Introduction

My life had been pretty unusual before June 12, 2023, ever since “meeting” Archangel Michael on Feb. 8, 2011.

For the next ten years, we had a running conversation in which he offered me guidance on every aspect of my life.

And he explained that because I was doing readings, it was possible for us to have this kind of conversation and therefore to be consciously co-creative partners.

He explained that the archangels are in co-creative partnership with everyone, but most people are not conscious of it and so there isn't the scope for anything out of the ordinary.

And nothing about these times is ordinary.

Meanwhile, I'm nodding my head and saying, “Uh huh. Uh huh.” Not knowing what the heck he's talking about. But filing it away for a later date.

That later date arrived on June 12, 2023, when I had a gestalt, a “get,” a moment of deep understanding outside of words, of what it was Michael wanted from me.

The most understandable term going around these days is that he was calling forth my Higher Self. Psychologist Eric Berne might call this our Adult. I call it my Commander and Big Steve.

In every way, I occupied for a moment the being he was calling forth. And the impression never left me.

Now that I knew what it was Michael wanted from me, I was left in a quandary. While I had chosen my role before I was born, I hadn't really chosen it while an adult in this lifetime.

Knowing that left me wiggle room and meant that my promises would not be airtight. I therefore rechose what was already there: I rechose being Michael's co-creative partner.

Interestingly, almost from that moment on, my life picked up its pace. This quickened pace was similar to what happened on June 6, 2021, when something entered my body (we could never establish what it was) and I experienced a subsequent creative explosion.

This is like riding a galloping horse with a mind of its own.

It's been challenging for me to share details of my life that I'd prefer to have kept to myself. But they needed to be shared to make sense of what was happening.

Soon the mockingbird press will be gone, along with the tech giants and all the other apparatuses of the deep state. Then there won't be the need for prudence and caution. But we're not there yet, it seems.

Whatever the case, I'm happy to be the walking billboard for co-creative partnership. (I won't say "poster child.")

I don't know for how much longer this astonishing phase of things will last, before what I suspect is a getting-down-to-work phase.

For however long it does last, I'm enjoying what's being shown to me and deeply honored to be used in this way.

I hope you ask your favourite archangel to join with you in co-creative partnership as well.

Jump in! The water's warm.

Make Every Moment Sacred

June 10, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/10/make-every-moment-sacred/>

This article preceded my realization of my co-creative partnership with Michael, but was part of the process.

The Divine Mother incarnated as Mary the Mother of Jesus

I've been drawn to read the Mother's messages through Linda lately, (1) not for any reason that I'm aware of.

No one interrupted the broadcast and said, "Now a message from the Mother." I just felt drawn to it and everything else showed up like a distraction.

It's slow going reading the Mother because I'm taking every second or third paragraph out and putting it in a dictionary somewhere. So I'm usually all over the place and making slow progress.

However the increase in the fertility of my thought from just reading it is noteworthy.

I'm always on the lookout for the Compelling Thought - the thought that arises, encapsulates the truth, and brings the realization that will set me free?

I don't think the problem lies in the Mother not sending these thoughts. I think the problem lies in us ... OK, OK, me ... not having the courage, the interest, or the selflessness to catch them when they fly by and make them our own.

Here's an example. I think the following thought, which arose in my mind, couldn't have come from me (I'm not there yet): "Make every moment sacred."

I feel certain that would do it - and I'm not there yet. Of course, what would be the point of having the thought if I was there? These thoughts usually help me decide where to go next.

Even if I may not be there yet (and I hear Sitara saying, "Don't make that thought concrete"), I'm very much interested in putting one toe into the pond.

Make every moment sacred.... Hmmmm.... What does that look like?

Lao Tzu? Sosa? Buddha?

Jesus through John? FoL/Blossom? Arcturians/Marilyn?

It's not a question of capability. A little child is capable.

It's a question of willingness.

Several voices arise in response to the challenge, but let me continue with that tomorrow.

Hmmmm.....

The Challenge and the Response; or, Caught in the Trap of Awareness

June 11, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/11/345485/>

This article also played a role in the realization that followed.

Trumpets please!

Several voices arise in response to the challenge that the Compelling Thought ("Make every moment sacred") brings. (1)

The first voice to rise is lethargic, what Hindus call thamasic. I can't be bothered. Ahhhh, go away. Honey, what's on the other channel?

The second voice is curious.

Hmmmm.... One agrees or declines. No fault, no blame. Just not our stop (yet) on the overall adventure. But i n t e r e s t i n n n n g g g g g....

The third voice is inquisitive. We begin to enquire....

So, OK, let's see. Make every moment sacred. What is "sacred"? Never mind looking it up. What is "sacred" to you?

I can imagine the Mother walking beside me every moment and me not doing anything improper, disrespectful, unworthy, etc. That would make every moment sacred.

Well, she always walks "beside" each and every one of us anyways so it's really a matter of having the courage to recognize it rather than wanting it or not.

To be clear, whether we recognize that the Mother walks with each and every one of us or not, she does.

But recognizing that threatens all my investments and interests that are not of a sacred nature. This is cutting right to the quick.

However, even having the thought and not letting it fly by starts the process. Insidious. It eats away at you.

Watch me now wrestle with it. Well, this moment is sacred, but not that moment. Not while you're driving, romancing, charming the boss, etc. Around and around I go, dancing with the awareness of how I spend every moment.

I'm caught in the trap of awareness. Once we know, we cannot unknow. Awareness begins its work.

Co-Creative Partners with the Company of Heaven

June 12, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/12/co-creative-partners-with-the-company-of-heaven/>.

I've just had a paradigmatic breakthrough. (1) As you read this, perhaps remember the breakthrough process. Breakthrough is preceded by increasingly-uncomfortable and ever-building cognitive dissonance or inner conflict. Finally we have a moment when the dissonance becomes too great. We throw the paradigm down and look newly.

Often this can be during a spiritual experience, which allows us to see things from a higher vantage point, where answers are more obvious.

Sometimes it means taking a stand on ourselves and transcending the limitations we've imposed on ourselves.

And sometimes, as with me today, it means dropping resistance to an idea and assuming personal responsibility for the new role.

It was only yesterday that I joked about having a "Compelling Thought." (2)

Today I had one.

A thought Michael (3) first implanted in my mind in 2011 passed from a mere idea to a realization, a "get," a conscious awareness. Put another way, it passed from the intellectual to the realizational level. (4)

Well, what was "it" I got?

I got that I signed on before birth to consciously be one of Michael's co-creative partners on Earth at this time of Ascension in the area of communication (5) - and more recently finance - and that that entailed certain responsibilities and disciplines that I hadn't even considered till now, let alone explored. (6)

I got this on a personal and not a general level. Michael put the matter clearly:

Archangel Michael: Well, sweet angels, there is still a need for people, whether you are earth-keeper or portal, wayshower or starseed, there will always be need for people, individuals, and groups, who will step forward and say, I can do that. I can take the lead because this is within the realm of my competence.

I understand what is required. I am ready, willing, able, excited, interested, enthusiastic to do this. (7)

This exactly describes part of the process I went through to emerge "owning" my co-creative partnership with Michael.

I can do this. This is within my realm of competence, when you look back on all I've studied, experienced, and written. I'm ready, willing, able, and excited.

I experienced a moment of seeing clearly what I had agreed to and reaffirming my agreement from a very deep level. I "owned" the co-creative partnership. I'm no longer a victim of it (Oh, I have to do this; apparently I agreed to it), but a co-creator and owner of it (this is my mission. This is my work).

Michael explains that the Mighty Ones are in co-creative partnership with everyone, but can only work with those who are aware of them and their agreement:

Archangel Michael: Are we [archangels] in partnership with every being on the planet? Yes. But it is difficult when you are in a partnership and the other person does not realize it. So we are working with those who realize we are in partnership. And so that is why we are having these conversations. (8)

So there's the reason we're having these readings: Because we can work in partnership consciously, with the underlying hope that I'll write on "partnership" to encourage others. Which is precisely what I'm doing!

We're role modelling, me not overly consciously, but him by design.

And I'm not saying this gives me stature or brings me benefits. I'm saying it gives me added responsibilities. I love how he put the matter:

Archangel Michael: As you assume profile – whether it is because of money or notoriety or political power or financial power, it matters not – it gives you a sense of being elevated. We would encourage you to take the elevator to the basement. (9)

If that statement offends you, try it on. Test it out. See if it fits. If it does fit, own it. That's personal responsibility.

Thus, the whole matter became real for me today. I'm in the Army now, Ma, the Blue Army. Reporting for duty. I handed myself a commission.

I say this without necessarily feeling I have a good grasp of any of it. No recent recruit knows the ropes. Nor do I. I'm in boot camp on how to serve.

You heard Michael acknowledge that the same partnership is available to everyone on the planet. Jump aboard! Assert your co-creative partnership with your archangel now. I think I can safely say they're waiting for it.

I hear in my inner ear the emphasized word "partnership." In 2020, Michael predicted:

Archangel Michael: As things are shifting, as the, shall we call it, new awareness, heightened awareness, interdimensional reality - because that is truly what we are talking about - as this truly anchors, not only in the heart, but in the thought patterns, the behaviour patterns of human beings, the idea of working with an Archangel is in fact going to be commonplace.

This sense of division is going to actually quite quickly disappear. The idea of a punishing deity that you need to earn favour with, curry favour with will change into the true knowing of what has always been the case, which is partnership. (10)

Thus, joining "stewardship" as a paradigm of post-Reval humanitarian philanthropy is "partnership" as a new paradigm for our work with the Company of Heaven.

DM: It does not matter whether somebody says they are channeling Hilarion or Mickey Mouse. You know that you are serving my beloved Michael and I would like to suggest to you, Sweet One, not to distract you, but you are also serving me. (DM, Oct. 26, 2018.)

Archangel Michael: Ours is a co-creative partnership. (AAM, Aug. 2, 2017.)

AAM: You have reached a point in your heart, in your being, in your life, in your consciousness where you are realizing ... the magnitude of our partnership. (Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, Aug. 17, 2018.)

AAM: Beloved brother, our platform, our conjoint mission as teachers, as channels, as authors, as co-creators of Peace on Earth, of Nova Being and Nova

Earth, do not think, do not feel (no, I do not control anything about you, nor would I ever wish to) but do not think or feel for one moment that there is any hiatus or departure from the purpose, the method, and the methodology of this platform. (AAM, Nov. 11, 2015.)

(6) Chief of which the Arcturians through Sue Lie made me aware of: That of mastering every thought and feeling.

Arcturians: You will be called upon to master EVERY thought and feeling. ...

Hence any thoughts or feelings that cause inner conflict or any form are best pulled into your consciousness mind to be displayed as an experience. In fact, in 5D this will occur with your EVERY thought/emotion.

Hence our [incarnated] leaders are having to totally hone this mastery of energy NOW. (Arcturians through Suzanne Lie, Nov. 8, 2013.)

What Was in the Envelope - Part 1/2

June 15, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/15/what-was-in-the-envelope-part-1-2/>

For your eyes only

Ok, I'm now beginning to connect a few dots.

The event that happened to me a few days ago, where I suddenly realized my role with Michael, what I'm to do here, etc., (1) is, I'm willing to wager, what Blossom's Federation of Light has described as receiving our envelope:

Federation of Light: These Envelopes are entrusted to your soul's keeping.

Inside each one, are instructions. We have used the word 'orders' in the past, yet, we would say that no one is ordering you to do anything. It is your choice to comply as and when the time comes.

These instructions are for the individual ... to be carried out in order to assist The Whole at the time of opening. (2)

On that day, I received mine.

It's going to take me a bit to unwind the process here and some background will be needed as we go. I apologize for the length. But, as we're all angels, (3) I imagine much of it will prove relevant.

The intel gurus continued to predict the Reval as having happened, being here today, tomorrow, etc. I was again trimming the sails and battening down the hatches, preparing for that life-changing event.

In particular what I was doing was gathering together everything I could on what Michael says here:

Archangel Michael: You have known that the time would come when we would ask you to work very much on a very global level. (4)

Uhhhhh, no real experience of it in earlier life. I wasn't aware that I'd "work very much on a very global level" until a year earlier when I "met" Michael for the first time.

And here is where the victimization arises. When we're first told we have a mission, the manipulative ideas begin to surface:

Q: Did I have a choice in the matter?

A: Pre-birth.

Q: Excuse me?

A: You have a soul contract.

Uhhh.... No experience of choice here then. Aha. Some rebellion. All kinds of wiggle room.

And whenever over the intervening years I wanted to wiggle I could.

But it was coming to showtime. I needed to get crystal clear on what I was entering into and stop fiddling around.

I gathered everything I could get my hands on, not on the work, not on what he wanted from GAoG, but specifically on what he wanted from me.

And here I have to stop and mention something I've been meaning to in any case. Sooner or later I need to say it.

You have to understand that there is only so much I can tell you in certain areas.

To be too revealing and honest about certain subjects during a time when the mockingbird press and their fraudulent fact-checkers reign is to invite ridicule.

We're programmed to act towards ridicule by feeling heavy, deflated. It slows us down.

I don't think I'd be able to "stand up" under the barrage of criticism and skepticism if I was too transparent now. My writing would become puerile.

There'll come a time when we all can be more open about sensitive matters, but this is not yet that time. With that proviso, may I continue?

(Concluded in Part 2, below.)

(5) Now I have a faint idea how St. Francis must have felt after he had the vision of the Divine Mother at the tag end of a progression of revellers in Assisi. Completely stopped in his tracks; elevated; and off on a new life-direction. My direction. is not new, but I'm seeing it newly.

What Was in the Envelope - Part 2/2

June 15, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/15/what-was-in-the-envelope-part-2-2/>

(Concluded from Part 1, above.)

I began to piece the puzzle together. Oh, this is why he says this. And this is why he says that.

Over and over he told me and I did not get it. I was not ready for it.

On sacred partnership:

Archangel Michael: Our partnership is sacred. (1)

AAM: Understand, we are in sacred partnership, you and I, and we have been quite literally for eons and eons. (2)

On co-creative partnership:

AAM: Ours is a co-creative partnership. (3)

AAM: You have travelled with me, throughout the multiverse, and you have stood by my side, as we have gone to situations, dimensions, universes, where there had need to be or desire to be the energetic shift. (4)

What does that look like for a writer?

AAM: Know that I am right next to you. Sometimes I am typing.
Sometimes I am moving your pen. Always I am whispering in your ear. (5)

That's what sacred partnership with an archangel looks like to an embodied partner.

I've often talked about us all being an Ascension team. That we went to "where there had need to be or desire to be the energetic shift" is the clearest indication I've seen yet that such a thing as an Ascension team probably exists.

If we look at this in terms of the process of paradigmatic breakthrough, the old paradigm was that I had a job to do for the Company of Heaven and I didn't really choose it.... There was no real experience of choice or ownership. Instead there was ample room for victimization and manipulation.

This paradigm was no longer working for me. I needed to grow up and re-choose. As I became aware of the issue, I cast the old paradigm down.

The time was ripe, I imagine, and my Board of Directors on the other side pulled the switch.

The new paradigm arose almost immediately after I broke from my attachment to the old.

I got, not as an idea, not as something I had not chosen, not as something I could manipulate to my advantage, but as something I chose back then - and rechoose now - that I was one of Archangel Michael's co-creative partners in the area of communication(s) on this Earthly plane. (6) I'm sure there are more, but I got it as it applied to me.

What happened is best described in my article written in the midst of the experience:

"I experienced a moment of seeing clearly what I had agreed to and reaffirming my pre-birth agreement from a very deep level. I 'owned' the co-creative partnership. I'm no longer a victim of it (Oh, I have to do this; apparently I agreed to do that), but a co-creator and owner of it (This is my mission. This is my work)." (7)

Realization affords me the opportunity to see what's going on from a higher vantage point - and rechoose. Now I'm at choice again and I "own" my role in upcoming events. (8)

Here the area was communication(s). I don't need to go through this same process, I don't think, in regards to future work in humanitarian philanthropy or with the galactics. Once done will be enough, I hope.

If not, next time I'll shorten up the process and just rechoose, now that I know what's missing.

I'm undoubtedly one among many co-creative partners of the archangels. I don't seek anything as a result of it. If anything, I just want to get to work.

At the moment of realization, I accepted "leadership" and the restrictions it placed on a person. I shut the door on wiggle room.

Another way of saying that is that I entered into the context of world leadership and realized that that context may be one, after the Reval, that I live from from that moment on. As Michael said, I won't be able to escape working on very much a global level.

I'm prepared to have how things work out on this roll of the dice be what my life is about: World leadership, co-creative partnership, creating many more co-creative partners (not with me! With the Company of Heaven!).

Is it an exclusive club? Of course not. But since you asked, there's one factor that apparently weighs with the celestials:

Archangel Michael: Are we [archangels] in partnership with every being on the planet? Yes. But it is difficult when you are in a partnership and the other person does not realize it. So we are working with those who realize we are in partnership. And so that is why we are having these conversations. (9)

Michael said he would make the process simple for anyone who wanted to join in:

Steve Beckow: Right. It's easy to see how I can be in this partnership, Lord, given that I and the others on InLight Radio do a radio show but it may not be as easy for other people who don't do radio shows and things like that to know how they can be in partnership.

Archangel Michael: I will make it very simple. Choose your favorite archangel. I hope you choose me. (Both laughing) It is a good thing that we are allowed to tease and play with each other.

I would not be chastised for such a statement because we see it as a joke and that is one of the things we want you to do with us and more as well. Play with us. Joke with us. Treat us as your allies, as your best friends. Every day, simply say to me, Michael, from your heart, always from your heart, "Michael, what would you wish me to do today?"

SB: Oh, I love that direction!

AAM: It is that simple. (10)

And fun too!

I have at least germinated if not blossomed. (Pun intended.)

Creating, with the archangels, a network of co-creating partners on both sides of the dimensional curtain: That's what was in the envelope.

Practicing the Presence of ... Michael

June 16, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/16/practicing-the-presence-of-michael/>

Nearest image likeness to the Michael I've seen (1)

I need to write stream of consciousness because the thoughts are coming so fast.

I'm living all day now from the context "co-creative partner with Archangel [Fill in the blank]."

It's easier to do this when one has access to years of readings and radio shows. After the Reval, I'll get the readings up, as far as I can without harming or offending anyone.

Between the literature and a poke in the ribs, I can actually allow him to guide my every public step.

Not every private step. I make my own choices there, as he'd wish me to.

I wanted first off to ask you not to write me asking me how to become a co-creative partner. I have nothing to do with it, except to share my noticeings as one who has chosen, himself (i.e., self-chosen), to be an earthly co-creative partner with my "wingman" - more like my Commander-in-Chief - Archangel Michael. (2)

But notice that Michael has said that he's already in partnership with everyone; most people just have not woken up to it. So there's no need to worry:

Archangel Michael: Are we in partnership with every being on the planet? Yes. But it is difficult when you are in a partnership and the other person does not realize it. So we are working with those who realize we are in partnership. And so that is why we are having these conversations. (3)

Not everyone will have access to a medium to get instructions from an archangel, which is why I'm sharing as much of my own instructions as I can.

Michael says that human beings as a whole need to awaken to their co-creation with the celestials:

AAM: Human beings need to come to the understanding that they are co-creators with us, that we are in a sacred partnership. We have said so many times that we do not do necessarily in the way that you may have previously conceived of doing for humanity. We do with you. We co-create with you. (4)

While I don't have readings with him at the moment, Michael and I did work out signals, which we use.

You know how you feel when you've made the right decision? Well, deciding to stop being only half-committed is, in my view, the right decision.

It's as they say: It doesn't matter how big the hole in the tire is. If there's a hole, the air will leak out.

So if there is hesitancy in the commitment - the sign of a divided mind - then the credibility and strength will leak out of the thought, word, or action. I think Gandhi and I know Goethe knew this. (5)

I look and that's one thing I see: I'm no longer of a divided mind.

And I don't think this is something that applies only to becoming committed about the particular role in question (co-creative partnership with your archangel). It could be being a musician or building a starship landing pad.

If there isn't full commitment to it, we can't reach this state of clarity, strength, peace.

Full commitment leads to a state of inner peace. Unless it's full commitment to harm. It has to be full commitment to something consistent with the divine qualities.

The new paradigms of behavior will be based on the divine qualities, the Divine Mother explains:

Divine Mother: What is the new foundation upon which Nova Earth is built?

It is the 13 Blessings and Virtues [the divine qualities] that we gifted you so long ago. This is the core of everything you will value and bring forth in the new reality. This is the foundation of what you create and co-create with us. (6)

A millennia ago, the prevailing view would have been that we'd be lucky, in our pursuit of enlightenment, if we perfected a single divine quality. Now we talk about perfecting them all.

I remember Michael mentioning the subject in 2019 and I was again startled to see a classical enlightenment theory headed for the repair shop:

Archangel Michael: Human beings, particularly those in the higher vibrations, [are] learning to hold all the divine qualities and to be operating from all the divine qualities at once. (7)

Until he said it, such a thing remained outside the realm of possibilities for me. Now I accept it as attainable.

Talking about being consistent with all the divine qualities shows how the denseness is lifting and a more refined vibration is becoming dominant.

OK, turn off the tap! I need to eat. I need to shower. Yes, Lord, I know you'll be with me the whole time. You'll catch me if I slip on soap. You'll enjoy my porridge with cashews, berries ... and maple syrup. I'm practicing the Presence of ... Michael. (8)

Footnotes

(1) I've seen Michael on two occasions, as you know: Once standing outside my apartment with no apparent reason for being there and a second time onboard ship, in a lucid dream. The second time I asked him if he was Michael and he confirmed.

The closest match I've seen in images to the likeness he presented to me is at the top of this article. The nearest living person's likeness would be Keanu Reeves with a ponytail (yes, Michael had a ponytail both times), like this, the shadow being his ponytail:

I should add that I felt he was appearing both times in the likeness of a dear younger friend, Mark Orich, who was murdered visiting Orange County, CA.,

years earlier. The effect was at first startling to me and then reassuring, as if he knew of my grief.

(2) Archangel Michael: Your role is as my right hand in human form [in the area of communication], as I am your right hand in archangelic form. We are a team. (AAM, July 8, 2015.)

“Concerning all acts of initiative (and creation), there is one elementary truth, the ignorance of which kills countless ideas and splendid plans: that the moment one definitely commits oneself, then Providence moves too.

“All sorts of things occur to help one that would not otherwise have occurred. A whole stream of events issues from the decision, raising in one’s favour all manner of unforeseen incidents and meetings and material assistance which no man would have dreamed would come his way.

“I have learned a deep respect for one of Goethe’s couplets:

“Whatever you can do, or dream you can, begin it! Boldness has genius, magic, and power in it.” (W.H. Murray, The Scottish Himalayan Expedition, and Johann Wolfgang von Goethe.)

If we're entering a new region of space, which is interdimensional, it then becomes possible to consider all the divine qualities, each of which I believe are associated with the various dimensions.

Discretion Reigns

June 18, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/18/discretion-reigns/>

Steve: How do I guarantee that corruption won't set in [in the Michaelangelo Fund]?

AAM: First of all, (laughing) who do you think you are working with, dear heart? (1)

Who indeed!

So here I am, presented with the wonderful opportunity to co-create with Archangel Michael:

AAM: We are a team. We are allies and we are brothers and the truth of this comes forward more clearly for you every day. (2)

Yes, it does become clearer - in what's revealed to me, as this aspect of my own mission was revealed to me lately. (3) But also in the amount of bliss and peace I feel as a result.

It's an opportunity open to everyone but not easily accessible or affordable.

In the future, Michael says that this whole area will open up:

Archangel Michael: As things are shifting, as the, shall we call it, new awareness, heightened awareness, interdimensional reality - because that is truly what we are talking about - as this truly anchors, not only in the heart, but in the thought patterns, the behaviour patterns of human beings, the idea of working with an Archangel is in fact going to be commonplace. (4)

On the one hand, it makes the value clearer of recording my own partnership as much as I can.

On the other hand, it suggests the advisability of watching what I say or how much I say, as I mentioned earlier, until the mockingbird press is gone from the scene. The meme war can be brutal.

I know. I'll write a new book, including some articles that have been posted and some that will not have been. I'll publish it as soon as a free press returns.

Michael has said GAOG is flying under the radar for now (5) but that later, after Disclosure of our star family's presence, we can expect controversy. Even then he doesn't want me to get involved. (6)

Let me relate one last noticing. Michael once said:

Steve: What are the intentions of this construction project called building Nova Earth?

Archangel Michael: The intention is exactly what you have expressed in your book. Now, did you really write it or did I?

S: I don't know. [laughing]

AAM: [laughing] I am teasing you, my brother. It is a world that works for everyone. (7)

I'm aware that my work in the area under discussion will predominantly be to get out of the way! And I'm honored to be used in this way, if I am. I already know that all mistakes will be mine. (8)

For the rest and speaking for myself only, while later it becomes possible to talk about a path, I see no path looking forward. From this vantage point, the path looks like, to quote est Trainer Dennis Percy, the trailing edge of my leading foot.

That thought sends me into bliss.

The Coming of Age of Humanity – Part 1/2

June 19, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/19/the-coming-of-age-of-humanity-part-1-2/>

Following the revelation that had me "get" as a holistic experience what creative partnership with Michael meant, I'm a little off-balance while at the same time having another creative spurt.

This creative explosion is similar to what happened after something - I know not what - merged with me on June 7, 2021. (1)

One thought has been occupying my mind all today. That's imagining what it would be like to channel Michael.

The thought thrills me.

That means that, after the Reval, when I face a big decision, I could ask him, immediately, about my decision. He's said he would tell me when to speak and what to say, not leave me without aid, and always be by my side. Does that not imply that we could be in direct communication?

I have a cosmic NDA (non-disclosure agreement) on some areas, which I acknowledge and honor. (2) But I feel OK talking about this aspect of things.

Whether I like it or not, the delivery of my envelope has shaken my life up big time.

As the Federation said: You'll know what to do. Everything to be known will be communicated. That fits my experience entirely.

But can you imagine if it results in me being able to get and transcribe answers from Michael on wide-roaming questions? I resonate with that so much it has to be in the cards.

OMG, I'd never stop asking. I'd never sleep.

Cross-cultural spirituality, the angelic kingdom (from which all of us come), multidimensionality, the heart, a vision, and the present moment as portals to the higher dimensions. What happens when we go back and reunite with Father/Mother One? What are the dimensions said to be in the Transcendental? On and on.

Previously I had little interest in channeling, but my interest has now grown. (3) Ok, exploded!

In getting excited about such an idea, I see the truth of what the Company of Heaven says about "just build Nova Earth and the recalcitrants will see what fun you're having and join you."

I completely forget about the cabal when I think of some of the exciting projects we could run on Nova Earth in this area.

Leaving me out of the picture, here are some that I've wanted to do since 2007. I'd like to empower and employ panels of mediums to answer questions from medical personnel, physicists, technologists, etc. Tesla could tell us what he really had in mind. Can you imagine asking Socrates a question? Gosh, I'd like to ask

Akhenaton if he was talking about the inner or the outer sun - the Atman or Sol. I say, the inner sun. (4)

I'd also like to see other panels of mediums exploring life in the higher dimensions as described by mentors on the other side. I'm still looking for a new map of heaven, described by those who really do know, people like Matthew Ward who designed the afterlife planetary dimensions associated with Gaia/Earth as well as much of our Ascension plan. (5)

Something merged with me on June 7, 2021. In the next four months, I compiled something like six books.

I now feel a similar surge of energy and am working on several projects at once again. I have four articles in progress at the same time. And I'm writing a book. This is unusually active for me.

The Coming of Age of Humanity – Part 2/2

June 19, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/19/the-coming-of-age-of-humanity-part-2-2/>

(Concluded from Part 1, above.)

Archangel Michael: You have reached a point in your heart, in your being, in your life, in your consciousness where you are realizing ... the magnitude of our partnership. (1)

I did. I am. I'm sobered.

I'm beginning to glimpse the magnitude of it all. There's nothing small or boring about what we're involved in and the Company of Heaven, as I now see, are waiting for us to own it.

To take personal responsibility for the shape the world is in now and be responsible for fixing the planet. That's what's being asked of us. And to have fun doing it. (2)

You certainly have my attention now. This is exciting.

We'll recognize our instructions at a soul level when we receive them, just as the Federation of Light said. (3) That certainly describes my situation.

I get that the same opportunity for co-creative partnership awaits everyone who wants and asks for it. (I'm not jealous or possessive!)

If other people don't follow on and make that connection with their celestial partner, a major component of what Michael and I are doing will fail. Michael has already encouraged people to ask him. (4) They want us to work with them. It's the coming of age of humanity.

This is not designed to be a once-only phenomenon. As Michael said:

Archangel Michael: As things are shifting, as the, shall we call it, new awareness, heightened awareness, interdimensional reality - because that is truly what we are talking about - as this truly anchors, not only in the heart, but in the thought patterns, the behaviour patterns of human beings, the idea of working with an Archangel is in fact going to be commonplace. (5)

Good. What an incredible privilege and opportunity for everyone who takes the invitation up. I can surely vouch for that.

He says that they no longer do for us, except when we're headed for a fall (or ingesting a toxic substance or burning the building down!). Now they want to work with us.

Archangel Michael: Human beings need to come to the understanding that they are co-creators with us, that we are in a sacred partnership. We have said so many times that we do not do necessarily in the way that you may have previously conceived of doing for humanity. We do with you. We co-create with you. (6)

I can't sit still thinking about it. I'm reminded of what the Mother says:

Divine Mother: Does [the thought of your project] bring joy to your heart? Does it ignite that wonderful smile in your tummy? Does it make your feet tap, wanting to get going? Does it feel like love? Does it feel that you could take this project, whatever it is, and show it to me in full confidence and pride that this is something that you are offering yourself, each other, and the multiverse, the omniverse? (7)

Yes, Mother. I'm jumpy, can't sit still, and jubilant. Let the show begin!

(2) Archangel Michael: If you are not taking time for joy, for laughter, for love, then you are not completing your mission. (AMM, May 21, 2015.)

(3) Federation of Light: When the appropriate time for them to be opened is upon you ... you shall know ... quite clearly.

The instructions within each 'Envelope', metaphorically speaking ... will be downloaded unto you ... and your BEING shall be quite clear regarding that which it is meant to do.

Each individual's instructions were designed in a manner that will enable them to carry out these 'wishes' with a certainty of Soul KNOWINGNESS.

For it was the Soul's agreement to do so before they came to Earth. ("The Federation of Light through Blossom Goodchild, Oct. 2, 2022" at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2022/10/01/the-federation-of-light-through-blossom-goodchild-oct-2-2022/>.)

(4) Steve Beckow: It's easy to see how I can be in this partnership, Lord, given that I and the others on InLight Radio do a radio show but it may not be as easy for other people who don't do radio shows and things like that to know how they can be in partnership.

Archangel Michael: I will make it very simple. Choose your favorite archangel. I hope you choose me. (Both laughing) It is a good thing that we are allowed to tease and play with each other.

I would not be chastised for such a statement because we see it as a joke and that is one of the things we want you to do with us and more as well. Play with us. Joke with us. Treat us as your allies, as your best friends. Every day, simply say to me, Michael, from your heart, always from your heart, "Michael, what would you wish me to do today?"

SB: Oh, I love that direction!

AAM: It is that simple. (“Remembering Who is Here and What We Know – Part 4/4,” March 28, 2023, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/?p=343660> .)

(5) On another occasion he said:

Archangel Michael: This is a very big change in the very nature of how we have worked with humanity.

S: I thought it was because humanity was growing up, not that it was general throughout the universe.

AAM: It is because humanity is growing up. And you've grown up enough to be able to work as co-partners with us. (AAM, Oct. 29, 2014.)

(6) Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Kathleen Mary Willis and Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, after West Coast Express, Oct. 29, 2014.

(7) She continues:

Divine Mother: Now, if it does not give you that feeling, then set it aside. Go on to the next idea. Because the inspiration that you are being flooded with — and I mean each and every one of you; you are not in a lull, you are overwhelmed with ideas. So go to the next one, and say, all right, is this the one that makes my heart sing? And it may be a multitude of steps.

Do what feels like unbridled joy. That is how you create Nova Earth. That is how you say, as a human, as a creator race, this is how I work with the elementals, with the kingdoms, with the devas, with the planet, with my guides, with my star brothers and sisters, with the Company of Heaven. (“The Divine Mother Blesses Nova Earth Day, Feb. 14, 2013,” at <http://goldenageofgaia.com/building-nova-earth-toward-a-world-that-works-for-everyone/nova-earth-day/the-divine-mother-blesses-nova-earth-day-feb-14-2013/>.)

Staying Peaceful, Truthful, and Loving Amid This Apparent Looming Crisis

July 20, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/07/20/staying-peaceful-truthful-and-loving-amid-this-apparent-looming-crisis/>

At a time like this, an act of peace is a revolutionary act.

"Impending Global War: The Movie" as a Wake-up Call

I watch military history partly because I'm drawn to and admire acts of courage.

Like so many of us in this generation, I had a traumatic childhood and finding my way back has involved finding my own courage.

However I'm not blind to the horror of war and its universal harm and damage.

There's nothing pretty or inviting about it. It's grim and dismal. One's mission is to kill other people. That isn't something I ever want to do.

Thus using the threat of it to wake the planet up has a certain logic to it. Bringing the military powers of the world to the point of confrontation? Yep. That'd wake us up. (1)

Mass formation psychosis - to foment rioting crowds - is a near relative of war. Civil war.

Whip a crowd into a frenzy, whether because of hatred or military necessity, and - if you can control it, as the alphabet agencies are adept at - you have a potent weapon at your disposal, made to look like an angry "We the People." (Think January 6.)

This kind of "We the People" has no relationship to the planet of love that the real "We the People" are building.

Clarion Call

I'm not used to being the one to blow the horn or bang on the anvil. Michael called me on that in 2016 and I since have surrendered:

Archangel Michael: There is this reticence.... You are reticent to be the clarion call.

Steve: Yes, that's true.

AAM: Let it go. (2)

OK. I have. In the alterations I'm going through, having realized what's expected of me recently, (3) I'm no longer reticent to be the clarion call.

I see where we're headed - probably toward a mock planetary near-death experience. So just to be clear: not an individual NDE or even such an experience as a nation, as I thought previously, but a worldwide NDE - something that never occurred to me until now.

What else would get global agreement to end the reign of the cabal?

If I'm correct, I think that it would cause almost-universal fear and that lightworkers remaining out of fear would be more important than ever.

This is not a clarion call to mount our horses and ride out. This is a clarion call to increase our peacefulness and loving kindness.

This is a clarion call to stay aware of the theatrical nature of what's occurring and remain out of fear.

Our part in it should include allowing the white hats to do their perilous work, which The Sound of Freedom illustrated.

In my opinion, it isn't the impact that we have on external matters that's most important. It's the impact on (A) the collective consciousness and (B) the galactics and celestials, freeing them, by the Law of Free Will, to come to our aid. (4)

Tactics and Strategies Won't Work Now

The cabal - the Illuminati, deep state - appears to have penetrated every area of life - medical, educational, religious, political, military. If we want them to leave, we can't do it by using their tactics and strategies.

They have machine guns that fire faster than our eyes can track, drones that deliver significant payloads, sound weapons that immobilize, etc. All they need is provocation and, if we won't provide it, they'll make sure that someone else does, with agents provocateurs.

We have to use our own ... not tactics or strategies but heart-felt expressions. I think they must include peacefulness, truthfulness, and love. Not love for. Not love of. Just love.

Draw the love up from your heart and send it out to the world. That's enough. Just be the love.

To my mind and heart, we need mass meditations, prayers, invocations, affirmations, praying that the world may pass through the mounting crisis with the least possible harm and damage to everyone and the greatest possible liberating effect on the whole world.

We need to rally the world to peace, not war. In doing this, we defeat the efforts of the cabal, without risking life or limb.

I won't be organizing it. My mission lies in putting out the vision. Someone needs to. How about you?

Footnotes

(1) It's an example of the white hats using problem/reaction/solution, usually a cabal strategy. World war is the problem; the world reacts with horror; the white hats back down and impose martial law to "keep the peace" at home. Only this time it's to protect the people, not control them.

¹⁶And [Elisha] answered, Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them.

¹⁷And Elisha prayed, and said, Lord, I pray thee, open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha. (2 Kings 6: 16-17.)

Ego Falls Silent

July 23, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/07/23/ego-falls-silent/>

No Mad Hatter here. In the room over there, maybe

Remember the Peter Principle? We tend to promote competent people to the level of their incompetence? (1)

For example, I'm a competent writer. If you therefore promoted me to President of the Writer's Guild, where the skills are social, I'd be a flop. You'd have promoted me to the level of my incompetence.

Michael knows that and frees me from all administrative duties!

Archangel Michael: [Writing] is first and foremost — and you are doing a wondrous job. The least priority is involving yourself in administrative minutiae. It is not who you are. It is not why you are here. It is not even what you are good at.

Steve: [laugh] That's true!

AAM: So you make the effort out of the kindness of your heart, but on the list of things to do, let [writing] always be the last thing that falls off. (2)

They hired a guy who likes writing - what a surprise! They didn't hire a Mad Hatter to clink glasses. I am so relieved!

How great to have a boss (A) who can read your mind and (B) who wants you to do what you want to do anyways!

But that's the way it is co-partnering with an archangel, which is just as open to you as it is to me. (Word from our sponsor.)

When was the last miracle Michael enacted in my life? Is it putting out fires? Is it how Paypal transfers, which are supposed to take 3-4 business days, with me are usually in my bank account the same day? Is it money appearing from nowhere at the exact time when I need it?

I just heard I myself say, I may as well turn my life over to Michael and the pre-arranged signal we have went off.

I'm walking around my new mental office, looking at the view, describing the layout. In the background, I've doubled the size of the private book I have on co-creative partnership and am now studying it intensively.

You remember what Michael said about blurting things out:

Archangel Michael: When you are in a different position, you will not share so much personal detail because, dearest heart, we have guaranteed that you are protected. Well, sometimes being protected means that you keep quiet.

Steve: Yes, yes, yes, I have to do my part. And it's going to be a challenge, Lord, because sometimes I just want to blurt it out.

AAM: I know.

Steve: What can we do?

AAM: I will muffle you.

Steve: Okay, good! That's what I need. (3)

I'm banking on it.

That means that, in this position, I won't be able to be as transparent as I have been. I'm not fighting that. I know how the deep state works, as do you, and know the need for discernment and prudence.

I feel able to expand, where I didn't feel that way before. Something is no longer playing and I feel much stronger free of it. I'm tempted to say "ego."

If ego were in charge, it would happily say "Yes!" loving all attention, no matter. But all is silent. Yes, something has happened to ego in the recent past, since I realized what co-creative partnership really meant. (4)

There has been a drawing closer of my partner and I, or perhaps ... and this word comes to mind; I've never used it before ... an "infilling." Thank you. That's a very apt word. It describes how I feel - filled from within.

In everyday matters, I'm going to imagine my co-creative partner as being in the next cubicle. My favorite cubemate story is Don, who threw a banana peel over the divider of the Personnel Dept. where we were working and said, drily, "Steve, Peter Rabbit English." I'm imagining I have a new cubemate, who is throwing rose petals over the divider and reminding me, "Steve, send out love."

I feel more loving. My anger seems to be draining away, as well. I like what this experiment is producing.

Reminiscence Interrupted – Part 2/2

1975: Portrait of the artist as a young dog

It isn't often that I enter into a spiritual experience in the middle of an article. In this one I settled into an expanded sense of myself with the same ease with which one might settle into a warm bath. Not a major event, but quite startling.

Since my sudden flash of recognition of what Archangel Michael wanted from me - by way of co-creative partnership, which he extends to all, not just me (1) - I've felt myself continually expand. Day by day.

I've taken strong and firm stands on some things I've tolerated for ... decades. I'm having insights into my own and other's behavior which I've never had before.

[Spiritual experience starts here.] [Italics are mine.]

It's a little like I'm a balloon and I'm being inflated little by little from the inside out. [I'm actually describing the experience.] Every day I feel more of me present. That's as close as I can come to describing the experience.

I feel myself expanding as I look deeper into what is happening in this moment.

Observing it, I see that, in the process, I'm healing from all the "should's" and "do's" and "don't's" I've grown up under. Part of what I'm emerging from - and it's happening as we speak - is the dampening effect of these strictures.

And with that, I feel predominant elements of my everyday feeling state becoming visible. [End of notes.]

I see that I have an always, already-present element of despair in my overall feeling state. It's always there as an undertone.

Having named it, I switch into experiencing it (rather than resisting it). I'm in the upset clearing process now. (2)

Long ago I accepted this feeling as the place I could not escape from (and would never escape from) as long as I remained around my Dad. The number of times he spoiled an occasion with his temper brought me to the point of despair. And, the twig having been bent, here I am, the tree.

Now I remember that his boyhood was also searing. I bore the brunt of it all my younger years in classic intergenerational transfer.

And my takeaway was despair. It just became a built-in feature of my emotional state and voice in what Werner Erhard called "the background of obviousness." I don't know what life would be like without it.

I experience it further. I breathe into it.

As each memory arises and is seen and felt, I feel a bit more release. The truth is setting me free.

I remember being kicked under the table and saying to myself that I just cannot trust that man; I need to keep my distance from him and be on guard at all times.

I remember being yelled at for pulling up a carrot, one of the earliest memories I have. I remember being yelled at for coming downstairs as a young child while he was in his workshop. I remember being yelled at for making a mistake with the lawn mower. One was always at risk.

Feeling despair, I next feel heavy, lethargic. This is the guna or cosmic force of thamas and it "rests" on me like a smothering blanket. All initiatives die when this feeling state sets in. Everything goes to hell in a handbasket.

This is not going to be re-experienced and released in the space of an article. I'm going to need to "be with it" until it decides to go, again another benefit of being a hermit.

I realize I'm gonna have to drain my own swamp here and I ask for divine assistance. I invoke the universal law of elimination and the Divine Mother and ask that everything connected to this feeling of despair be removed from me and the energy recycled and reused elsewhere.

Later

My history with my Dad lifted when I saw a benefit to all the petty violence he put me through. He awakened the warrior in me and for that I thank him. Seeing that some good has come of it gives me something to hold on to. After all the years I've processed "Life with Father," I must be ready to let it go.

Co-Creative Partnership and the Longing for Liberation

August 14, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/08/14/co-creative-partnership-and-the-longing-for-liberation/>

The ideas are coming to me too fast to research and amplify. Either I'll have to post notes or lose the ideas.

Co-Creative Partnership

Archangel Michael: So what I'm asking you, it is a different form of our partnership and our channeling. So it is to relax into it and allow the words to simply, almost, fly onto the screen rather than struggling with the words. So allow it to come. (1)

Given that he said this back in 2012, it's interesting that I just had an experience (2023) of slipping into an expanded sense of myself while in the middle of writing an article. (2)

Nevertheless, it's still scary for me to let go to that extent. But if it increases the amount I get out of the way and let Michael speak through me, I'm all for it.

Again, I say this every time: I'm describing this co-creative partnership from my end so that others will be encouraged to seek the same partnership. Michael explains:

Archangel Michael: Are we [archangels] in partnership with every being on the planet? Yes. But it is difficult when you are in a partnership and the other person does not realize it. So we are working with those who realize we are in partnership. And so that is why we are having these conversations. (3)

That is the reason we're having these conversations: So that others can have a look and say, "Well, let me try that on."

The Longing for Liberation

I've usually, if not always, talked about the push to progress as a "longing for liberation." (4)

Now here's the Divine Mother putting an altogether-different spin on this impulse to evolve:

Divine Mother: Sweet angel, in this time of such upheaval and transition and, yes, pandemic, what could one ask for that is more pure and clear and sweet than feeling better! (5)

And the 9D Arcturian Council amplifies the comment:

9D Arcturian Council: We are always in the pursuit of the highest vibrational state of being that we have ever known. It is an all-encompassing pursuit that helps us to be better at serving all of you, but it is also a selfish pursuit. We want to feel as good as we can feel and move as close to Source as we can possibly be, and we do it for the joy of the experience, as well as the challenge of reaching for new heights. (6)

What better way could one feel than love-bliss-ecstasy? I suppose that, if one concentrated simply on feeling better and better and better, one would ultimately be led to these states. And that would be a pathway that everyone can understand.

Whatever way things work out, the longing for liberation will push us on, lifetime after lifetime, until we return Home.

... And then we go back out again. (7)

The Flow of Creating and Other Subjects

August 16, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/08/16/the-flow-of-creating-and-other-subjects/>

Again, the ideas are coming so fast to me that I have no time for researching them. I gather them together here.

Creating as Flowing

All I know of the higher dimensions is that they're all characterized by the ubiquitous flow of love in one of its forms. Michael discusses being in that flow, especially in creating:

Archangel Michael: You have been engaged in understanding this co-creative process....

You have this expression of “being in the flow.”

But in truth you (and when I say “you” I mean the human collective but particularly at the head of that parade are the lightworkers) and so you are learning more about the joy, the pleasure, the ease, the grace of being in the flow.

And being in the flow is about creation and co-creation. (1)

Leaving co-creation aside for the moment, I've been exercising my own creative flow for the last few months, taking interestingly shaped bottles and decorating them with Dollar-Store glitter glue, nail polish, and acrylic paint. The photograph above shows three of them.

Why I mention it is that I treasure the feeling of love that arises when I'm "creating." It arises in "whooshes" when I let my guard down and just flow/create. Painting is all about flow: The flowing of the paint onto the canvas. Every stroke is a whoosh of love.

I think everyone should have an art form they participate in, just to experience the whoosh of creating, the flow of love.

This is how Michael appeared to me in a lucid dream, without the wings. He was only half a body.

Time to Apply Experiences

I was re-reading Michael's instructions to me yesterday and I came across a passage where he said something like you've had more and more expanded experiences of yourself and now it's time to apply them. A year ago I would not have been ready to make the transition from busy writer to CEO, but I am now.

So it's a perfect time for me to be stepping aside and allowing Michael increased use of whatever he wishes to make use of. I'll need his help as a CEO.

And thank heavens I have time to make the transition. If the Reval had happened yesterday, there'd be no more time to fine tune the instrument, so to speak.

In future, I'll probably have less and less time for research, despite the fact that I have well-organized databases to assist me. More and more it'll be in the flow of life; once the Reval hits, totally so.

Agents of Change Griping about Change

Archangel Michael: It is ironic, is it not? You are amongst — and I do not just mean you, Stephen — I do mean this little circle; you are the group that are worrying the most and yet effecting the biggest change.

And then you say, “Should I trust in the change? Should I count on the change?” when you are in fact the agents [of it].

Steve: Right. And after all our griping, watch us in the end say, “We did it!” [laughs]

AAM: Yes. You will want full credit. (1)

Well, isn't that the way it is?

But of course 95% of the credit goes to Michael.

Since I realized some of what was expected of me in being one of Michael's many co-creative partners, (2) I've been growing exponentially.

Today for the first time, when I cut a corner and broke a rule doing so, I felt a twinge of guilt. Actually it's still there a few hours later.

I so welcome this. The return of conscience. Isn't that what "conscience" is? Our guides saying, "Uh, no, not that."

I imagine he'll begin to use the twinges of conscience to guide me now. That's what I'd do. I feel reassured thinking that guidance will be this close and intimate.

Confidence is Making the Difference

August 21, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/08/21/confidence-is-making-the-difference/>

Factoring out a deep state that wants to exterminate us all on one front, if not with toxic vaccines, then with directed-energy weapons, when we take stock of ourselves on a second front, what do we have to build Nova Earth with?

Well, we have ourselves who, I grant, haven't been trained in communication, relationship, parenting, etc., but are now taking up the task of building that new world regardless.

How will we do it?

First off, remembering that we're all angels (1) and this isn't the first time the Mother has built a world or initiated a new species of human, (2) we call in our army of help.

We listen to our guidance.

Michael says the guidance is there. Let me use my own case as an example:

Archangel Michael: Now [the Mother] did not beckon or tap you on the shoulder and ask you to step out of line so you could do so alone. You are flanked, my beloved friend, by me, by your star brethren, and by many. So the guidance is there. (3)

Same applies to you. I'm not unique. Rather you can see me as a recruiter for co-creative partners with the celestials. (Don't call me. They'll call you.)

Fortunately, Michael says I've followed the guidance and listen to his description of the impact:

AAM: You have followed the guidance as it has come and you in many ways have become indivisible from your work and of course that is a gift and it has been a gift to us as well. It has been a gift to the planet and to those who hover, above and below. And it has been a gift to the Source [Mother] and to the [Mother/Father] One. (4)

That's how much the work we do on Planet Earth matters. I still don't think we fully appreciate how revolutionary this coming Ascension is - in the multiverse.

What can we do while waiting for our star mentors to appear?

We can look around for what is working. Because the Mother is busily spreading new ideas and we should see these arising. Three-D printers, energy enhancement systems, free-energy devices ... the trickle should become a healthy flow in time.

I once wondered how simultaneous inventions showed up on different continents - anthropologists call this "geographical diffusion." The Mother explains:

Divine Mother: There are, guaranteed, many, a multitude of beings upon the planet who, give or take a little, have been given the same inspiration. (5)

Is this how the bow and arrow travelled the world? The use of horses? Today's wonder devices?

In terms of our vision, concept, philosophy, we can bring the elements of that new world that we're intent on creating, forth from ourselves by going back to the beginnings of things and re-examining first principles in light of what we know now. We can re-conceive, re-engineer, and re-build - in concept first - what until now has been unworkable and make it workable.

Here, you're watching an archangel work with his earthly co-creative partner. You're in the same position as me. When the time arrives, just as Michael called me to that first reading, I believe your archangel will call you.

But we don't have to wait.

What is missing for many of us - I say, from my own experience - is confidence. I say this after feeling my own confidence grow substantially, subsequent to realizing and rechoosing my co-creative partnership with Michael. (6) The more confident I feel, the readier I am to take on the numerous commitments he asks of me.

I have to emphasize: Confidence is what's making the difference. A higher degree of it has turned looking upon what is being asked of me into something I can contemplate with calmness and openness and not something in the face of which I shiver in fear. Confidence, I'll bet I'll discover, is another divine state.

Heavens, the flow never stops. I'll stop here.

SaLuSa: You do not exist by some freak of nature, and are not the result of natural selection, but purposefully and lovingly created to exist in your environment. You are a special species of Humans that have taken over from Cro-Magnon Man, and have been genetically engineered to allow for a speeding up in your evolution. (SaLuSa, Aug. 25, 2010.)

Divine Mother: Do you think, feel, know it is inappropriate of me to birth a new species of humans? ... Because that is exactly what I am doing. (Divine Mother in Linda Dillon, Thirteenth Octave Intensive Class, Oct. 24, 2020.)

Ivo of Vega: Yes. This is an extinction event. On planet Earth, only certain types of DNA will evolve or ascend. Other types of DNA will not. Homo Sapiens is slated for extinction. Me and My Higher Self

August 30, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/08/30/me-and-my-higher-self/>

Credit: dreamstime.com

I lost my shoulder bag yesterday and was despondent and disappointed. So long as I was emotionally down, I wasn't available to my mission.

I was despondent because I had once again lost something with mission relevance: My driver's license was in it; that had me worry about identity theft. At the same time I kept hearing Michael say, we won't let your mission fail....

I was disappointed because, when I processed the vasana, I saw that that was how Dad would meet my losing something. He'd be disappointed and that would give him the right to do ... anything he wanted, really. Only Mom acted as conscience.

And I did something I've done before but not in a thorough-going manner. Having been dissociated for fifty years, I now put that experience to good use.

I imagined two "me's": One my Higher Self, whom I've often called Big Steve or the Commander, and another my normal self, whom I've often called Little Steve.

I imagined my Higher Self putting his arm around me, breathing up love, and sending it to me. It revived me and I went on my way, restored to Self.

I spent the next few days observing how to remain close to my Higher Self. More and more I'm staying in Big Steve. (1)

Love is what Little Steve didn't have from his Father (lots from his Mother), growing up. But loving myself in this tangible way meets the need exactly.

I call this reparenting. There are no more parents to do the job and I'm not a kid any more anyways.

This reappearance of Big Steve is another change since June 12, when I realized my co-creative partnership with Michael. (2) These changes have been happening one after another. Overall it feels like emergence. (3)

Footnotes

(1) I have a particular war hero, whom I won't name for fear of awakening old wounds. I've often wondered how he was the way he was. I now think it's because, in the course of his trying experiences, he contacted and then merged with his Higher Self.

Arriving in Life

September 2, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/09/02/arriving-in-life/>

Philosopher's Walk, Kyoto

I find, generally and overall, that my pace is slowing down a mite. I feel more philosophical, more meditative.

I've dropped many bad habits and negative thoughts. Just dropped them, with nothing to replace them. And by doing so I've created space.

And in that space I'm feeling more philosophical. In-drawn. Walking very slowly. And feeling very happy doing so, like it's my preferred speed.

I said that, since June 12 and my awakening to what co-creative partnership meant, (1) seemingly every day some new thing happens. My confidence returns; I feel my Higher Self nearer to me than before; I feel gentle, for perhaps the first time in memory; I'm being cooperative - me, Mr. Stick in the Mud, allowing others to go first, helping out, on and on the changes go.

If I were to watch a movie of my life, I think I'd hardly recognize myself a year from now for the changes that are happening now.

I know where they're heading. CEO, pipeline, pillar, star family, UN. And, even a year ago, I would have said "I'm not ready." But I do feel ready now.

As an aside, this morning, I realized that what Archangel Gabrielle called "our divine authority" is exactly the realization I had on June 12, that had me be ready for co-creative partnership. (2)

The Self is my divine authority.

I was at that moment (June 12) looking at re-choosing co-creative partnership as a result of realizing what it was, who it was that Archangel Michael was looking for: Someone who could and would follow the discipline of speaking from her or his divine authority, Self, or Higher Self. (3) (Or remain silent.)

I even know what feeling ready means. I have two examples (heroes, you might call them) of readiness, determination, and courage that inspire me and help me find it in myself. (4) I also have the example of my brother and sister-in-law whose generosity so touched me years ago. And my earthly Mother.

But all of these are only to give me the courage to step out. I already know I'm pure and innocent as of Sept. 18, 2018 and Xenia. (5) I already know what I'll find and what to expect when I choose to emerge. Whenever that is.

So it isn't that I'm in ignorance. It's more a fear of leaving the herd, fear of humiliation, fear of being ostracized. Been there; done that a few times.

Emerge or "arrive," as we'd have said at Cold Mountain. I haven't arrived in this life yet. I'm still a prisoner of many negative feelings. Not here the way that my heroes were here. ... And, like it or not, we are at war.

As we include everyone and exclude no one from the benefits of the upcoming abundance and consciousness shift, we build a universal outlook, founded in love, that will gradually restore decency and harmony to the planet. The Mother has promised it. (6)

We won't need to achieve "universal love." The love we're headed for is already universal. We just need to send it out to the world. Love knows where to go.

We'll exist in an environment in which no one is left out and nothing more desirable exists than the love we're already experiencing.

If we're immersed in that tsunami of love, we too will be "universal," with "unitive consciousness." I'll bet the farm on that.

What Do We Share as Humanity? (The Answer May Surprise You)

September 16, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/09/16/what-do-we-share-as-humanity-the-answer-may-surprise-you/>

I was discussing adding another meaning to the term "world leader" (1) and the question arose for me: What do we share as humanity?

And my guides inspired in me the thought: It's not so much that we share a nod or a wink or a smile as that we share the divine qualities.

YES! Why didn't I think of that?

We share joy. We share peace. We share love. And we share a desire for these states of being.

I've been burning my brain out trying to see what I could be talking about that we all share. Behavior? Ideas? Feelings? Objects?

I was thinking anthropologically: Let's discover behavior that we do together. Let's discover cultural universals.

And I was getting nowhere and feeling dismayed by the task.

But there was never any need. All of us, if we looked, would probably know that what we already always share is a love for the divine states. And we share the divine states themselves. These are spiritual universals.

I'll bet that all of us share a love for love. All of us seek it, ask for it from others, give it to others. Our music, our movies are about getting it and losing it.

I offer everyone's appreciation of and for love as an example of something I consider universal.

Then I realized that I've been talking about spiritual universals for the past ten years, without realizing it.

So what does seeing this do to me, for me?

First off, I'm laughing at myself. I spent years laboring over the question what does a writer, writing universally, write about? Smiles and laughter? Nods and winks?

The answer lay not only in front of my nose, but it lay in what I'd been writing about anyways!

I now feel empowered and enabled to speak about higher-dimensional love from the standpoint of knowing that I'm speaking to the whole world. This is a shift in perspective for me.

(Isn't growth fun? We just keep pushing our edge.)

That transition in consciousness from a "local" writer to a "global" writer was not difficult, in the end. (2) It was just a "get." And a willingness to occupy and own the thing gotten.

I acknowledge and own the space of a writer writing globally on subjects that are spiritually universal. That looks so obvious, seeing it on paper. But it took tremendous labor to reach this point!

Archangel Michael: You have known that the time would come when we would ask you to work very much on a very global level. And this is the beginning of that undertaking. Eureka! The Divine Qualities as Spiritual Universals

September 18, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/09/18/eureka-the-divine-qualities-as-spiritual-universals/>

Thank you, Archimedes!

Now that I can stop laboring over the question of what we as a species share in common, I can wrap up a file that's been open since ... well, I can trace it back to 1976. (1)

It isn't that the search for a "cultural universal" that could assist us to gather together and communicate with each other is not a very worthwhile activity.

It's just not what I - as a hermit writer, rather than a sociable, interactive agent of global action - am looking for. Readers and writers don't wink and nod and smile across the distance. At least not until Skype and Zoom.

Or as a lightworker assisting with Ascension. Ascension is an inside job. What I'm looking for is beyond culture. I'm looking for spiritual universals. God is a Spirit and one should look for her in spirit.

And the spiritual universals I was looking for were always right there in front of me. I'd been exploring them since, I guess, Cold Mountain Institute in 1976 introduced me to meditation and psychic phenomena.

It's the spiritual universal of our love for the divine qualities that I'm looking for.

I'm not looking for a cultural universal like a nod or a smile or a wink. I'm looking for a spiritual universal.

I'm looking for something common to every sentient being. I offer that the spiritual universal I'm looking for is (A) our love for the divine qualities and (B) the divine qualities themselves.

Shankara called our love for the divine qualities "the longing for liberation." (2) It's a subtidal thirst that can only be quenched by God. It's a homing device that keeps us moving home to God.

OMG. My vision was all about this. Did I not tell you that these things just keep on unpacking?

My 1987 vision showed an individual Child of God, born of the Father, raised by the Mother in her school of experience, and returning Home again.

It's the longing for liberation that keeps that small golden star of my vision moving from God to God.

Now I can't leave the subject without encapsulating that vision because what it showed me dovetails with what I'm saying here.

Why all this drama in the vision for every sentient being? The action or drama is so that, in a moment of our enlightenment, God meets God.

Longtime readers can almost hear me say what comes next: And for that meeting, for that moment of God's own Self-Realization, so to speak, all of this, seen and unseen, was created.

As we progress nearer and nearer to Home, what unites us is our experience. We liberate ourselves from all the overburden (upsets, issues, resentments, withholds) of all our incarnations, revealing more and more of who we are as we do. (I can hardly keep up with the dictation here. Slow down, Guiding Light. Phew!).

And what we experience more and more of, deeper and deeper as we get closer and closer to Home is the divine qualities.

If I can interrupt you for a sec, Guiding Light. It's all here. This was a missing piece for me. The role of the divine qualities, the spiritual universals, in all this. I was looking up the wrong tree (cultural universals).

I remember how triggered I was when I said to Michael that classical enlightenment stressed taking one divine quality and following it through to enlightenment. And Michael replied:

Archangel Michael: Human beings, particularly those in the higher vibrations, [are] learning to hold all the divine qualities and to be operating from all the divine qualities at once. (3)

There was no reason why not to, he implied. The idea of that blew my circuits. Impossible! Beyond accomplishing!

And, yet, here we are talking about it.

I could have got it then.

We don't need to tie ourselves down by limiting ourselves to one divine quality. We can partake of them all.

OMG, here we go again. Guiding Light:

This Ascension brings us into a new space in the Mother's multiverse distinguished by transdimensionality. No longer will it be impossible to travel to higher dimensions.

Me again. However that means that we'd be partaking of their deeper experience of the divine qualities. How all that will be arranged remains a mystery to me. But it is an implication of transdimensionality.

Because part of my mission is to illustrate co-creative partnership, I don't want to overlook noting that this expansion in my own perspective has again happened since I rechose co-creative partnership on June 12, 2023. (4)

Humility Becomes a Necessity

October 4, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/10/04/348463/>

One cannot leave the cycle of conflict, I think, without being confronted early on with the need for humility.

If one forsakes conflict and values relationship, one is swept like an inner flow towards seeing the necessity to be modest. It's no longer just a pleasant thought, but humility as a genuine reality lived from a sense of necessity.

I'm not aware that it's ever shown up in my life before because, a little schooled in karate, I no longer had need to be afraid of people. And hence no longer any need to to act, if not feel, humble.

And given that I'd appointed myself policeman of the world, out to protect the innocent from myriad "Dads," conflict went with the territory.

I was always working on my skills in conflict. And I loved fighting.

(Boy, do we need to teach parenting in school.)

So here I am, having given up conflict as something I resort to, being brought face-to-face with the need to feel genuinely, not artificially, humble, as a starting point in reclaiming my humanity from its lethargy. (1)

As an aside, I need to add that all of this is happening after June 12, when I consciously re-chose my soul contract to be one of Michael's co-creative partners at this time. (2) There are undoubtedly lots of others, many of whom are conscious of it and some of whom are not.

I just want to show you what happens after you know and rechoose your soul contract; especially if it involves partnership with a galactic or celestial or any other master for that matter. (3)

The lesson for the day is to learn and practice the divine state of humility. I feel called ...

(Shock. Flash of understanding)

Oh my. I'm seeing that, just as blanketing me in lethargy is a way to have me stop going in a certain direction, (4) so now I feel actually attracted to humility. Is someone using the Law of Attraction on me?

The attraction I feel is not ordinary. I'd be the last person in the world to ignore it.

Now certain things become clear to me.

For instance, I don't think it's any accident that I'm practically bent over from a hip problem right now (chiropractor is looking after it and I have a new bed, source of the problem). Aside from teaching me what it feels like to be "old," walking this way, with a cane and in pain, is humbling. An interesting "coincidence," given the felt attraction to humility.

Another noticing: I don't think it's idle talk to say that excessive pride goeth before a fall. Excessive pride seems the opposite of humility.

It blinds us to circumstances. I may become arrogant and not care. I may relax my vigilance and slip up.

Humility is not "in the game." (5) It puts no screen or filter between itself and love. It defers to love wherever it finds it. Since it has no ill intent, it relies on Divine Providence for protection, not on its own fists.

I know Michael counsels us all to be humble after the Reval, like the tall bamboo:

Archangel Michael: As you assume profile – whether it is because of money or notoriety or political power or financial power, it matters not – it gives you a sense of being elevated. We would encourage you to take the elevator to the basement.

Start there. (6)

I agree.

Lead, kindly Light. I don't know what tomorrow will bring. But I'm fully open to it.

(3) And remember: If you wake up one day and find you've served a false "Michael," fear not. The real Michael knows all along you're serving him. Let me cite the entire conversation with the Divine Mother on the subject. Remember this applies to you as well:

Steve Beckow: I'm operating on the principle – and please correct me if I'm mistaken here – that I serve Archangel Michael, period.

If I were to go to another medium and she was not channeling Archangel Michael and I were to do what was being said, and it turns out to be a colossal error, I'm still serving Archangel Michael.

Am I correct in continuing to say to myself, "The source is not what they say they are but it doesn't matter. I'm still serving Archangel Michael."

Divine Mother: You have reached this place of clarity. Now, dearest heart, this is exactly what I am talking about in terms of your divine knowing. And nothing is swaying you from that balanced center of knowing.

So it does not matter whether somebody says they are channeling Hilarion or Mickey Mouse. You know that you are serving my beloved Michael and I would like to suggest to you, Sweet One, not to distract you, but you are also serving me.

Steve: I so much know that, Mother.

DM: You always have. And so, yes, how we have constructed this is that you are employed, you are in joint venture, you are in sacred partnership with Michael, with Me-Ki-Al, and that is the way that you have chosen and that he has chosen and that I have chosen for you to proceed.

Steve: Yes, Mother. Thank you for confirming that.

DM: Let us give you further insight into this. If you were channeling with somebody and they said it was Hilarion, and in fact it was Hilarion, understand on our side the conjoining is so much stronger [with Michael] that Michael would simply funnel through Hilarion what needs to be said.

Steve: Interesting! ("Divine Mother: Does God Recognize Service to a Fallen Teacher?" November 3, 2018, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/11/03/divine-mother-does-god-recognize-service-to-a-fallen-teacher/>.)

Living in the Moment Can Be a Gamble – Part 1/2

October 5, 2023

Living in the moment can be a gamble

This article is intended to be part of an ascension ethnography. (1) Hence it's more detailed than normal, especially the footnotes. I apologize if it's found to be too lengthy or detailed.

It's embarrassing to walk around with very little memory. The only thing that makes it bearable is that most of my friends are in the same boat.

This has been happening with me since 2012. I'm fine at the keyboard. I'm fine with long-term memory. But short-term memory, I just can't hold onto things, no matter how hard I try. Like why did I come into the kitchen? What was I thinking of?

I've even watched the memory of an event disappear the other day, almost as soon as it happened.

Michael has assured me that I don't have dementia. (2) He's said I'll have enough memory when I need it. (3) And he's even told me two of the reasons: So I'll forget about the Third Dimension. And so I'll live in the moment.

I can now guess at a third: So we can work together in writing in a closer and more synchronous manner.

But, until now, I hadn't given much attention to the matter. Memory loss was a nuisance and that was that.

And yet, and this is another-post June 12th event, I realized this morning (4) that, where I'm going, from CEO to pipeline to galactic liaison (which Michael describes as the main event), (5) I'm going to need to leave the past behind.

He has on occasion encouraged me to live in the moment, which is pretty scary for a logical guy. (6) But now it's all coming into perspective.

What I realized this morning is that, if I'm to become the best vehicle I can for Michael to work through, undoubtedly in writing, then I need to forget the past and live in the present, (7) forget the Third Dimension (whatever that looks like) and focus on the Fifth-Seventh (wherever he wants me to be).

I'm going to take a chance here. Post-June 12, taking a chance seems to be in order. (8) I'm going to allow myself to go deeper into no-memory.

Wow, this is scary.

I'm going to allow that Michael meant every word he said and that letting go of my memory of the old Third is what is required.

We knew we'd have to let go of everything. That meant letting go of our attachment to it, not necessarily letting go of the thing itself. I therefore let go of my attachment to the Third Dimension, even though I know full well that no one around me in my personal world may understand what I'm doing and may not support it.

Here is my piecing together of what Michael is saying to me, from so many puzzle pieces over time. Full supporting quotes are in the footnotes to Part 2.

(Concluded in Part 2, below.)

(2) I'm going to post in a future article Michael's detailed discussion of memory loss with me because I think the subject is of general concern.

Archangel Michael: What you had been experiencing is not dementia.

Steve: What I personally have been experiencing in myself is not dementia?

AAM: That is correct.

Steve: Did I ever have that thought?

AAM: Oh yes, about a year and ½, two years ago you had that great fear.

Steve: Oh, okay. I seem to recall it vaguely. (Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, July 13, 2018. (Hereafter AAM.)

(3) AAM: You will have enough of a memory, dear heart. Do not worry about it. (AAM, April 13, 2016.)

(4) I had other realizations this morning as well, of a personal/private nature. Again I relate that to post-June 12. On June 12, Michael shifted the car into a higher gear. See "Co-Creative Partners with the Company of Heaven," June 12, 2023, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/06/12/co-creative-partners-with-the-company-of-heaven/>.

(5) AAM: You are a bridge to your star brothers and sisters. The money is just a side event. The main event has yet to occur. (AAM, Feb. 7, 2013.)

(6) AAM: One of the difficulties of humans is that they have a proclivity to either live in the past (and it can be recent past or ancient past) or to project themselves and live in the future.

It is a very curious malaise that most of the human race - yes, most of the human race - chooses not to live in the moment. So you are living in the moment. And you say, "Yes Lord I'm very willing to live in the moment but I would like to be able to access my memories, recent events so I don't feel like a fool."

We hear you.

Steve:... Or lose my thought in the middle of a sentence or forget what I'm going into the kitchen for or, oh, it goes on and on... Crazy.

...

AAM: What we are doing and we are doing it even now as we are speaking, we are making all those synapses, all those electrical systems, all the upgrade a brilliant neon blue so that the entire brain, all hemispheres' functions will be more clearly firing.

Now the biggest impediment, and I know you, sweet one, the biggest impediment to this being fully effective is concern, so let us do our job. You give me the worry and let us proceed with the completion of the upgrade. (AAM, Aug. 5, 2020.)

(7) AAM, Feb. 7, 2013.

(8) AAM, May 6, 2013. For my re-choosing co-creative partnership with Michael on June 12, 2023, see "Co-Creative Partners with the Company of Heaven," June 12, 2023, ibid.

(Concluded from part 1, above.)

Here is my piecing together of what Michael is saying to me, from so many puzzle pieces over time. Full supporting quotes are in the footnotes.

(A) We are co-creative partners. (1)

(B) I can do with that partnership what I want, make it the focus of my life or say, isn't that nice?

(C) Our partnership will be in writing. (2)

(D) He wants me to let go of the Third Dimension and open to the Fifth/Seventh. (3)

(E) But I'm not to go permanently ahead of the group or become a guru figure. That's not my mission. (4)

(F) I'll have enough memory when I need it. (5)

As you'll see in the footnotes, even if one has readings, one still has to piece together what's being said.

Prior to June 12, if I had considered any of this, it would have been an arm's length consideration, as if I were reading this about someone else. But now I read it and I "get" it with the same importance as I'd get marching orders.

And as I get it, I see that these are strands of the same whole tapestry I got on June 12. I got the gestalt then - a flash of understanding of the whole. Now I'm getting the pieces.

Post-June 12, this is Big Steve rather than little Steve, starting all over again. Re-reading my instructions. Doing it publicly so that folks, for one reason or another, who don't have access to readings can watch a lightworker servant get his marching orders - in bits and pieces - from the one he serves and piece it all together.

I hope it helps. But living in the moment in our society, post-Covid and everything else, is sure going to be a gamble.

Footnotes

(1) Archangel Michael: Ours is a co-creative partnership. (Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, Aug. 2, 2017.) (Hereafter AAM.)

AAM: You have reached a point in your heart, in your being, in your life, in your consciousness where you are realizing ... the magnitude of our partnership. (AAM, Aug. 17, 2018.)

(2) Archangel Michael: On the list of things to do, let [writing] always be the last thing that falls off. (AAM, Feb. 7, 2013.)

AAM: You are doing the biggest thing that not only I but the Universal Mother, the sacred being that we both serve, wishes you to do, and that is to write, to communicate. And in the writing is infused the anchoring and the bringing of peace to the planet, the creation of Nova Gaia. (Loc. cit.)

AAM: I have a new assignment for you. It is called writing. (AAM, May 6, 2013.)

Steve: What would be a higher priority: being a pipeline or being a communicator?

AAM: You are thinking either/or, sweet one. But if you're asking me, I will tell you. It is far more important to be a communicator because without the communication of Truth, (and we emphasize this, of Truth) and, yes, of course, of personal insight and experience but without that, the pipeline is meaningless. (AAM, March 28, 2019.)

Archangel Michael: You are the communicator of clarity. ... Your words, your messages, your articles, your experiences and understandings, this is your number one job. (AAM, March 3, 2021.)

Divine Mother: You have chosen long long ago with Me, with Annastara [my twin flame], with ME KI AL, to be a communicator and an agent of change.

You have said to me, "Mother, what if they forget? I will remind them. I will communicate with them through words, through my passion, through my heart, through my knowing. I will communicate the love to them."

This is your task and it is a task of change as this planet, in this great chaos, in flux, chooses, yes, by this wonderful instrument of free will, as they choose and as you choose to simply be the love. It can have an infinite, literally infinite number of expressions. (Divine Mother in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, April 30, 2019.) (Hereafter DM.)

(3) Archangel Michael: Now, Steve, you are not even in the third dimension anymore. ("Archangel Michael: The Returning Masters are You – Part 1/2," October 8, 2012, at <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2012/10/08/archangel-michael-the-returning-masters-are-you/>)

AAM: What you are preparing for is allowing that expansion of the knowing, of the knowledge, of the wisdom. So it is a matter of getting out of the Third, which is difficult for you when you are in writing mode. So you are learning a new way. And allow the energy to flow.

There is a universe of deeper knowing and wisdom opening to you. (AAM, April 10, 2012.)

(4) Steve: Should I be orienting toward ascending early or not? I have this sense that I'm supposed to be here.

Archangel Michael: You're supposed to be here. (AAM, Sept. 13, 2011.)

AAM: Our desire is not to separate you from the collective. (AAM, Nov. 11, 2015.)

AAM: You did not come to live as a guru in a western or eastern manner.

Steve: Can you help me make sense of returning to my interdimensionality while not becoming a guru figure?

AAM: It is very simple: Visit; don't stay. (AAM, May 6, 2013.)

Steve: The experience at Xenia, Mother, was that truncated?

Divine Mother: Slightly, yes. ... [The Light] was not as brilliant as possible, let us put it that way.

Steve: Alright... And again, the reason is to keep me in sync with my readers?

DM: To keep you in sync with your readers. (DM Oct. 26, 2018.)

(5) Archangel Michael: You will have enough of a memory, dear heart. Do not worry about it. (AAM, April 13, 2016.)

Steve: My big concern is that I'll be head of a large organization and have no memory.

AAM: And you think that we would leave you helpless?

Steve: No, I hope not.

AAM: No, dear heart, that is not the plan.

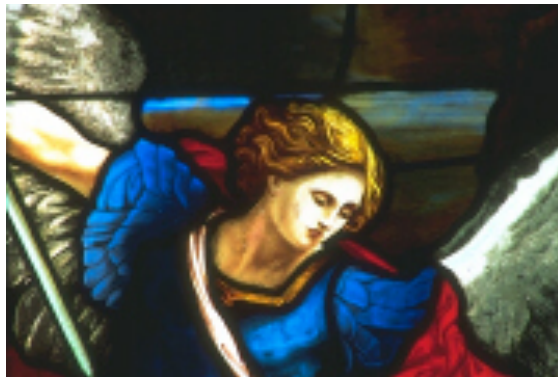

Steve: Oh good! Even knowing there is a plan is comforting.

AAM: There is not only a plan, Sweet One. There is a strategy afoot to implement the plan. (AAM, June 17, 2020.)

Flash of Understanding: “Slow Down!”

October 8, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/10/08/348594/>

(Concluded from Part 1, above.)

The words formed in my mind, just as my own thoughts do: "Slow down."

I knew they came from Michael.

And I realized that:

(A) This was the message behind the arthritis.

(B) My Higher Self and Michael use illnesses to get me to slow down. (1)

So is this arthritis another blast on the horn?

I get the message, if message it is, that I need to slow down. I flashed on Michael saying, back in 2016:

Archangel Michael: You are in form. There is only so much that, as human being, any human being can manage. Yes, there will be a different kind of busyness in future years, but not if you are lying on the ground dead. (2)

My Dad used to call me a lazy, no-good good-for-nothing. I'm not sure why. Probably because I was studious and he was athletic. I guess I'm having trouble stopping from proving him wrong with each book I issue.

But what I really want to draw attention to is the phenomenon of "flashes of understanding." And please allow me to cite the relevant discussion with Michael at length.

Hopefully this highlights the way archangels work with their co-creative partners (that's you and me).

Archangel Michael: One of the things we do is we also plant the longer view, so that a person who is involved in a highly complex situation — which this [Reval] is, by the way; because it is not just about money; it is not just about currency; it is about values — in key people we will plant the longer view.

We will inspire, if you wish to use that word, the longer view so that they have, like a flash of lightning, the understanding and all the steps to what can be accomplished many steps out if they simply do A, B, C and D.

And then what we do is we create circumstances — again, beyond the number of variables that you can humanly juggle, although there is that part of you that can assist, and does — but we create situations and combinations of energies that then allow that to come to fruition.

So it is akin to laying out the banquet table, knowing it will be a delightful feast — everything is prepared. Now, can we make you eat? No. But usually — not always, but usually — the inspiration, the vision, the unfoldment that has been planted within is so beautiful and so clear that it is almost like a compulsion on the part of the individual, or in some situations, the group, to proceed in a certain direction. (3) [My emphasis.]

If you're wondering how the other side influences us, this is one of the ways they do it.

In my case, it was absolutely clear: I was out walking in the morning sun for the first time without my cane. And here I'd overdone it by the time I reached Safeway (three blocks away).

Boom, what better time than this to give me the message below the illness: Slow down.

I watched the process of inspiration happen. The thought arose, in response to the pain, but I knew it had a wider application: Slow down.

The effect on me was immediate.

I asked myself right away: Is that what this new illness - arthritis - is about: getting me to slow down?

I hope my discussing this helps you to see the context for anything that might be happening in or to yourself and might be confusing - if you're in service.

If you're not in service - which is OK - the archangels may not work with you as rigorously, as Michael explains:

Archangel Michael: Are we [archangels] in partnership with every being on the planet? Yes. But it is difficult when you are in a partnership and the other person does not realize it. So we are working with those who realize we are in partnership. And so that is why we are having these conversations. (4)

That is why he and I were having these conversations - because he knows I'll write about them and encourage others to enter into co-creative partnership with their favorite archangel. There is no downside.

So I got the message on the arthritis. I didn't get it during the triple bypass. Or the prostate operation and aftermath. I will slow down.

And thank you for the inspiration, Archangel Michael, the flash of understanding. It reassures me that you really are right there beside me as you so often have said you are. (5)

Footnotes

(1) Catching MSSA virus in the hospital, adding a week on to my stay (for a triple bypass), is an example. I asked him later and he admitted it:

Steve: Did you bring on the onset of MSSA to have me relax and just spend some time in the hospital?

Archangel Michael: Yes.

Steve: I thought you did! Oh, boy. That is so funny!

AAM: There is a part of you that, even when we suggested to you that timeout was required, doesn't know what that means.

Steve: Yes, that's right. ...

AAM: Yes and your Higher Self, your Universal Self has given permission for these overrides.

Steve: I thought it was funny when it happened. I could see your hand in it. (Archangel Michael in a personal reading with Steve Beckow through Linda Dillon, Nov. 26, 2019.) (Hereafter, AAM.)

An Integrated, Interdisciplinary Approach to Human Unity

This commentary illustrates a deepening that has been taking place in me since realizing my "co-creative partnership" with Archangel Michael on June 12, 2023. (1)

We lightworkers and loveholders seem to be on a moving frontier of investigation into all aspects of reality. I imagine it's occurring around the world, based on recent introductions and subsequent poking around. It'd fit with descriptions of dramatically-rising love energies.

So far we're investigating all the phenomena of the Fourth/Astral and other dimensions/planes. And, in my view, this is as it should be.

But, at the same time, I want to add another line item to the agenda, if you'd permit me.

We'll soon be meeting our star family - probably after the Ring of Fire. (2) If we want to present a united face to them, like a race that can speak as one, then I think we might consider doing two things.

First, we need to shed some of our philosophies or paradigms that don't work and stand as a barrier to successful discussions between us and our star family.

Chief among them, in my view is the outdated paradigm of empirical materialism. That's the philosophy that only what we can see, hear, feel, or touch is real; nothing else. It permeates our culture and is an unspoken boundary we have with each other.

Well, our visitors will probably be from higher realms, existing above us in ships that are cloaked from view. Empirical materialism would make us as blind to them as the natives were to Captain Cook's ships.

Empirical materialism won't serve us in the multidimensional world we're about to enter and needs to be discarded.

The second thing I think we may want to consider is integrating our knowledge beforehand, wherever possible. Make it interdisciplinary where that's possible. Connect the dots among our principles, information, and philosophies. End our endless academic - and sometimes religious - disagreements.

Let me demonstrate what I'm talking about by connecting two dots that I hope will prove useful at some future time to make sense of what is and was Third-Dimensional spiritual reality:

Father, Son, and Holy Ghost (Christianity) = Brahman, Atman, and Shakti (Hinduism).

I've spoken about this matter at length elsewhere. (3) If we want to connect Jesus' teachings with Vedanta, this equation is the USB plug to the USB port.

When we have them connected, they unlock the mystery in many if not most other terrestrial, 3D scriptures and the religions they gave rise to.

So I repeat, if we want to meet our star family and speak with one voice for Planet Earth, (4) if we want to open to the new knowledge not available to us as a divided terrestrial community, then we now need to take down the intellectual boundaries and barriers that have kept us divided since antiquity.

We need to end the squabbling and focus on the truth - the whole truth of life, the cross-cultural, interdisciplinary, and multidimensional truth - the spiritual truth.

I assert that Self-Realization is the purpose of life. (5) A cross-cultural, interdisciplinary, and interdimensional knowledge, I also assert, integrates us and advances us toward the goal of a Self-Realized, ascended society: A world that works for everyone. (6)

Those we shall meet are already there and waiting for us. They won't meet with us until we're at peace, as they are.

As we reveal more and more of the Self in us, we'll be better and better able to converse and work with them. Everything is conspiring to bring that meeting to us, that re-union of us with our ancestors and our future.

The Speed of a Starseed Computer

Oct. 29, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/10/29/349169/>

Starseed computer

This article started as a noticing that ideas were flowing through my mind this morning. It expanded into a spiritual experience. If it weren't part of my job to be candid about the details of my Ascension, I wouldn't be sharing some of them. But sharing goes with the journalistic territory.

My mind is fairly popping with ideas today. Here are two.

If I had the time, I'd start a Journal of Cross-Cultural Spirituality.

But running a journal is a job unto itself. Anyone out there interested?

Or a Journal of Interdimensional Spirituality.

The JCS is anchored in time and space; the JIS is not.

The JCS would look at our terrestrial society and how all its spiritual parts fit. It might relate the experience of Buddha to that of Bayazid of Bistun. Or interpret Zen in light of the writings of Franklin Merrell-Wolff.

It would not observe disciplinary boundaries. In my view, disciplinary boundaries themselves have outlived their usefulness.

It would respect each individual's experience as sacred to them and not dispute it.

The JIS would focus on fleshing out accounts of the higher dimensions - as far as words can convey!!!!

One section of it would integrate the knowledge learned from afterlife communicators, experiencers, etc.

Another section would connect with the knowledge related to us over many decades by our star family and starseeds from higher dimensions.

Mike Quinsey, Sheldan Nidle, Suzy Ward, and others, keep your archives open! Folks, support them to do so. Those archives will one day be precious.

Wait a minute.

Something unusual is happening here. You remember I said it feels like something different happens almost every day since June 12th? (1)

Well, today, my mind is popping, as you can see.

And I bring it to your notice because I see this as another unusual, temporary incident which I think follows on from June 12th.

I seem to be plugged in, right now, to an electric socket, what with the ideas running through my mind.

Wow! I've stepped back from the flow of thoughts for a moment.

I feel overwhelmed, unsteady, almost nauseous.

Back in 2011, Michael predicted this time would come - and I feel self-conscious sharing this and what follows:

Archangel Michael: Yes, your mind is connected. You have done your work. And very often you are connected to what you would think of as Universal Mind. And that's why we laugh when you say that your veil is thick. Your veil may be thick on your eyes but it most certainly is not on your brain.

And so you are keyed in and it is running at the speed of, shall we say, a Starseed computer. (2)

Reflecting on his words, I noticed I had failed to make a distinction between "mind" and "attention." I did not give my attention to the flow of thought in the mind and so I never experienced before what I experienced today.

I experienced that flow as never-ending, each idea worth following up on.

Moreover, as I spoke about the JCS and JIS, taking time out from the flow, I felt the pressure of more ideas wanting a share of my attention. I've never encountered such a phenomenon before.

Many other things Michael said now arise as having become immediately relevant here. And again I feel self-conscious here and have to push through it to share on this:

AAM: You have come to Earth with a significant mental capacity, shall we say, that allows you to see solutions and thought patterns and ideations more clearly than many. (3)

AAM: Your blindfold is as thin as gauze.

[Yes, it's that blindfold that keeps me from always being in this flow of thought. In this experience, I found I could part it if I so choose.]

You underestimate yourself. What you call hunches are visions, my friend.

S: Okay. That's good to know. I certainly do feel more confident with what I'm saying.

AAM: It is coming from a place of understanding and knowing. Now, the next step, my dear brother, is to accept that too. (4)

Wow, hunches are visions! To trust them, I need to get bigger.

Now here's the kicker. I found myself overwhelmed by being in that deeper mental flow for even a minute. How will I exist in it for any length of time? And yet he says do not resist.

Archangel Michael: Do not turn down anything! So sometimes you have thought... Well, maybe if I slowed it down a bit, maybe if I paid closer attention to the details of what the input... Because think of it as a constant stream. Think of a computer, a constant stream of input coming into your mechanism called the brain.

Do not turn it down because what you are doing in the upgrades is literally learning how to access what is important to you, what is meaningful to you and, yes, to the collective but we are talking about you at this moment.

And so you don't want to start, consciously or unconsciously, editing the input into your brain. (5)

"Because what you are doing in the upgrades is literally learning how to access what is important to you." Yes, I was telling Wendy Zammit the other day that I felt able in our interview to go into departments of knowledge and come back out and go into another department and that doing so felt like a healing, a re-integration.

That gave me confidence. So I do recognize what he's asking of me here and I can do this.

But again what just happened? I just had a preview of what it means to be a co-creative partner of my chosen celestial partner, Archangel Michael. In this "miracle," the stream of ideas did not stop and every idea was worth following up on.

Like any good rollercoaster, the process I entered by allowing my mind to just run threatened my composure, brought my vested interests into view, and was unexpected and so I stepped off the ride asap, like a frightened child.

OOOOOOO-Kay. Another level of acceptance of my mission just presented itself.

On June 12, I got what he wanted in terms of total outward persona and level of commitment. Now I get to see what it could involve in terms of the mechanism's internal operation. Of course I accept, but I know there still needs to be prudence.

I'll follow wherever Michael leads. But several surgical operations later and a creaky frame, I also know I can no longer be a reckless speedster. I only have so much energy now and only two hands and feet.

Will I go insane? Have I control of the throttle? Can I back out if I want to? These questions bubble up for me. But, if I'm not in safe hands with an archangel, when will I ever be? (6)

I'm starting to get on a personal level what Michael once called "the magnitude of our partnership." (7)

I've just been given a glimpse at a "Starseed computer" and he definitely caught my attention with that one. He already had it from all the miracles I've seen. (8)

This may be as far as I get with this one until it raises itself again. Or I may not be able to let go of it. Could go either way.

My hunch is it'll be something different next, all of it illustrating the rewards of co-creative partnership with an archangel!!! (I'm a walking billboard.) (9)

I won't promise to continue the account from one day to the next. Too much happens in between. I don't know where I'll be tomorrow. And certainly a self-cleaning memory doesn't help.

A Seventy-Year Journey Back to Normalcy

Nov. 3, 2023

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2023/11/01/a-seventy-year-journey-back-to-normalcy/>

This poor orphan was bumped repeatedly due to post-June 12th expansions. But it does have a place.

Please forgive the chronology ... although the relaxed tone of this (earlier) article does show how fast the baseline of events is moving....

One emerges over time from dissociation. It happens as one makes one realization after another, like a search beam, going in this direction, then in that, scanning for something that would shed light on why I feel so hesitant, retiring, unsure of myself.

You know the story: Dad yelled at me, aged seven, from inches in front of my face. I shattered into a million pieces and it took fifty years to put Humpty together again. (1)

I finally was able to say goodbye to my Dad's violence when I saw its value. It awakened the past-life memory of a military commander in me. It awakened the fight in me and that's served me over the years (how do you spell "9/11"?).

I can look back now and not only see why all of it occurred but also why it was that I should need to go through that scenario. I sensed that I would some day need to draw on that experience.

Uhhh, like now?

But it takes time to emerge from the dissociation it all caused.

Fast forward to the present and I'm at the stage in my own evolution where I've consciously rechosen my co-creative partnership with Archangel Michael and watched changes happen to me day after day. (2)

Today it was a sense of self-confidence ... I can't say "returning" because it feels utterly new. It's happened out of my experience in Wendy Zammit's interview (3) and subsequent conversations with people I met as a result of it.

Self-confidence is not an attitude. It isn't something we do or even be. It's a divine state. You remember that a feeling is in us whereas a divine state is something we're immersed in. I am in self-confidence rather than it being in me.

What's it like? Self-confidence is palpably soft, like velvet or devon cream or maple syrup. And it, by its nature, is lov-ing, actively loving. Love flows outward from me when I'm in this state. I would not necessarily have expected that. But in retrospect it makes sense.

Self-confidence has nothing to do with arrogance, which is at the other end of the spectrum and is not a divine state.

It has nothing to do with "mocking up" an attitude of self-confidence - bravado, pretense, strutting about. Nothing to do with creating and selling an image. Nope, not soft, not loving, etc.

I think this development happened because my Higher Self and my design team decided that now was the time to re-awaken it in me. If I'm right, then this would be a further demonstration of the accuracy of them saying you'll have what you need when you need it.

What specifically did I see in reviewing Wendy's interview that preceded this reawakening of self-confidence in me?

I see that my "working" memory is intact. I see that I can go in and out of fields of knowledge and feel comfortable tying them together. I still forget what I'm saying in mid-sentence but others are having the same problem and so I'm "among friends."

I see that I can be clear in speech, whereas in the distant past I was anything but.

Much of the unbalanced emotionalism and wild gesticulations are gone. I still talk with my hands and probably always will but it's coming within a place of balance.

My love for what I've been studying comes through - and my love for love.

Remember, this is a kid who was viewed at best as being complex and at worst as being anti-social. I was just dissociated and didn't know what was wrong or how to handle it.

So Wendy's interview gave me a chance to look at myself and say, "How're you doing, pal?" And I was happy with what I saw.

I have no ambitions in the area, aside from being clear and serving the Mother. My love for the subjects I study will do the rest. The ground was prepared for me to feel a return of self-confidence the next day.

I'm just an observer at this moment. And I'm recording the realization that occurred - and is still occurring - as it happens. I don't know where or when the experience of self-confidence began.

I'd better switch into stream of consciousness because I'm in a realization unfolding. I'm in a state of realized knowledge. (4)

I've never experienced anything as comforting and reassuring as self-confidence. It's billowing inside of me but in the most pleasant and reassuring of ways. Oh my. I feel into it and I now see that it's love that is billowing, inside self-confidence like one of those easter eggs with a sweet filling?

Is that how the self-confident work their miracles? To borrow a phrase from Linda, they're "fueled by love." When they speak, love is speaking?

The realization keeps expanding.

OK, I understand now. Thank you, whichever of my guides is working with me on this realization.

I see that self-confidence has been totally lacking from my reconstructed self since forever. This is like the prodigal child returning home - a cause for great celebration.

I see that genuine self-confidence - real and actual; not something made up - is akin to sealing the cracks in a vessel that holds liquids. The vessel now works as intended and turns out to hold love. I got it. Thank you.

At the same time, all of this feels very sacred and I probably shouldn't be writing about it lest I expose myself to ridicule from the mockingbird press.

I now feel relief, at being reconnected - perhaps after lifetimes - with self-confidence. It was a casualty of the shattering. "I" am glad to be back online.

All the best memories of my life are now flooding back - 15 cents for a cream soda in the park on Isle Bizard in 1956, endless coffee milkshakes at the Fontainebleu in Miami, Disneyland, Knots Berry Farm, seeing a flying wing over North Dakota, seeing UFOs over Kelowna, Parliament in London, Westminster Abbey, etc.

It's now OK for me to enjoy these memories, whereas before I was always, in my own view a hesitant, insecure and altogether-worthless person - a lazy, no-good good-fer-nothin, my Dad would say. (5) That one got in, I guess.

Here I am, crying my eyes out. Getting the upset up and out of me.

A seventy-year journey back to ... oh my gosh, not again ... normalcy.
