find ways to make reparation and are motivated by their love for Mother Earth.

"These are the ones that are inspired by Higher Beings, and are intuitively guided to find the solutions. Often these are most advanced and similar to our technology, but the dark forces prevent them as far as possible from being used.” (6)

Ker-On of Venus also warns us of the extremity of the Earth's situation and tells us that the galactics will help us reverse it: "Your Earth is poisoned and dying but, with our help and your will, together we shall reverse the process and it will be returned to one of beauty and harmony. It must be so as this is one cycle where the end times will not result in mass death and destruction." (7)

The Galactics Will Help with the Clean-up

Matthew Ward also tells us that the galactics are hard at work restoring the planet:

“In alignment with [Earth's] goal [of Ascension], our 'space' brothers and sisters are using their technology to alleviate the toxic effects of the oil and its dispersants in the Gulf of Mexico as well as the toxins in other waters, chemtrails and weaponry.” (8)

SaLuSa tells us what the galactics are already doing.

“Respect for the Mother Earth must return, as there is much work to do to make good the damage caused to her. In this we will play a major role, as our technology will make short work of most problems. It will be the speed of recovery that will both please and astonish you.” (9)

"We are of course doing our part although you may not necessarily be aware of exactly what we are doing. Much of our work goes unannounced, and it will not take place openly with your knowledge until we are able to work in unison with each other. " (10)

Atmos goes so far as to say that the galactics will do the major work involved in cleaning it up: “Problems such as the pollution in your seas, in your soil and air can be largely left to us, as they present no problem.” (11)

SaLuSa describes what the galactics are already doing about the situation.

“We ... continue with our program to minimise the effects of pollution both on and off Earth. This is something we have been involved in ever since the first experiments with nuclear devices. A considerable amount of our time has been cleansing your atmosphere of radioactive fallouts, and in more recent times the chemtrails.

"We have always kept watch on Mother Earth and her human population, and where allowed have often limited the effects of earthquakes. As you should know by now we only go as far as the higher Councils authorise us, and we would not do anything that could be seen as interference. You have created your reality and it is not our place to prevent you experiencing the consequences." (12)

I want to draw particular attention to the galactics' work in cleaning up depleted uranium because without their help the planet may have been doomed. DU activists have said that DU poisoning could have led to "omnicide." (13) Suzy Ward, Matthew's mother, asked her son to comment on this most serious pollutant.

"Suzy: There are some questions about depleted uranium; basically all are about how this lethal radiation will affect future generations.

Matthew: "First I say that long-time readers of my messages and the books know my objection to the term 'depleted' that indicates short-term effects, and that more often I have used 'depleting,' which is what the uranium released through weaponry is doing.

"The toxicity is greater than can be totally neutralized by off-planet technology. However, the sickness and birth defects due to the radiation would be far greater without that technology's ameliorating effects. When your space brothers and sisters can work openly on the planet, all pollution, including radioactivity, will be eliminated." (14)

DU is only one form of nuclear waste that the galactics will help us to dispose of, SaLuSa says: "You have already deposited nuclear waste on your seabeds, and in deep holes or caves and it will have to be removed. Our technology will neutralise such dangerous materials." (15)

The galactics are also ready to clean up the Gulf of Mexico oil spill, SaLuSa tells us.

“The Gulf of Mexico oil leak is proving to be a monumental disaster, and is just one pressing problem that is environmentally threatening. ... Naturally [this problem is] high on our list of projects, to reverse the damage that has occurred.” (16)

"We are on our level ready to respond to that request, and are well equipped to clear up the mess quite quickly. First however we see the likelihood that BP will be given more time to rectify the situation. However, it must not take much longer as the environment is already badly affected. So let us see what the outcome is, and as we do we will be waiting in the wings for our call."

Alternative Technologies Will Make Pollution a Thing of the Past

SaLuSa foretells the coming of alternative technologies which will eliminate the need for polluting mines, factories, and so on.

"The introduction of alternative technologies will do away with the need for the continuation of such industries; so the quicker we can get started the sooner we can tackle the problems. Be assured that we shall have first put forward new ways of decreasing your dependence on the old forms of energy. The stands ready to speedily implement the new technologies, that will release your reliance upon them. ...

“Nothing that caused pollution or damage to the old Earth will continue to be used, and a new way of living will replace your existing needs.” (18)

Saul also paints a picture of the non-polluting technologies of the future.

“Electrical power in limitless abundance will provide all your power requirements – heating, lighting, air-conditioning, transportation, manufacturing, and waste management and containment.

“The source of this abundant electricity is ready and available. It can and will be connected to your power grids worldwide swiftly and easily at the moment of change. Information and guidance to assist in the changeover will be available everywhere as needed to ensure smoothness, compatibility, and continuity of service.

“The effects of this momentous change will be astounding: Old-style power plants will be shut down and the burning of oil and coal will cease, causing an instant reduction in airborne pollution. The main causes of toxic industrial waste – steel, aluminum, chemical, and plastic production – will be replaced by clean, environmentally friendly substitutes that are far more effective and efficient, and that can be produced locally where needed in much smaller plants.

“Planned obsolescence is finished. What is produced will be efficient, reliable, long-lasting, and attractive. Ugliness will no longer be an indication of economy and efficiency, and items that are ugly will no longer be produced, while ugly waste products will be eliminated by recycling and [being] returned to the earth.” (19)

The planned program to clean up the Earth is often called “terraforming.” It's provisions are far-reaching, Matthew Ward says.

“The wanton destruction of your environment through oil and gas extraction, mining, logging and their resultant pollution will cease and all types of toxins in the atmosphere, soil and water will be eliminated. Forests will be restored to the levels required for the balance of Nature, and the need is great as well to preserve and expand habitats where animals have been reduced to countable numbers, just as the oceans must be returned to health so marine life can flourish instead of disappear.

“There are plans to achieve those goals as well as keep pristine land areas free of concrete incursions [i.e., urban construction] and implement alternative power sources.” (20)

Already much agitation is building to clean up the mess we've made on the planet, SaLuSa says.

“Already powerful groups are urging that steps are taken, to counteract such disastrous industries as logging that are leading to de-forestation. The consequent result of such actions is being understood, and there must be a halt to them.

“It also applies in general, to activities that damage the Earth when her resources are removed. The extraction of oil and fossil fuels has led to the decimation of it, but worse is the resultant pollution where land is left permanently destroyed. Naturally these problems are high on our list of projects, to reverse the damage that has occurred.” (21)

Mathew Ward is also encouraged by growing ecological consciousness and activism. He lists some of the commendable actions he's observed, which he attributes in large measure to the intensifying Light being sent to Earth.

"These extend from individuals clearing away invasive plants thoughtlessly introduced to the detriment of native growth to laws requiring strip mining companies to resurrect the land they have raped, ore mining companies to detoxify water used in their operations, and logging companies to protect animal habitats. Many individuals are inspired to rescue and rehabilitate injured and orphaned wild animals, create wildlife surroundings for zoo animals, add animals to endangered lists, teach poachers on animal preserves other means to earn money, and neuter pets.

"The ever-intensifying light also is exposing the self-serving interests that have long-suppressed your developments in free energy sources and other technologies. Soon those will 'come to light,' and along with your space family's advanced technologies, they will be used to cleanse and purify soil, water and air; and transform your methods of transportation, medical care, food production, construction, manufacturing and communication. In short, life as you know it will change radically and marvelously when Earth is completely out of third density.” (22)

As he has on so many other occasions, SaLuSa reminds us of the effectiveness of the Law of Attraction. He tells us to envision the Earth restored to its pristine beauty because this will draw that condition to the planet and serve as an invitation to the galactics to help.

“No matter how little you can personally do to reduce the damage to Earth, you can keep your focus on how you would like to see it. By visualizing a clean and beautiful Earth, you are helping manifest it. Indeed there will come a point in the Ascension process when the new Earth will emerge, and be seen as it originally was when in its pristine condition.” (23)

What about the melting of the glaciers, disappearance of the habitats for certain animals, and other aspects of global warming? What are the galactics intending to do about that situation? What do they think about global warming?

Global Warming and Other Earth Changes – Part 4/4

November 15, 2010

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2010/11/15/global-warming-and-other-earth-changes-%e2%80%93-part-4/>

Global Warming is an Intentional Product of the Rising Energies

Many people are concerned about the phenomenon of global warming. But if we read the galactic and spirit teachers on the subject, we see that they are not concerned. According to them, global warming is part of the Ascension process. Matthew Ward explains.

“You who are familiar with these messages know that Earth's restoration to her original Eden self includes the polar and tropical temperature extremes giving way to what ultimately will be a moderate climate worldwide.

“This actuality also is unknown to your scientists, and to most of the rest of the populace too. (1)

“Climate change is of serious concern, so for newcomers to our messages we are happy to say again that this is Earth’s transition to a moderate climate globally. Record-breaking temperatures, increased solar flares, melting glaciers and polar regions, low islands slowly being submerged and strange new juxtapositions of planetary bodies are aspects of Earth's ascension process and the return to her original health and pristine beauty.” (2)

Matthew is not alone in expressing this point of view. Here is SaLuSa of Sirius also pointing to the same conclusion. Moreover, he says that global warming is happening throughout the solar system.

“Global warming is currently very much the topic of the day, and it is well that you try to understand how you can reduce the damage you are causing. However, what is not fully taken into consideration is that your Sun is changing, and is by far the main reason that the changes are taking place. In time they will settle down and you will have more temperate conditions throughout the world. The extremes of weather as you have always experienced, will no longer occur and life will become more pleasant and totally bearable.” (3)

“Your weather worldwide is changing and it is Mother Earth and your Sun adjusting to the new incoming energies. The outcome will eventually be a more temperate climate without the extremes that you are used to experiencing. This not only affects you but also all life forms that may disappear or move to new location where it is right for them. The fauna will also be affected and again the changes will encourage growth for some varieties, whilst others may no longer flourish as previously.

“The outcome of all the changes is to uplift all life upon your planet, and that which is of the lower vibrations will disappear completely. Anything less cannot advance unless it too is of the higher vibrations. What is happening on the Earth is occurring throughout the solar system, but on planets that were already working on a slightly higher dimension, the changes are less extensive.” (4)

As with other Earth changes, the galactics are operating here too to minimize the impacts on terrestrial life.

“Global warming is bringing rapid changes to your weather systems, but they will not be catastrophic. Naturally physical changes will occur on Earth and we are aware of what will take place and are allowed to direct them in ways that will minimise their effects. Be assured that in the end it will all prove to be in your interests, and the world will experience more stable temperatures and variations. It will eventually prove to be temperate and ideal regardless of where you are.” (5)

The Extinction of Some Animal Species is Unavoidable

SaluSa has been discussing these changes for a while now. Here he is in 2009 telling us that they will cause some animal species to become extinct. But these species will find new habitats on other planets.

“As with the Human Race, the animal kingdom will also change and a number of species will completely disappear. They will be mainly those who normally live in the more extreme conditions, and are unable to adapt to the new Earth. They are not lost for all time but will find another planet where they can continue their evolution. All life is immortal and there are no exceptions, and changes take place all of the time as indeed you are now beginning to experience.” (6)

Ela of Arcturus agrees with SaLuSa and says that the animals will continue to evolve elsewhere.

“History will show that some species of animals have disappeared such as your Dodo, and even more are in transition because of the changing vibrations. As with you, it is not the end but simply a continuation of experience in another cycle at a different level. All continues to proceed ever onwards as evolution never stands still.” (7)

Our diets will change, Matthew tells us. We will refrain from eating animal meat and turn to eating plants.

“As Earth continues ascending into higher vibrations, the sacredness and interconnectedness of ALL life will be understood and greater sensitivity to animals will result in most humans becoming vegetarians.” (8)

“Diets will change from meat and seafood to plants as people learn to respect and honor all animal life.” (9)

At the same time, food animals will sense what is happening and cease to breed, he explains.

“Animal numbers will shrink in the next few years as instinctively they will breed less often and produce fewer offspring. While most species will be able to adapt to environmental and climate changes as Earth is restored to her Eden self, when there were no temperature extremes and all lands were arable, species living in polar regions will not survive. Their souls will go to Nirvana and continue evolving, and in time they will incarnate in a world where conditions are suitable for their new bodies and life purposes.” (10)

“You will see changes in the animals’ ability to reproduce, with fewer and fewer food animals being born, and far more humane treatment of those who are.” (11)

“The herds of food animals will decrease through the cessation of breeding and natural transition, and, as plants become diet staples, any that were harmfully genetically engineered will shed those properties.” (12)

Raising Our Vibrations Reduces the Extent of Earth Changes Needed

We are, according to Atmos, reducing the extent of Earth changes needed by raising our conscious vibrations: “By raising your consciousness levels, you are lessening the likelihood of Mother Earth needing to make drastic changes to the land.” (13)

He tells us that the galactics will minimize the threat to us from the remaining changes.

“If there are dramatic cleansing activities needed you will not suffer in consequence. There are a number of options open to us to protect you, so you need not have any fear as to the outcome.” (14)

“Physical changes are inevitable, but with our help the threats to you can be minimised.” (15)

Matthew Ward tells us that the Law of Attraction will draw towards us what we fear as well as what we want and explains why that is so. In consequence he advises us not to live in fear of Earth changes.

“Every bit of energy given to forecasts of catastrophic damage adds to the possibility that it may occur. Energy is neutral and without reasoning capacity — it is your thoughts and feelings that attach themselves to energy streamers that give them direction and forcefulness. As the collective consciousness starts churning with fearful thoughts and feelings about such forecasts, the possibility of occurrence becomes a probability.

“Even though our universal family stands at the ready to intervene in situations where they are authorized to do so — reducing the harmful effects desired by your weather manipulators always is allowed — please be ever mindful that the impartial law of attraction is constantly operating and is powerful.” (16)

Progress Made by the Earth

The current planetary logos, Sanat Kumara, urges us to assist Mother Earth through her cleansing process in every way we can.

“You must continue all your efforts and intensify them, to assist your dear Earth as she releases the lower vibrations and the pain and suffering that she has so bravely allowed humanity to release into her very Being.

“Your beloved mother earth has taken on much for you, dear ones, and now you must assist her in releasing it, and you must not continue, as a mass consciousness, to fill her with the destructive frequencies of the lower third dimension. Your earth is most gracious and most accommodating in assisting those of you with the sincere desire to release that which no longer serves you, and all humanity and creation. She will lovingly take on the lower vibrations that you release, as you ask for her assistance. With great love she will support you and transmute these vibrations for you.” (17)

He reveals that Mother Earth has already entered Fourth Density and cannot continue to absorb Third-Density negativity.

“Your Mother Earth is well into fourth density and can no longer absorb the mass consciousness of third density. This is where you must assist her, as you send out the love light and the Violet Flame to transmute these lower densities so your earth does not have to take on this transmutation. This is the most great and joyous assistance you can provide to your earth at this time.

“You will assist your earth in moving through her transition with more ease and grace and you will assist her to be able to move through earth changes which are necessity for her passage into the higher realms. The earth changes have been predicted to have been of great devastation, yet through your continued dedication to assist your earth, you have averted the tragedy of the destruction of your planet and you have averted the tragedy of great unnecessary devastations.” (18)

Therefore the galactic and spirit teachers do not share our views on such matters as global warming and species extinction. Moreover, they do not share our neglectful ways and lack of concern on such matters as pollution. They tell us that the dark forces have kept much of their knowledge of what is happening on Earth and in the solar system from us and have tried to continue profiting from polluting the Earth and harming us by raining toxins down upon us.

But our space family is both curtailing the damage the dark do and taking away their power. When the galactics can come freely among us, they will quickly restore the Earth to its pristine original condition, cleaning up the oil spill, radioactive waste, and other pollutants and toxins and furnishing us with non-polluting, free technologies to see that we never go in want or damage the Earth again.

The Truth about Global Warming: A Planned Return to Eden – Part 1/2

November 20, 2015

Credit: livescience.com

The Illuminati are pushing the themes of global warming, adverse climate change, the rising of the world's oceans, extinction of species, and flooding of landmass. These themes hold very little truth for them.

Behind them is the Illuminati's real quest for world domination. The upcoming climate-change conference to be held in Paris, a city which is now in lockdown in preparation for that conference, is designed to start events which the cabal will assume control of and use to cement their grip on the world.

I'd like to set the record straight on climate change.

My sources are the channeled messages of terrestrials like Matthew Ward (St. Matthew), galactics like SaLuSa of Sirius, and archangels like Archangel Uriel. Believe them or not as you wish. I certainly do.

Matthew Ward called arguments about global warming “pointless.” He states the plan.

“Let us mention another area where ongoing arguments are pointless. ‘Global warming’ due to humankind’s willful neglect, ignorance and denial absolutely is real, to be sure, but the melting of polar ice, record-breaking temperature extremes and other weather anomalies are Earth’s steps toward returning to a moderate climate globally, the way it was when the entire planet was ‘the garden of Eden.’” (1)

That includes the melting of the polar icecaps, which others have said the galactics are watching and managing.

“You who are familiar with these messages know that Earth's restoration to her original Eden self includes the polar and tropical temperature extremes giving way to what ultimately will be a moderate climate worldwide.” (2)

"We devoutly wish," Matthew said as far back as 2005, "that fear about global warming and its projected effects would subside." (3)

In his latest discussion in October of 2015. he reassured us:

“Harsh effects of climate change will ease as Earth gets closer to attaining her once-moderate climate worldwide; if necessary, residents of sea-level island areas will be relocated in plenty of time to avert danger. ...

“Bees will return and eventually wildlife will rebound to sustainable numbers except for the few species in arctic climates that will not adapt to those areas’ rising temperatures.” (4)

"Sadly, some marine populations and animal species living in frigid temperatures will not survive, but most can adapt far more readily to rising ocean and land temperatures than they can live in polluted waters or in sonar testing areas or in cages, much less evade slaughter for pelts or tusks, 'scientific experiments,' or delicacies such as caviar and fins." (5)

The various weather effects that are happening now are not the result of weather warfare, he says, but of Gaia's need to cleanse herself.

“Unusual storms, record-breaking high and low temperatures, flooding, drought, wildfires, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions are cleansing Earth's interior, surface and atmosphere, and they are leading to a moderate climate globally.” (6)

As to the global warming issue, Matthew discussed it in 2010 before the Illuminati initiated its current round of hijacking the climate agenda. At that time, it was predominantly being used for the economic benefit of the elite.

"This controversial issue not only is an integral part of the stalled economic situation; it is a prime example of how duality still is affecting your world - the self-serving interests vs. the interests of the masses and of Earth herself.” (7)

He chastised scientists for looking for natural causes when manmade pollution played such a prominent role.

“Scientists who claim that climate change is a natural cyclical happening and not of humankind's making are ignoring the fact that never before has the planet been plagued with the manmade toxic pollution that exists today.” (8)

In the past, Matthew tells us, Gaia has had to rid herself of the negativity we've caused but no scientists know about or believe these facts.

"Indeed major climate changes have occurred before, when Earth had to rid herself of the negativity created by her human residents' behaviors, but none of your scientists on either side of the global warming fence knows about that cause and effect. The ones who are expressing alarm about melting glaciers and record-breaking temperatures are doing so from genuine concern for future generations, whereas those who pooh-pooh the need to curtail polluting are willingly abetting the self-serving ones who profit handsomely from the many processes that cause pollutants." (9)

There are many environmental dangers that will be addressed after the Disclosure of the presence of our galactic family. None of them are taken into consideration by our scientists, who see only global warming, Matthew explains.

“When you add to those sources the deliberate rain of toxins via chemtrails, the toxic waste in landfills, and unsafely stored radioactive materials, it is overwhelmingly clear that nothing in your world has escaped humankind's negligence, at the very least, and criminal contamination at worst.

“This actuality also is unknown to your scientists, and to most of the rest of the populace too; but even if every person on the planet did know what is transpiring, it would not negate the collective responsibility to stop desecrating Earth and repair the extensive damage that has been done to her.”

Moreover, when Disclosure occurs, which is represented as being not far into the future, environmental damage will be rectified, Matthew says:

“Other civilizations are eager to assist in this gargantuan task, but it is your planet home and you must take the lead.” (11)

“Added to your own technologies that are emerging from Illuminati suppression, your family will introduce advanced technologies that can remedy environmental damage so quickly that you will be astounded.” (12)

(To be concluded tomorrow.)

The Truth about Global Warming: A Planned Return to Eden – Part 2/2

November 21, 2015

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2015/11/21/the-truth-about-global-warming-a-planned-return-to-eden-part-22/>

SaLuSa from Sirius asks us to look back on the last fifty years (minus the weather warfare) if we want to see how the climate has changed.

"If ever you needed proof of the weather changes that are taking place, you only have to look back at the difference now to what it was just some 50 years ago." (11)

"The changes are dramatic and do not appear to follow any particular pattern and at times seem chaotic. Yet the changes are not random happenings, but leading to a more acceptable pattern and one that ensures that the extremes you usually experience no longer occur." (2)

He tells us that the galactics are monitoring weather conditions on Earth and plan on restoring Earth to pristine conditions once they are allowed to land:

“We shall continue with our monitoring of Earth’s activities, including those of Mother Earth who is also involved in the changes that are occurring. The upheavals are necessary to allow the greater changes that will result in a new Earth, cleansed of all the residues of centuries of neglect and the poisoning of the land and seas.

“It may look to be an almost impossible task, but with our advanced knowledge and unlimited resources it will not take very long to achieve. We are in fact already prepared to go ahead with Mother Earth and restore her to the pristine condition she was many Ages ago.

“These tasks could not be handled by you with the limited knowledge you have, but we will be on hand to assist you once the cleansing can commence.”

He reminds us that we are the guardians of the Earth.

"You are the Guardians of the Earth and it is now time that you accepted your responsibility. You have to help restore Mother Earth, and it is your recompense for all she has done for you. As you might say, you are all in it together and it is true that what you do to one, you do to all. The more you establish a loving relationship with Mother Earth, the more it will help lessen the need for dramatic changes." (4)

SaLuSa elaborates on the Earth changes will either be occurring now or soon. Those who leave are those who wish to be released:

"Naturally physical changes will occur on Earth and we are aware of what will take place, and are allowed to direct them in ways that will minimise their effects." (5)

“You are learning from a number of sources that you are about to enter a period of extensive changes, and it is already beginning to happen. If you currently live where major changes are due to occur be assured that provisions are being made to ensure your safety.

“There will of course be some loss of life but for the souls involved it will be a desired release from their present experiences. Remember that nothing happens by chance, and all major events in particular are planned with attention to the life plans of the souls involved.” (6)

Matthew tells us that people affected by rising sea levels will be moved elsewhere.

"Some low-lying coastal areas and islands will be affected, as I mentioned before along with stating that residents will have time to move to higher areas and be compensated for relocation." (7)

Archangel Uriel laid out the blueprint for Earth after the climates have been restored worldwide to temperateness. Please note that a uniformly temperate climate is what prevails on the Astral Planes, what we call the Fourth Dimension. (8)

“Temperate climates that enfold and embrace not only humanity but each of you personally, as well as every flower, every blade of grass, every pebble, every grain in sand, all of it is held in the balance and that is the balance not only of the elements, of earth and air and fire and water.

“It is the balance of what those elements as they came together - atomic, sub-atomic, fibers, molecules -what they were intended to be. They were intended to be the expression of love.” (9)

So just as we'll soon be stewards of the Mother's wealth, we're also the guardians of Mother Earth. We made the mess. Let's clean this place up. Backed by galactic resources, we'll do it quickly.

But much wider than that, all the climate changes happening now are intentional. The Plan is to return the Earth to its pristine condition and to create a globally-temperate climate.

There's no need for conferences in Paris. There's no need for the United Nations to do something or not do something. These are not the arenas in which the major actions are taking place, whether or not the elite thinks they are.

Our galactic family has the matter of the planet's future well mapped out. Our future is with them and not with the cabal.

Meanwhile, there is no adverse climatic change happening. Only a planet returning to Eden.

Climate Crisis or Climate Scam? – Part 1/3

May 21, 2024

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2024/05/21/climate-crisis-or-climate-scam-part-1-3/>

Auroras caused by recent solar flares

What's really happening to the global climate?

SaLuSa: Your beautiful Earth is preparing to cleanse away the pollution and rubbish that Man has left as a legacy of his time upon it. It must come as the Solar System moves into the higher vibrations as part of the Ascension of the Universe. (1)

Matthew Ward: Climate change is of serious concern, so, for newcomers to our messages, we are happy to say again that this is Earth's transition to a moderate climate globally.

Record-breaking temperatures, increased solar flares, melting glaciers and polar regions, low islands slowly being submerged and strange new juxtapositions of planetary bodies are aspects of Earth's ascension process and the return to her original health and pristine beauty. (2)

Matthew: You who are familiar with these messages know that Earth's restoration to her original Eden self includes the polar and tropical temperature extremes giving way to what ultimately will be a moderate climate worldwide.

This actuality also is unknown to your scientists, and to most of the rest of the populace too. (3)

SaLuSa: Global warming is currently very much the topic of the day, and it is well that you try to understand how you can reduce the damage you are causing. However, what is not fully taken into consideration is that your Sun is changing, and is by far the main reason that the changes are taking place. In time they will settle down and you will have more temperate conditions throughout the world. The extremes of weather as you have always experienced, will no longer occur and life will become more pleasant and totally bearable. (4)

SaLuSa: Your weather worldwide is changing and it is Mother Earth and your Sun adjusting to the new incoming energies. The outcome will eventually be a more temperate climate without the extremes that you are used to experiencing. This not only affects you but also all life forms that may disappear or move to new location where it is right for them. The fauna will also be affected and again the changes will encourage growth for some varieties, whilst others may no longer flourish as previously.

The outcome of all the changes is to uplift all life upon your planet, and that which is of the lower vibrations will disappear completely. Anything less cannot advance unless it too is of the higher vibrations. What is happening on the Earth is occurring throughout the solar system, but on planets that were already working on a slightly higher dimension, the changes are less extensive. (5)

What's the extent of the problem with Earth?

SaLuSa The extent of the problem [with Earth] is far greater than you realise, and, with the rapid decline that is taking place, your Earth would have become totally poisoned. We mention these matters because it is important that you are aware of how urgent it is that we join you and immediately tackle such massive worldwide problems. (6)

Atmos: The negative energy that is around you and also runs deep within the earth must be removed to enable an increase in its vibration. (7)

(To be continued in Part 2, tomorrow.)

Climate Crisis or Climate Scam? – Part 2/3

May 22, 2024

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2024/05/22/climate-crisis-or-climate-scam-part-2-3/>

Weather patterns or weather warfare?

What's already being done for the environment?

SaLuSa: We ... continue with our program to minimise the effects of pollution both on and off Earth. This is something we have been involved in ever since the first experiments with nuclear devices. A considerable amount of our time has been cleansing your atmosphere of radioactive fallouts, and in more recent times the chemtrails. ...

We have always kept watch on Mother Earth and her human population, and where allowed have often limited the effects of earthquakes. As you should know by now we only go as far as the higher councils authorise us, and we would not do anything that could be seen as interference. You have created your reality and it is not our place to prevent you experiencing the consequences. (1)

Atmos: Problems such as the pollution in your seas, in your soil and air can be largely left to us, as they present no problem. (2)

[But] remember, Dear Ones, that you are party to the cleansing of Earth, and it is your responsibility to do all you can to reverse the damage that has occurred over many years. (3)

Matthew: Even if every person on the planet did know what is transpiring [i.e., movement to a temperate climate worldwide], it would not negate the collective responsibility to stop desecrating Earth and repair the extensive damage that has been done to her. Other civilizations are eager to assist in this gargantuan task, but it is your planet home and you must take the lead. (4)

What should we be mindful of as these changes take place?

SaLuSa: Be in mind of the changes and be prepared, but do not allow any sense of foreboding to fill your mind. Although there will be some that affect your day-to-day lives, remember that these will only be of a temporary nature.

They are a means to an end inasmuch as to cleanse Mother Earth requires wide-scale changes that will cause upheaval depending upon which area you live in.

The changes have already started, and we are carrying out damage limitation exercises. Once we can openly work with you, preparations can be made in advance that will protect people from the outcome. Better still, we can quickly arrange for you to be transferred to another safe place. (5)

Matthew: Naturally Earth changes will impinge themselves upon you depending on where you live. Be assured however, we are fully aware of the likely results and are always present to lessen damage to life and limb.

However, Mother Earth like you has a cleansing to carry out, and it is inevitable that some of you will get caught up in it. You will be found where it is intended that you be for the end-times, and you will have known this before you incarnated. (6)

The record high and low temperatures, droughts and flooding that are part of Earth's transition to her original moderate climate globally will present hardships for a while longer.

Gradually some sea level coastlines will become submerged; this need not present anxiety as there will be protective and compensatory measures for any inhabitants of those areas. (7)

SaLuSa: Naturally there are dangers simply by being on Earth, but understand that you are protected and guided so that you will rise above them. Only karmic reasons would result in you being pulled off course, and if it happens know that it is part of your life contract that you have already agreed upon. (8)

Climate Crisis or Climate Scam? – Part 3/3

May 23, 2024

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2024/05/23/climate-crisis-or-climate-scam-part-3-3/>

Part of a plan for global annihilation?

Can you tell us more about the consequences of climate change?

Matthew Ward: What are commonly known as ‘global warming’ and ‘El Nino’ are part of Earth’s natural processes to return to her original moderate climate everywhere. While she is achieving this, glaciers will melt, the vast deserts will become arable, rain forests will flourish, and variations in temperatures will markedly decrease-ultimately, every place in your world will be comfortably habitable.

People now living in the coldest or the hottest climates will adapt, but it is unavoidable that the few animal species in the polar regions will disappear and some that live on the fringes will survive by migrating; the affected species instinctively will know not to reproduce or when to move. (1)

When will the negativity enveloping Earth be eliminated?

Matthew: She won't [become violence-free] next week or next month, but aided by light forces within, on, and beyond Earth, she is moving toward that space at a speed that is unique in this universe and all along the way, violence will lessen and so will storms, quakes and volcanic activity. ...

'New' negativity caused by ongoing violence is being released through a series of earthquakes in areas where there is little, if any, loss of life or land destruction, and the same with volcanic eruptions. More is being dispersed via torrential rainstorms in some areas and wildfires in others—water and fire are Nature's cleansing elements. (2)

Grace in Matthew: We're all set for the time when Earth has dumped all the negativity and we can act on her choice for a moderate climate everywhere. It won't take as long as you might think to turn deserts into vegetable gardens! (3)

I've heard of "suppressed technologies." What can you tell us about them?

Matthew: The ever-intensifying light is ... exposing the self-serving interests that have long-suppressed your developments in free energy sources and other technologies.

Soon those will 'come to light' and along with your space family's advanced technologies, they will be used to cleanse and purify soil, water and air; and transform your methods of transportation, medical care, food production, construction, manufacturing and communication. (4)

What can you say, by way of summary, about our future?

Mike Quinsey's Higher Self: Your weather is giving cause for concern but be assured that the outcome will be more settled and acceptable. Mother Earth is wiser than you may think and quite able to manage the changes required to give you a more moderate weather pattern without the extremes you are experiencing now.

It will take time and inconvenience many but it has to be carried out. In the end you will be pleased and well satisfied. It takes time to come out of the dark period and leave behind that which has no place in your future. There is so much being done to resettle you into a more acceptable life pattern and it will come in due course. (5)
