Introduction

Navy Seal talking to school children

We in society seem to have a tacit agreement. If something is amiss and it doesn't affect me, providing you don't make me declare my knowledge of it, I'll turn a blind eye and get on with my life.

We see this plot in many movies. The victimizer taunts his victim with acknowledging exactly what's happening - forces them to say it out loud. Then there is no more hiding or self-deception.

This transforms the victim's fear into rage and they suddenly rise up and overthrow the victimizer.

Don't push me around and I won't push you around. Force me to admit my knowledge and all bets are off.

For me, anyways it wasn't happening to me. Me and mine were safe. Life went on.

One day, that was made impossible for me. I was roused out of my sleep on Aug. 18, 2018 in a most unorthodox way.

While shopping at Safeway, I heard a voice inside me say, "I cannot write another word until I write something about pedophilia."

I knew it wasn't me because I listened to the speaker. I had no sensation of forming the words myself either in my mind or in my mouth, as some people do when talking to themselves.

I have regular monthly readings with Archangel Michael through channel Linda Dillon. In the next reading I had, on Sept. 21, 2018, I asked him if it was he who roused me:

Steve: Was it you who put the idea in my head in the Safeway that I cannot write another word until I write about pedophilia?

Archangel Michael: Yes, that is correct. (1)

I was thrown into pandemonium by what emerged from this awakening.

As an example of cognitive dissonance which eventually began to bubble up to the surface: I've been sitting on my knowledge of the fate of an Indian woman who was ritually sacrificed at a meeting of city bigwigs - including the publisher of a local newspaper and the police chief.

An old friend told me about it and ever since the knowledge has sat with me like a red-hot iron you don't want to pick up.

I know how many children go missing. I see the posters. I hear the amber alerts.

There are other areas of my life which I draw on here.

As a former refugee adjudicator, I've read extensive literature on forced marriages, female genital mutilation, sex slavery, etc. I know about DynCorp, the Clinton Foundation, GHW Bush and CIA criminality - I had all the pieces of the puzzle.

But it wasn't happening to me and mine - it had not touched me personally - and so the agreement was to leave me alone and I'll leave you alone.

You know. I know. We both know we know. But if you don't oblige me to admit my knowledge, I'll turn a blind eye. Let me get on with my comfortable existence.

As a decision-maker in refugee claims, I was used to reviewing sometimes gruesome evidence. I couldn't even tell you what evidence without you probably having an adverse reaction.

And I came across equally-gruesome evidence after my awakening to pedophilia. Only those with a need to know should delve into the subject very, very deeply. If you're too badly repulsed, this is not your mission.

It is a part of mine - along with caring for lepers, providing universal basic incomes for countries, ending gender inequality on the planet, etc.

But aside from professional training, I also had an enduring interest in what I later came to call “vasanas,” after Ramaa Maharshi.

I’ve studied how to deal with trauma since around 1974 in the social sciences, transactional analysis, encounter groups, the est Training, NLP, spirituality, enlightenment intensives, etc.

Using processes derived from those experiences, I’m able to handle more trauma and grisly detail than the average person.

I feel a responsibility to society for dedicating excellent resources to train me to work in this area of criminal justice. I now feel a need to give back for it.

While I was sleeping, the systematic trafficking and exploitation of children was ongoing. This operation includes birthing to sell, rape, torture, murder, cannibalism, harvesting of organs, etc.

It began, I believe, as a means of entrapping influential people by photographing or videotaping them making love to underage children.

It grew from there to all manner of abuse of children. Its continued existence cannot be endured. Period. Full stop.

Never mind losing the right to call ours a civilization. Never mind holding our heads up high. Save our children!

Of it, Michael said:

“Pedophilia is ... a critical, important, deep issue that goes to the collective heart of humanity. [The issue is] that there is a belief or a system that thinks it’s all right to abuse women and children and even each other. ...

“A conscious, awakened human being, whether they believe in the [Divine] Mother or a higher power or anything, their humanist instincts indicate that this cannot be permissible.

“There is no latitude. There is no give in this. Understand what I say. A little is not acceptable.” (2)

Unequivocal opposition to this line of behavior. No compromise with it.

He further said what my - pardon me, our - mission in this field would be:

Steve: Where do you wish me to go with this? I have given a date by which I'd like everyone to align on having pedophilia and harm to women cease on the planet and that's January 1, 2020.

Archangel Michael: What you are doing next, and let me also say, what we - you and I - are doing next is focusing on the healing, the clearing, the redirection of social, moral, spiritual, emotional issues that somehow, undercover, subtly and actually, create an environment where such behaviour is tacitly accepted.

No one, in any realm, well, any realm particularly in the Western world, would say that it is alright, that it is acceptable, that it is fine to proceed with abusing children - or women for that matter.

And yet, it is accepted. ...

So the direction in which you move, and which We move, is to work and continue to anchor on behalf of the Mother, not only the heart opening but the heart speaking, the heart listening, the heart awareness and the righteous anger that such behaviour is an outrage and it must be addressed.

And addressed, not in punitive ways, but in ways that literally reconstruct societies, environments and the planet where such manipulation is in any way acceptable because it is not. (3)

Pedophilia takes many forms. Yes, we all love children (paedo = child; philia = friendly love), which is why we want to see the crime of pedophilia end.

It may take a telling and retelling of the story many times for people to break through their lethargy - which is what mine was - and resolve to take action.

What is the least taxing action that has very large effects? Align with my intention to have pedophilia end on the planet by Jan. 1, 2020. That's it. Simply intend.

If you want to go a step further: Invoke the Universal Law of Intention with me and ask the assistance of the Divine Mother in fulfilling our intention that all forms of pedophilia end everywhere on the planet on or before Jan. 1, 2020.

Your aligning with the intention adds to the weight of agreement in the collective consciousness, which frees the hands of the Company of Heaven and the galactics. They need to be asked. They need to allow the planet to make its own choices, by the Universal Law of Free Will. Aligning with me on our intention gives them permission to act.

Your invoking the law moves it from the weight of the collective consciousness to a requirement that they respond.

So do not underestimate what we normally think of as small actions.

You can send love to victim and victimizer. If your love is higher-dimensional, you need merely send it out: higher-dimensional love always, already IS universal; it simply radiates out from you. It will get to them.

Send money to support the work of a group working in this field. Use your due diligence in doing so. Some NGOs, agencies, etc., responsible for child welfare, are part of the problem. Think: Haiti.

Our children deserve a safe and loving world and it's up to us to provide it for them.

We have slightly less than a year and a half to see that all forms of child exploitation and abuse end on this planet. Time to act to protect our children. We're not beginning in 2020. We're beginning now and ending then.

We need to get to work.

At a minimum join me in invoking the Universal Law of Intention and the assistance of the Divine Mother in fulfilling our intention that all forms of pedophilia end everywhere on the planet on or before Jan. 1, 2020.

No sooner date would be soon enough.

Thank you,

Steve Beckow

A World Fit for Children

August 26, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/26/a-world-fit-for-children/>

These are inspiring goals. How are we doing with these in our own backyards?

A World Fit for Children

MILLENNIUM DEVELOPMENT GOALS, SPECIAL SESSION ON CHILDREN

https://www.unicef.org/bangladesh/wffc-en_main.pdf

We hereby call on all members of society to join us in a global movement that will help build a world fit for children through upholding our commitments to the following principles and objectives:

(1) Put children first.

In all actions related to children, the best interests of the child shall be a primary consideration.

(2) Eradicate poverty: invest in children.

We reaffirm our vow to break the cycle of poverty within a single generation, united in the conviction that investments in children and the realization of their rights are among the most effective ways to eradicate poverty.

Immediate action must be taken to eliminate the worst forms of child labour.

(3) Leave no child behind.

Each girl and boy is born free and equal in dignity and rights; therefore, all forms of discrimination affecting children must end.

(4) Care for every child.

Children must get the best possible start in life. Their survival, protection, growth and development in good health and with proper nutrition is the essential foundation of human development.

We will make concerted efforts to fight infectious diseases, tackle major causes of malnutrition and nurture children in a safe environment that enables them to be physically healthy, mentally alert, emotionally secure, socially competent and able to learn.

(5) Educate every child.

All girls and boys must have access to and complete primary education that is free, compulsory and of good quality as a cornerstone of an inclusive basic education.

Gender disparities in primary and secondary education must be eliminated.

(6) Protect children from harm and exploitation.

Children must be protected against any acts of violence, abuse, exploitation and discrimination, as well as all forms of terrorism and hostage-taking.

(7) Protect children from war.

Children must be protected from the horrors of armed conflict. Children under foreign occupation must also be protected, in accordance with the provisions of international humanitarian law.

(8) Combat HIV/AIDS

Children and their families must be protected from the devastating impact of human immunodeficiency virus/acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (HIV/AIDS).

(9) Listen to children and ensure their participation.

Children and adolescents are resourceful citizens capable of helping to build a better future for all.

We must respect their right to express themselves and to participate in all matters affecting them, in accordance with their age and maturity.

(10) Protect the Earth for children.

We must safeguard our natural environment, with its diversity of life, its beauty and its resources, all of which enhance the quality of life, for present and future generations.

We will give every assistance to protect children and minimize the impact of natural disasters and environmental degradation on them.

Archangel Michael on the Need to Stop Pedophilia - Part 1/2

Aug. 20, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/20/archangel-michael-on-the-need-to-stop-pedophilia-part-1-2/>

In my reading with him, through Linda Dillon, on Aug. 17, I asked Archangel Michael for his outlook on the plan to create a deadline for the ending of pedophilia on the planet. Here's that discussion.

He also talks about what seems a coincidence - that three people within a week say they must be up and active. They can no longer sit on the sidelines and watch what is happening. The reading was through Linda Dillon and occurred on Aug. 17, 2018. Thanks to Dana for our transcript.

Steve Beckow: I'm about to release a call to end pedophilia worldwide by January 1, 2020. Without a deadline, actions cannot be coordinated so I'm putting a deadline to it. Now is this an initiative you approve of, that you want me to be making?

Archangel Michael: Yes, but never take an accusatory stance. But yes. You know, my beloved friend, I have set deadlines for my peace initiative time and time again and many would say well, why, Michael, Mi-Ki-El, why on Earth, or any other planet, would you do that?

And I am doing that for exactly the reasons you cite. Because humans, particularly where you are right now, if there is not a deadline, it does not create the sense of urgency. It does not create the sense of immediacy for action, of stepping forward, of whether it is an external action or what you would think [of as] internal, meditation, visualization, it matters not.

So yes, creating a deadline is a highly-effective way in your human realm to get people moving. The other thing about pedophilia - and there have been many true and erroneous reports - but let us just speak of the attitude.

The practice is horrendous; it is anathema. The attitude, the behavior, this clinical, destructive, separative state of being of one who is a pedophile has to be removed as a starting point for building Nova Earth.

This level of sexual manipulation, in all kinds of ways, has need to be a thing of the past. Not a memory or historical fact that we wish to have eradicated. But it has to be a distant memory because, as a distant memory, it cannot be repeated. It cannot be resurrected because the horror of it is so great.

The other thing that occurs - yes, with sexual abuse, but also particularly with victims of pedophilia - is within that there is a very deep sense - yes, of course, of shame and guilt - but also of isolation.

And because so often the perpetrator comes from a perceived position of power, not just because they are adult but [if they have] religious or political or simply societal power, there is a sense that one must comply.

But the inner knowing and the outer social attitude of guilt and shame are embedded within the victims and this is also an area that has need to be addressed in this push.

So it is not just for the perpetrators to come to realizations. This is one of the reasons why I am speaking this day [in the reading] a great deal about compassion.

But it is not just compassion for perpetrator and victim. It is also simply for them to have enough compassion for themselves that they [the victims] may break out of this illusion of shame and blame and go forth and remember they were never isolated. They were never forgotten, even when they felt they were.

Steve: OK, thank you, Lord.

Is it a coincidence that three public figures, me - Paulette [Stevens] (1) and Isaac Kappy (2) - all came alive within a short time of each other to the need to do something about pedophilia or the chaos in a society?

AAM: No, it is the next theme, dear heart, the global theme that is unfolding at the moment and it is really - might we say - one of the basest areas of abuse that has need to be addressed.

Steve: Are there others that were awakened as well?

AAM: There have been many all over the planet that have been waking and the revelations that are taking place are also awakening many to say, "Something needs to be done". So the time is right.

Archangel Michael on the Need to Stop Pedophilia - Part 2/2

Aug. 21, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/21/archangel-michael-on-the-need-to-stop-pedophilia-part-2-2/>

A Time of Awakening

I don't want to let Archangel Michael's comments yesterday pass without drawing attention to one or two aspects of them.

Steve: Is it a coincidence that three public figures - me, Paulette Stevens (1) and Isaac Kappy (2) - all came alive within a short time of each other to the need to do something about pedophilia or other chaos in our society?

Archangel Michael: No, it is the next theme, dear heart, the global theme that is unfolding at the moment and it is really - might we say - one of the basest areas of abuse that has need to be addressed.

Steve: Are there others that were awakened as well?

AAM: There have been many all over the planet that have been waking and the revelations that are taking place are also awakening many to say, "Something needs to be done." So the time is right.

Pedophilia is one of the basest areas of abuse and so it needs to stop. That's one reason why several people have been suddenly awakened to the need to act. They join many thousands already at work in the field - the newest recruits.

It's also a global theme that's unfolding at the moment, he says, many people having revelations and having the idea that "something needs to be done."

I think we're being called to action.

Michael has spoken to us for years about leadership and now he sends out his call to begin.

We must end our lethargic tolerance of the world's ills, as long as they're happening elsewhere, and stir ourselves to action.

We may not be awakened around pedophilia. It may be around Yemen, Ebola, polluted water, etc. But this is a time of awakening.

And what are we awakening to? We're awakening to areas of unworkability in our world. We're looking to make them workable.

The noblest outcome we can aim for is win/win - not us against them, but us and them. In some instances we may not reach that high an exchange, but it can be our intention.

After Michael and the Mother have spoken to us for years about leadership, divine authority, and building Nova Earth, some of us, perhaps many of us, are being called to active duty.

Did I know I'd be asked to choose pedophilia? No, I didn't. I didn't know until the day someone whispered it in my ear.

It may be the same for you. Remember, in my view, we were trained to be leaders. The field was left to be determined.

That doesn't mean I won't start projects in other areas. The work of the Michaelangelo Fund is to create many projects.

Others may choose to specialize and focus in one project. Whatever the case, it looks like round about now is the time we're being nudged to begin.

Archangel Michael on Pedophilia: A Little is Not Acceptable

September 24, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/09/24/archangel-michael-on-pedophilia-a-little-is-not-acceptable/>

In this extract from my Sept. 21 reading with Archangel Michael, he tells me it was he who put the sentence in my head, "I cannot write another thing until I write something about pedophilia." He says that we'll work on this one together and lays out how we'll work and where we're headed.

I refer to two horrifying photos I viewed recently, both of which he says are fakes.

He says there was no video on Anthony Wiener's laptop. Who can you believe?

Steve: Now, pedophilia... Was it you who put the idea in my head in the Safeway that I cannot write another word until I write about pedophilia?

Archangel Michael: Yes, that is correct.

Steve: You know I watched the New York Police Department video or what is alleged to be the NYPD video in which I saw the disfigured face of a murdered young girl. Was that a true picture?

AAM: No, it was not. It was a doctored video.

Steve: Is there such a video?

AAM: There are many different videos but in terms of this issue, no, there are not.

Steve: So there is no video on Anthony Weiner's laptop?

AAM: No, there is not.

Steve: Oh my God!

AAM: This is what we are saying about distractions, beloved one.

Steve: Oh my, okay, very good. Now, what about the other picture of the boy on the table. He's been put in the oven and roasted and has been served up for dinner.

AAM: That is simply not true.

Steve: God, are we ever being manipulated!

AAM: Yes, you are! That is why we say, bring the focus back.

We are not suggesting to you, in any way shape or form, that pedophilia is not a critical, important, deep issue that goes to the collective heart of humanity, that there is a belief or a system that thinks it's all right to abuse women and children and even each other.

But the point is, in the media manipulation, under the banner of "Lightworker," there are so many distractions and lies that what it is doing is destroying credibility and that cannot be permitted!

Steve: The kinds of scenes that were represented in the two faked photographs, are they nonetheless happening?

AAM: Children are not being roasted alive and eaten. That is fabrication.

Steve: Fabrication... I'm glad to hear that, I sincerely am glad. What do you wish me to do now? Where do you wish me to go with this?

I have given a date by which I'd like everyone to align on having pedophilia and harm to women cease on the planet and that's January 1, 2020.

AAM: What you are doing next - and let me also say, what we - you and I - are doing next - is focusing on the healing, the clearing, the redirection of social, moral, spiritual, emotional issues that, somehow undercover [obscure?], subtly and actually, creating an environment where such behaviour is tacitly accepted.

No one, in any realm - well, any realm particularly in the Western world - would say that it is alright, that it is acceptable, that it is fine to proceed with abusing children - or women for that matter.

And yet, it is accepted. It is one of those things that it is alright as long as you don't make us look at it. As long as you don't make us admit that somehow such behaviour is alright, that it is a part of human psyche or behaviours, that somehow it's acceptable.

So the direction in which you move, and which we move, is to work and continue to anchor on behalf of the Mother, not only the heart opening but the heart speaking, the heart listening, the heart awareness and the righteous anger that such behaviour is an outrage and must be addressed.

And addressed, not in punitive ways, but in ways that literally reconstruct societies, environments and the planet where [people think that] such manipulation is in any way acceptable because it is not.

A conscious, awakened human being, whether they believe in the Mother or a higher power or anything, their humanist instincts indicate that this cannot be permissible.

There is no latitude. There is no give in this. Understand what I say. A little is not acceptable. So that is the direction in which we move.

You move away from these media distractions, these fabrications that are literally intended to distract you to the place where it is the fundamental reconstruction and the construction, the building of Nova Earth. (1) And on Nova Earth, there are no abusers.

Steve: What Robert David Steele said to the ITNJ sitting in London, which I watched the other day, is he mostly accurate?

AAM: Yes.

Steve: All the missing children... Are they going into this pedophile network?

AAM: No, many of them are being hijacked and adopted and put to work. So no, they are not necessarily in this pedophile network.

Footnotes

(1) You heard him: I'm going to move away from media distractions, whether mainstream or lightworker. And concentrate on building a Nova Earth without pedophilia.

No Excuse to Forget about the Children

June 1, 2024

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2024/06/01/no-excuse-to-forget-about-the-children/>

I don't even want to look at forgiving while the militaries of the world are in the field risking their lives to rescue trafficked and enslaved women and children.

Used for sexual slavery, adrenochrome production, and organ harvesting, many of them are caged for their short lives.

These scenes are probably among the 40% the Earth Alliance will not show during the ten days of broadcasts. And all the evil that follows on down the line from it, even after the children are dead.

I am weeping as I write this.

Why do I mention it if the Alliance will not? Because I can say what the Alliance cannot. And would be shouting from the rooftops if they could:

We cannot fall asleep for a moment to the plight of countless women and children around the world, many of whom are right now living in cages and exploited for all of their short lives.

Ordinary limits on etiquette and even decency do not apply when young children are being raped and tortured and we turn our eyes to see what's for breakfast.

We'd burn a bank if our welfare was at issue, but we sleep as nations through the very worst possible treatment of our kidnapped children and those imported from numerous other nations.

I can well appreciate why Iris Chang, the author of The Rape of Nanking, committed suicide. Or Janet Ossebaard, the co-creator of The Fall of the Cabal.

For Chang, the mindset behind the Rape of Nanking did not somehow die with the Second World War. (1) Underground, it flourished. It must have horrified her, if she knew, to see how it had in fact spread.

The rape of Nanking is now happening below our cities, in deep underground military bunkers and, yes, the dark-hat military is involved. I wager its extent plus the death toll from the toxic vaccines dwarfs any other mass-death event short of the Black Plague.

Every President of the United States except Presidents Carter and Trump has been involved in what Candace Owen aptly called "institutional evil." Every one of them has been executed for treason and human-rights abuses directly related to child trafficking.

No, you won't read about this in the New York Times. But that's no excuse to forget about the children.

Footnotes

(1) The United States, for instance, took in Nazi army intelligence agents along with their rocket scientists and confiscated the findings of Japanese Unit 731 in Manchuria. We now see the uses the data were put to (MK-Ultra is a good example) and what loyalties have flourished.

Robert David Steele: Overview of International Child Trafficking

Ex-CIA agent Robert David Steele, Chief Counsel for the ITNJ Judicial Commission of Inquiry into Human Trafficking and Child Sex Abuse, gives a very useful overview of international child trafficking, the involvement in child procurement of the military, law enforcement, Congress, NGOs like Oxfam, Child Services, etc.

A solid introduction to the field of pedophilia.

Not in Our Name: A Legal and Moral Declaration and Pledge of Non-Cooperation issued by Concerned Roman Catholic Clergy

Sep. 24, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/?p=296169>

NOT IN OUR NAME

A Legal and Moral Declaration and Pledge of Non-Cooperation issued by Concerned Roman Catholic Clergy

Issued on Sunday, September 23, 2018

<https://operationdisclosure.blogspot.com/2018/09/itccs-legal-and-moral-declaration-and.html>

We are a group of clergy within the Roman Catholic Church who in good conscience are unable to associate any longer with the criminal, anti-Christian actions of the Vatican and the Papacy. We refer to the massive cover up of violent crimes against children now being perpetrated as a matter of policy by the church hierarchy: crimes in which every Catholic is expected to collude.

The growing exposure in the world media of a massive network in our church of child trafficking, rape, torture and murder, and the direct implication of the Pope and senior Cardinals and Bishops in this network, compels every one of us to make a choice. For by our daily association with the Church of Rome we are accomplices in its crimes, under both the laws of God and Man. No Papal statute or command can justify or absolve such a criminal and sinful association. Whether Pope or Priest, we must all face and answer to God for our actions, or our inaction. And we must also answer to the Law.

Under the law, anyone – including ordained clergymen – can be tried and convicted for harming a child or enabling or concealing those who do. As Catholics, we are all therefore guilty and subject to prosecution according to our own church policy known as Crimen Sollicitationas (1929), which requires that we suppress evidence of child abuse in the church, not tell the police of such abuse, and silence the victims. This policy refers to the rape of children as “a pontifical secret” which, if disclosed, will result in the excommunication of any honest Catholic who reports the crime! Such a bizarre and inhuman statute constitutes a massive criminal conspiracy for which we are all liable for arrest and prosecution. (1)

For this reason, as moral beings and followers of Jesus Christ, we cannot any longer adhere to the collusion and silence imposed on us by a criminal church regime that places its own money and power ahead of the lives and safety of children. For did not our Lord tell us, “Whatever you do to the least of these my people, you do to me?”; and “Whoever would cause one of these little ones to fall, it would be better that a millstone be tied around his neck and he be cast into the sea”?

Christ’s judgement on those who harm children is the same as ours.

Accordingly, as of this day, we publicly disassociate ourselves from any allegiance to the leaders of the Church of Rome and from our vows of obedience to our Bishops and to the Pope. We will not be subject any longer to Crimen Sollicitationas and its requirement of collusion with the rape and murder of children. Under the law of God and Man, we are obligated to always protect children and prosecute their tormentors, not simply when it is expedient.

As a consequence, we pledge ourselves to the following faithful course of action:

1. We will actively uncover and report to our congregations, the police and the media any violence or other crimes done against children within our parishes, dioceses and communities, regardless of Church policy.
2. We will also uncover and report to our congregations, the police and the media the names of anyone within the Church who harms a child or who aids and abets such harm, and who conceals it, regardless of their rank or position within the Church.
3. As ordained clergymen, we will refuse to give Holy Communion or any other sacrament of the Church to anyone associated with such crimes. We will also refuse to accept financial donations or tithings of such persons.
4. If ordered by our nominal superiors to collude with such crimes, or if we face discipline or punishments for acting according to our consciences and the Law, we will separate ourselves from those officials and continue to conduct our pastoral and sacramental offices apart from the church hierarchy, within separate congregations under the authority of Christ Alone.
5. We will actively reach out to all our brethren clergy and to all Roman Catholics in our communities, and urge them to join us and take this same pledge of Non-Cooperation and Witness against the anti-Christ regime that governs our Church.

Our faith is in God and not in Man. As God wills it, so it is done.

Our Transformational Toolbox: Committed Speaking – Part 1/2

August 30, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/30/our-transformational-toolbox-committed-speaking-part-1-2/>

Written before reading Adamu's "Open Letter," (1) an exemplar of committed speaking.

Some days ago, I fell into a funk from endless waiting. Fears of survival arose.

And I had to pull myself out.

I asked myself how I was going to do that.

I received the following message in the local Safeway, "I cannot let another day go by without writing something against pedophilia." (2) I was completely dumbstruck. Who said that?

The thought did not come from me. But when I tried it on, it fit. It described a way I was feeling so I adopted it.

It had already adopted me. When I reached home, I could not write on anything other than pedophilia. Leave our kids alone, you bullies. It was that basic. I still feel the grrrr's when I say it. A real Braveheart moment.

I'd like to leave aside the actual issue of stopping pedophilia and look at the process it was embedded in.

The articles I wrote did in fact pull me out of my funk. It's that way whenever I write articles like that. They shake me out of my bed of lethargy which I think of as "tolerance."

What's behind them is a mechanism of transformation that I really want to focus on here, as a tool in our transformational toolbox.

Werner Erhard called it "committed speaking." It has the power to "call us forth" or "presence the Self," as he'd say.

All three phrases are describing the same process, which, like all processes, is wordless and has no name. I call it, as Werner did, "transformation," because that's what the process is and results in. In my case, it had the power, the juice, to transform my experience - from a funk to fully present.

I can give you a second example of a transformational process. "Blessing" is such a process. When I go from blaming to blessing, it's as if, as in Stargate, I walk through a wall of heavy water and am out the other side.

"Committed speaking" means I express what I'm committed to. I express my commitment. And I come from it and honor it.

And that's indeed what happened at the Safeway. Beneficial results came almost immediately. The next day I realized the transformative quality of blessing and the next morning I landed up in a quiet mind.

Committed speaking does presence the Self.

Leave our children alone. It isn't OK anywhere on the planet to be abusing our children and it must stop. Everywhere on Earth.

It's as if committed speaking is a pole that allows us to vault over the wall of our resistance. The wall is based on some fear that's arisen in us. My fear was that, if this waiting period went on much longer, we might not be able to hang on. For me, I'm in a real test of faith.

The arising of the thought "I cannot let another day pass..." altered my mode and mood, my step, my routine, my part in the duet of One, as Ramesh Balsekar calls it.

It was a colossal "withhold," a secret, which I tied up my energy protecting. I can't stand what's happening to our children. Why does the world not stop what it's doing immediately and take all necessary action to stop the harmful practices today? Who is delinquent? Who refuses to investigate?

It interrupted what was happening within me, took my focus off it, and refocused me on a noble goal that had been bothering me more than I could bear, anyways. This was the last straw. I fairly exploded when I let my energy out. But it was also the grain of sand that became a pearl.

Now is the time for committed speaking.

Steve: Now, pedophilia... Was it you who put the idea in my head in the Safeway that I cannot write another word until I write about pedophilia?

Make Our “No!” Be Heard – Part 2/2

August 15, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/15/make-our-no-be-heard-part-2-2/>

I've been getting reports of pedophilia from a number of sources, on a regular basis.

I watch as many videos as I can without totally throwing things over and going back for a law degree so I can join the fight against pedophilia.

I was shopping in Safeway Aug. 14, when I heard myself say to myself: "I can't go another minute without publicly speaking out against pedophilia." (1)

I'm using the word "pedophilia" to cover child trafficking, exploitation, rape, torture, and murder.

Look at how long it's taken us to get over our own childhood trauma.

I've seen a woman go through her recovery process from ritual sexual abuse in repeated Enlightenment Intensives and I got her pain. A woman in a video Kathleen showed me took, I believe, 18 years to recover from her trauma after abuse as a sex slave.

Compared to theirs, mine - and perhaps that of most of us - is absolutely nothing. How will they get over it?

Children being tortured, raped, and murdered. (2) Children being "ordered" like pizza with a code for infant, girl, boy, white, black, etc. Taken into the White House and shown around. The grossest acts being visited upon young kids, no different from everyone's children - and could be anyone's. (3)

All these years when children have gone missing, what did we think? Well, now we know.

I'm on the warpath here. Our children should be safe. In my childhood, as I recall, we always felt safe. We could leave our bikes anywhere. Any adult would help us. The police were our friends. No idea of danger ever entered our minds, save from the local bully.

It's unacceptable to me that we've fallen so low as to prey on our children today and make it necessary that they should be afraid of those who should be their protectors.

This is not the world I wish to live in - and I'm not leaving. This world will have to change.

No more pedophilia, in all its forms. No more lies about it. No more tolerance of the child-trafficking-to-child-murder cycle.

Pedophilia must stop immediately, everywhere on this planet. I say this on my own sovereign independence and authority.

Investigative Journalist Jen Moore was found dead in a suburban Washington D.C. hotel room Monday, according to police and shocked and distraught friends and colleagues.

Moore died of an apparent seizure. Police are closely investigating the cause of death after former FBI Agent Robyn Gritz, a friend of Moore's, made inquiries with homicide detectives Monday afternoon in Prince Georges County, Maryland. Preliminary reports from police said the death was not the result of suicide. ...

Moore, an advocate who investigated abused and trafficked children, had been in the process of investigating allegations by a 26-year-old man that — as a young boy — he was sexually assaulted by Bill Clinton and pimped out at private sex parties attended by other D.C. elites.

In fact, just four weeks before her death, Moore filed details of the alleged victim's claims with the Department of Homeland Security, detailing the allegations against Clinton. Moore contacted Homeland Security beginning on July 6th through July 9th, records show. A week later, she contacted the FBI with identical details about the victim and the shocking allegations against Clinton.

FBI sources report no case has been opened on the evidence supplied by Moore. [Why has no case been opened?]

I still refuse to believe that Pope Francis is mixed up in these matters. Instead I believe that he's in the Vatican to bring them to a halt.

Is Pope Francis a Human-Rights Abuser? – Part 1/2

July 14, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/07/14/is-pope-francis-a-human-rights-abuser-part-1-2/>

Some lightworkers have taken up the allegations against Pope Francis the same way others have taken up the equally-untrue allegations against President Obama.

No matter who makes the allegations, I see them as unfortunate. I listen to my sources from other dimensions and star systems and they deny that Pope Francis has been involved in any corrupt activities.

Far from it. They say that he is in the papacy to clean up the Vatican.

Let's listen to what they have to say about Pope Francis. The Company of Heaven is the name given to the collective of our ascended masters, higher-dimensional star family, and celestials (archangels, seraphim, elohim, etc.), here to help us - in this instance - to remove the cabal from power.

To charges of rape and other human-rights abuses, Sanat Kumara, keeper of the Universal Law, responded on An Hour with an Angel: "I am telling you that this individual has not been responsible for human atrocities." (1)

I spoke with Archangel Michael through Linda Dillon July 13, 2018 to ask him about the allegations. Here's that conversation:

Steve Beckow: What is behind the International Common Law Court's actions? Are they just wrong?

Archangel Michael: Some of the reports of what this legal body is up to are incorrect. ...

Steve: So he has not killed any child, raped any child, trafficked any child....

AAM: No, he has not.

Is this person a saint? Or has this person been a saint? Yes, he has been a saint. Is he a saint in this life? No, he is not. But he is a person who is trying to navigate and bring an end to much of the abuses of authority, of cruelty, of rape, etc.

So no, we would not go along with this condemnation. (2)

Now let's go back in time and see what our sources have said on the matter historically.

Matthew Ward answered the allegations in 2017, saying that they were not true, and continued:

"This is what is true: Pope Francis has encountered relentless opposition from the Illuminati because he is doing his best to oust or demote cardinals who are high in their ranks; end sacrificial rituals—the Vatican is the international headquarters of Satanism - make the Vatican's immorally-amassed monetary fortunes available to uplift the lives of the impoverished; end centuries-old dogma devised to control the masses; and he exemplifies the spiritual aspects of the religion—love, compassion, empathy, humility and forgiveness.

"All of that is completely contrary to Illuminati interests and intentions. Pope Francis' only connection with anything Nazi is his desire to return to the rightful owners the art treasures stolen by WWII Nazis and hidden in the Vatican." (3)

Here's Matthew's summary of Pope Francis' intentions:

"Pope Francis acts with genuine caring, honesty, humility and soul-level inspiration. Others in the church hierarchy act from fear that any deviation from dogma could weaken their control over devout adherents and worse, lead to more revelations about long-hidden truths.

"After disclosure some years ago that pedophiles in the priesthood were being protected by the Vatican, that body was determined to prevent any other secrets from emerging.

"To wit, it is the international headquarters of Satanism and houses art treasures and gold gained by collaborating with the Nazis during WWII; some cardinals are Illuminati; Christianity's foundation was devised by early rulers of state and church to control the beliefs and pocketbooks of the masses, and through the centuries since then Catholicism added blatant falsehoods to cement control over their global congregation; popes who advocated reforms were assassinated.

“When those truths come forth, only spiritual aspects of that religion, and all others as well, will be retained.” (4)

St. Germaine says much the same thing as Matthew, through a different channel:

“There are many who would not only like to have Pope Francis maligned and dragged down but would like to have him removed from this office because he is a pope of the people.

“And he is clearing [them] out. What you see and read and hear about the more public actions of Pope Francis in terms of shifting, cleansing the Vatican is about 1% of what he is really doing.

“There is an expression about wiping something clean [with] a new broom. We did not really have brooms in our time that were really that effective. But, yes, this [rumor that Pope Francis is corrupt] is malicious gossip.” (5)

St. Germaine asks for the witnesses to be brought forward and questioned in a balanced way:

“What we would say is truly bring the witnesses forward. Let them be examined in a balanced way. This is simply another example. Much has been fabricated. Do not allow this to stall what is happening in terms of creating Nova Earth. Do not allow it.” (6)

Let’s go back to the early days of Pope Francis’ papacy and see what the galactics and celestials had to say about him then.

When Pope Francis ascended the Holy See, Matthew wrote:

“The spiritually evolved soul who embodied as Jorge Bergoglio did so by request of the highest universal council so that later he could fill the powerfully influential papal position. In keeping with the soul’s acceptance, the universe 'paved the way' for the opportunity that ‘fit.’

“Thus Bergoglio became the pope and despite strong opposition in the Vatican, he is acting upon what he feels is his 'responsibility,' to right the wrongs that body has perpetrated from its inception.” (7)

Archangel Gabrielle calls Pope Francis a gift to the planet:

“Pope Francis is a gift to your planet and that will have a ripple effect that will change the face of what people think of as faith vs. religion.” (8)

Matthew said in 2015 that charges against him were based on “malicious disinformation”:

“Absolutely he acts from purity of heart. Speculation that he secretly is working with the Illuminati is malicious disinformation, very likely disseminated by them to blur the truth that he is uprooting their centuries of entrenchment in the Vatican.” (9)

Pope Francis has been protected to see that the same fate as Pope John met is not meted out to Francis, Matthew tells us.

‘Pope John Paul had the same intent [as Pope Francis]. Against his will he was cloned before being poisoned. Had Pope Francis resisted involvement, the same fate would have befallen him—to expose this evil long-perpetuated by the Vatican hierarchy, he had to stay alive.’ (10)

He predicts the end of the Vatican’s corruption and evil as the light rises on the planet:

“Like his colleagues in the Vatican and some individuals outside, Pope Francis knows of situations hidden from public view, and he has the innate goodness to feel compelled to end the most ungodly [situation] —the international headquarters of Satanism in the bowels of the Vatican.

“As the light keeps intensifying, that end will indeed come, but it remains to be seen if the Pope has the ability to defy those who are dead set against letting the world know that this diabolical situation ever existed within the Vatican walls.” [11]

People may say “let’s keep things to this dimension” and “I prefer the testimony of people on the ground.”

But the fact remains that this planet would not even be here if it weren't for the help given by the people from higher dimensions. Depleted uranium alone, which our star family has removed, would have killed this planet. (12)

We wouldn't have escaped from the clutches of the Illuminati without their assistance. And the leadership of lightworkers like the much-slandered President Obama and Pope Francis. (13)

When we bite on the Illuminati's bait of stories of rape associated with Pope Francis, we're neutralizing an essential member of the Alliance.

Neutralizing him will have been accomplished by the same process followed in neutralizing President Obama. And we lightworkers will have fallen for it both times and been a part of it.

Pope Francis is dedicated to taking the criminality and corruption in the Vatican down and restoring it to its original sanctity.

Think about it. Do you really want to neutralize the one person with the power and the willingness to do that? (14)

(Concluded from Part 1, yesterday.)

In the second part of this article I'd like to cite a portion of Sanat Kumara's 2013 interview on An Hour with an Angel, in which he gave the Company of Heaven's estimation of the then-new Pope Francis.

Sanat Kumara is the planetary logos, who, from the point of view of Gaia and her Ascension is the person in charge.

Said he of Pope Francis: "I am telling you that this individual has not been responsible for human atrocities."

Steve Beckow: One reader writes in that Jorge Mario Bergoglio is accused of ... numerous human-rights abuses and acts of corruption, of representing an order, the Jesuits, that has historically oppressed people and committed crimes against humanity, which this reader says makes the new Pope liable for immediate arrest and sentencing under international law.

Now, of course, everyone is innocent until proven guilty of anything, so I'm certainly not trying to invest the reader's words with some sort of finality, but would you address the reader's concerns? And after that we'll have other questions for you about the Pope.

Sanat Kumara: What I am asking of you, of your hearts and of your beings, is first and foremost to look at the purity of this individual. And it is seldom that we would use these words. Now, has this one been positioned in a country and in a nation, and yes, even in an order where there have been numerous human rights offenses? Yes.

But when you are also looking and wanting to seek out and try and discern and discredit an individual who has been chosen - is chosen - and I'm not talking about chosen by a college of cardinals, I'm talking about chosen in a much larger sense - and your beginning point is to discredit and pull down this individual - then what you are also doing is, first, you are staying stuck in the old reality of the Third Dimension and you are looking for reasons to anchor there and to anchor him there when that is not where any of you belong.

There is a point to what I say. And perhaps it has been said more eloquently before. There are very few human beings upon the planet who have never done anything that is harmful, cruel, unjust, unkind, unloving and out of alignment with the truth of who they are.

And you say to me, "Oh, Raj, this is ridiculous, what you are saying. This is a matter of degree. We are not talking about someone speaking an unkind word. We are talking about human atrocities."

And I am telling you that this individual has not been responsible for human atrocities. Has he been affiliated, and in a position where he has been holding the light and shifting the energies? Yes. Has he been in a position where he has been humiliated, where he has humbled himself to serve? Yes.

This is one of the primary lessons - it is a good place for you to start, Steve - it is one of the primary lessons that Earth and human beings are learning at this juncture. And it is the lessons and the quality, not just the lip service, but the quality of forgiveness.

Not of being blind, not of overlooking what needs to be corrected. I would be the last one to suggest that. But where is the clemency in your heart? Where is your desire to start afresh in a very different reality, where in fact those qualities of atrocity, of abuse, do not exist?

So what you are saying - inherent in the question - is the same division that has hampered the forward movement of the collective. It is the choice that some can come and some can't. And that is neither loving nor kind, but it is also the antithesis of what the human collective on a soul level has decided.

So your real question is, does this individual, Francis, have the bona fides to assume this position of trust of the papacy, to be the leader of many? And whether you agree with this institution of the Catholic Church and the history of the Catholic Church, and many of the wrongdoings that have been committed in the name of Christ and God and the Holy Mother, or whether you do not, it is a new day.

And so what I say to you is that this individual, this man, is a very humble, but meaningful individual, has chosen and been chosen to step forward in this role during a time of very important transition. It is always interesting that so many are eager to point out the shortcomings of a figure, whether it is a family member or someone in a position of public notoriety.

But if they are going to do that, then it is also necessary to point to the fullness of the picture of the individual, what they have done right. And your question does not speak to that.

So I say to you, I say to you as one not interfering with human will but certainly guiding it, if I am permitted to do that, that this man - because that is what he is; throw away the concept of saint or sinner, please; it serves none - this man steps forward with a true desire to serve and to transform an institution that is in dire need of transformation.

SB: All right. Thank you. That's probably going to be very helpful to a lot of people. There's a second rumor going around that he's a walk-in. Is that rumor true?

SK: There is a difference between what you think of as a walk-in and someone who has been overlit. And I know your readers are well aware of these differences, but just in case, I will just briefly review. A walk-in is when the soul has reached exit points, or through prayer and pleading, a direct plea for divine intervention, completely vacates the body and thereby leaves and allows another to take up residency, usually for purposes of that soul to complete their journeys and the mission and purpose that they wish to complete upon the planet.

This one has known for a long time of the pathway that he was guided to. And he has committed his entire life to devotion to and service of the Divine Mother. He is much like you, my dear friend. And he is much like Yeshua, knowing of his path, knowing of the journey that lay ahead, and in some ways just wishing that it was more pedestrian and that he was left alone to live his life quietly with his family.

But that is not the path of this one. So let me be clear: Is he a walk-in? No. But having said that, he has been overlit directly, not only by the Divine Mother, because that has been in place for a long time, but also by what you think of as St. Francis. Hence his name.

Now, what does overlit mean? The overlit means that our beloved brother Francis adds his energy, his focus and his concentration, his delight, to the energy of this Pope called Francis. So you may think of it in some ways as cohabitation.

It is not that Francis, St. Francis, has assumed form, but energetically he has overlit the new Pope. Hence the query and the wondering, because the light is so strong with the combination of these two souls.

The agreement between these two is what is has always been, because they both knew this day would come. Or it was projected, shall we say, it would come. And that is to transform this outmoded institution and to bring it back to the Jesuit, to the Franciscan qualities. And if you go back to original purpose of humility, of poverty, of sharing, of service, of meekness, these are the things that you will see.

The primary focus of this Pope, yes, of course will be to clean up the atrocities, particularly the sexual abuses that have been and continue to occur, and the hiding of those abuses, but it will also be to build and to rebuild the sense of community, and not in ways that build the coffers of Rome, but to share the wealth of Rome.

It is a time of magnificent change. So often you have said to me and to the Company of Heaven, to the Divine Mother herself, and to our beloved friend Michael, "Show me a sign." Well, dear heart, this is one of the biggest signs of institutional change that you can witness. So pay attention. Pay attention in the coming months. We are not saying that this is going to be a process that he is going to stretch out.

Oh, will there be a lot of kicking and screaming by the power mongers? Yes. What you see in Francis is a humble, tolerant man with a will of steel who will simply dismiss what is not of love. He will not tolerate dragging of feet or subterfuge.

So what can you do other than simply observe this one? Send him your love and support, because as you know, as change occurs in one area, the ripples go out all over the pond, all over the planet. This is a catalyst for massive change. It is good news! “The Watergate break-in was strictly based on one thing – the pedophile records that were being kept at the Democratic National Headquarters.”

– Det. James Rothstein, NYPD, Retired

In October 2016, I presented at a Trauma and Dissociation conference in Seattle, USA. Following my talk, one attendee approached me in the hotel lobby where my fellow presenters sat at their merchandise stalls. “All this!” she shouted while sweeping her arm across the sideshow alley of over-priced books, stickers and fridge magnets, “All this – is shit! You have the real stuff! Where’s your book?!” Tears welled in her eyes. “Write a book! Please write a book!”

Yes, I have the real stuff. I'm not some arrogant academic pretending to understand what it's like to be a victim of the most heinous crimes. I lived it. I spent my developmental years trapped in a mind control labyrinth. I then spent my adult years navigating a way out. I eventually achieved what few victims have, true integration. I may therefore declare with authority what does and does not work.

I prefer the term 'victim' to 'survivor' because the latter implies my ordeal is over. My ordeal will likely never end. As Dr Reina Michaelson warned, "Fiona, I think this is a life sentence." I serve a life sentence for crimes committed against me, with the full knowledge and blessing of the Australian government. I am constantly harassed by police, paid agitators, pedophile payroll academics and journalists, DID sleeper cells, perpetrator relatives, fake victims, fake advocates, professional social media trolls, and retired intelligence community thugs hired to do the dirty work of the VIP pedophiles who dare not overtly attack me since that would attract media attention to their role in the international child trafficking operation.

Recovery from extreme abuse begins with realising the true nature and extent of international child trafficking. In 2015, a certain journalist wrote favourable articles about me concerning my Sydney press conference. I subsequently phoned and asked him to investigate and publish my full story. If only one mainstream journalist published my testimony against Antony Kidman, I reasoned, it would blow the international child trafficking network wide open. During this call, he relayed a conversation he once had with "a couple of spooks" who told him that all senior politicians are pedophiles because that is how they are controlled. He asked me if that was my story.

"That's exactly right. That's consistent with my experience," I tried to contain my excitement. "The mainstream media has long documented the CIA's involvement in drugs and weapons trafficking, right?"

He agreed, noting there had just been another story about that in the mainstream press.

"Well then, is it so hard to imagine they are also involved in trafficking children – which is far more lucrative than guns and drugs? ASIO and the CIA work together to traffic children between Australia and America. They're the ones who trafficked me."

The journalist promised to consider my request, bearing in mind he had a young family and publishing my story would surely place them at risk. But he never got back to me. A short time later, he suddenly developed a rare and aggressive form of cancer. I called him, expressed my condolences, and we chatted for a bit. At the end of the conversation, I mentioned I was considering writing a book. I asked him to clarify and elaborate on what he told me of his encounter with the "spooks".

"I never said that," he bluntly asserted.

I sighed in resignation... It was over. There went my last chance at breaking into the mainstream media. There went years of building rapport and credibility with mainstream journalists. Years of investigating other abuse cases and passing my findings on to television and newspapers. Years of driving journalists around the district to meet the victims themselves. Years of results in other cases. The Gold Coast Hogtie Doctor story went international, with Neville Davis being permanently banned from practising medicine in Australia (although, that doesn't stop him setting up shop in Thailand). Gary Willis' 20-year child abuse spree ended with a permanent ban on his teaching for the NSW education department (although, that didn't stop him from working for Education Queensland, at Tallebudgera Primary School). And NSW police were forced to do a mop up investigation of Daruk Boys Home after sensational headlines about a victim having his penis cut off went global (although, they left out the bit where Daruk boys were trafficked to VIP pedophiles at Kings Cross child brothels).

I had come so close. My 2015 press conference was statistically the most popular story on the Sydney Morning Herald website that day, even though their computer technicians refused to list it as the most viewed article. The USA National Inquirer intended to run a front-page story about Antony Kidman being a pedophile, until they received a vicious letter from Nicole's lawyers. A journalist and her photographer husband flew up from Sydney to interview me for a major Australian magazine – until Nicole, who had lucrative contracts with Sydney's media outlets, took a "Scientology approach to managing" me. Finally, a UK journalist travelled around the country interviewing me and two other victims of Antony Kidman for the Daily Mail Online, until one of the victims (whose parents were Antony Kidman's personal friends), was threatened and subsequently withdrew last minute.

Despite everything the pedophile network threw at me, my story still got out there, such that if you Google Antony Kidman's name, the words 'child abuse' soon follow. Once Nicole Kidman's PR team shut down my mainstream media exposure, by drawing on Kidman's lucrative contracts with every Australian media outlet, I turned to the internet. Armed with a simple meme app and a talent for lyric writing, I launched my own social media campaign. I spent years in front of the computer, communicating with hundreds of victims and supporters, many fake, many genuine. I hit the conspiracy theory jackpot when David Icke featured an enormous photograph of me and my story on his Australian speaking tour.

My tactics worked. Online articles about Nicole Kidman, where the public was free to leave negative comments, were followed by streams of intelligent attacks on her orchestrated stardom. I realised my impact when Kidman's PR team paid a newspaper and a morning television show to feature an article tellingly titled, 'Shame on you, Australia. Stop hating on Nicole Kidman.' People don't hate Nicole as an individual. They hate what the Harvey Weinstein scandal later highlighted: that Hollywood rewards something other than an ability to sing, dance or act. Hollywood rewards loyalty to their pedophile system.

But no amount of alternative media success can match a complete break into mainstream. So, I admitted defeat. I stopped posting and even checking my sites.

Days before the 2016 US Presidential Election, I received a barrage of texts from old friends asking if I was okay. People started inquiring about our family's welfare. I had no idea what was happening. Then I checked my blog site. A spike of 100,000 views in one day stemmed from an article that activist group Anonymous published about my being trafficked to American VIPs.

They used my story to undermine Hillary Clinton's candidacy and expose her involvement in a child sex trafficking ring. The Clinton Foundation was a front for the trafficking of children including Haiti earthquake victims. Bill and Hillary's trafficking network implicated her campaign chairman John Podesta.

Podesta and his brother Tony were staying in a villa owned by UK politician Sir Clement Freud, near British child Madeleine McCann when she disappeared in Portugal. Clement was Sigmund Freud's grandson who was outed in mainstream British media as a pedophile. John and Tony Podesta perfectly matched the identikit images Scotland Yard released of Madeleine's abductors.

Pedogate, as the scandal became known, surfaced when Wikileaks released emails from John Podesta's account in October 2016. The emails notably outed Hillary Clinton as a self-confessed "Molech" worshipper, and captured politicians ordering children for pedophile parties using fast-food code words.

The White House, for instance, made a massive 'fast food' order, contravening policy dictating all food be prepared onsite using raw ingredients to counter the security risk posed by externally prepared foods. The trafficked kids were held in transit cellars within local Washington DC businesses, including a restaurant where a drag entertainer was caught on tape boasting about raping and killing kids. Clean FBI and NYPD officers made multiple attempts to charge Clinton and other VIP members of the trafficking ring, but their efforts were typically thwarted by those above them in the chain of command.

Mainstream media giants launched a cover-up campaign against the leaked Podesta emails. The likes of CNN (founded by one of my pedophile rapists, Ted Turner) successfully drew the public's attention from what was contained in the emails, to who might have leaked them and spread 'fake news'.

Clinton herself never addressed or denied the emails contents. The emails were in fact leaked by US intelligence community staff who opposed organised pedophilia. Mainstream journalists who reported the truth of the matter were promptly fired. Dozens of Clinton staff and associates met untimely deaths, in quick succession. So Pedogate was discredited as 'fake news,' despite NBC's June 11, 2013 televised report regarding Hillary Clinton using her position as U.S. Secretary of State to cease an investigation into child sex trafficking within the State Department.

Pedogate reached the public via social media. YouTube featured interviews with credible witnesses who testified to the existence of an international child sex trafficking operation involving US politicians and the CIA. That was when I noticed retired NYPD Detective James Rothstein.

The Pedogate ring, he explained, was the same network he investigated for 35 years. Rothstein observed, the perpetrators were doing everything in their power to shut the Pedogate story down. He predicted the perpetrators would successfully bury it, like every other time their network was almost exposed.

Rothstein explained that the NYPD was no ordinary state police force, but a leading investigative agency with national and international offices. Back in 1966, Rothstein became the first police detective assigned to investigate the prostitution industry. He soon discovered the underground sexual blackmail operation that compromised politicians with child prostitutes. 'Human Compromise' is the term he uses for this honey-trap process. Rothstein and his colleagues found that up to 70 percent of top US government leaders had been compromised. The CIA conducted the human compromise operation, while the FBI's task was to cover it up.

Buy Book Esoteric Hollywood: Sex, Cults and Symbols in Film

James Rothstein was alerted to an identical VIP pedophile ring operating in the UK, when British Intelligence consulted him regarding the Profumo Affair. MI6 agents visited Rothstein in New York to extract what he knew about British politicians and other VIPs having sex with child prostitutes. This was part of their effort to cover up the true pedophile nature of the Profumo scandal.

Rothstein found the international pedophile rings are connected, and that their members meet at various world locations where each destination catered for a different type of degenerate sexual proclivity, including satanic themed abuse.

Rothstein and his colleagues encountered fierce resistance to the investigation and prosecution of members of the child trafficking operation. His investigative journalist contacts at the New York Times and Washington Post could not get stories about the VIP pedophile ring printed. All police, FBI, customs and IRS officers who pursued the VIP pedophile network above street level had their careers subsequently destroyed.

Rothstein's attempts to arrest key perpetrators were continually thwarted. The choice example is when he served the head of the CIA's human compromise operation, Tippy Richardson. According to pedophile turned police informant Ben Rose, in November 1971, Tippy Richardson, businessman Leonard Stewart (from OPEC, Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) and a surgeon named Dr Chesky, raped and murdered three boys aged 14 to 15 years in Rose's apartment on East 64th Street in New York City.

The New York State Select Committee on Crime subsequently served subpoenas on both Tippy Richardson and Leonard Stewart. When served, Richardson said that because he worked for the CIA, the subpoena would be withdrawn under the National Security Act by the time Rothstein and his colleague returned to their offices. It was.

In 1972, Rothstein arrested one of the five Watergate burglars, CIA operative Frank Sturgis. During a subsequent two-hour interrogation, he discovered the truth about Watergate. The burglars sought something they nicknamed "The Book" which listed the Democrat and Republican politicians who accessed child prostitutes, their sexual proclivities, the amounts they paid to rape kids, and such.

The official Watergate explanation is that the Republicans broke into Democratic National Committee Headquarters to obtain information about their election strategies. People who lived through Watergate typically comment with a frown, "that never made sense."

Rothstein's experiences make better sense of why Nixon conspired to quash the Watergate investigation, why he suggested the investigation posed a threat to national security, why his personal secretary destroyed Oval Office tape recordings after they were subpoenaed, and why his own Vice President issued a pardon which protected him from prosecution for any crimes he had “committed or may have committed or taken part in” as president. If Nixon’s crimes included pedophilia, that would make perfect sense.

I am confident President Richard Nixon and his good buddy ‘the Reverend’ Billy Graham were named in the Watergate pedophile records, because I was sex trafficked to both men as a young child.

When I spoke with James Rothstein, he said he had not heard that Nixon was a pedophile, but that he certainly knew from multiple victims Reverend Billy Graham was a rampant pedophile. Rothstein also told me that during his investigations he became aware of an identical child sex trafficking ring in Australia involving Prime Ministers. Although he never directly investigated it himself, he said Peter Osborne who worked in Australian intelligence knew the details. He also confirmed that Australian politicians and other VIPs attended international child brothels.

Another voice to surface in the wake of the Pedogate scandal was Dutch banker Ronald Bernard. Bernard shed further light on the people and system behind the international child trafficking network during a series of interviews with an Irma Schiffers. Bernard said he worked in international finance and high-end money laundering for 12 years. There he discovered that political power does not reside with publicly elected representatives, but with the world’s 8,000 to 8,500 wealthiest individuals who exercise power behind the scenes and who routinely manipulate the media.

These people, he explained, sit at the top of a power structure that resembles a pyramid. Directly beneath them sits the Bank for International Settlements (BIS). Below the BIS sit the IMF (International Monetary Fund) and the World Bank. Below them sit the Central Banks, which are illegally created private banks which oversee the commercial banking system of their respective countries. Below these sit the multinational companies. Finally, below these sit the countries’ governments.

Bernard said the wealthiest 8,000 to 8,500 people created the BIS in 1930. Since the world’s richest individuals are too young to have helped establish the BIS 88 years ago, he must be referring to banking dynasties like the Rothschilds. In a Chapter titled, ‘Banking and the World’s Biggest Business,’ the book Dope, Inc.: Britain’s Opium War Against the U.S. (Kalimtgis, Goldman & Stienberg, 1978) lists the Rothschilds as one of the nine family dynasties responsible for the modern drug industry which, they assert, “is run as a single integrated world operation, from the opium poppy to the nickel bag of heroin sold on an inner-city corner.”

The current global drug trade was established by the British Crown during the Opium Wars, when P&O steam lines were founded to transport the drugs, the HSBC bank was established to launder the proceeds, and the ‘court Jews’ (Rothschilds) were employed to financially manage the operation. Apparently, little has changed, and the same operation has simply been expanded.

Buy Book In Plain Sight: The Life and Lies of Jimmy Savile

There must have been some truth to the content of Dope Inc. because its revelations resulted in the HSBC bank losing its license to operate in the USA. The book also inspired law enforcement officials to swap their assumption that drug trafficking consisted of pockets of independent criminal activity, for the fact [is that] it is a global network coordinated by the CIA, with proceeds laundered through banks and funneled into the CIA's covert, terrorist operations.

This is the very system Ronald Bernard described. He said his own laundering operation dealt with governments, multinationals, terrorist organisations, and secret services. Secret service agencies, he specified, do not serve and protect a people or country as the public expect. Instead, they are all criminal organizations that trade in drugs, weapons, and children. According to Bernard, the wealthy elites controlled their employees by compromising and blackmailing them – just like James Rothstein said.

The best way to understand the child trafficking industry is to trace the history of the drug trafficking industry. As you read Dope Inc., cross out each occurrence of the word 'drugs' and replace it with the word 'kids' – this will give you a picture of the child trafficking network that victimised me. Like the drug trade, the child sex trafficking industry is run by the very same people as a single integrated world operation. At the top of this sit the wealthy elite who maintain control by ensuring only blackmailed, compromised politicians, military brass, and government officials occupy leadership. The secret services, including ASIO, the CIA and British Intelligence, coordinate the child trafficking and human compromise operation, receive the victims procured via the little men, train these into suitable assets, and transport the victims nationally and internationally to service VIP pedophiles.

Australia is in the process of two federal investigations, the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Abuse, and the Royal Commission into Misconduct in the Banking, Superannuation and Financial Services Industry. Only one of these investigations has shed any light on the global child trafficking network I personally reported to the Child Abuse Royal Commission. On 5 April 2018, the newly appointed head of AUSTRAC (Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre) told the ABC news:

I thought coming from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission that I had a pretty good handle on serious and organised crime side. I didn't appreciate the depth and breadth of involvement with private entities and banks. I didn't appreciate how many industries it does actually touch. There's a misperception that money laundering is a victimless white-collar crime that's probably just looking at tax avoidance – and it's not. It's criminal entities using financial institutions here and nationally to move criminal funds around our country and our financial system overseas and it has a massive impact on everyday life; whether that's child exploitation, serious and organised crime, drug importation – it all involves money laundering.

Australia's Commonwealth Bank was subsequently fined 700 million dollars for near 54,000 breaches of anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism financing laws, including the laundering of proceeds from child sex trafficking, and the channeling of funds into overseas terrorist organisations. So, my very own bank, which wooed my kiddie custom with a green tin money box painted to resemble a building, simultaneously facilitated my child abuse.

We'll Find Out

Aug. 28, 2018

goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/28/well-find-out/

My awakening to a need for action was framed in terms of pedophilia.

I found myself in the local Safeway on April 14, 2018, saying to myself, "I cannot go another day without speaking out publicly about pedophilia."

And when I got home, I couldn't do another thing until I wrote my first piece on it. (1)

But someone else's awakening may very well be around something else - for instance, world hunger or gender equality or an end to war. What issue you or I choose to take on as lightworkers is not as important as that we do choose to take one on.

What we choose to lead in is important but equally important is the very act of choosing to lead.

How many lightworkers are there in the world? Not that many. How many awake people in your neighborhood? I haven't met all that many in mine. Therefore the load on us to manage or absorb the popular reaction to any of the major events (made public) is that much greater because we're so few.

And the call on us to lead is also that much greater. We're like a spice that gets sprinkled over the main dish. It just takes a little to pick up the whole dish. But the dish does need the spice.

Returning to my suddenly-awakened felt need to act, deconstructing pedophilia is an urgent and worldwide issue. The process we use to end it is important, but equally important is the process as a process. A global scourge will have been deconstructed and how we did it will - because it's new - form a template.

We'll all of us be creating templates these days because all we'll be doing will be new - just as Occupy or #MeToo was. Many of our initiatives won't stand up for more than a year or two before being overtaken by new ways of doing things, becoming new templates. That's not ours to worry about. But ours will help start the ball rolling.

The contours of this future and unknown process whereby we overcome a global scourge with a minimum of conflict is what interests me as a lightworker. It catches and holds my attention. (2)

How do we tackle a global problem, a global scourge and yet not become polarized or conflictual ourselves? Demand that it stop and have it stop, while leaving as little residue as possible?

We'll find out.

Matt Doran Goes Undercover with Operation Underground Railroad to Bring Down Haiti Child Sex Ring

Sunday Night's Matt Doran goes undercover with Operation Underground Railroad to bring down Haiti child sex ring

GO BEHIND the scenes with an elaborate, multi-agency bust that has been almost a year in the planning.

Matt Doran, news.com.au, July 23, 2017

<https://tinyurl.com/ydfbp66>

“WHO is afraid of the water?”

The question, from a former special agent with the US Department of Homeland Security, is directed at a group of children being held against their will in a rusted home hidden in the hills of Petion-Ville, in the republic of Haiti.

The undercover human trafficking operative produces an iPhone, and shows the children an image of a luxury yacht, moored nearby in the Caribbean.

There's a moment of awkward laughter, before, gradually, a few tiny arms shoot up in the air.

“Wi, wi,” they say in Creole, explaining that they're scared.

With us are a dozen children, who've been released by their captors from locked rooms at the back of the property. They are aged between eight and 14 years old.

They are sex slaves.

Child trafficking victims who've spent their formative years servicing the carnal desires of men, often foreigners, who are three, four, five or six times their age.

Their madam tells me that many of their customers are western humanitarian workers who've come here to help rebuild Haiti after the recent run of natural disasters.

"Every day, every day, every day," she says, after being asked if the kids have experience with westerners.

One of the little girls tightens her ponytail and checks her lipstick in the reflection of the madam's sunglasses. Her T-shirt logo reads, 'Viv lavi a mande', or, 'Live life to the fullest'. She sneaks a look over her shoulder at a member of the Haitian cartel who is doing a terrible job of concealing a machete.

The children are told that we are planning an underage sex party for a group of wealthy Americans and Australians.

Haiti is facing a human trafficking crisis. Source:Supplied

The undercover agents I am with explain to the traffickers that the party will take place on their yacht, which has been sailed over from Miami and is now anchored off a beach resort on a spectacular stretch of Haiti's northeast coast.

In reality, this meeting is part of an elaborate, multi-agency bust that has been almost a year in the planning — all done with the approval and co-operation of federal Haitian police.

A meticulous operation that began with the infiltration of the dark web, and that will culminate in the take-down of high-level Haitian traffickers linked to the abuse of hundreds of school-age children.

Many of them are traded, as though commodities, to rival gangs, and put up for sale or rent in filthy, underground Haitian brothels. Some are loaded into trucks or buses and smuggled across the border to be used by tourists in the Dominican Republic.

Foreigners with the appetite can buy an hour of their services for as little as a handful of Australian dollars.

I'm embedded with an organisation called Operation Underground Railroad, a group of ex-police and former CIA and Department of Homeland Security operatives who travel the world rescuing trafficked children.

This is far from a 'vigilante group'; leading the team is ex-Department of Homeland Security special agent Tim Ballard, perhaps America's foremost human trafficking expert.

"The problem in Haiti is an international crisis," Ballard explains. "With so many children displaced or orphaned during the recent earthquake and hurricane, recruiters moved quickly to sweep these children up. And the worst part of it all is that in many cases the clients are the foreigners who've come here to help, the NGO workers and the so-called humanitarians."

As our meeting with the traffickers ends, the undercovers set their trap. They give the criminals the time and place for the bust and agree to a price for the children's services on the yacht.

Over the next week we will meet with the leaders of another five trafficking networks, often late at night in child brothels protected by heavily-armed guards.

"These places are dark and shadowy and the men who run them have virtually no respect for a human life," Ballard tells me. There's one way in and one way out ... if they catch you filming, that's when they pull the guns out. That's when they realise you are better off dead to them than alive."

Despite more than few tense moments, including several hours spent hiding out from suspicious gang members on the roof of a western hotel, each of the meetings ends safely.

And suddenly everything is in place: the traffickers have bought our story that we're throwing a child sex party on our yacht, and they've agreed to deliver 30 children.

The victims think it will be just another day of abuse by men whose language they can't understand. In fact, they are now just 24 hours away from being rescue.

‘Pete’, is a father and a top paramedic. His colleague, ‘Vivienne,’ is a mother of two and a former detective with more than two decades of experience.

They were recruited by Operation Underground Railroad for their skills as covert investigators. They can’t be identified for fear of reprisal attacks from traffickers with international tentacles.

“My role in the Haiti operation is to care for the children once the traffickers deliver them to beach resort where the sting will go down,” says Vivienne. “Keep them calm, keep them safe while the traffickers are given their cash, before the police move in. What goes through my head is the whole mother instinct; wanting to nurture them, give them a hug and say, it’s going to be OK. What’s gut wrenching is I actually don’t know if it’s going to be OK.”

Pete is on standby for any medical emergencies, to treat any injuries should the traffickers bring weapons or become violent when the SWAT team moves in for the arrests.

“You start to think, ‘OK, what if this was my child? How would I be? What would I feel?’ And it pulls you apart,” Pete says. “There’s a temptation for us at times, in our bubble in Australia, to dismiss this as someone else’s problem. We’re different cultures, different races, different countries, but we are all human beings.”

As word comes through that the traffickers and the children are now en route, we put the final touches on a series of hidden cameras and microphones, which will capture the evidence needed for the Haitian authorities.

The plan is for the traffickers to meet with us out on the yacht, while the children are taken inside a hut on the beach. It’s vital for the legal case that the traffickers are recorded telling the agents how many children they control, and how much they will charge.

Once the traffickers arrive, the plan plays out to perfection. They've delivered exactly what they said they would, 30 children between the ages of eight and 16. They explain that their daily value is a little over $300 per child, and then they return to the beach to collect their cash.

A signal is given and Haitian police move in, guns drawn. Balaclava-clad detectives armed with assault rifles order the traffickers to the ground, and seize the envelopes of cash they've been handed as payment for the day's services.

All told, nine traffickers end up in handcuffs, and 30 children are placed into the care of experienced trauma counsellors. The rescue team is now working directly with the Haitian president on the prosecution of the traffickers arrested.

For most of the children, this is their first taste of freedom in many years.

They've spent much of their young lives crowded into locked rooms with no windows, sleeping on concrete floors. The sad reality is that many have been given up for this life of abuse, by their own impoverished families. Children sourced in calamity, the pieces of their lives never quite coming together.

The safe houses where the children will be cared for seem at first glance like the saddest places on earth. With executions often ordered for girls set to testify, they are protected 24/7 by heavily armed guards.

As the first television crew ever allowed inside these top-secret compounds, we discover girls as young as 11, pregnant, or already raising children themselves. The heartbreaking product of rape.

But if you look beyond their scarred hearts and the dim lights of their eyes, you'll find a place full of hope. Beautiful young Haitians with secret smiles and untold potential.

Trauma counsellors bringing kids who've lived through an infinitude of suffering, back to life. They have medical treatment, and the opportunity to go to school.

Maria Atkinson runs Jasper House, a refuge for survivors in coastal Jacmel. She's a volunteer who abandoned her life of privilege in America, to dedicate her life to these children.

"These are the world's forgotten children. The ones who have fallen through the cracks," Maria tells me as we watch the children dance and sing during an afternoon art class. "They have been beaten down, and abused, and made to feel worthless, but nothing in the world is more rewarding than when you see the light come back into their faces. Their resilience totally blows me away. They have been through more than we could ever imagine, and yet they find a way back."

Rescued victims are kept in top-secret compounds. Source:Supplied

For the Aussies involved in this rescue, the biggest child trafficking bust in Haiti's history, there's little time to pause and celebrate.

“It’s like pushing on the chest of Haiti,” Pete tells me as we watch the traffickers being led away to prison. “It’s like saying, ‘Hey, you have an enormous problem here, but we are with you and we are ready to help’.”

And with more than five million children enslaved worldwide, Operation Underground Railroad certainly needs the help. In fact, human trafficking now rivals guns and drugs as one of the fastest-growing crimes in the world.

There’s a temptation here in Australia, half a world away from Haiti, to think, ‘this is not our country, these are not our children, this is someone else’s problem’.

Pete and Vivienne are pleading for a different perspective.

“It takes some engagement to say, ‘no, I’m more than just Australian. I’m part of this’. Borders and boundaries mean nothing when you look into the kids’ eyes,” Pete says.

For Vivienne, helping is the human thing to do: “These are children, and if they don’t have anyone, they are all of ours. To sit back and do nothing is not something we were wired to do.”

Mounting Evidence of “Satanic” Hollywood Pedophiles

August 18, 2018

<http://goldenageofgaia.com/2018/08/18/mounting-evidence-of-satanic-hollywood-pedophiles/>

Long but very insightful and balanced account. Note the allegations of child sacrifice.

Isaac Kappy says he went public because "I couldn't take it any more. ... The Paul Revere in me came out. I had to do something about this."

David Zublick's allegations in the video at mid-article are even more shocking than Isaac's.

Arjun: "The point is, ... we have to talk about [this] because the trafficking and abuse of women and children is happening ... and they have no voice, even if they are starting to speak out more and more. The sad thing about it is, with all of the censorship on the internet, nobody is really seeing this."

In Brief

- The Facts:

Isaac Kappy, an actor and writer known for his work on Terminator Salvation, Thor, Beerfest, Fanboys, etc, has come out exposing the pedophilia that is rampant in Hollywood.

- Reflect On:

What does this say about the satanic influence, not just in Hollywood but in our world? Our politicians and leaders? Satanism isn't about religion and the devil, this is about something much more. What are we learning from all of this?

It's truly shocking just how many revelations have come to light with regards to the physical and sexual abuse of children within the realm of the global elite. The big four areas where this activity seems to be most prevalent nowadays is within politics, the Vatican, the military industrial complex and inside of Hollywood. Within each section, there are numerous examples to pull from.

In politics, especially within the last couple of years, information is hitting the mainstream like it never has before, one example would be the fact that an NBC news report implicated Hillary Clinton in covering up a massive pedophile ring in the heart of the State Department, another would be multiple ex-high ranking political officials claiming that both the Clinton's engage in sex with minors, pointing towards their close relationship with Jeffrey Epstein (who also has Royal Family connections).

Epstein is now a registered sex offender. When it comes to the Vatican, there are always disturbing acts going on. Right now, the Pope's right-hand man, George Pell, is in court for sexual assault, and a massive pedophile ring has been exposed where hundreds of boys were tortured and sexually abused, Pope Benedict's brother was at the forefront of that controversy.

David Zublick gives a detailed overview of Hollywood pedophilia, who's behind it, where it fits into the global Illuminati agenda, etc. In the process, he calls out leading actors and actresses:or occurred.

Try watching this video on www.youtube.com

As far as the military industrial complex goes, Congresswoman Cynthia McKinney grilled Donald Rumsfeld on DynCorp about it, a private military contractor with ties to the trafficking of women and children. Years later, a top U.S. General who was the liaison between DynCorp and the U.S. Military was implicated in the sexual assault of teenaged girls. The list goes on and on, and it's a long one. Oh yeah, let's not forget about PizzaGate...

Keep in mind, the above are only a few examples in each sector; there are many more to choose from.

When it comes to Hollywood, perhaps here is where we've seen the most revelations, and it goes far beyond Harvey Weinstein and his sexual assault of women. [It goes] into ritualistic-type practices where children are not only tortured and sexually abused but also killed (sacrificed). An ex-Director of the FBI, Ted Gunderson, was one of many who investigated these crimes.

He found shocking evidence of elite-level pedophile rings using satanic practices, with the people involved being connected to higher powers. We're talking about the owners of major mainstream media networks, political 'leaders,' and the people who have some of the largest influence with regards to our planet and the direction it takes.

In Hollywood, the door was kicked open by Corey Feldman, who hasn't named any names (he said he wanted to raise $10 million for the production of a documentary that would expose everything) but has been very open about the fact that the biggest problem in Hollywood is child pedophilia.

Perhaps the latest revelations (hard to tell because they are always happening), come from Smallville actress, Allison Mack, who has been outed as a member of a cult, who worked in a management position. She worked for a man named Keith Raniere, who ran a company that supposedly offered "executive success programs," whatever that means. He is accused of raping girls as young as 12, imprisoning a woman for 18 months and more, and is currently in federal custody in New York.

Clare Bronfman was also recently arrested and tied to the same cult as the Smallville actress. Clare's a philanthropist, youngest daughter of the billionaire philanthropist Edgar Bronfman, who was president of the World Jewish Congress and [is] also closely connected to the Rothschilds.

There are many people involved in this, and someone has to take the blame, perhaps to protect the others?

Keep in mind, Allison was likely brainwashed, but who really knows? Many of the victimizers are also victims themselves, but that's something society fails to see at the moment. Right now, we're constantly judging and punishing, instead of really looking into things deeper in order to solve the real problems here. Abuse begets abuse.

This and many other points were recently brought up in the video below, by Isaac Kappy, an actor and writer known for his work on Terminator Salvation, Thor, Beerfest, Fanboys, among others.

Try watching this video on www.youtube.com

Shortly after he released these videos, mainstream outlets like TMZ (establishment mouthpieces) and others, instantly accused him of choking [sic] Paris Jackson. Apparently, he's being investigated by the Los Angeles police for that, as well as accusing Seth Green of pedophilia. In the video below, he calls out more names, like Tom Hanks and director Steven Spielberg, among others.

Hard to tell what's really going on, which is why, for the most part, I stick to what people actually say and what comes out of their own mouths, and try to present that to the public.

Below is a tweet from Sarah Ruth Ashcraft, a supposed MK Ultra child sex slave victim,

This is me at 13, the age I was when @tomhanks purchased me from my father for sex as a dissociated #mindcontrol doll. I wonder how much he paid? I wonder how much $$$ my father made for breaking my mind & selling my child body throughout my life. Will I ever get to know? pic.twitter.com/nxOzCk5kHS

Things can really get confusing, and we can never really know the truth or exactly who is involved. That being said, we know this is a reality, and to turn a blind eye and not really address or investigate is unethical. Furthermore, the silence of the accused doesn't help. If one is innocent, one should be able to come forth and speak openly in their defence, especially if there is no evidence... Or is there?

"Steven Spielberg is a pedophile. Yup, see how easy that was, Corey, and I didn't need 10 million dollars. I just said it... When you're talking about really elite levels, the name of the game is blackmail, so, they want something on you that they can hold over your head so they can basically own you and tell you what to do...And they film it...and then, they own you.

"So, that's what runs the whole system basically. They want compromised people because they're easy to control. And a lot of people, they'll go along with it and do whatever, just for fame and money...Some people are just, like, really into the evil shit...Tom Hanks is a pedophile...It's time that this comes out into the open because we are going to change the way everything works. Because at the top levels, these people are just sick and psycho.

"Look into the Rothschilds family... The higher you go the more sick it gets...This is what really hurts about the situation, because a lot of people are kind of born into this. They grow up in it. They're abused and through the abuse especially as a child you can break someone's subconscious mind. If you're not aware of any of this stuff, look into MK Ultra." – Isaac Kappy (from the video)

He is not the only Hollywood actor to mention MK Ultra. Roseanne Barr once said, "MK Ultra rules in Hollywood."

You can watch the full video, above. He goes on to talk about Seth Green, McCauley Culkin, and many more. How they grow up in this system, then comes the money and the fame, and then they themselves end up repeating exactly what they went through. He expressed remorse for them, and a feeling of empathy.

He has been connected to the 'QAnon' phenomenon by the mainstream media, but [it] did not do an adequate job in covering the story. You can read more about that here.

In Hollywood, the door was kicked open by Corey Feldman, who hasn't named any names (he said he wanted to raise $10 million for the production of a documentary that would expose everything) but has been very open about the fact that the biggest problem in Hollywood is child pedophilia.

Perhaps the latest revelations (hard to tell because they are always happening), comes from Smallville actress, Allison Mack, who has been outed as a member of a cult, who worked in a management position. She worked for a man named Keith Raniere, who ran a company that supposedly offered "executive success programs," whatever that means. He is accused of raping girls as young as 12, imprisoning a woman for 18 months and more, and is currently in federal custody in New York.

Clare Bronfman was also recently arrested and tied to the same cult as the Smallville actress. Clare's a philanthropist, youngest daughter of the billionaire philanthropist Edgar Bronfman, who was president of the World Jewish Congress and also closely connected to the Rothschilds.

An Important Question To Ask is, Why Would They Be Lying?

Again, the reality of this type of behaviour is well-documented and has been exposed, but with regards to who may be involved it has not. It seems like a lot of people, and some of the world's greatest 'humanitarians,' might be engaged in those 'good' activities in order to cover for what really goes on behind the scenes. The fact that so many people in Hollywood, like Bryan Singer (director of the x-man series) and more, have all faced legal issues is another important thing to consider.

The point is, this is happening, and we have to talk about it because the trafficking and abuse of women and children is happening in these areas and they have no voice, even if they are starting to speak out more and more. The sad thing about it is, with all of the censorship on the internet, nobody is really seeing this.

But at the same time, they are, because mainstream media always seems to respond and give a completely different narrative in order to protect their interests. We've seen this in multiple realms. RussiaGate is a great example. PizzaGate was another.

This is why the global elite are shutting down alternative media completely and are still in the process.

Why would Hollywood actors pretty much end their careers by speaking out like this? They're within the industry, they have connections, and they are directly in the middle of these circles. Only a few are brave enough to speak out. Sure, Tom Hanks and Steven Spielberg may not be involved, but then again they may be.

It's time for all to come out in the open for a public discussion. It just makes it more suspicious that they don't.

It's time to ask ourselves, who are we idolizing? Why do we idolize them? What type of activities are our 'leaders' engaged in and do they really care for the best interests of the human race?

Truth is hitting the world, in all areas where humanity's attention seems to be focused, and it's going to keep on coming. It can't be stopped.

Ex-Navy Seal Creates Veterans Organization to Expose Pedophiles and Rescue Trafficked Children

Ex-Navy Seal Creates Veterans Organization to Expose Pedophiles and Rescue Trafficked Children

Matt Agorist, Free Thought Project, April 3, 2017

Those paying attention are able to see the world has a horrifying problem with pedophilia and child trafficking. They are also able to see that the corporate media and the ruling class do very little to expose it — and, in fact, are often exposed for participating in it. However, an ex-Navy Seal and several other veterans are attempting to stop this.

Veterans For Child Rescue (V4CR), as they note on their new website, “was formed specifically to EXPOSE that which has been covered up and suppressed – the dark and disgusting world of pedophile trafficking rings. These rings include members from every level of our society and involve unthinkable trauma inflicted upon innocent babies and children – the soul of our nation.”

The group, which is in the process of forming a 501c3 non-profit, was started by Former Navy Seal Craig Sawyer and their aim is simple — expose child trafficking across the nation and save children from torture.

“Until now, pedophiles have enjoyed a counter-productive level of privacy from the media. That puts more children at risk,” a crowd-funding page for the organization states.

“Together, we can work with federal and local law enforcement to help arrest these predators and liberate the child victims.”

According to Veterans for Child Rescue, the members of the group make up a VIPR Team (Veterans Investigating Pedophile Rings), and come from the highest levels of Military Special Operations, Federal Law Enforcement, International Counter-Poaching Operations, The Intelligence Community, The Diplomatic Community and Film & Television.

“This abuse must first be brought to light before it can be cleaned up. V4CR was created to shine that light! We will expose this crisis through joint operations with law enforcement and sharing the truth in an unflinching television documentary-series for the world to see. Through this, we hope to force stronger punitive legislation and create a non-permissive public environment to help reverse this life-shattering trend of abuse,” a statement on the group’s website reads.

As the Free Thought Project has consistently reported, these sickos dominate positions of authority and high-level government roles — worldwide. And when people come forward to expose them, they are met by the Praetorian guard who quickly labels such talk as conspiracy theory and pushes it to the fringe.

Grand Jury Finds Police were Complicit in Covering up Massive Child Sex Ring in Catholic Church

Grand Jury Finds Police Were Complicit in Covering Up Massive Child Sex Ring in Catholic Church

Matt Agorist, Activist Post, Sept. 11, 2018

<https://tinyurl.com/y7djcg4q>

Philadelphia, PA — For those who have been keeping up with the child sex abuse scandal in the Catholic church that erupted late last month in Pennsylvania, many have been wondering how it was allowed to go on for so long without anyone getting charged or arrested. Now, we may have the answer—the police were complicit.

During a grand jury report into the child sex abuse by priests in Pennsylvania, the state Attorney General, Josh Shapiro provided insight into how priests were allowed to go on for decades preying on children. He singled out the two groups responsible for covering up the crimes of the church.

One of the groups named by the AG was the Catholic Church hierarchy like the archbishops and cardinals who reacted to allegations of child rape by simply transferring the priest to a new church or failing to act at all. The other group Shapiro named was law enforcement, who he says acted in tandem with the abusive priests to keep their horrific habits from ever reaching the public eye.

“The abuse scarred every diocese,” he said. “The cover-up was sophisticated. The church protected the institution at all costs.”

Not only did the church protect pedophile priests, but the investigation revealed a “failure of law enforcement,” according to Shapiro.

According to the investigation, at the same time the church was covering up the abuse by protecting the pedophiles, it also had assistance from police or district attorneys who aided in covering it up as well. Sometimes this aid was in the form of looking the other way, while other times, it involved actively thwarting investigations.

As the Morning Call reports:

The documented cases of lax enforcement occurred decades ago. But by allowing offending priests to walk freely, law enforcement cleared a path for more abuse to occur and left victims without justice. It’s impossible to say how many children were molested by priests who avoided charges, but the grand jury report found that some accused priests aided by see-no-evil law enforcement were able to live freely for decades, and that the 1,000 victims the grand jury counted likely were the tip of the iceberg.

For former Philadelphia District Attorney Lynne Abraham, the problem often started at police departments, which were stocked with Catholic police officers. They knew the priests, but more importantly, she said, the priests knew them.

“It was a different time,” she said. “You didn’t remonstrate with the guy who’s giving you absolution.”

Northampton County District Attorney John Morganelli told the Morning Call that he experienced this shunning by law enforcement and the church first hand when he prosecuted Monsignor Stephen T. Forish for allegedly soliciting sex from a man early one morning in 1996.

“I was criticized big-time for bringing that case,” he said.

Forish would later be acquitted only to be charged again for a similar crime years later. He would die awaiting the trial in that case.

According to the Morning Call, Shapiro, through a spokesperson, refused to go into detail on how, exactly, law enforcement helped to cover up the abuse. However, they pointed out one glaring public example.

One of the most egregious missed opportunities by law enforcement involved the Rev. Thomas Bender, who was serving at St. Francis Orphanage in Orwigsburg in 1972. That year, the grand jury report said, a state trooper found Bender with a high school-age boy, both with no pants on, in a car. The case was reported by another trooper, who also was a deacon in the church, the grand jury report said.

One District Attorney was even caught on record deliberately blocking investigations into the rape of young boys by priests. In 1964, Beaver County district attorney Robert Masters was presented with evidence that a Catholic priest was raping several young boys. However, he blocked the investigation to prevent “unfavorable publicity.”

“I have, in order to prevent unfavorable publicity, halted all investigations into similar incidents with other young boys,” Masters wrote in an Aug. 4, 1964, letter to Pittsburgh Diocese Bishop Vincent Leonard.

As the Free Thought Project has previously pointed out, pedophilia among the elite is rampant. In instance after horrifying instance, the Free Thought Project continues to push these issues to the forefront — in spite of mainstream media claiming that talk of elite pedophilia is akin to tin foil hat wearing conspiracy theory.

The good news is that this paradigm seems to be shifting. As the scandal in Pennsylvania illustrates, even some folks within the mainstream media have begun to report on this nightmarish reality.

Robert Steele: Letter to Atlantic Monthly – Donald Trump is Neither a Tyrant nor Lost

Robert Steele: Letter to Atlantic Monthly – Donald Trump Is Neither A Tyrant Nor Lost

Public Intelligence Blog, Sept. 4, 2018

<https://phibetaiota.net/2018/09/robert-steele-letter-to-atlantic-monthly-donald-trump-is-neither-a-tyrant-nor-lost/>

I beg to differ with Eliot A. Cohen, whom I knew long ago, and his contribution, “How This Will End: Sooner or later, tyrants are always abandoned by their followers,” (Atlantic, 24 August 2018).

As a proponent of holistic analytics and a long-time enemy of the Deep State and Shadow Government that leverage and loot public assets for private gain by the 1%, I share with Martin Armstrong, perhaps the best economic analyst around, the view that this Administration is not about Trump. It is about the Deep State, first fully articulated by Peter Dale Scott, losing control.

A non-violent revolution is occurring in the USA today, and three areas where I am heavily engaged are converging: a new social ecology and truth channel is emerging, centered on CodeMail and BitChute, that will displace #GoogleGestapo (Amazon, Facebook, Google, MeetUp, Twitter, YouTube, and lesser evils including WordPress.com); an explosion in pedophilia witnesses and public outrage that is going to take down not only the Catholic Church hierarchy but also that of the Mormon Church and selected Christian Zionists; and election reform, #UNRIG, something I started with Cynthia McKinney.

Trump is a disruptor. As I observe all that he is doing behind the scenes, completely unacknowledged by the failed mainstream media (with those who praise him being digitally assassinated by #GoogleGestapo with stunning impunity and nonchalance), I am reminded of the genius of Nassim Nicholas Taleb, author of Black Swans, Anti-Fragility, and Skin in the Game, among other extraordinary works. Eliot, no doubt with the best of intentions, is blind to the reality that half the public is now seeing — I expect 70% approval ratings in 2019 — Eliot is missing the local level disdain for everyone that is attacking Trump with nonsensical non-stop coverage of trivia replete with falsehood (Cohen and Manafort are trivia, the Russians did not hack anything, the latest was CIA rogues using Vault 7 code explicitly designed to simulate a Russian attack — Microsoft is going along with the false narrative).

Your own author James Fallows and his wife come close to understanding local reality in their book, Our Towns, which is complemented by another book, The Great Revolt. Eliot is also missing the economic and financial house cleaning that has been going on, which will deepen in September and October 2018. Not only is the Federal Reserve now under control and no longer the proxy for the Deep State, but a gold-backed dollar is almost certain to be issued at the same time that several trillion dollars recovered from the banks that stole $43 trillion all told, are going to be put back into the economy — new jobs with benefits and new construction are the marching orders. Buzzy Krongard, John Brennan, and William Browder are all going to be held accountable for the $240 billion Gold War against Russia from 1998-2001 — a covert undeclared totally unconstitutional economic war.

I will agree that Trump is a “one of.” I think he will be re-elected if he chooses to run. After Trump I believe the only possible winner is going to a split ticket with a coalition cabinet and balanced budget announced in advance along with a commitment to #UNRIG election reform (if not implemented by Trump in 2019) and a Constitutional Convention that overturns several of the amendments sponsored by the Deep State — Senators must represent their states as sovereign powers, not the amorphous public in the state; and the federal income tax must be abolished, to be replaced by an Automated Payment Transaction Tax as devised by Dr. Edgar Feige, collected locally. States will authorize and appropriate to the federal government a sufficiency of funds as approved by the Senators, after consultation with their sovereign state leaders both executive and legislative, upon presentation of a balanced budget.

The times they are a changing. Elite traitors, pedophiles, and grand theft masters have lost their cloak of invisibility that all of you in the fake news media have helped maintain in partnership with the Shadow Government controlled by the likes of Dick Cheney via the ultra-secret Continuity of Government program.. Like it or not, our President is a force of nature and all of you on the left should be making evidence-based decisions rooted in something I have understood for a very long time: the truth at any cost lowers all other costs.

9/11 2018 is coming up. I have given the President a volume of 28 memos written by top scholars, spies, architects, and engineers. It is possible the President will not only mandate the criminal grand jury in the Southern District of New York as requested by the Lawyer’s Committee of Inquiry into 9/11, but he will also instruct his office of legislative affairs to push for passage of the Bobby McIlvaine World Trade Center Investigation Act which will report out in October 2020, making passage before November a litmus test of the integrity of each incumbent Member of Congress. Game over.

Sincerely yours,

Re-post, Ranjit: the New Buddha of Unity on the New Children & So Much More – Transcript & Audio

September 22, 2021

<https://goldenageofgaia.com/2021/09/22/re-post-ranjit-the-new-buddha-of-unity-on-the-new-children-so-much-more-transcript-audio/>

Ranjit, the new Buddha of Unity and an eight-year-old boy living in India, discusses his mission and the special challenges it presents to be born awake into a non-awake world. He tells us how to orient towards the new children so as not to smother them (for they will leave if we do) and yet to realize the full promise of their potential to educate and lead us. He describes how the new children learn, what their challenges are, and how best to interact with them.

He tells us that masters are returning daily to assist everyone on all paths and from all faiths. He tells us that he is of the lineage of Sanat Kumara, who incarnated as Dipankara Buddha, the Buddha to whom Gautama confessed his desire to be a Buddha. The lineage is therefore Sanat, Gautama and Ranjit. Thanks to Ellen for our transcript.

An Hour with an Angel, The New Buddha: The Masters are Arriving Daily, July 1, 2013, <https://goldenageofgaia.com/2013/07/01/the-new-buddha-the-masters-are-arriving-daily/>

Geoffrey West: Greetings, and blessings to all. Welcome to another Hour with an Angel with Linda Dillon, channel for the Council of Love and author of The Great Awakening. Joining her this evening is Steve Beckow, founder of the website Golden Age of Gaia and author of Building Nova Earth: Towards a World that Works for Everyone.

I'm Geoffrey West, sitting in for GD this evening

In a departure from the more usual guests that have been on the show and the beings that have been discussed, we venture off yet again into a new direction. Our guest this evening is Ranjit, and this soul carries the energies of the future Buddha.

Ranjit, the new Buddha

[audio mp3="https://goldenageofgaia.com/wp-content/uploads/2013/07/2013-July-1-Ranjit-New-Buddha-on-Unity.mp3"][/audio]

With that, I turn things over to you, Steve.

Steve Beckow: Thank you very much, Geoff. And I'd like to welcome our guest, and also to ask him how he would prefer to be addressed.

Ranjit: Welcome. Yes, this is a departure. For it is seldom that you actually speak with one that is above and below. But it is my honor to be invited to share some of my growing understandings in the human form as well with each of you.

I have disclosed what you would think of as my first name in this lifetime. It is Ranjit. And yes, you may call me Ranjit. Or you may call me Raj, if you wish, for I am always one who is honoring others who go and guide. (See 1) For you know there is a tie between all of us. And the energy of Sanat Kumara has been known throughout, again, the multiverse for a very long time.

So we are very close.

Now, I want you to understand, I speak to you as one who carries the energy of the Buddha. And if everything comes forth, I am and will be known as the Buddha of Unity, (2) for as you know as well, each Buddha has an overriding purpose and mission, not simply to be teacher, mentor and healer to many.

And what is occurring on the planet — your planet and mine — the next step for humankind and interplanetary kind is the practice and the anchoring of unity, and the construction and building not only of Nova Earth but of Nova Being.

Because without the new being of humanity, the enlightened being, the ascended being, as you think of it, there is no Nova Earth.

The purpose of Gaia in her own Ascension is to carry you forward and to fulfill her mission and purpose of being a planet of love and service to the Mother. So when you think of it in this way, there is really no difference between what I do, what Gaia does, and what each of you does, for we are in the union of service.

Now, it is time for the planet to overcome the false grid of separation — and, might I say, the vasana of believing that you are unique, special and therefore differentiated from others - and arriving at the deeper truth that you are all of these things, and yet you are One.

My purpose is to be also working with the children of the new Earth, and even what you can think of as new times, different dimensions and realities. Now, these children come in like I have, wide awake and aware of who they are and the role that they have come to play.

And it is incumbent upon the adults — and in this I speak to each of you, and I speak to the planet of adults, including the adults that surround me — it is incumbent upon you to assist, for this is your lesson and your learning, to not smother the light, the wonder and the brilliance that we are bringing forward. Again, in this I do not differentiate myself from any of you.

Now, I know that you are going to have many questions of me, and I want to be clear. This channel is always asking for clarification, is she not? She is a curious one. I speak to you as a child, as an eight-year-old boy, (3) in the lightness of that being, and I also speak to you with the wisdom of the Buddha.

So, where do you wish to begin?

SB: Well, thank you, Raj. And perhaps before beginning I could just say a couple of words to the listeners. Sanat Kumara also likes to be referred to as Raj, which relates to what you said earlier. I'd like to mention that Sanat Kumara was Dīpankara Buddha, who was the teacher of Gautama Buddha in the incarnation in which Gautama Buddha asked to become a Buddha.

And now you are a new Buddha, if I may use that term. And also Maitreya is described as the Buddha of Love. You're described as the Buddha of Unity.

Can you tell us, first of all, so that we can understand the new children that are here today, in your own experience, you came in wide awake.

Can you explain what it's like to come in in that state, what the experience is like and what it means for your life in the earliest years to come in wide awake?

R: Yes. And understand, Raj is still my teacher, as he is the teacher of many — the guardian. And so it is my honor to be called in this way.

I must share with you that it is difficult to come in wide awake when you arrive on a planet that is not. Now, I am part of the new children, and even though I have the awareness, I also do not know or have the experience of what it is to not be awake, to not be in the fullness of my being.

So, in these early years, this has been a very large portion of my learning and my coming to understand about this period of transition that the human beings, the human race is experiencing.

Now, part of that undertaking, that understanding, has also been that I have been born in a country that is primarily Hindu. And I am not of that faith or religion. And my parents, because that is the way it works, are not of that persuasion.

Now, you well know that all faith is based in the knowing of One, but part of the role of unity and unification is to come forth as different, not simply in my awareness, but in the outer trappings as well.

Now, when I have arrived on Earth, even though I have arrived with the knowings and understandings of what to expect and to anticipate, I was shocked. I was surprised.

The parents that I have been blessed with are beautiful beings. They are caring and loving and nurturing and very devout. They are concerned from the moment of my inception about my future. It is rather ironic.

Now, I share this not in any way to diminish my beautiful family, because they are remarkable, and that had need to be in order for me to join them. But I share this information because as parents, as adults, as aunts and uncles and cousins, is this not a human, we would say, universal trait?

Before the child is even born, there you are, worrying about their future. Yes, you are enjoying the process, but like my parents, making sure that the education will be in place, that I am exposed to right ideas or philosophies, that I learn at an early age the correct or proper methods of worship, that I learn the importance of humility and of the honoring of God.

All of these things I see as a beautiful commitment, but also very much as a human obsession. There is not the recognition that we know what we are doing.

My parents know that they have been given a child of grace, that I am different. But rather than fully trusting in that, in some ways it makes them nervous. (4) It makes them nervous to misstep. It makes them nervous that they will not do everything within their power to assure my becoming, when in fact my becoming is already written in history.

In the human and divine definitions of the word, I love my parents, and I love my family. I have a sister and brother, and as you well know a very extensive extended family. (5)

But what you may not be thinking of is that I also trust my family and my parents. And this is also critical for all of you to understand. I come in awake, aware perhaps of far more than my parents have had the fortune to be exposed to or understand. And yet I am entrusted to them, and I am entrusted to them by the Divine Mother.

But what does this mean, 'entrusted'? It involves the trust of my beingness as well, that in order to work and to fulfill what I have come to do, I trust them and I trust all that everything is in divine order.

So even as a very rambunctious five-year-old, an inquisitive six-year-old, at times a very smart-aleck eight-year-old, I know I am learning and receiving and I am trusting, not because my parents have incorporated the wisdom of ages, but because they love me, and because I know there is a rightness in all things — and that would include my placement in this time and place and family.

Now, what about the new children for whom I speak? What can be done in your sweet protectiveness that in fact you do not smother the flame that burns so brightly within us?

Oh, yes, it is possible to smother the flame, in which case many of us would leave. It is not something that we would or could tolerate, because we will not step down or minimize our knowing, our energy. We cannot do that.

Now, we know very clearly that none of you would ever do anything that you thought would harm us. And that is more and more true every day, as we see the growth of love on this beautiful Gaia planet.

When we speak of what you do not see, or what you do not yet know or understand, when we share with you that we are moving inter-dimensionally, or with our star brothers, or with what you think of as our unseen friends, do not dismiss us.

Do not try in the slightest, do not attempt to dissuade us that we are not perceiving reality correctly or as you know it. Release the fear that your child is going to be different and therefore not accepted, or seen as off balance. Do not tamper with our vision and our knowing, for we are here as the new breath of air.

And, my dear friends, we are here to teach you. We are here to teach you by example, as so many of you are teaching by example, and through your fields, your cosmic fields, how you can be.

This is what we demonstrate and show you — that there is more, that there is more wisdom, more understanding, more love, and complete connection. So what we are demonstrating to you is what your life can be like.

So, do not fall into a pattern, which has been very popular in your old Third Dimension, of thinking that the child is patterned after the parent. That is not so.

And those of you who have been parents realize the enormous change in thinking, in behaviors and heart that your children effect upon you. But you haven't seen anything yet.

Allow us freedom. Yes, it will make you nervous. It will make you, at times, frustrated, or provoke anxiety. But this is no different than any of the masters who have been born into form. And I would tell you — not even suggest; I would tell you — my light friends, you are my support team. You are also my family.

And there is part of you, whether you are listening as 5 or 50, 70 or 27, you have always been considered different by your families. And in some ways it is an observation that is not spoken of. In some cases it is a joke. In some cases it is with amazement or confusion.

But you know what it is to be walking a slightly different path from many that you encounter, either within your family or your community. And in that work that you have done, and in that persistence, that valor, you have prepared the way for us.

Now, there are other things that I wish to speak of, but I do not wish to be impolite, for this is also something I am learning!

Do you have another question that you wish to address to me?

SB: Thank you, Raj. Well, far be it from me to act like an old style, 3D adult. You have discussed a lot of things which adults could keep in mind not to do with our newest arrivals, and you've discussed one thing which they can do, which is to grant them freedom.

But are there other pointers you can give us? Are there other pieces of advice that you can give us adults on the side of doing rather than not doing?

R: Oh, yes.

SB: Please do so.

R: Can you play with us? Now, for us, play has a very different meaning. And part of our wisdom, understanding, knowing, our very beingness requires, when we speak of freedom, is the latitude to play. Now, those of you who study know that children learn so much through play.

Can you come and join with us on whatever level and whatever environment, whatever circumstance you are encountering? There has always been wisdom and magic — yes, magic — in the hearts and minds and beings of children.

But what you can do, take some of the time away from being concerned about whether we are being educated sufficiently or socialized sufficiently — because socialization for us is also different. But we will find our way, and we will find each other as well. So do not be concerned about it.

But we would ask of you to engage with us, not in ways that you are sitting at my feet! That is the last thing I want. I want you to explore the universe and this planet with me. And all of we [us] children want this.

We want you to take our hands. We trust you. And we want you to treat us as your children because we know it is part of your job to keep us safe and out of harm's way. And we also know and understand that as children we can do things that do put us in situations that can be injurious, because we are big adventurers.

So do not be surprised when we say we want to play, but that we would like to play in India or Tibet or the United States of America, and switch countries, and go exploring.

Now you say, "But not many families are able to do that." But you are able to get maps or internet or pictures or music or fables or mythologies, tradition, and share this with us. This is one of our ideas of play.

The other idea that we ask you to play with us is that for many of us it is very important to be anchored in our bodies.... These are tiny, very tiny forms!

And one of the initial shocks of entry is the fact, even with our knowing, and knowing that we are not completely enclosed in that form, we are still shocked at how small these forms are! So it is important to have the physical aspect of play, of activity, of movement, because we are anchoring the energies of our beings into our form.

So what you will find — and this was true of many of the early Indigo and rainbow children — it's important to be able to move more than perhaps what you moved as as a child. Now, many of the Indigos are the ones who are birthing us, and many of them still have this urge to move constantly. And that is a very good thing.

Engage us, please, in intelligent conversation. When you say that you are concerned for our futures in education, do not take the time to step down the conversation to what you think is a child's level of understanding.

Speak to us as equals, so that what you are doing is you are engaging us and giving us permission to allow the fullness of our wisdom to be nurtured, to come through and to be shared.

Each culture has different ways of nourishment. And in this case I am not simply speaking of the spiritual nourishment that my parents and family so richly bestow upon me. I am speaking about physical nourishment. Again, it is part of the anchoring of our being into the form.

Now, we come with the understanding of how to transmute or transform molecules and atoms into what is healthy, but as children we do not always take the time to do so. Yes, it is that rambunctious five-year-old, or the two-year-old, or the fifteen-year-old. We need to be fed adequately, and what I mean by this is food that is pure.

You say this is difficult on a planet that is polluted. Well, Gaia restores herself, and we are part of that restoration. But in the meanwhile all you have need to do is to pray, to send your intentions to purify the food.

Please do not feed us meat. We know that those of you in transition need a great deal of meat, and this has been part of your human journey. But it is very rare that we will need any form of meat — perhaps a little fish.

But we are primarily vegetarian, fructarian, and we do breathe in a great deal of energy simply through the air, what you think of as air, because we are breathing in the codes of creation. That is how we tend to go forward, and that is a continual restoration.

You are learning to do this at this time, but we have arrived with a full understanding of how to do this. And so we ingest quite literally the creation codes of what will keep us healthy, but we also need the human form of nourishment.

Speak to us of many traditions. Do not close us off from exploring, with gusto and intellectual liveliness, spiritual liveliness. Let us be heretics and atheists. Do not restrict us to what you think of as one religion or faith.

Let us explore, and explore with us, please. That is part of play. Do not be concerned that we will be damned. Yes, I do speak to my parents in this.

There are many pathways, and they are all leading you home. This is part of my mission and purpose as Buddha of Unity. It is to tear down, to finish tearing down and eliminating the differences, not to eliminate the richness of tradition and culture and what is strong and wise in faith, but to eliminate the friction, to unify the people so that it matters not whether you are worshipping Allah or a Christian God; that it is all One.

These are some of the things you can do. Do not restrict what we put into our minds. Let us explore, and let us remember. Let us bring the memories that we have.

Now, some of us have been on Earth many times, but many who come as the new children are new to Earth as well. So let us explore. Take us adventuring. But most of all, when you ask this question, “What can we do as grandparents, as parents, as friends?” — love us. That is the key.

Simply love us and accept and allow us to be who we are. Because we have come to be with you, not separate. Not what you think of as a gifted or unique child, but simply to be part of this family of being.

SB: Raj, your lifetime so far reminds me a lot of Shankara, and I also am reminded of Jesus and Sri Ramakrishna. Is it similar to Shankara’s?

R: Very. And similar to many who have come forth. Oh, Shankara is a dear friend. Closer than you think.

SB: Will he be returning? (6)

R: Oh, yes.

SB: Can you talk to us a bit about the return of the masters and your own role in it, please?

R: Well, I would suggest to you that I am coming with all of my friends. And you, because of your breadth of study and experience, know that when I speak of the return of the masters, I speak of many — for each tradition, each pathway.

And you know what we are going to do, is we are going to mix it up! And it is part of our plan. So it is not, for example, that I simply walk with the Buddhists, that Jesus Christ will walk with the Christians. We are going to truly mix it up. And that is the importance of bringing about the unified glory of the new reality which you inhabit.

Mohammed has not decided to incarnate, but he is influencing many. And might I say he is overlighting many. But there are many that will pursue that path in order to bridge the gap between Muslim and Hindu, Sikh, Christian, Jew — because it is one family, one family with many faces.

So the masters are arriving, can we tell you, daily.

Now, like myself, many of us are in training or under cover, because it is important not only for our acclimatizing to this reality, but also that we understand this juncture which you are in the middle of, in order to assist you and to teach you, to lead you, side by side, to your new home, to your new reality.

Now, I suggest to you that when I was incarnated — and you will get a chuckle out of this — I fully anticipated that by this time that the whole of humanity would be firmly anchored in the higher dimensions, in different dimensions, so that our unity would be pretty much in place by this age. But it matters not, because I also witness and see — yes, I do — the fullness of your plan, which has become my plan.

Now, Maitreya, myself, the Dalai Lama - there are many of us already in form, as you know — the emanations, who have a very complete understanding of the plan and of the transformation that is currently underway.

When I have said to you earlier that I speak to you as an eight-year-old boy and I also speak to you as the Buddha, know that I spend a great deal of time working with the human collective already on this process of unification and the process of alignment with the law, with Raj's law of unification, (7) the Mother's law of unification.

Why I have volunteered and accepted your invitation to be with you this night was not so that you could interview an eight-year-old boy. What I wished to share with you and to give to each of you was this feeling, this knowing and this blessing of the unity of heart, of humanity and far, far beyond.

You have always been united — with each other, with your star brothers, with the Company of Heaven, with all the masters and gods, goddesses. And I wish to activate within you the memory of that unity, the knowing of that unity.

And how better to do it than as an eight-year-old boy? Because is there anything more pure or more sweet than the love of a child? It is pure. This is what I give to you, and it is what I will give to you for the rest of your life and mine, regardless of what dimensional reality we inhabit. I am here, and I am here for the duration. And I suggest, unless you smother our flame, we all are.

SB: Raj, if I may ask, you know that humans love the dramatic. We love to sit around a campfire and tell stories and histories. Is it appropriate for us to know a little bit about your past lives, or where you come from on the other side?

R: No, it is not appropriate. Because I do not wish to build expectations. You see, what I want you to do is to look forward, not back.

One of the things that occurs when we ascend — which all of you are experiencing — is that we go back... well, in the Ascension of myself, we go back into the unity of the One. In that, it is not that history is erased, but that there is always a new cycle. And this is what I am trying to bring to you, your vision, to bring it forward into the new cycle.

Now, will I sit with you around a campfire? I would be pleased to. And I will tell you stories of my journeys, in the mountains and on the plains, and by the sea. But I do not want you to focus on that. What I wish you to focus on is where we are right now.

The human proclivity to go to the future, like my parents, or to the past, also like my parents, does not serve. And I come to serve in the now. Now, we may sit by that campfire for an eternity, and I would still be pleased to do so, because it would still be the Now.

It is important to understand — and I understand your question, for you are requesting continuity. But you see, this is part of the reason why I have been born into very different circumstances.

We are breaking the pattern. We are presenting the new. And what happens, not only with the masters, not only with the Buddha, myself.... It happens in human form.

There is this love of lineage, and you have expanded your understanding of lineage recently. (8) That has been a good thing. So if you wish to know of my lineage, know that I am of the lineage of Sanat Kumara. (9)

SB: When will we see you appearing publicly, Raj?

R: Well, it depends upon the humans and their Ascension, is it not? Because some of you are already seeing me. I am that skinny little boy — well, I do not think I am skinny; I think I am very fit.

But many would think of me as skinny, with the big brown eyes and the tousled hair. But I would suspect that my fullness of my undertaking will come at the time of passage, which is 12.

SB: The time of passage, Raj? What do you mean by that?

R: I mean that it is the time when my parents will feel that I am prepared to be exposed to the public.

SB: All right. Thank you.

R: It is what some of you think of as the beginning of puberty. In all cultures, this has significance. We understand why, and we do not understand why. The innocence of the child is the best teacher of all.

So, a young boy struggling with becoming a human man is not always the greatest fulfillment of a teacher. If you remember, as many of you do, it can be a time of confusion, and trying to come to an understanding of who you are.

Now, we will not go through that. But I am ready to step forward at any moment. But of course I, like you, will always honor my parents, for I understand and have great compassion for their concerns. We are both learning to trust each other, are we not?

SB: Yes. Before we go, and I believe we'll be going very soon, could you say something to the children of the world, give them a message, please?

R: I would be honored. My friends, my family, I'm here. I am not here as a leader or as a follower. I am here as your brother. And I bring forth the promise and the fulfillment of unification.

When there are moments when you are unsure if you have made the right choice and decision in this incarnation, I invite you, I ask you, I plead with you to turn to me, brother of India, and call on me. And I will sit with you, and I will hold you and I will reinforce you.

For it is important that we go forward together. But I offer this not because of mission and purpose, but because of my love for you. We are united, and we teach the elders what this means as we unite in heart and support of one another.

So, call me. I will show up. And you will know me. For you have always known me. Farewell.

[music up]

SB: Thank you very much, Raj.

R: Thank you, my friend, my brother.

[end]

Footnotes

(1) "Raj" is the nickname of Sanat Kumara. Sanat incarnated as Dipankara Buddha, the Buddha to whom Gautama confessed his desire to become a Buddha. Now Ranjit has incarnated as the next Buddha. So he is both in the lineage of Sanat, who has honored him by allowing him to be called by his nickname, and of Gautama. My understanding is that a new Buddha comes into the world roughly every 2500 years.

(2) Maitreya is known as the Buddha of Love.

(3) So just to be clear: Ranjit is at present an eight-year-old boy whose location needs to be kept secret until he and his parents are ready to disclose it.

(4) In this, Raj was very much like the young Sri Ramakrishna, whose parents knew that he was an Incarnation of Vishnu but still worried about him night and day.

(5) In the same sense that most Indian families are large, extended units, unlike in the West.

(6) Our interview with Raj is what led me to suggest interviewing Shankara.

(7) That is, Sanat Kumara's Law of Unification. As Planetary Logos, Sanat is responsible for the Universal Law on this planet.

(8) Raj knows our conversations with Archangel Michael about "emanations" and "aspects." But those interviews have not yet been broadcast.

(9) His lineage in terms of outer continuity is back through Gautama to Sanat. But his lineage in terms of inner continuity (past lives) he prefers not to say.
